Experts pick Archie to win heavy title

By CHARLES LIVINGSTON

CHICAGO (ANP) — The talk is over and the fight is on, and Archie Moore and Floyd Patterson are just about ready to square off for the fight which each believes will bring him the most prize title in all fistiana — the heavyweight of the world.

The two will meet in the Chicago Stadium Friday night, Nov. 30, in the 15-round duel sponsored by the International Boxing Club, James D. Norris, president.

On hand to witness the veteran light heavyweight champion from San Diego, Calif., battle the brash, young Brooklyn sharpshooter will be an anticipated capacity crowd, which is expected to pay approximately $450,000 into the till. Another $200,000 will come from radio and television.

ON THE BASIS of the ANP's sampling of the opinion of experts and those in a position to judge the fight, Moore is a strong favorite to win. However, betters along cauliflower row sees a much closer fight. They have installed Archie a 6-5 favorite to win on decision and a 7-5 choice to score a knockout.

Here is a breakdown of the expert's prediction:

Joe Louis, former heavyweight champion: "I...like Moore."

Joey Maxium, former light heavyweight champion and three-time loser to Moore in title bouts: "Moore will win. In order to win, Floyd must fight his fight. He can't do it. Moore will be ready for the storms. If he can do that, this kid has the speed, quick hands and stamina to go on and grab the decision."

Maxim won, a controversial eight-round decision over Patterson Dec. 7, 1954. However, Floyd was only 19 at the time.

DOC KEARNS, former manager of Jack Dempsey: "Moore is my choice. He can win on a decision, or by KO. He can pace himself to go as long as he wants to, because he knows how to fight. He is a real pro, that Archie."

Sam Plan, former manager of Tony Zale: "It's a question of whether the old man can hold up under the kind of pressure the youngster can apply in the 15 rounds. Floyd still looks green on the inside, though, while Moore looks like he is ready for a tough battle."

Johnny Coulon, former bantamweight champion: "I am picking Moore to win the heavyweight title and Sugar Ray Robinson to win against Fullmer. Those two fellows may be jetting along in age but until they lose, I will stick with 'em. You got to; they are the brains in the ring today."

MOORE AND PATTERSON ended their training grinds Thursday and went to the scales Friday noon. Moore was expected to weight about 187 pounds and Patterson around 182.

The fight will be televised nationally with the Chicago area blacked out for a radius of 90 miles. NBC radio will carry a blow-by-blow account of the fight.

DON NEWCOMBE

Newk voted baseball's top pitcher

BULLETIN!

BROOKLYN—General Manager Emil J. (Buzz) Bavasi announced late Thursday that Don Newcombe had signed his 1957 contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers earlier in the day. Although no salary terms were mentioned, it is estimated that Newk received a $5,000 increase over his $25,000 pay of last year.

NEW YORK — Don Newcombe was voted the first Cy Young Memorial award on Wednesday, a move that designated him as the undisputed No. 1 pitcher of baseball in 1956.

The big Brooklyn Dodger righthander was an overwhelming choice of the committee of the Baseball Writers' Association which made the selection.

There are 16 members on the committee, one veteran writer from each of 12 cities in the two major leagues, and two each from New York and Chicago where there are two teams.

Big Don gained 10 of 16 votes. His teammate, Sal Maglie, was a distance second with four votes. Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves, and Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees, received one vote each.

The Young Award is being made this year for the first time. Its main purpose is to separate pitchers from the other players in the majors in the annual "most valuable player" voting. Newcombe, however, spoiled the plan by winning both.

Only a week earlier, the 27-game winner of the National League champions was cited for 1956 MVP honors in the senior loop.

Moore sued for $750,000

CHICAGO — Heavyweight contender Archie Moore wound up training for Floyd Patterson this week under the cloud of a court litigation.

Moore was named defendant in a triple-barrelled, $750,000 suit, filed in Federal Court here Wednesday, by Mrs. Dolree Mapp, of Shaker Heights, Ohio, and her daughter, Barbara, aged 12.

Mrs. Mapp, divorced wife of fighter Jimmy Bivins, charges breach of promise and assault. Separate assault charges are couched in the (third) suit on behalf of Barbara, adopted daughter of Bivins and the plaintiff.

Mrs. Mapp's complaint is the latest development in action begun last summer in Cleveland. At that time, she accused Moore of failing to live up to a promise to marry her, and asserted that he had beaten her and attacked the young girl in their Ohio home.
