Homemade jams and jellies make gala Christmas gifts

By BETTY COOK

Any present is more highly prized when it takes into account the taste of the person receiving it and shows that some personal effort went into its making or selection.

For these reasons, gifts of jams and jellies are always popular. If the jams and jellies are packed in attractive and unusual containers, they have still greater appeal. A visit to the housewares counter of any ten-cent store will turn up all kinds of holders that make pretty and useful Christmas gifts in themselves, and they are filled with the friend's favorite sweet.

But you may say, "What'll I use for making jams and jellies this time of year?" Use canned, dried, fresh or frozen fruits. The recipes given here show what delicious and attractive sweets can be made with such items as quick-frozen lemonade, and sliced strawberries, and canned red cherries. Of course you aren't forgetting that orange, grapefruit or lemon marmalade, using these fruints which are abundant all winger, is fine for Christmas gifting.

These sweet spreads can be quickly and easily made with powdered or liquid fruit pectin. The use of fruit pectins eliminates the need for long boiling, and assures perfect success every time.

STREAWBERRY - CHERRY Jam is made with 2 cups (No. 2 can) pitted red sour cherries (water-packed), 1 cup (10-oz. package) quick-frozen sliced strawberries, thawed, 3½ cups (1½ lbs.) sugar, and ½ box (about 3½ tablespoons) powdered fruit pectin.

Drain cherries. Chop cherries, measure, and add enough juice to make 2 cups. Combine with thawed strawberries in a large saucepan.

Measure sugar and set aside. Add powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a FULL ROLLING BOIL and-BOIL HARD 1 MINUTE, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin.

MAKE MINTED Lemonade jelly with 2½ cups (1 lb. 2 oz.) sugar, 1½ cup water, ¾ cup (6 oz. can) quick-frozen concentrated lemonade (thawed) 8 drops mint extract, and ½ bottle liquid fruit pectin.

Measure sugar and water into a LARGE saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a FULL ROLLING BOIL and BOIL HARD 1 MINUTE, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in thawed lemonade and mint extract.

If desired, a few drops of green food coloring may be added at the same time. Add liquid fruit pectin and mix well. Pour quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin.

Cookies are a holiday must

Every homemaker wants her holiday cookies to be something "extra special," yet quick and easy to make.

For well-filled cookie jars that are a "must" during holiday festivities, try Butterscotch Refrigerator Slices. Made with a minimum of time and effort, these flavorful tidbits are a real holiday treat.

They require ½ cup butter or margarine, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 egg, 1¾ cups sifted flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ⅛ teaspoon salt, and ½ cup finely chopped nuts.

CREAM BUTTER, add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Sift dry ingredients together and combine with butter mixture. Add nuts, mixing to distribute them evenly through the dough.

Mold dough into a long roll, wrap in waxed paper and refrigerate until firm (for several hours, at least). Cut with sharp knife into thin slices. Place on un-oiled baking sheet and bake in 375 degrees F. oven for 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes seven dozen cookies.

Raisin fudge

Christmas is the season for homemade candies, and "Raisin Nut Butter Fudge" is really an elegant one.

Caramelizing part of the sugar gives a beautiful golden color and delicious flavor. Chewy raisins and crisp walnuts add interesting texture. This makes a large batch, but not a crumb of this creamy candy will go begging.

MAKE REAISIN Nut Butter Fudge with 3 cups sugar, 1½ cups scalded milk, ½ cup butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups light or dark raisins, and ½ cup chopped walnuts.

Place 1 cup sugar in heavy skillet and stir over low heat until melted and light brown in color. Add to scalded milk and stir until completely dissolved. Add butter and remaining 2 cups sugar. Boil, stirring frequently to prevent sticking, to 238 degrees F. or until mixture forms a soft ball when dropped in cold water.

Remove from heat, add rind and vanilla, and cool slightly. Beat until creamy. Blend in raisins and walnuts. Pour into greased 8-inch square pan and let stand until firm. Cut into squares.

Makes about 2 dozen pieces.

ASK FEDERAL HELP — Anderson county school board members of Clinton, Tenn., sign letter to Justice Department asking federal aid in enforcing racial integration at Clinton high. From left are Chester Hicks, Francis Moore, Ralph Shanlever, Supt. Frank Irwin, Chairman R. G. Crossno, J. M. Burkhart and J. M. Sisson, Principal D. J. Brittain Jr., in rear.

their arraignment late Wednesday night.

Meanwhile, school board chairman R. G. Grossno announced that "we will not reopen (Clinton High School) until Federal and local authorities have had time to make it safe for the children to return."

HE ADDED that the board was "gratified" with the progress made by authorities thus far, and said that he was "hopeful" that the school would reopen on an integrated basis Monday morning.

The new rash of violence was kindled here last month when segregationist John Kasper was acquitted of state charges of contempt and inciting to riot.

Immediately after his release came new intimidations against school officials and colored pupils in general, and flagrant acts against other law-abiding citizens by opponents of school integration which took place here Aug. 27.

The decisive blow to the school officials' patience came when a 33-year-old white minister, the Rev. Paul W. Turner, was severely beaten after he escorted six colored pupils back to the school which they deserted a week earlier.

