STUDENTS PUNISHED

WASHINGTON — The House Democratic Patronage Committee has fired two Howard students, the appointees of Rep. A. Clayton Powell, in reprisal for Powell's support of President Eisenhower. The committee is headed by Rep. Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania, who said there were no plans to oust Rep. Jedd Williams to have them on the big team of Miss., who also deserted the Democratic nominee.

The Phillies team wants tan players'

PHILADELPHIA "We want colored players with the Phillies and we expect to have them on the big team soon." This assurance was given last week by F. D. Powell, director of sales of the Phillies Baseball Club. It was in answer to a letter to Mr. Powell from the Rev. Leon H. Sullivan, pastor of Zion Baptist Church.

The minister had raised the question "as to the reason our Philadelphia ball club is one of the few, in either league, that has never been able to find a colored player of major league caliber."

Mr. Powell answered in part: "Thank you for one of the most open-minded letters I've ever received. It doesn't certainly welcome the invitation to present the Phillies position. Briefly, it is this: we want colored players on the Phillies and we expect to have them on the big team soon.

"Personally, I think you will see this come about in a year or two. We have close to a dozen colored with big league potential in our revitalized farm system; and since the close of the 1956 season, we've signed some of the finest young colored players in the country.

"IN YOUR letter you mentioned Frank Robinson, Cincinnati's worthy winner of the National League Rookie of the Year Award. As you know, he tied the rookie record by hitting 39 homers.

"That's encouraging too because Robinson hit only 12 home runs and had a rather 263 batting average the previous year in a fairly low echelon of the minor leagues.

"It may well be that our Ed Logan will emulate Robinson's meteoric rise. The last time Milwaukee was in town, Billy Burton told one of our men that Logan can't miss stardom with the Phillies, barring unforeseen mishaps."

"Logan is the speedy outfielder who was signed by the Phillies upon the recommendation of one of our colored scouts, Bill Yancey, a keen judge of baseball talent who formerly sought colored players for the Braves.

"Logan had a great year in our Manton, Ill., farm club. His batting average was over .400 most of the season and he led the Midwestern League, in almost every phase of hitting. Incidentally, Logan has already completed his military service.

"From the way they helped our Schenectady farm team capture first place and then sweep six straight playoff games in the Eastern League, it seems likely pitcher Henry Mason and first baseman Francisco Herrera will soon be elevated to the Phillies.

"Other colored players who made conspicuous progress in our farm system last season include Charles Randall, a switch hitter who plays third base; outfielder Nathan Dickerson, a 225-pounder who has started to get the home run range, and pitchers Bill Hill and D. D. Vaughn.

"Earlier I mentioned that we have signed some of the finest young colored players in the country. Two who will begin play in our organization in 1957, Charles Fields and James Stewart, are exceptional catchers.

"FIELDS is a California who won the Billy Martin Award as the Outstanding High School Player of the Year. He is going to college now in the off-season at California Poly."

"Perhaps you've already heard about Stewart. He's a Philadelphian Tom Dixon describes as another Josh Gibson. Stewart, who gets his bachelor's degree this semester at Bluefield State, never hit below .400 in sandlot baseball.

"I have been with the Phillies organization a long time and can offer you personal assurance that it is completely without prejudice of any nature. So, let me again ask for your support of the Phillies in 1957 and in the years ahead."

Bright scores pair in Canadian playoff

TORONTO — Johnny Bright, former Drake University, captain and star, tallied two touchdowns for the winners as the Edmonton Eskimos walloped the Montreal Alouettes, 50 - 27, here Saturday.

The game was the annual East - West classic to determine the Canadian Football League champion.

Early in the season, it was reported that Bright would be unable to play during the 1956 season because of a shoulder separation.

By winning, the Eskimos ran their string of Dominion grid titles to three.

5 Tan grid stars picked in pro draft

PHILADELPHIA — Five of the nation's outstanding colored college players were among the 49 players drafted by 12 National Football League teams in the first pro draft session here Monday.

They were:

Jim Brown, Syracuse halfback, by the Cleveland Browns.

Abe Woodson, Illinois University halfback, by the San Francisco 49ers.

Clarence Peakes, Michigan State University halfback, by the Philadelphia Eagles.

