Former musician is city's 104th traffic fatality

BY GARFIELD HINTON

"Just as he stepped off the curb, a car hit him and knocked him up under another one. He lay in the street for a whole hour."

Heart-broken and lonely, despite the presence of children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren, Mrs. Estella Johnson, 3405 Holmes Ave., was describing the 6:30 p.m. Monday accident at Pennsylvania Ave. and Greenwillow St., which claimed the life of her husband, 58 - year - old Robert Johnson.

According to the police Mr. Johnson was crossing Pennsylvania Ave., from west to east when he was struck by a southbound automobile, operated by Luther L. Curtis, 37, 1206 Bayard St.

Mr. Johnson was treated at Provident Hospital for contusions of the right eye, nose, and skull, and was pronounced dead at 9 p.m., police report.

* * *

A MANSLAUGHTER charge has been placed against Mr. Curtis. He has also been charged with reckless driving and failure to grant the right of way to a pedestrian.

A Traffic Court hearing has been set at 7 p.m., January 23, 1957.

The grief - stricken widow, seated in the living room of her comfortable home told the AFRO Wednesday that her husband had just gotten off from work, at Schultze United on Lexington St., where he had worked as a custodian for the past 12 years, and was visiting friends in the Pennsylvania Ave.-Greenwillow St. section.

"He lay on the street for a whole hour until my daughter-in-law saw him. She brought a blanket and covered him up with it. She told me he tried get up several times but couldn't," Mrs. Johnson recalled.

Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Dorothy E. Johnson, 13 Greenwillow St., was on her way from work when she saw Mr. Johnson lying on the street, her mother, Mrs. Moreal Starke, also of 13 Greenwillow St., explained.

Mrs. Moreal added that: "He was thrown underneath a parked car. Some men had to lift the car up to remove him."

* * *

TWISTING HER head to one side, Mrs. Johnson recalled: "He used to play piano with Ike Dixon's jazz band, years ago. After Percy Glassgow got killed, my husband dropped out. He just gave it up."

Later that same night Elmer Johnson, the deceased's older brother was also struck by an automobile. He, however, was treated at University Hospital and released, several hours later.

High Mass was said for Mr. Johnson this (Friday) morning at St. Pius Catholic Church, Edmondson Ave. and Schroeder St. Interment followed in Mt. Auburn Cemetery. The Charles Cooper Funeral Home was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mr. Johnson was a member of Monumental Lodge No. 3 of the Elks and had been married for 37 years. He was Baltimore's 104th traffic fatality for 1956.

* * *

BESIDES HIS wife and brother, he is survived by 10 children, 33 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren, all of Baltimore.

The children are: Joseph Johnson, an English teacher at the Benjamin Franklin School No. 239 in Curtis Bay, and a 1954 Morgan College graduate;

A daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Furman, a registered nurse at Crownsville State Hospital and a graduate of St. Paul's Nursing Institute.

"She had been ill since March 1955. She was operated on at Johns Hopkins Hospital and went back and forth for treatments but lately she seemed to go down steadily."

Mrs. Frances Langston told the AFRO Thursday about the death of her mother, Mrs. Edna Copeland Hatwood, 70, of 1612 Division St., who died Monday.

A native of Laytonsville, Montgomery County, Maryland, Mrs. Hatwood was the daughter of William Copeland and Nellie Murphy Copeland. Her grandparents, were Eveline and Nicholas Murphy. Nicholas was the brother of John H. Murphy, Sr., founder of the AFRO.

WHEN MRS. Hatwood was six years old her family moved to Catonsville, where she attended school. She was first married to Archie Raveling who died leaving her a widow at an early age.

Her second husband, now deceased, was William Hatwood.

A member of Grace AME Church in Catonsville since 1906, Mrs. Hatwood was active in church affairs until: her health failed. Her father, now deceased, was for along time a teacher of music and voice in Baltimore.
