Barking dogs lead cops to body of dead infant

ORANGEBURG, S.C.— Barking dogs brought police to the body of an unidentified newborn baby off a foot path in some bushes on Hampton St. last week.

The baby had been dead apparently two days and its body was shrouded in an old dress and stuffed in a paper sack.

Officers admitted having no leads.

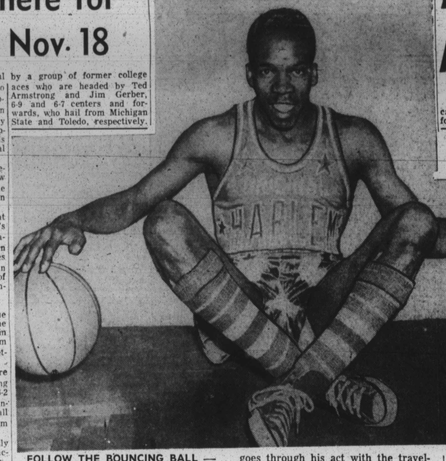
Trotters here for only date Nov. 18



FOLLOW THE BOUNCING BALL — Leon Hilliard, stellar dribbler of the Harlem Globetrotters, defies his audience to follow the bouncing ball as he goes through his act with the traveling cage wonders. Hilliard and the Trotters are in Baltimore at the Coliseum on Nov. 18.

Abe Saperstein's Original Harlem Globetrotters are to make their only scheduled appearance of the 1956-57 season locally at the Coliseum Sunday night, Nov. 18, when they oppose the Washington Generals in an 8:30 o'clock professional basketball game.

This attraction will be preceded by a musical floor show that will continue at half-time and will feature new European vaudeville acts.

This novelty basketball treat brings back to the nation's capital a hoop-happy organization that has marked up an amazing total of 5,305 victories against only 303 defeats for an amazing all-time percentage of .947 covering 29 years of competition.

* * *

THE 30TH edition of the Globetrotters reportedly is the best yet turned out and again is being directed by William "Pop" Gates, one of basketball all-time colored stars.

The Harlemites this year are introducing a new comedy king in Meadowlark Lemon, 6-2 180-pound former Williston Industrial High School basketball and football sensation from Wilmington, N.C.

Meadowlark, who actually bears that first name, is acclaimed as not only a terrific showman, but also is an outstanding basketer who originally scored over 200 points in four years as a schoolboy.

* * *

OTHER NEWCOMERS to the Harlemites are: Roman Turmon, six feet, three inches from Clark College in Atlanta, and Carl Green, 6-4, from Winston-Salem, N.C., Teachers College.

Returning veterans from last year's Trotters who will perform here include: Capt. Clarence Wilson, super-set shot; Leon Hillard, dribbling master; "Handy Andy" Johnson, an all-around star; Woodrow Sauldsberry, 6-7 giant from Texas Southern University, and Charlie Hoxie, 6-4 second year sensation from Niagara University.

The Generals are represented by a group of former college aces who are headed by Ted Armstrong and Jim Gerber, 6-9 and 6-7 centers and forwards, who hail from Michigan State and Toledo, respectively.

From 'green kid' to Bears' best lineman—Tiny Gordon

BALTIMORE When William (Tiny) Gordon came to Morgan State College four years ago, he looked like the football coaches' catch of the decade.

He was big— almost 300 and learn he did. Now in his senior year, the big green kid from Aberdeen is co-captain of the Morgan Bears, and in the opinion of the coaches, the best pro prospect as a lineman since Roosevelt Brown.

"He is as good a lineman now as Roosevelt was when he was here in college, we "think," Coach Eddie Hurt says.

That's a big accolade, for Brown has gone on from Morgan's ranks to the New York Giants where he's played terriffic ball as a defensive tackle. Moreover, in the opinion of many Bear followers, Brown was the "best Morgan man ever to prowl a line."

* * *

GORDON RIGHT now is the cog of a rugged Bear laine, one of the best lines the Bears have produced since the golden days when they rolled to thirteen CIAA (Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association) Championships.

His strongest asset, in the pounds. But he wasn't what you'd call fat; it was all substance, well and evenly distributed over a powerful 6 foot, four inch frame.

And he was bright, a real smart youngster who'd be able to think out there on the field. And he was fast— he could move his poundage easily, remarkably easily, for a man so big.

* * *

THERE WAS just one catch.

