Cocktail parties, dances headline social calendar

with Lula Jones Garrett

By SHIRLEY KYLE (Substituting for Mrs. Patterson) who is on vacation.

Cocktail parties and dances are filling the social calendar these days as we move towards another holiday season.

Topping the list over the weekend was that chic cabaret party the Creoles gave last Saturday at the New Albert Hall. This was their first affair and what an affair it was.

Party makers wined and dined until the wee hours to the music of Ed Wiley and his Hall Blazers. Creston (Doc) Wongust added to the merriment and everyone had the best of best times.

Proceeds from the affair will be given to Provident Hospital. The Creoles are: Willie Valentine, president; Margaret Austin, vice president; Maymie Burke, financial secretary; Margaret Durham, treasurer; Elizabeth Ford, Alease Jones, Henrietta Thomas, Bobbie Uteles, Catherine Young, Jerry Smith and Romaine Taylor.

FOLLOWING The Morgan-Hampton game, Saturday Hampton alumni gathered at the Kliquot Club for an "old home week" party.

And they say a lot of "country" fun was had by all at the Modern Cinderellas barn dance Friday at the Odd Fellows Hall. Members include:

Dorothy Hasketh, president; Constance Brent, secretary, Annie Purdy, treasurer; Louise Lockerman, Lillian Maith, Florence Dennis, Inez Johnson, Lillian Dabney and Ann Dorsey.

The Voguettes entertained their cocktail party guests at the Uptown Bar, Sunday.

And a new club, the Progressive Cosmos, composed of beauticians of Poplar Grove St., made its debut Sunday with the first big affair at the Club Tijuana.

Guests learned new tricks about hair tint and sparkle when the hostesses put on a Hair Fashion Show. Styles varied from the upswept curled party flare to the cute cat cut.

MODELING THE hairstyles were: Drexel Chapman, Gladys Balis, Mollie James, Nina Lewis, Helen Johnson, Rosie Johnson, Marie Robinson, Zelma Anderson, Ruth Simmons and Laura Oliver.

The beauticians are: Martha Perkins, president; Machlia Green, vice president; Ruth Simmons, financial secretary; Lavenia Edmonds, acting secretary and treasurer; Ollie Lowe, Laura Gibson, Mildred Sills, Letin, vice president, Maymie Burke, financial secretary; Dora Hunter and Laura Lampkins.

Stunned was the word for Doreva Stanley, last week, when husband Milton arranged a surprise party that really came off.

The guests gathered at the nearby home of the Joe Bracey's then filed silently into the Stanley abode while Do was using the telephone in another room.

Phone call completed, she returned to the living room to find it filled with friends laden with gifts all shouting "surprise."

SHARING IN the festivities and downing a superb shrimp creole casserole prepared by Milton's sister Mary were Messrs. and Mesdames:

George Judge, Charles Hilton, Jerald Howard, Robert Matthews, Yancey Whittaker, Joseph Bracey, Richard Cummings, David Mason, Elwood Hall, Warren Stanley, James Wood, Clarence Maiden; William Griggs, Jesse Stanley, Samuel Jones, Harold Jennifer, Robert Watts, Emerson Brown, Eugene Byrd, George Woodland, Sidney Burnett, Percival Smith and Lawrence Waters.

Also Doris Freeland, Philathea Hall, Thomas Stanley and Harry Cole.

Terrapin, venison; western rabbit, ground hog and squirrel topped the menu of the annual hunters' wild game dinner given by Nathan Harris and John Jeffer, Saturday.

Guests arrived early to tell tall tales of the "Buck and Bear" that got away. Honorees were Mr. and Mrs. James Land of Chesterlown, Md. Mr. Land received a 300-savage rifle whiel Mrs. Land was given a handbag.

Others joining in the festivities were Ambrose Frazies and W. H. Duffy, Washington; R. Watters Sr. and R. Watters Jr., and Thomas Watters, all of Belair.

