registers 932 colored and 7 white persons.

The 9th, 10th, and 11th precincts of the 25th Ward, all in Cherry Hill, register 2,451 colored and 12 white persons.

Cherry Hill Republicans registered 698, Democrats, 1,712. The registration is therefore more than 2 to 1 Democratic.

In the presidential election November 6th, these three Cherry Hill precincts gave Eisenhower 1,014 votes, Stevenson, 966.

A 2 to 1 Democratic stronghold went for Eisenhower by 48 votes.

Out of the 110 key AFRO precincts, President Eisenhower carried 95 and Stevenson 25.

USUALLY after elections, politicians set up a howl that results would have been different if the registered voters really voted.

We have figures on that for the 110 key AFRO precincts which registered 57,188 colored and 8,974 white persons.

Here they are a total registration of 60,162. Total number who voted November 6th for Eisenhower and Stevenson, 48,920.

Percentage of the registered who voted, 81 per cent.

In some precincts, 90 per cent of the registered actually voted.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER carried the 110 key AFRO precincts by 4,968 votes.

He got 28,548 to Adlai's 23,580.

The President got 54.7 per cent of the vote and Mr. Stevenson, 45.3 per cent in the key AFRO 110 precincts.

It must be kept in mind that these percentages are for 110 precincts in which 95 per cent of the registered voters are colored and 15 per cent white.

THERE ARE five precincts, city precincts, which have colored voters registered only and no white persons. They are:

25th Precinct, 16th Ward—Harlem and Arlington Avenues, 642 registered.

24th Precinct, 16th Ward—Area of 700 block N. Carey St., 577 registered.

1st Precinct, 17th Ward—Division and Lanvale Sts., 471 registered, and 9th Precinct, 25th Ward—2700 block Spelman Rd. (Cherry Hill), 709 registered.

Ike carried each of the four precincts.

These all-colored precincts gave Eisenhower 1,218 votes and Stevenson, 782 votes.

Eisenhower's percentage, 61 per cent, Stevenson's, 39 per cent.

It is clear that percentage for the four all-colored precincts can not be regarded as the proper index for all colored people in the city.

And Mr. Eisenhower's percentage of 54.7 in the AFRO's 110 key precincts is more realistic.

FIVE OF THE 25 typical precincts carried by Mr. Stevenson in the last election are as follows:

4th Ward, 3rd Precinct (324 N. Pine St.) registered 319 colored, 6 white. The vote: Stevenson, 149; Eisenhower, 72.

8th Ward, 17th Precinct (Oliver and Dallas Sts.) registered 489 colored, 84 white. The vote: Stevenson, 240, Eisenhower, 216.

10th Ward, 7th Precinct (1400 block E. Madison St.) registered to vote 551 colored, 80 white. The vote: Stevenson, 221; Eisenhower, 192.

20th Ward, 25th Precinct (1800 Penrose St.) registered to vote 343 colored, 78 white. The vote: Stevenson, 217; Eisenhower, 202.

Mr. Stevenson carried these five typical precincts 1038 to 859.

In them he captured 54.4 per cent of the vote and Mr. Eisenhower, 45.6 per cent.

HERE'S HOW the 110 key AFRO precincts went in the race for U.S. Senate, November 6th.

Senator Butler (R) polled 25,090 (53.2 per cent)

Mr. Mahoney (D) polled 22,049 (46.8 percent),

Mr. Mahoney showed best in some AFRO key precincts in the 3rd, 4th, 6th, 8th, 9th, 20th and 22nd wards.

Senator Butler's total vote in the 110 key AFRO precincts 25,090 was 3,458 behind Mr. Eisenhower's 28,548.

Mr. Mahoney's total vote in the 110 key AFRO precincts (20,040) was 1,540 behind Mr. Stevenson's 23,580 the Democratic candidate for President.

HERE'S HOW candidates for Congress fared in the AFRO's 110 key precincts:

3rd Congressional District

Mr. Garmatz (D) 3,745 (51.8 per cent)

Mr. Kemper (R) 3,483 (48.2 per cent)

In the entire District, Mr. Garmatz polled 48,012 votes to Mr. Kemper's 20,865.

4th Congressional District

110 key AFRO precincts

Mr. Fallon (D) 7,472 (47.8 per cent;

Mr. Hubbard (R) 8,154 (52.2 per cent)

In the entire 4th Congressional District, Mr. Fallon polled 43,821 votes and Mr. Hubbard 37,662 votes.

7th Congressional District

110 key AFRO precincts

Mr. Friedel (D) 8,966, (50.3 per cent)

Mr. Holley (R) 8,851 (49.7 per cent.