Tiny was green!— just as green as green can be. He'd never played football before. At Havre de Grace High which Tiny attended near his native Aberdeen, Md., there wasn't any football team.

So Tiny didn't know the first thing about football.

But Tiny was willing to learn, opinion of the coaches, is his offensive blocking.

* * *

"WHEN WE need a hole opened up for yardage, Tiny is the one we usually call on, and usually he opens it up," Coach Hurt says.

The Marylander has also learned to use his weight well and this makes Tiny a very effective tackler.

"When he hits you, you're stopped," says Line Coach Talmadge L. Hill, who's supervised much of Tiny's development at Morgan.

Florida A and M gets top rating in ANP college football roundup

By ANP

In a week during which no crucial games are scheduled, the Florida A and M Rattlers, who have not been really extended this season, still rank No. 1 in the Pigskin Huddle's baker's dozen ratings.

Saturday, the Rattlers will battle unbeaten and untested, once-tied Allen in Tallahassee. It looks like Florida A and M all the way.

As thing look now, the Tennessee State Tigers, rated No. 2, appear to be the Rattlers' only challengers for the mythical national championship. The Tigers will play Alcorn in Memphis this week, but should have no trouble.

If both teams remain undefeated, it looks like the Orange Blossom Classic could not do better than pick Tennessee as Florida A and M's opponent on Dec. 1 in Miami.

* * *

ROUNDING OUT the baker's dozen in the following order are Maryland State, Grambling, Texas Southern, Jackson, Delaware State, Bluefield, Bethune-Cookman, North Carolina College, Mississippi Vocational, A and T and Central State. Dillard and Allen are still trying to get in.

The big games this week are traditional rivalries and homecomings. Alabama State will face Alabama A-and M in Birmingham. Alabama State should win. In another state rivalry, Mississippi Vocational will play Mississippi Industrial in Clarksdale, The upstart Vocational team will take it all.

* * *

ON THE homecoming front, Winston-Salem will play an unhospitable host to Elizabeth City. Livingstone will make the old grads happy against Morristown, but Bishop will find the going too rough again Texas College.

In intercracial games, Delaware State is favored over King's College and West Virginia State against Salem. Lincoln (Mo.) will stop Augustana.

* * *

HIGHLY RATED teams should fare as follows:

Grambling wrecking a weak Prairie View, Texas Southern taming Paul Quinn,—A and T edging Virginia State, Bethune-Cookman tipping Savier in a close one and Jackson eking by Kentucky State.

On the CIAA front it looks like Bluefield over North Carolina College, St. Augustine, an underrated power, over Johnson C. Smith, Fayetteville over St. Paul's in a battle of underdogs, Shaw over Lincoln (Pa.) Maryland State over Virginia Union and Morgan over Hampton.

* * *

IN GAMES involving SIAC teams it should be Philander Smith edging Lane, Morris Brown topping South Carolina State, Dillard reckling Tuskegee, Fort Valley nipping Knoxville, Howard slipping by Morehouse and Clark ripping Savannah State.

Out west, Southern will walloop Wiley, Butler will nip Jarvis, and Langston will take Arkansas AMand N. In other tilts it will be Florida Normal over Paine and Rust over Leland.

The Huddle's prediction record is 111 right, 36 wrong and 9 ties for a .755 average without ties and .741 with ties.

Russell saves day for U.S. Olympic five

WICHITA, Kan. (ANP) — Bill Russell, former San Francisco Dons center, put on a one-man show here last Friday night which enabled the United States Olympic basketball team to come from behind in the closing minutes of play to defeat the Wichita Vickers, 76-72.

The Olympic team wiped out a 68-70 deficit in the closing minutes of play as Russell and teammates Dick Boushka and Jim Walsh spearheaded the comeback drive. The score was tied five times in the first half, and Wichita led as late as two minutes from the end.

* * *

RUSSELL'S effort included 17 rebounds and 16 points. Boushka, former St. Louis U. star, was runner up with 12 points.

However, Russell was off on free throws. He missed 11 of 13 from the goal line.

It was the sixth straight victory for the Olympians on their cross-country exhibition training tour.

FRIDAY

BOXING: Miguel Berrios vs. Flash Elorde, from New York City, 10 p.m.

7 Bears play last time Sat.

Seven Morgan State College Bears play their final game for their Alma Mater on home soil Saturday, November 10 when the Bears meet the Hampton Institute, of Hampton, Va. Pirates.