'TWAS a gala dinner party Mae Brown had for Julia Moore and Catherine Taylor the other day. Guests included Elmira Johns; Carter Brown, Ella Kelsie, Margaret Haynes, Grace Smith, Eleanore Stowe, Irene Taylor, Addison Mack, Maggie Thompson, and the James Bakers and Cecil Keels.

Stunned was the word for everybody at the Stork Club members are getting set for another swank Christmas party for their young ones, not to mention the Thanksgiving baskets they are filling for the needy next week.

And the We Moms have scheduled a theatre party at the Ford Theatre Dec. 14. Later in the month they will fete their hubbies to a supper party.

Cute Little Gail Gilbert, daughter of the George Gilberts, celebrated her second birthday with a party given by her godparents, the Roy Clarks.

Young ones about were: Dorietha Stern, Valerie and Alvin Wilson, Lawrence Cousins, Pamela and Robsal Pinkett, Carlie Solomon and Gilbert Halliburton.

And among the Moms were Dorothy Stern, Mary Cousins, Estelle Pinkett, Bernice Wilson and Shirley Pinkett.

'TWILL BE a December wedding for Gloria Ann Murray and Capt. Obie Dean Robinson, of San Antonio, Tex. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Davis, of this city and L. Clyde Murray of Washington.

Dr. Williams J. L. Wallace, president of West Virginia State College, and his wife were guests of Charlene Boyd and J. Ethel Hodges during their stay here, this week.

Dr. Wallace was guest speaker at the Dubois Circle meeting at the YWCA, Tuesday.

The Cogs, a newly-formed group, played hostesses to their hubbies and sweethearts recently, at an informal get-together in the club basement of their president, Doris Wilson.

3 YEARS OLD — Willie McCray Jr., of 2718 W. Fairmount Ave., celebrated his third birthday with a party given by his parents on Saturday. Two years ago, Willie won the $300 first prize in the AFRO - Carnation Milk Healthy Baby Contest. He has a baby brother, James Arthur born Oct. 30, 1956.

Members include: June B. Thorne, Ruby Burke, Dorothy Johnston, Louise P. Berry, Dorothy M. Booze, Sylvia Henry, Gloria J. McDaniel, Vonzella Murray, Zelma Thompson, Audrey May, Loretta Bryant, Laverda Smith, Doris Wilson and Carrie Slaten.

Their guests were: Robert Wood, Cecil Johnston, Arthur Murray, Walthall M. Berry, Malcolm Gee, Marvin Thompson, Irvin Turner, Dudley Henry, Clyde Bryant, Kiah Carter and Semuel May.

LETTIE WOODLAND hosted the Kappa Silhouettes, Wednesday. Plans are underway for a Christmas party for their youngsters on Dec. 28.

Among the members present were:

The Sigma Wives are planning a Christmas party. Reva Lewis, Katherine Johnson and Fannie Goodwin hosted the recent meeting.

Honored guests were Mrs. Williard Stewart, wife of Col W. Stewart of Morgan College, and Mrs. Parlett Moore, wife of Dr. P. Moore, president of Coppin College.

Members present were: Naomi Camper, Cora Gibson, Fannie Goodwin, Catherine Green, Lorraine Hayes, Juanita Hill, Katherine Johnson, Hazel Phillips, Edith Saunders, Violet Hill Whyte, Marguerite Wilkins and Geneva Woods.

Coeds to be 'big sisters'

The answer to the Biblical question, "Am I my brother's keeper?" today should be "I am my brother's brother."

This was the message Dr. Rub-Rwa, director of the Lower Division, shared with six senior mentors as they were installed at Morgan State College last week.

The mentors have been chosen to serve as "Big sisters" to Morgan's freshman coeds residing on campus this year.

