Cornell Bullock, 47, buried on Wednesday

"He did so much in his life that it's hard to remember all of it. But he studied dentistry for a while at a college in the South. I can't remember which.

"And he also played in the band at Catholic High School in his native city of Norfolk.

"He was sick for about six months. He was only 47 when he died. His little daughter, Beverly, is only six years old. She goes to P.S. 142.

"He was active in church work ever since he came to Baltimore in 1930. Recently he was made a trustee of Gillis Memorial Church.

MARCUS BULLOCK, nephew, was speaking of Cornell Bullock of 2215 N. Pulaski St., who died at East Howard Hospital.

At the time of his death, Mr. Bullock was employed in the records room at Marine Hospital.

Funeral services for Mr. Bullock was held Wednesday at Gillis.

Besides his nephew and daughter, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Viola Bullock.

Methodists plan study sessions

A conference on local intergroup problems will be held at Waterbrook Methodist Church, Dec. 3 and 4, conducted by Bishops Edgar A. Love and G. Bromley Oxnam.

Sociologists, educators, clergymen and laymen will discuss six study areas: social relations involving race in the church and community; housing; employment; strategy on a denominational level; techniques for social action in the local church; and public education.

Troops 554 given top booth honors

The top prize for booths at last weekend's Boy Scout Exposition was awarded to Troop No. 554 of Mt. Ararat Baptist Church, Gwynns Falls Parkway and Longwood St.

The booth was devoted to first aid with Irvin Whitehead acting as narrator. Filmore Hart is the scoutmaster and the Rev. Samuel B. Redd is pastor of the church.

All Masons urged to meet Wed.

A special meeting of all members of the Most Worshipful Prince Hall Grand Lodge of the State of Maryland F. and A. M. and members of the Eastern Star, will be held on Wednesday, October 31, at 8 p.m.

Dr. Willard Allen, grand master, said the meeting will be held at the Masonic Temple, 1431 McCulloh St., and added, "The Powell Amendment has never come before the Senate. I have heard of it, but I have never studied it. I have sworn. Therefore, until I have studied to uphold the Constitution. Therefore, until I have studied the Powell Amendment, I could not say whether or not I would vote for it.

"I am aware of its purpose, but I cannot say at this time whether that purpose is a valid one."

Senator John Marshall Butler was commenting Thursday afternoon at his campaign headquarters on a heated discussion which created turmoil at a Wednesday night Fourth District Republican organization campaign rally.

"I merely declined," the Senator said, "to commit myself on legislation of doubtful constitutionality which may, or not come up within the next two or three years."

THE SCENE of the Senator's refusal to take a stand on

Butler refuses stand on Powell Admendment

the Powell Amendment was the store-front political headquarters of the Fourth District Organization headed by State Senator Harry A. Cole in the 1200 block of W. North Ave.

The amendment referred to was introduced in Congress by New York's Rep. Adam Clayton Powell as a rider to the Administration's Federal Aid to Education Bill which was defeated in the past session of Congress.

"The school desegregation issue, expected to have a strong effect on the vital "Baltimore City colored vote, was raised in the midst of a solid week of arduous "shoe-leather" campaigning by Senator Butler in predominately colored wards.

Senator Butler, seeking reelection in a bitterly contested race with Democratic candidate George P. Mahoney, engaged in a 10-minute floor debate with members of his Wednesday night audience despite efforts to turn the line of questioning.

Paul Chester, city teacher, asked the Senator for his views on the Powell Amendment.

"I haven't thought anything about it," the Senator declared.

When the questioning persisted, Senator Butler said that the Powell Amendment had not come before the Senate, but that there was a feeling that the amendment would have meant the death of th eFederal Aid to Education bill to which it would have been attached.

A member of the audience then declared:

"Most of us here are colored and we believe that civil rights is the most important subject today — You must have some feelings about the Powell Amendment."

Red-faced and on his feet, the Senator declared:

"Nobody is going to mouse-trap me into saying how I will vote a year from now on that or any other oblique question."

IN AN apparent effort to soften his brusque declaration, Senator Butler explained that bills following different channels threnge-ress from introduction to enactment or defeat. His vote, he added, would be conditioned in part "by the circumstances of the time."

A member of the audience reminded the gathering that Senator Butler had endorsed the Supreme Court desegregation order.

The Senator, obviously agitated, said, "Yes, when I was elected I took an oath to support the constitution."

A heckler yelled from the floor: "So will Herman Talmadge, that doesn't prove anything."

"As a constitutional officer," Senator Butler continued, shaking his finger in the direction of his heckler, "I would never vote on something which I thought would be unconstitutional."

Re-stating his position Thursday, Senator Butler said:

"The Supreme Court decision is now the law of the land. As a constitutional officer, I am sworn to uphold the law of the land. (Last night) I merely declined to commit myself on legislation of doubtful constitutionality which may or may not come up within the next two or three years."

Youths between 17 and 18½ may now serve in air unit

A new plan has just gone into effect that will allow young men between the ages of 17 and 18½ to meet their military obligations by serving eight months active duty with the Air Force and complete the rest of their service by joining an active reserve unit for seven and one-half years.

Applications will be accepted this Saturday (October 27) from young men who have either graduated from high school or are in their senior year.

Applications will be received at the Baltimore Air Force Center, 2101 West Rogers Ave., between the hours of 9 and 12 noon.

Those accepted will be sent to Lackland Air Force Base in Texas for basic training.

I think that this is where I will stay

BY JAMES D. WILLIAMS

"When I took the job, it offered me security and it was about the best thing that I could see.

"Now that I am in it, I love it. It's a good job and I think that this is where I will stay."

It was three years ago in late October that Cirero Baldwin, 3244 Westmont Ave., and nine other young men became Baltimore's first colored firefighters.

