Enrollment reflects trend begun before integration

WASHINGTON

"I think it is safe to say the enrollment reflects the trend began before integration of decreasing white pupil attendance and increasing colored pupil attendance."

This is what Paul A. Shearline, administrative assistant in charge of school management and supervision, said Wednesday in explaining the new racial breakdown of pupil enrollment released by the board of education.

The figures continued to show a slight increase for the District public schools with the colored pupil attendance rising a total of 4,846 while the white pupil attendance dropped a total of 4,010.

• • •

THE TOTAL increase was only 836 pupils. There are 109,481 pupils enrolled compared with 107,645 enrolled last year at the same time. The figures are based on a racial poll taken Oct. 19, six weeks after school opened.

The racial tabulation was authorized by the board last year in order to comply with the school census law. No records are supposed to be kept on the pupils by race in the individual school buildings.

Overall declines in the total pupil enrollment was shown in all school divisions except elementary schools. In this division colored pupil enrollment more than double the enrollment of white pupils.

• • •

THERE ARE also more colored children in the junior and senior divisions and the teachers college for a total of 68 per cent of the enrollment.

The only areas in which pupil enrollment showed an increase were the junior high school in which there was an increase of three pupils and the prevocational School in which there are no colored pupils enrolled.

The Capital Page School, with two colored pupils among 30 pupils, remained the same.

• • •

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS showing increases were Bancroft, Barnard, Beers, Benning, Birney, Blair, Blow, Bowen, S. J. Bowen, Brent, Brookland, Bryan, Burrville, Carver, Congress Heights, J. F. Cooke, H. D. Cooke, Crummell, A. Crummell, Davis, Draper, Eckington, E d m o n d s, Garrison, Giddings, Grant, Grimke, Harrison.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOLS — Anacostia, Coolidge, Eastern, Western, Spingarn, and Wilson.

Greatest increases were in the schools in the far northeast and southeast areas. Armstrong, Dunbar and Cardozo High schools showed declines for the first time in many years.

A total of only seven pupils was shown enrolled in the former division One schools.

• • •

MR. SNEARLINE said the increases in pupils was due to heavy birth rates in the city during and after the war years.

The white pupil decline has been attributed to the move to the suburbs by white residents over the past 10 years.

Mr. Snearline said he felt migration into the city was only a small factor in the increases among former Division Two schools.

Mrs. Jones held in $3,500 bail

"Oh my, you cut me. You cut my little child too".

According to police, that's what a young father screamed Sunday when he was stabbed in the eye, and his 15-month-old son was cut on the fingers.

As a result of the cutting at his home in the 1700 block McCulloh St., Donald Henderson lost the use of his right eye.

In connection with the disturbance, Mrs. Dorothy Jones, 36, was charged with stabbing her husband Charles Jones, Mr. Henderson, and his son, Donald Henderson Jr.

• • •

NORTHWESTERN DISTRICT Police testified that when they arrived at the scene, they found Mr. Henderson running down the block holding his eye, and an ambulance was carrying his son to Provident Hospital.

The officers said that in order to arrest Mrs. Jones, they had to kick down the door to her second floor apartment.

In Pine Street Police Court Monday, the accused woman's husband stated that he did not wish to press charges.

Ordered held in total bail of $3,500, Mrs. Jones told police the disturbance occurred when a telephone line was cut in Mr. Henderson's first floor apartment, and $43 was taken from her purse.

Two wives?

WASHINGTON

"I do not know whether he has two wives.

"I am not yet certain what all the circumstances are."

This response was made by Belford Lawson, attorney, when queried about two divorce suits filed on behalf of a client, Wednesday, in Municipal Court.

The two petitions, Edward Ralston Phillips, 1600 block 10th St., NW, asks divorce from two women of different names.

He states in Municipal Court case 389-56 that he and Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips, 100 block 133rd St., Corona, Long Island, were married in Aug. 1947, in Juanna, Mex. They lived together until Aug. 30, 1947, and have no children, the suit states.

Mr. Phillips asks divorce from Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips on grounds of five years voluntary separation.

IN ANOTHER suit bearing case number 387-56, Mr. Phillips asks divorce from a "Mrs. Nettie P. Phillips, 1100 block Fulton Ave., Bronx, N.Y.