Installed were: Misses Barbara Barnes, Alexandria, Va.; Delores Blackstone, Annapolis; Md.; Gloria Ford, Baltimore, Md.; Sarah Gaines, Berlin, Md.; Margaret Kiah, Bridgeville, Del. and Mrs. Elaine Brown Tutman of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Mary J. Spellman, Assistant Dean of Women is adviser to the mentors. The assembly was held in the Morgan Christian Center. Mrs. Thelma P. Bandon, Dean of Women, pinned the mentors.

—Wed 50 years

knows exactly what he is going to do.

"I'm going to court her all over again. It's been wonderful being married to her."

HOW CAN A man feel like this after 50 years? Well Mr. Bowie has his own way formula which he offers to the world:

"You have to love each other and you have to learn how to agree. It takes both people to make it work."

In the comfortable living room of their home at 2504 Hollins Ferry Rd., Mt. Winans, Mrs. Bowie nodded her head in complete agreement.

"It takes love to live together," she said softly.

AS MR. BOWIE sat on the sofa with his wife, his arm slid gently about her shoulders and she moved in closer to his side. Around them were grouped what appeared to be at least a hundred presents, symbols of the golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowie, however, only had eyes for each other as they told of how they had met.

"We were both working for the same family in Annapolis," Mrs. Bowie recalled. "It wasn't love at first sight and I had been there a couple of months before he said anything to me."

The way Mr. Bowie tells the story is this:

"I was working for the doctor driving a horse and buggy and she came to work. We started courting and that was it."

WHEN Mr. Bowie said "that was it" he had reference to such things as 17 children, 20 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Nine of the children are still living. The only one who doesn't live in Baltimore is Mrs. Ruth Burley, who is employed in Philadelphia at a department store.

Other children are: Mrs. Blanche Randall, housewife; Mrs. Edna Parker, employed at University Hospital; Miss Ernestine Bowie, Miss Beatrice Bowie, elevator operator.

Also Raymond, a ship yard worker; Frank Jr., who is studying electricity; Robert, a VA employee, and Harrision, employed in a local laundry.

"It wasn't long after the first time that Mr. Bowie walked his future wife home that they were married. Both say that they got the idea of marriage at just about the same time and neither one has any regrets.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bowie are 67 years old, thought in their case it might be best to say 67 years young, since as trite as it sounds, neither one looks much over 50.

THE BOWIES have had their share of ups and downs, such as the time that he was in the hospital and the time they lost their oldest child.

They both admit that they have had their share of arguments, but as Mr. Bowie says:

"Everybody has arguments but we could always come back and agree."

For recreation Mr. Bowie likes television, while his wife likes to attend Bethlehem Temple in the 1500 block N. Fulton Ave., and they both like to be with each other.

Looking back over the years, Mrs. Bowie thinks,—knows — that she made the right choice of a husband.

"We have been lucky and happy," she says with humble modesty.

BOTH NATIVES of Annapolis, the Bowies have lived in Mt. Winans for over 29 years. Their youngest child is 22 and the oldest is 45.

"Rear them up right and correct them when they are wrong," is the adive they jointly give to parents.

Here in their home, surrounded by their friends, their progeny, and their memories, the Bowies are a happy couple, and as Mr. Bowie says more in sincerity than in jest:

"These first 50 have been so wonderful I'd like to try another 50."

And when a man can say that after 50 years and his wife can blush prettily, who can question that love is here to stay, especially when the couple are like Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowie.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK BOWIE

Mr. and Mrs. Bowie fete 50th wedding anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowie, 2504 Hollins Ferry Rd., observed their golden wedding anniversary, Saturday.

The couple, who married in Annapolis, 50 years ago, are proud parents of 17 children. They have 20 grand children and 13 great-grand children.

Sponsoring the celebration were the Bowie's daughters: Mesdames Blanche Randall, Ruth Barley, Edna Parker and the Misses Ernestine and Beatrice Bowie; and sons, Frank, Raymond, Robert and Harrison Bowie.

A 15-pound cake, trimmed in gold, was the centerpiece of the table.