MR. TURNER, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, one of the county's largest, said he escorted the pupils because they had a "moral right" to attend the school without being molested by their classmates.

Nine of the 12 colored pupils who enrolled at the school on Aug. 27 left school last Tuesday because of "abuse" and increasing harassments imposed by a core of their classmates recognized as members of the Kasper-spawned white youth council.

The pupils who braved the hostile reception of about 50 persons to gather on the school were: Robert Hayden, Minnie Sidewalker Tuesday morning Ann Diekey, Joe Ann Allen, Alice J. McKwin, Maurice Sprouse, and Bobbie Cain.

Three of the 12 colored pupils are no longer enrolled.

MEANWHILE, John Kasper, notorious instigator of the Clinton integration troubles, was arrested for speeding Tuesday in Fairfax, Va., where patrolmen clocked him at 75 miles per hour enroute back to Washington where he is executive secretary of the seaboard White Citizens Council.

The 26-year-old segregationist was without the $39.29 to post collateral, and was detained at the Fairfax police headquarters until a friend brought him the money.

Kasper, who is awaiting an appeal of a one-year sentence of a federal court contempt conviction will return to Fairfax for a hearing on the reckless driving charge Jan. 4, 1957 —one year from the day Federal Judge Taylor in Knoxville ruled against Clinton integration.

KASPER'S HURRIED retreat from Clinton coincided with the arrival of FBI agents sent here by Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell following an urgent request of Federal aid by Clinton school Federal aid by Clinton school officials.

U.S. Attorney John Crawford sought contempt proceedings against those who resorted to racial violence in the Clinton area, and received permission from Judge Taylor for arrests to be made.

Clinton school officials had complained that the Federal courts had issued an order which they were failing to support in the face of violence.

At Wednesday night's arraignment in Knoxville, U.S. Attorney Crawford called W. H. Till, head of the Anderson County White Citizens Council, the "ringleader of a group that has been intimidating colored persons."

Till, who was carrying a pistol when he was arrested in a home here Wednesday afternoon, denied the charges against him, and said that his organization is "dedicated to peace and harmony between the races."

ALL 16 PERSONS named in the contempt warrant are charged generally with conducting "a deliberate and persistent campaign against school officials," and of violence toward colored pupils and other law-abiding citizens.

'Well, I've been doing a little time — about 10 years'

"Where have you been?"

"Well, I've been doing a little time—about 10 years."

Magistrate Marshall Levin, presiding in Housing Court Thursday, received this answer to his question from Nathaniel Wiggins, 1506 block Brentwood Ave., accused of failure to clean his yard.

The defendant explained to the court that he had not been around to take care of his yard.

Magistrate Levin, who said he felt "10 years was enough," gave Mr. Wiggins a $10 suspended fine.

-Allen family out

"Oh! you will don't worry," she said.

"I hope so," he answered.

"Joanne was so young when she was there," her mother said, "But she always remembers that we don't have the same problems there."

"I DOUBT that I'll go back to school when it reopens Monday," Joanne said.

"We were hoping to leave Friday," Mrs. Allen said "but it's a little doubtful that we can get everything straight by then."

Joanne and Mrs. Allen recalled how "the only pleasant news Clinton had on integration was the first news."

Clinton had on Integration was quietly" was the headline they recalled.

"I don't know whether we will ever come back here to live. It just depends on how well we like it, how well we do there," Mrs. Allen said.

SHE PLANS to go to night school and learn typing.

"I hope for a better position than I've had here. I'm fed up with maid work," she said.

Mrs. Allen is a member of a prominent farm family of nearby Oliver Springs.

Mrs. Allen's brother, Samuel W. Harper is a supervisor in the Los Angeles school system.

A graduate of Knoxville College, he was the first colored military officer in Roan county of which Oliver Springs is a part.

He was an Air Corp pilot in World War II. He received his MA. degree in mathematics, at UCLA.

Born in Luverne, Ala. Mr. Allen has lived in Clinton since 1912. He has worked in Oak Ridge as a carpenter with various construction companies.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen were married in Clinton by a white minister, the Rev. Paul Simms.

"The Methodist minister was just such a man as the Rev. Paul Turner," Mrs. Allen said. "We had gotten along so well with the white folks here in Clinton, and we were all so amazed at the trouble when Kasper came," she added.

"THE SCHOOL was like Austin except that didn't have as many courses in the curriculum as at Austin," volunteered Joanne Allen.

Austin is the colored school at Knoxville which the colored pupils formerly attended.

"The teachers are just about the same. They were just as hard as they were out at Austin, but they didn't show any prejudice. They were nice there, real nice."

"The better class of students were nice too, the girls were especially nice, the boys didn't say much except for one by who was a little too nice, he was fresh."

MRS. ALLEN declined to comment on the recent arrest, which vestigation here.

"I just want to get away from this mess," Mrs. Allen said.

"My leaving is a personal affair" she added. "You can't tell them (referring to the other colored people who are staying here) to stick when you are leaving."

"We're not leaving altogether for that reason (referring to segment on the recent arrest, which had climaxed the FBI raid after investigation here. People will think we're quitters, but if Herb (Mr. Allen) had a good job we might stick it out here."