He accuses Mrs. Nettie P. Phillips of deserting him on May 10, 1954.

Mr. Phillips states that he and Nettie P. were married in Elkton, Md. on Oct. 14, 1948, and have two children, ages eight and seven.

He asks absolute divorce from her and asserts in the petition there has been no collusion or connivance on his part.

Citey for 10 city code violations

John Davis, 35, 1900 block E. Chase St., was fined a total of $500 and costs in Housing Court Thursday for ten charges of City Code violations. However, Magistrate Marshall Levin suspended all but one penalty of $50 and costs.

Mr. Davis was found guilty of failing to correct conditions existing on property he owns at 1017 N. Wolfe St., termed by the Commissioner of Health as "dangerous and detrimental to life and health."

George H. Ball, sanitarian, said the defendant was issued a summons on September 24 and with he failed to correct the violation he was given nine other summonses.

'I am innocent,' says cleric's son

By LARRY STILL
WASHINGTON

Walker L. Scott Jr., 22-year-old minister's son, faces jail today, after insisting he has become the innocent victim of mistaken police action for the second time in five years.

Young Scott was arrested at his father's home, 11 50th St., NE, last Sunday, following a disturbance between teenagers and police at the East Capitol Dwellings Community Center 56th and E. Capitol Sts., NE.

The young man and witnesses said he was not present at the scene of the original disturbance.

• • •

IN HIS first experience with police, Scott Jr. was arrested and later treated at D.C. General Hospital on July 28, 1951. He was charged with turning in false fire alarms. Juvenile authorities later released him saying, "Although he was wearing the right clothes he was not the right boy."

On both contacts with police, officers say Scott resisted arrest.

The first time, police admitted their mistake.

• • •

IN THE latest case against the minister's son the charges have been changed, his bond increased and the young man indicted without a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court.

The defendant, his witnesses and the defense counsel, William J. Kelly and Fred Somkin, said they are confused by the government's action.

Mr. Scott was jailed last Thursday after Mr. Kelly and Mr. Somkin failed to seek a separate hearing in his case in the court of Municipal Judge Edward Beard. He later made bond after it was increased to $3,000.

• • •

ON LAST Wednesday, the defendant was threatened with jail again, after his attorneys told him he did not have to appear in court on the fourth continuance of the case.

Municipal Court Judge Armond W. Scott threatened to revoke the bond until young Mr. Scott appeared. The defendant returned to court and the case was continued again until Nov. 21, pending further action in District Court.

Wednesday's appearance was the fourth time the young man had appeared in Municipal Court with his family and witnesses to tell his side of the story. But neither the District Attorney nor the defense counsels was ever prepared was to listen.

• • •

LAST MONDAY, young Mr. Scott was indicted by the U.S. District Court grand jury, a usual procedure when the government does not wish to present the evidence against a defendant in open court.

Also indicted with Mr. Scott were John H. Jackson, 19, 4600 Benning Rd., NE, and William B. Green, 18, 300 block 50th St., NE. The minister said he (Scott) was not with the other two boys when arrested.

• • •

JUDGE BEARD told the AFRO last Tuesday that he did not grant a separate hearing for Mr. Scott because "the lawyers did not request it.

"Anyone who has been in court knows I am not disposed to grant continuances. It waives the right of the defendants," the judge declared.

Judge Beard said the bonds on Jackson and Scott were increased from $1,000 to $3,000 after the continuances were requested.

• • •

ATTORNEYS Kelly and Somkin said they did not seek a separate hearing for their clients because they thought the case would be disposed of each time it came to court.

"We never asked for any continuances, I don't care what the records show. And I protested the increasing of the bond," Mr. Somkin declared.

Criminal court records show the case was continued to Oct. 19, Nov. 1, Nov. 6 and Nov. 21.

Mr. Kelly said he was not present when the bond was increased and the young man indicted without a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court.

"We didn't even know about the grand jury hearing. I thought the case was still coming up in Municipal Court," Mr. Kelly said.

• • •

THE LAWYER also said he did not know whether his client had made bond after being committed to jail.

Messrs. Scott, Jackson and Green are scheduled to appear in District Court to hear the latest series of charges against them Friday (today). Mr. Scott has indicated he will plead not guilty.

All three defendants were charged with a total of eight counts of "inciting to riot, assault on a member of the police force and destroying movable property."