In the entire 7th Congressional District, all precincts Mr. Friedel polled 70,094 votes and Mr. Halley (R) 48,703.

Analysis shows the vote for these Congressmen was closer in the 110 key AFRO precincts than in non-AFRO precincts.

The Democrats, Garmatz and Friedel, carried their AFRO precincts and the Republican, Hubbard, making his first bow in politics, was ahead in the AFRO precincts in the 4th District.

seconds a police wagon.

"The police say they were chasing me but there was no police whistle, no blinking light, no siren. They must have been following me.

"When I stopped they didn't ask to see my license and that's what they should have done if I had violated a traffic law.

"All they did was order us out of the car with our hands up, make us put our hands on the wall and put handcuffs on us.

"Yes, they put us in the patrol wagon. There wasn't enough room for all of us to sit down. Dean Anderson had to sit on the floor.

"They were obviously looking for someone else, or maybe they thought we looked suspicious, but if they thought that and made a mistake they should have admitted it was a mistake.

"AFTER THEY had handcuffed us, I told them about the two guns in the trunk. I had nothing to hide.

"I'd rather tell them they were in there, than have them look in there and find them.

"They took us down to Central and held us there until they cleared the guns. I kept telling them it was my car, and I didn't think the others should be held.

"No, we were not allowed to call a lawyer . . . we were not allowed to make any calls, I don't see what they had to investigate.

"I DIDN'T hide anything and the guns weren't loaded. They were in a package. I explained to them I only had shells for the 22, and I explained to them I had fired that day on the range and they could call Lt. Col. (Willard C.) Stewart of the ROTC at Morgan.

"They listened to me but they still kept us there. They verified my story around 4:30.

"They called the owner of the other gun and the sergeant wanted to let us go but the lieutenant insisted they had to wait on a report from the crime lab.

"The young officers who arrested us acted like they were frightened to death. We couldn't get our hands up high enough for them. No, I don't know whether they thought we were holdup men or what."

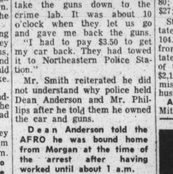
MR. SMITH added:

"Of course, we weren't supposed to be frightened but I



MR. PHILLIPS DEAN ANDERSON

just almost died.

"They kept us over seven hours. They said they had to take the guns down to the crime lab. It was about 10 o'clock when they let us go and gave me back the guns.

"I had to pay $3.50 to get my car back. They had towed it to Northeastern Police Station."

Mr. Smith reiterated he did not understand why police held Dean Anderson and Mr. Phillips after he told them he owned the car and guns.

Dean Anderson told the AFRO he was bound home from Morgan at the time of the arrest after having worked until about 1 a.m.

"No, there was nothing in our demeanor that we would have to be handcuffed and held for seven hours, but you don't protest under circumstances too vigorously when your hands are tied and a policeman has a gun on you," said Dean Anderson.

(Editor's Note: Dean Anderson is a former curate at St. James P. E. Church.)

MR. PHILLIPS said he was enroute to Gordon's Seafood House when they were stopped by the officers.

They said they had to hold all of us because of the guns," the school principal said.

"They had to check to see whether the guns actually belonged to him, whether they were registered and whether they had been fired illegally."

According to Captain Rollins, Mr. Smith must appear in Traffic Court on December 3 on charges of speeding, reckless driving and going through a red light.

Asked why the two passengers were held, the captain explained: "Because we found two guns in the car and we had to check ownership of the gun."

He declared that this was not an unusual procedure.

The Traffic Division Chief added that the investigation in this particular case was speeded up "so these gentlemen could be released as soon as possible."

Captain Rollins said the normal routine is to request a check by the crime laboratory and hold those under investigation until the report is returned. He added:

"But in this particular case, we had the lieutenant who would have been off at 7 o'clock in the morning wait and follow it through personally and he didn't get away until 9:30 a.m. in order that we could expedite this and get rid of these gentlemen.

He said, "We rushed it through as quickly as we could just because of the type of men we were dealing with."

—$100,000 estate

Mitchell's signature, written May 16, 1956, a few days before her death, was not admitted to probate. According to the photostatic copy, Mrs. Mitchell wrote:

"In the event of my death, my last will is the following distribution:

"To each of my grandchildren, $200; to Herman, my son-in-law, $200; to Catherine Studwood, $100; to Rosina, my daughter, the house (Uphsur) and to Doyle and Rosina, equal shares in all other possessions."

ACCORDING to the accounting of Mrs. Mitchell's estate, she owned a home at 1615 Upshur St., NW, the residence of B. Doyle Mitchell and his sister, valued at $25,000. She also owned property in the 5200 block C St., SE, worth $600.