A lot of fires have burned since then, and Mr. Baldwin has walked with danger more than once, but he has no regrets about his choice of a career.

"It's mostly routine," he said, "I go to work and I fight fires. That's my job and I like it."

WHILE MR. BALDWIN insists that his job is routine, there is a ribbon on his chest that indicates the job isn't quite as routine as say sitting at a desk for eight hours a day.

The ribbon represents a commendation that Firefighter Baldwin received for rescuing a woman from a burning house.

"It was a fire in the 1590 block of Franklin St., sometime in September of '54," Mr. Baldwin recalled. "She was up on the second floor and couldn't get down.

"She had tied a rope to a bed and was going to slide down it, but the way she had tied the knot as soon as she put her weight on the rope it would have slipped off the bed and she would have fallen."

With the help of two of his fellow firemen, Mr. Baldwin took the woman down the ladder and in the process earned himself a commendation presented with appropiate ceremonies.

THE 28-YEAR-OLD firefighter is stationed at the No. 10 Truck Company, Lafayette Ave. and Stricker St. For the last two years, it has been the busiest company in the city.

The company answers on the average of two calls a day in the heavily-populated area surrounding the station house.

The most difficult moment that Firefighter Baldwin has experienced came in February, 1954, shortly after he completed training and was assigned to the No. 10 Company.

"Three or four people got burned up in that fire. I was in the house when I lost my sense of direction, and couldn't get out until one of the fellows led me out."

A NATIVE OF Florida, Firefighter Baldwin has lived in Baltimore for 14 years. He served two years in the Army, and upon his discharge he drove a Tryanit Company bus until he received the Fire Department appointment.

All in all, Mr. Baldwin considers himself a lucky fellow to be in the Fire Department.

There's a steady job with no layoffs, security for himself and his wife, Mrs. Mary Baldwin, and a job he likes.

In his spare time Mr. Baldwin cares for his collection of tropical fish.

"I like what I am doing and I intend to stay," he says about the job.

Out of the ten men who were originally appointed, eight, including Mr. Baldwin are still with the department.

They are George C. W. McKnight Jr., Louis Hordon, Charles T. Miller, Earl C. Jones, Lindsay Washington Jr., Roy Parker, and Ernest H. Barnes.

Women Voters to have TV talk on Nov. ballot

A television program devoted to an explanation of Amendments and Loans on the November ballot has been planned for Sunday by the League of Women Voters of Baltimore City.

To be seen on Channel 13 at 3 p.m., the program will feature a discussion on the three charter amendments by Mrs. Coleman London; R. Brooke Maxwell will speak on the Recreation and Parks Building Loan; and John Hunt will discuss the sewer loan.

Hanry Pinkston, 1810 E. Fayette St., city worker:

"I'm going to vote for Stevenson because he's for the working man. I'm strictly a Democrat.

"Four years ago things were definitely better under the Democrats.

"For one thing, there was more money around during their administration.

Woodrow Wilkins, steel worker, 1838 E. Madison St:

"The Democrats are responsible for everything good that's happening in this country today.

"Things didn't take a bad turn until the Republicans took over. I'm voting for Stevenson."

He strikes; Judge orders them to part

"I've found that our marriage is far too weak to withstand feminie charms.

"Certainly, under our present circumstances you could not add another problem. An that's what happened on Sunday."

Well-dressed Mrs. Marie Gardner, 26, of the 3400 block Woodbrook Ave. was talking in Northwestern Police Court on Wednesday, when she accused her husband Vernon, 32, of assault. She explained: "My husband has a sister who is in Provident Hospital. The sister has a friend named Mae, who wanted to see Vernon's sister. She called and asked if he would accompany her to the hospital on Sunday."

THE HUSBAND answered: "Mae called to ask me if I would take her to the hospital. It was in the afternoon and I asked my wife if it would be alright.

"At first she said 'yes' then, just because I decided to take Mae to the movies afterward, she got hot.

"Then there was some name calling and she called me a name nobody ever called me before in my life.

"I became angry and knocked her down the stairs and she called the police to have me arrested."

The wife retaliated with: "He didn't tell the part about how he was once going to marry this girl before he met me. That was the reason I became angry."

At this point, the magistrate interposed, deciding that "testimony had, "gone far enough for me to see what should be done here."

"I believe," the magistrate continued, "that what you two young people ought to do is separate, immediately.

"I will drop the assault charge against Mr. Gardner.

"I can see no other way for you two to go except separately. Case dismissed."

You, Too, Can Get Relief From Itching, Burning
SKIN MISERY
Like These and Thousands of Others:
ECZEMA "I work in the sewing room of a large garment manufacturer where speed is important. When my hands and arms kept itching with what was called Eczema, I was miserable! My forelady suggested I try Black and White Ointment. I'm glad I did, for I got wonderful relief from itching, burn. I'm happy to tell others about Black and White Ointment."
Dolores E. Coleman, Chicago, Illinois

Red, Itchy Hands
"Housework is hard on hands. Strong detergents and hot water made mine red, irritated and itchy. I saw an ad for Black and White Ointment and decided to try it. The burning, itching soreness was quickly eased."
Eva Crayton
Cleveland, Ohio

Scaly Skin Discomfort
"I suffered a long time with itchy, stinging misery of a scaly skin disease. It was called Psoriasis. After trying many skin helps, I used Black and White Ointment. It really relieved the misery in a short while."
Frank B. Hughes
Los Angeles, Calif.

Acne Pimples
"I was tormented by itching, stinging discomfort of ugly pimples and blackheads. It sure made me miserable. After using many ointments and lotions I got real help from wonderful Black and White Ointment. It quickly relieved the itching, stinging, burning. I'll never be without Black and White Ointment."
Willie Dickerson
Richmond, Va.