Putting on their white jersies, traditional gear for home games, for the last time will be: William (Tiny) Gordon, co-captain and left tackle from Aberdeen, Md.; Robert (Jacke) Jacobs, co-captain and center from Annapolis, Md.; Jerome (Jerry) McArthur, star halback from Baltimore, Md.; left end Arthur Dean, Wayne, Pa.; center Wilbert Hawkins, Washington, D.C.; quarterback Henry (Goose) Smith, Portsmouth, Va.; and guard Dreyfus Froe.

The seven represent some of the top powers of the Morgan Bears both offensively and defensively.

McArthur, for example, a Dunbar High product, is the Bears' top backfield star, while 'Tiny' Gordon is the Bears' top lineman.

TIFFIN, Ohio (ANP) — Walter Livingston, 170-pound halfback for Heidelberg College Student Princes, is on the verge of becoming the greatest college ground gainer in Ohio history.

With three games left, Livingston was within 347 yards of equaling the all-time Ohio career rushing mark by an individual held by Carl Tasoff, former John Carroll University (Cleveland) halfback who is now with the Baltimore Colts.

* * *

IN HIS FOUR YEARS with the Student Princes, Livingston has gained a total of 3,482 yards. Tasoff's record was 3,829. In addition, Livingston needed 25 points to equal Tasoff's Ohio scoring record of 361 points.

The elusive, broken-field runner from Ravenna, Ohio, has scored 56 touchdowns for 336 points. His most productive afternoon was against Baldwin Wallace in 1955 when he rallied all his team's touchdowns (5) in a 34-to-0 victory.

* * *

IN HIS FRESHMAN season, Livingston carried the ball 124 times and gained 648 yards for a 5.2 average; as a sophomore, he carried 133 times, gaining 1,046 yards for a 7.8 average, and as a junior, he carried 144 times for 931 yards, an average of 6.5 yards a carry.

In six games this season, he toted the ball 118 times and gained 857 yards, averaging 7.2 yards.

This year, Livingston has been running one-two in rushing statistics for small college players.

Grambling routs Bethune by 27-7

TAMPA, Fla. — (ANP) — The Grambling Tigers attacked along the turf and in the air here Saturday to dynamite Bethune-Cookman College, 27-7, with a ruthless display of power.

Approximately 10,000 spectators watched halfback Edward Murray key the Tigers with two touchdowns and contribute a brace of long runs.

A marked man all evening, he raced 43 yards with a punt behind a cordon of blockers for the first score and added significance to the triumph with a sparkling 35-yard TD jaunt in the last quarter.

Morgan hopes to close with win

Saturday's game with Hampton marks the last home stand of the current campaign for the Morgan State College Bears and they're dead set on making it their most impressive win of the year.

The Bears are growling first of all because Morgan has an undefeated conference record to protect.

Although losing two non-conference contests, the Bears, by defeating Union last Saturday 32-21, became one of the four unbeaten teams in the CIAA.

Morgan now has a conference record of 3 wins, zero losses and 1 tie with North Carolina College, which is another of the CIAA's unbeaten eleven. The other two are Delaware State and Bluefield.

If Morgan can hold on to her unblemished record by defeating Hampton and winning against Virginia State Nov. 22 the Bears will stand a chance —though slim at the moment— of winning their first CIAA championship since 1949.

* * *

SATURDAY'S GAME also gives to Morgan halfback Jerry McArthur another opportunity to better his already excellent record in rushing and offense.

The Baltimore-born all-conference candidate is now a leading contender for individual rushing honors in the CIAA. He has carried the ball 87 times in six games for a total net gain of 691 yards. He piled up appreciable yardage in the Union contest, carrying the ball 16 times for a net gain of 197 yards.

Finally, the Bears are hungry for victory because they can think of nothing better than beating their old-time rival, the Pirates. Saturday's game will mark the twenty-eighth meeting of the two teams.

Trotters, models star here Nov. 18.

The Harlem Globetrotters plus the Charm Centre models will appear at the Baltimore Coliseum Sunday, Nov. 18. The models will display holiday fashions from the Charm Centre.

The affair is sponsored by the Colored Womens Democratic Campaign Committee for the benefit of register-to-vote campaign and annual children's party.

The Globetrotters' opponents will be the Washington Generals.