As executor of her husband's estate after his death, she was also entitled to premises 1309 Drew St., Houston, Tex., estimated at $7,500.

IN HIS will, Jesse Mitchell was instructed that his sisters, Mesdames Nellie Brooks and Willie Turner occupy the Houston Home as long as they live, expense free. He also requested that they receive $60 per month for life.

According to District Court records, the Mitchell family subsequently set up a trust fund of $28,346 for that purpose out of deed of trust notes held by the late Mr. Mitchell.

IN ADDITION to the Upshur Street and Houston homes, Mrs. Mitchell's personal property amounted to $91,061.78.

A BREAKDOWN of her personal property assets follows:

Christmas savings, Industrial Bank, $96; checking account, $372.16; saving account, $5,452; travelers checks, National City Bank, $40; currency and coin, $2,931.21;

Deed of trust notes secured on 40 properties listed individually: $5,006.87; $7,405.56; $2,485.63; $9,659.50; $2,731.60; $7,607.09; $5,887.92; $2,617.75 and $9,498.23.

Personal notes, B. Doyle Mitchell, $3,733.97; B. Doyle Mitchell, $2,515.14; North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company $1,000; Metropolitan Life Insurance, $132; Metropolitan Life Insurance, $86; 100 shares stock, Industrial Bank, $1,500; one $1,000 U.S. Treasury Bond; one $500 Treasury Bond; and U.S. Savings bonds, maturity value in the following amounts: $562.50; $667.50; $440; $324.80; $664.90; $655.20; $645.60; $63.00; $27; $618; $609; $400 and $100;

Stock dividends due from estate of Jesse H. mitchell, $6.104.76;

Chrysler automobile from the late Mr. Mitchell's estate of Jisse H. Mitchell, $6.; of trust notes in his estate, $2,146.33; Mrs. Mitchell's commission as co-executor of her husband's estate, $2,697.98.

AN ACCOUNTING of Mr. Mitchell's will in 1955 valued his personal property at $180,506.93.

He left $21,921.38 in cash; $6,966 in defense bonds; shares in Potomac Electric Power Company, the Washington Gas Company and other enterprises, $107,479; and deed of trust notes, valued at $42,625.55 on 23 different properties.

Woods' Kid brother tells of kidnaping

By ELIZABETH M. OLIVER

WILDWOOD, Fla.—Why was Jesse Woods jailed? What happened during his first brief period in jail, and why was he locked up a second time?

After being locked up a second time, how long was he in jail and why was he taken from the jail and beaten by an angry mob?

In an exclusive interview with Willie Woods, Jesse's younger brother, and MacArthur Woods, his father, the AFRO was given a narrative account of the events.

FIRST OF ALL, Jesse was arrested on a drunk and disorderly conduct charge. His father and younger brother requested that he be locked up a second time for his protection from what they believed a mob.

An angry mob took him from the jail, shortly after he was jailed for protection because he supposedly said "hello baby" to a white woman.

He was badly beaten by the mob (three suspects have been arrested); later he was given refuge by a blind minister.

"WE (Willie Mae, father, and me) were there (the jail) between 7 and 8 on Saturday night," Willie said. "I asked the police chief to let me have him (Jesse). I had the money."

The police chief told Willie he had to see the mayor before he could let him bail Jesse out of jail, Willie added.

He said "We then drove to Plymouth (about 52 miles) to get daddy. We returned and daddy talked to them (police). We were told that Jesse couldn't be bonded until after 12.

"AN OFFICER said they had to keep Jesse for six hours so he could sober up. That's the way they do here.

"A little bit after 12, we took Jesse to the car. A crowd was gathering and all the white (people's) cars started crowding around and they followed us.

"We drove back to the jail and asked if we could have Jesse locked up again. People were standing around in bunches like. They didn't say anything. They were just crowding around.

"There were 15 or 20 of them over there in a automobile place and around the movie house and a filling station.

"THEY SAID: "All right, if you want to you can have him locked up again." And daddy went with them when they put Jesse back in jail."

Asked if he noticed if the cell was locked, Mr. Wood said; "Yes, it was locked. I was satisfied of that before I left."

Willie added: "We left the police standing there at the jail when they locked Jesse up the second time."

Both the father and younger son said the police didn't say anything as to whether they were going to stay around and watch out for the prisoner before they left.

THE FATHER said after they left the jail a little pass midnight, he went to get Will Sessler to take him to Williston to get information from his "best white friend."

He said he called his friend on the phone and he said he would see him in the morning, but changed his mind after Mr. Woods told him:

"I got a boy in the Wildwood jail and I got to see you now."

