You'll find that "Julie" reaches a summit of suspense seldom equalled on the screen! Don't miss Doris Day, Louis Jourdan, Barry Sullivan and Frank Lovejoy in "Julie."

PRESLEY VEHICLE HELD OVER AT THE REGENT

"Love Me Tender," a 20th Century-Fox CinemaScope production, co - starring Richard Egan and Debra Paget and introducing Elvis Presley, the singing sensation of the country today, in his first screen role, is now showing for a second week at the Regent Theatre. In the picture, which has been eagerly awaited by the millions of Presley teen - age fans throughout the country, the young guitar - strumming singer plays a dramatic role, although it calls for his singing four songs in the course of the story.

In "Love Me Tender," which deals with the escapades of four brothers during the last days of the Civil War, Egan plays the role of Lt. Vance Reno, the oldest brother and leader of a Confederate cavalry troop. Presley has the part of the kid brother, Clint, whose age forces him to remain at home on the farm. A highly dramatic conflict between the two brothers develops when Vance learns that Clint, upon getting a false report of his brother's death, had married his girl while he was away. Debra Pagent has the role of Cathy, whose love is sought by the brothers. This tight, suspenseful story was written for the screen by Robert Buckner from an original by Maurice Geraghty.

Producer David Weisbart and Director Robert Webb combine the elements of this turbulent theme with action that befits a rip-roaring western film and the drama of a poignant love story to give it a high quotient of romantic appeal.

One of the highlights of this production is a picnic scene in which young Presley entertains by playing his guitar and singing songs. His numbers in this and other scenes in the picture include the title song, "Love Me Tender," "Poor Boy," "We're Gonna Move" and "Let Me."

"SHAKE, RATTLE, ROCK" HELD OVER, NEW ALBERT

"Shake, Rattle and Rock," American-International's musical comedy, is held over for a second week at the New Albert Theatre.

The film brings to the screen th biggest array of rock 'n roll artists ever assembled for a motion picture.

It stars Fats Domino, the country's top rock and roll recording artist, singing his record hits, "I'm in Love Again," "Ain't It a Shame" and "Honey Chile." Joe Turner and the Choker Campbell Band, featuring "Feelin' Happy" and "Lipstick, Powder and Paint," Tommy Charles, singing "Sweet Love on My Mind" and Annie Ray singing "Rockin' Saturday Night."

The picture also has Sterling Holloway in his inimitabe comedy routines plus Raymond Hatton, Douglas Dumbrille, Margaret Dumont in her funniest role since her Marx Brothers pictures, and a big group of enthusiastic exuberant teen-age rock and roll dancing kids.

Lovely Lisa Gaye, previously in Columbia's "Rock Around the Clock," and popular Touch Connors, provide the romantic angle. "Shake, Rattle and Rock," with its music, comedy, dancing, and story of modern youth's rock and roll craze nervous snobbish adults who attempt to stifle it, provides grand entertainment for the entire family.

STORY OF FINANCIAL WIZARD IN 'SCOUNDREL' MOVIE

The brazen, fantastic story of a man who brings financial empires to their feet—and women to their knees—is told frankly and sensationally in "Death-of-a Scoundrel," new RKO Radio movie which is now playing at the Met Theatre.

This taut film unfolds the drama of the few short years between the landing in New York of a penniless immigrant and the popular demand for his deportation.

George Sanders, movie scoundrel par excellence, plans suavely a financial wizard who cheats his way to the top, ruins all who know him, and becomes a household synonym for hate.

The scoundrel makes his own laws, until an outraged humanity takes the law into his own hands to destroy him. He rambles with the basest motives known to man. And he almost succeeds in selling the world to the devil. His sensational murder cuts short a career unparralled in ruthlessness.

Starred with Sanders in this story of a modern robber baron are Yvonne DeCarlo, the thief with a heart, who can love the scoundrel but never forgive him; Zsa Zsa Gabor, the heiress who love with men and millions—until she becomes the scoundrel's plaything; Victor Jory, the millionaire who's on watch for him; Nancy Gates, the actress who learns the wrong lines, and Coleen Gray, the adventuress who stakes her reputation on his heart — and loses.

The all-star cast also includes John Hoyt, Tom Conway and Lee Ferrade.

Packed with action from start to finish "Death of a Scoundrel" tells the unusual story of an unusual character. It was written, produced and directed by Charles Martin. Music is by Max Steiner.

GEORGE SANDERS, as the scoundrel who discards simple decency in his frenzied rise, does a fascinating job in revealing the emotions that drive ambition in "Death of a Scoundrel" now playing at the Met Theatre.

'Nice' reckless drivers? —There are such things

"Your honor, before I would run the risk of that nice man's getting a police record here, I'll gladly pay for getting our cars fired myself, if you'll just let us go and settle it ourselves."

"That's about the nicest thing I've heard a driver say in a long time," Magistrate S. Robert Levinson told two men standing before him in Traffic Court Wednesday morning.