Lamar Lundy, Purdue University end, by the New York Giants but traded to the Los Angeles Rams in a pre-draft deal.

Jim Parker, Ohio State University guard, by the Baltimore Colts.

* * *

SIGNIFICANTLY ALL of the players, with the exception of Brown of Syracuse, the Big Ten college players and all but Lundy and Parker are halfbacks.

Parker was the Colts number one draft choice. He is 6 feet, 3 inches, 262 pounds, with plenty of ability. Three scouts for the Colts praised him for his size, speed and strength in the line.

Parker plays both offensively and defensively and, if he joins the pros next season, is expected to help fill a big gap in the Colts offense.

* * *

A NATIVE OF Macon, Ga., Parker was a 1954 honor senior and candidate for All-American selection. He has been a building block in the standout Ohio line for three seasons.

Although of draft age, the Colts anticipate that he will not be called in the regular draft inasmuch as he is married and the father of one child.

Lundy is captain of the Purdue eleven and has been a sensation at end for the Boilermakers. He was a draft choice but by a pre-draft deal went to ition of the New York Giants the Los Angeles Rams.

Peaks, the standout back with Michigan State until he suffered an injury which has kept him inactive for the past month, is expected to be ready for action next season. Coaches, like Peakes has been another Big ten acre with the Illini aggregation.

* * *

BROWN, WHO GOES to the Cleveland Browns, is regarded as some cycles as the standout player in the East and among the top ball carriers in the country.

He has broken all offensive records at Syracuse, and is third in rushing and sixth in total offense in the country.

Twenty-six other players will be drafted by the pro league in January.

Adams starts 8th season at Texas

HOUSTON, Texas — Coach Edward H. Adams started his eighth year as head basketball coach at Texas Southern University when he unveiled his 1956-57 cage team here Monday against Wayland College of Plainview, Texas in the Public School Building of the house.

The defending Southwestern Athletic conference champions boast nine returning lettermen and a host of talented freshmen to this year's squad.

Leading the Bengals in the attack will be Bennie Swain, 1955-56 captain and 1956-57 co-captain and center.

Colt fans to see draftees

Local football fans will get their first glimpse of two of the Baltimore Colts' three college choices this week end.

Jim Parker, all-American guard from Ohio State, and Luke Owens, stellar tackle from Florida Southern, will be in the city Saturday and Sunday.

The two young collegians will be introduced at a press party by Buddy Young, Colt scout and public relations assistant, on Saturday night. On Sunday, they will attend the game between the Colts and the San Francisco 49ers at the Stadium.

Anti-discrimination bill given Parliament

LONDON (ANP) — Although little likelihood is expressed here that it will get through the current session, an anti-discrimination bill was introduced in the British parliament last week by Laborite Fenner Brockway.

The bill, a private member's resolution, seeks to make discrimination illegal in Britain when exercised against a person on grounds of race, religion, or color.

40,000 expected to see Colts vs. 49ers Sunday

Coming off the greatest victory in their eight-year history, the Baltimore Colts go the post this week for the second Sunday in a row against a West Coast opponent.

This time it's against the San Francisco 49ers and another crowd in excess of 40,000 is expected to be on hand for the 2 p.m. kickoff.

In throttling the Los Angeles Rams, 56-21, last week, the Colts rolled up more points than before and set a helmetful of individual and club records in the process. The 49ers come in after tying the Philadelphia Eagles and offer a well-balanced offense.

The home showing of the Colts will be their last before going on a two-week West Coast trip. They then return to Baltimore December 23 for the season wrap-up against the Washington Redskins.

THE 49ERS, coached by Frankie Albert, one of the most imaginative quarterbacks of all time, have been featured by the return of Hugh McElhenny, once again one of the NFL's most respected ball carriers. Joe (The Jet) Perry is still in the fullback spot, his ninth season with the Golden Gate gridders.

Y. A. Tittle, former Colt favorite, is a quarterback but has been pressed by Earl Morrall, the 49ers' first draft choice from Michigan State and 1956 Rose Bowl hero.

San Francisco has such other top performers as John Henry Johnson of St. Mary's, Dick Moegle of Rice, Bruce Bosley of West Virginia, Bob St. Clair of San Francisco U., Bill Wilson of San Jose State and Bob Toneoff of Notre Dame. The latter three received all-pro recognition in 1955.