UPON ARRIVING at his friend's, the friend called the Wildwood police and was told "Wildwood is in an uproar; its an awful stir." He told Mr. Woods, "if you go back there they'll get you."

"I learned Jesse was gone, after going to Williston police station with my friend.

"My friend said to me: 'Don't you go back. I'll take you to Ocala and I'll go to Wildwood and see what's going on. I'll guarantee you we don't have no such goings on around here in Williston.'"

"HE TOOK me to Ocala in his car. Willie Mae and Willie were with me and we stayed in Ocala until 4 p.m. the next day.

"The newspapermen came and they wanted to take our pictures. I wondered what was going on. I didn't know all.

"So I called the Marion County sheriff. He said I could have my picture taken if I wanted to and if I didn't, he would 'clear them out.'"

"Wilbert Lewis and Mark Franklin, my sons-in-law, came after us and took us home. I haven't had the heart to go back to town since.

"I'll go to see Jesse if they will let me. They promised that they would and I sure hope they will."

Off the beaten path

Florida Impressions — Signs along the roadside are different and amusing.

The Siamese Cat Cocktail Lounge in Tampa has posted in large letters on the front window: "You must be over 21."

The Longest Street name I ever saw: Avenida Republica de Cuba.

It is in the Latin section of Tampa.

An orange grove is in the center of town in Tampa, comes right out on 22nd St.

Berry Brothers' Poultry Farm is also in the heart of town, and beside Sears department store, runs a railroad.

All traffic stops while the Silver Meteor whistles through.

Honest John's Tire Repair, Old Man Moe's Tourist Cabins, Tom's Juice and Fruit Place, the Wee-Tot Dog Kennels, Poor Orkers Liquor Store, Mom and Dad's Souvenir Stand, are names of establishments I saw in my travels.

Bell's Rose Room Tavern about five miles on the road to Wildwood, is pink stucco.

I visited a small town furniture store which had an old-fashioned kitchen cabinet with the made-in flour bin for sale.

Sign in filling station: Rest Room "for white patrons only."

In the same filling station, A drinking fountain labeled "white," while a rusty faucet is labeled "colored."

At a roadside orange and grapefruit stand, this sign is posted over the oranges: "Don't pinch me, till I'm yours."

Cracker Ped's Place is a roadside tavern between Leesburg and Mt. Dora.

Cracker Joe's Liquor Store is on Broadway in Tampa, while Vera Crenshaw's Place is a restaurant on the highway near Bill's Place.

A Cigar Company sells and makes one million cigars a day.

Sanders Drug Company advertises on the side of its building that it is "The Sick Man's Friend."

Thonotosassa is a small town 12 miles from Tampa. The name is of Indian origin.

Panasoffkee is another town about the same size.

Weeki Wachee is the "Spring of the Mermaids" and the Fountain of Youth is in about 10 different locations in sunny Florida.

Home sites advertised at $675 are aimed to catch the eye of those Northerners who aspire to retire in Florida on $350 a month.

Most of these people buy the land, place their trailer upon it, plant a few flowers and call it home.

The trailer camps are considered a menace to native Floridians who in spite of profiting from tourists and "strangers," look suspiciously upon "foreigners."

A sausage company advertises: "Grandma, what big greasless patties you make."

They declare that their sausage is "better than your first love."

I had forgotten that hot dogs are sometimes called "weenies." If you ask for hot dogs in Florida, they say, 'you mean weenies, don't you?'

Prisoners from the Raiford Pen cut weeds along the road, are dressed in blue, are guarded by two men who wear 10-gallon-hats, tight fitting khaki pants, carry a double-barrel shot gun and a .45.

A royal palm and a clump of bamboo are two of the most amazing forms of plant-life.

The royal palm has an alinto the air without a leaf. Its height is almost 60 feet, straight as a dye, and is topped with but a few fronds. The bamboo also grows 60 feet tall.

I noticed a Seventh Day Adventist Church and a Church of the Nazarene in nearly every town I passed.

In three one-night stands in the Florida area, Elvis Presslery entertained one million people.

In one case no one was allowed in the balcony lest they "get overcome" and jump off.

Air conditioning in cars as well as record players, seem to be quite common.

Caddys are so popular on one looks twice and trailers are painted to match the owner's house.

You can buy a switchblade knife in the five and ten. Brass "nucks" are 98 cents. Billy clubs are $1.95 and you can get a good pearl handle gun for $15.

Said the pawn shop man to a Northern customer who stated "we can't buy those things in New York": "You have them because they don't give us no trouble with them."