Magistrate Levinson referred to the statement by 71-year-old Morris Sudler, a white moving and storage agent, who, like the "nice man," 41-year-old chauffeur Charlie Allen, was facing a reckless driving charge.

* * *

BOTH MEN EXPLAINED that neither was at fault in their Nov. 30 collision at Fulton and Riggs Aves. They said that neither was speeding, but that two parked cars blocked their view and a school patrol policewoman waved on the car driven by Mr. Allen although Mr. Sudler had the right of way.

Both men smiled approvingly, as the magistrate wrapped up the summons, and directed the men to settle the matter between themselves.

More police to curb Yule crime

"We plan to use about 150 seasoned men on overtime and the new men who will be graduated from our school on December 15 to meet the usual crime increase we expect during the Christmas shopping season."

"However, the actual number of men that we send in any given area will be determined by the need."

"Our central record system gives us a pretty clear picture of when and where crime occurs."

Police Commissioner James M. Hepbron was explaining part of the special program which will be used by the police to curb the activities of pickpockets, purse snatchers, and other holiday hustlers who exploit busy shoppers.

According to the records, crime booms during the month-long shopping season which precedes Christmas Eve.

BUT THE comparative crime report presents a much brighter picture.

Neither the purse snatchers nor the second story boys were as active in November of this year as they were in November a year ago.

The cases of larceny from auto dropped from 190 in November, 1955 to 137 last month.

In the report which listed the categories of crime under a murder, rape, robbery, burglary and larceny breakdown, total arrests fro November, 1955 amounted to 752 and the November, 1965 total was 626, or a 16.4 decrease.

'They are starting young these days . . .'

"They are starting young these days."

Officer Leroy Moody of the Northwestern District was the source of this comment on Friday after two teen-age youths had been arrested at the Dunbar- Carver football game as they were reportedly operating the "shell game."

The "shell game" is one of the oldest swindles on record with the basic equipment consisting of three shells, a pea, two operators, and some willing spectators, the officer said.

The object of the game is for the spectator to find the pea under one of the shells, which is just about impossible since the operator usually hides the pea in his hand.

* * *

IN THE CASE of Luther Gay, 19, 1700 block Riggs Ave., and Robert Shields, 16, 3300 block Gwynns Falls Parkway, Officer Moody said the youths were operating the game in Easterwood Park as Dunbar and Carver pupils watched the football game.

In the Northwestern Police Court on Friday afternoon, Gay was given a six months suspended sentence and placed on probation for two years, while Shields was sentenced to 30 days and also placed on probation for two years.

Neither of the youths was in school, according to police.

Gerry Talbott held on girls' charges

"By his own admission, there is something wrong with him. Anything you can do to help him, he would definitely appreciate it."

So declared Sgt. Robert Taylor Thursday in Northwestern District Court before Magistrate Linwood G. Koger, Sr.

Sgt. Taylor spoke in behalf of 28-year-old Gerry Hamilton Talbott, 1900 block Cecil Ave., who faced an indecent exposure charge.

Mr. Talbott, a chauffeur with the Department of Education, was ordered held in $500 bail for grand jury action.

* * *

"WE DON'T have facilities to try this type of case. We request Dr. Guttmacher's office to handle this," declared Magistrate Koger in sentencing the defendant.

According to the testimony of a 17-year-old blonde girl, which was supported by her two 16-year-old girlfriends, the girls were walking in the 3600 block of Clifton Ave. about 9:45 p.m. November 26, when they noticed the defendant seated in a parked automobile, partially clad.

The girls accused Mr. Talbott of making an indecent proposal to them, and said that when they ran, he got out of his car and ran after them.

Mr. Talbott denied the latter: "I did not chase the girls. I did not get out of the car," he testified.

George L. Russell, counsel for the defense, requesting that Magistrate Koger dispose of the case, pointed out that his client is in need of psychiatric help.

Magistrate Koger said "I have a duty to the public that I must perform. I'll have to let supervision come from the Supreme Bench of Baltimore I don't think he is innately bad; it's just a mania.

5 unlucky for driver

Clarence Aaron Pittman, 32, of the 500 block North Calhoun Street, had a rough time in Traffic Court and the number five was his unlucky number.

Magistrate Henry Miller handed down a sentence which included a $30 fine and eight months in jail.

Pittman drew penalties on five counts. For speeding, for displaying a license not his own, for using a false name to obtain a license, for operating after his license has been revoked and for giving an improper address.

Five counts and Aaron lived in the 500 block.

Sex charges against Dr. Simmons dropped

WASHINGTON

Charges were dropped against Dr. Thomas C. Simmons on a motion before District Chief Judge Bolitha Laws Monday.

Dr. Simmons, 46, 500 block Rhode Island Ave., NW, was accused of carnal knowledge involving a 15-year-old girl and another count of criminal assault on a 28-year-old unmarried government worker.

The government moved dismissal of the case stating there was insufficient evidence to proceed after the defense had won an earlier motion for separate trials on each count of the indictment.