The lakes and bays on the Gulf of Mexico make Florida a "happy fishing ground" hence the road-side signs saying:

"Live bait for sale" or "gian worms for sale" or "bait, boats, worms" sold here.

Most people who are timid about eating anything except meat and potatoes will never give a dish of squids a second look. Only a few restaurants in South Florida serve them.

Floridians claim that best snails are from France's vineyards or Neuchatel, Switzerland.

They are kept in mud to cleanse their intestinal tract after they are gathered.

Then they are cooked in broth of water, carrots, garlic, onions, celery, and leeks.

The ominous little devils taste like oysters and six of them served at the finest restaurant cost $1.50.

Some square says: "It's as difficult to taste your first snail as it is to plop the first oyster in your mouth, but once you've done it, you'll wish you had tried sooner."

Cuban food is unusual. Black beans, yellow rice, and chicken Cuban style. Funny tasting.

A Cuban sandwich down "thar" in Florida is like a submarine up "thar". They have no submarine sandwiches in those parts.

A Tampa night club dancer is supposed to have a G-string costume made of green stamps. I'm through now!

'Feeling better,' says Dr. Connor

"It got warm inside, but when I hit the fresh air I felt better."

This was Dr. Miles W. Connor, retired president of Coppin State College, speaking on Tuesday afternoon several hours after he had slumped over at a table while attending the weekly luncheon of the Frontiers Club at the Druid Hill Ave. YMCA.

Dr. Connor was helped from the table to the street and then taken to his home at 2415 Madison Ave.

"I am feeling better now," Dr. Connor said, "I think it was just a little too warm."

'She is responsible for the children's safety'

"He double-parks and gets unruly when I ask him to drive on. Monday, he had traffic stopped. When I asked him to move he became unruly and cursed me out. I've been having that trouble since September."

Mrs. Rosella E. Whiten, 900 block Stoddard Ct., a school crossing guard at Biddle St., and Druid Hill Ave. was speaking Wednesday in Northwestern Police Court.

William Johnson, 37, 1600 block W. Fayette St., the defendant, who said that he is in the coal and ice business, was fined $25.

Mr. Johnson denied that he swore at the school crossing guard. He said: "I didn't swear at the lady. I asked her 'who is it you always ride me.'"

"The bread man parked on the corner, where she can see from. This is the first time I've been locked up."

THE MAGISTRATE explained to Mr. Johnson that because some other truck driver violated the law, he was not excused. "It's against the law for anyone to double park," he told the defendant, and continued:

"She is responsible for what happens to those children on Biddle and Druid Hill. If cars double park, she can't see the children."

4 dope pushers get 30 years

"Monger, Midgette and Robinson have been making trips to Washington to bring dope back to Baltimore."

Lt. Joseph Carroll, head of the narcotics unit, Rackets Division, was referring to three of four men described as dope pushers who received a total of 30 years in the Penitentiary Tuesday.

The defendants were Frank Monger, 33, 600 block Portland St., James Midgette, 23, 300 block S. Vincent St., Spencer S. Robinson, 23, 700 block Dover St., and Singleton A. Burke, 23, 1000 block Broscoe St.

THEY WERE found guilty of possessing paraphernalia used to administer narcotics on October 25.

Judge Joseph L. Carter imposed sentences of ten years each on Burke and Monger, on trial as second offenders. The others two received five - year terms.

The four testified that the night before they were arrested on September 15 they went to Washington and received heroin injections. They all denied being dope pushers.

Citizens protest discrimination with 'sit-ins'

A mixed group of 52 persons opposed to discrimination staged "sit-in" demonstrations at two outlets of the White Coffee Pot chain of restaurants Thursday night.

The larger of the demonstrations was in a Northwest Baltimore shopping center while the second took place at Howard and Baltimore Sts.

In each instance the demonstrators entered the restaurants, took seats, were denied service and then remained seated for an hour despite requests to leave.

In the shopping center demonstration, Myles Katz, owner of the chain, told the demonstrators that while he was not personally opposed to serving them, he was afraid his customers would object and 'I'm in business."

Story in print: Evelyn scans her latest column. "Being a newspaper gal," she says, "I smoke at all hours, so I'm fussy about a cigarette's taste. Luckies are the best-tasting cigarette I've ever smoked!"

"I'm fussy about a cigarette's taste . . . and LUCKIES TASTE BETTER!"

EVELYN CUNNINGHAM is city editor of "The Courier," author of her own syndicated column, and an enthusiastic Lucky smoker. "Luckies taste better," she says. "They're as mild a cigarette as I've ever smoked, and at the same time I get the full taste of fine tobacco. For my money, that's a winning combination. I'm a Lucky smoker for good!"

"IT'S TOASTED" to taste better!
