Scholarship fund set up to aid sons of slain policeman

The public is being asked to contribute large and small sums to the Policeman Phelan Scholarship Fund, in honor of Patrolman John R. Phelan, the 21-year-old rookie policeman killed September 29, by a hold-up suspect.

Headquarters for The Policeman Phelan Fund has been set up in Room 424 of the Munsey Building, Baltimore 2, and all donations to the fund should be directed to this address. Checks may be made out simply to The Phelan Fun or the full name may be used.

The first contribution to the fund for the college education of Stephen Regis Phelan, the son born to Policeman Phelan just two days the funeral service for the young police hero, was made by the Baltimore City Retired Policeman's Association, headed by Charles M. Harris.

SPECTATORS PRESENT at Criminal Court trial of Donald H. Lawson, 837 W. Franklin St., included his wife, Shirley, 20 second from left, and his brother. Other ladies are not identified. Lawson received five years in the House of Correction after police testified he was a "main line shooter" (dope user) and a peddler. Milton Allen, attorney for defense, stated that Mrs. Lawson did not know her husband was a peddler nor a user, that because she was pregnant, his sentence might prove "too much of a shock" to her. He asked Judge Carter to withhold sentence until she was absent from the court room. Mrs. Lawson, however, returned after being taken out, asked out three times, tearfully heard her husband sentenced.

'Why aren't you in school?'

"Why aren't you in school? You can't make it out here. You are just getting ready to build up a criminal record."

This was the advice Northwestern District Police Court magistrate gave Saturday to a 16-year-old youth arrested at Easterwood Park Friday for disorderly conduct.

Officer James Jordan testified: "Yesterday about 5:25 p.m. at Easterwood, there were a series of fights. The defendant, Carl William Stubbs, 200 block N. Vincent St., was in one of the fights."

* * *

THE MAGISTRATE postponed disposition for 60 days telling the defendant: "You must come here every Saturday between now and December 5. Come between 9 and 10 a.m. and let me know what you are doing."

He advised the young man to go to the Young People's League in the 1800 block Arlington Ave. "to learn how to get along with people without fighting."

The youth, who is not in school, was one of several arrested after police were called to the park to halt a series of fights among the crowd of more than 7,000 who saw Douglass High School defeat Carver Vocational 20-6 at football.

No injuries were reported as a result of the fights, Northwestern District police said.

James Thornton, 22, 1900 block W. Mosher St. was fined $50 for interfering with Officer Walter Malloy, when he tried to arrest another youth at Easterwood.

* * *

EIGHTEEN-year-old Eugene Kelly, 900 block N. Stricker St., another youth arrested in the Easterwood Park disturbance was given probation before verdict after Officer Jordan said:

"He gave me no personal trouble, but insisted on coming along."

"I asked him what was he doing with my brother," the youth said.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles
Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids
New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.
In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.
Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.
And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!
In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.
All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.
This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed ointment Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

'It was a rough day for the bar owners'

"A drunk man came over to the table and brought three bottles of beer and a hot dog.

"I ate the hot dog and took a little swallow of beer."

Thus spoke a saucy, pert teen-aged girl in criminal Court Monday.

Her confession together with the verdict of guilty which was pronounced upon three youths in another court ended what might be called "a rough day" for Circle Bar Tavern and Resturant owners, Perry Eisman and Peter F. Czekai.

The pair was found guilty by Judge Joseph Carter of serving Miss Ada Ennuls, 19, Cambridge, Md., a minor, an acoholic beverage, and sentence was withheld pending a motion for a new trial.

At the same time, in Judge James Cullen's court, they were prosecuting Aubrey Brown, 19, 937 N. Wolfe St., Raymond Jones, 18, 929 Rutland Ave., and Robert Wilmore, 24, 1910 E. Madison St., for burglarizing their establishment.

The young men, found guilty of taking over $1700 in bottled whiskey, were sentenced to not more than eight years in the Maryland Reformatory.

* * *

THE LIQUOR law violation case which came up in Judge Carter's court Monday, involved Miss Ennuls and a waitress, Mrs. Mattie Murray, and also featured a mysterious "drunk man" who Judge Carter later said he did not believe ever existed.

Shadows of doubt came into Judge Carter's face when Miss Ennuls testified that she wore high heels and nylon stockings that Saturday night Sept. 29, when she was arrested in the Circle Bar, 2400 E. Preston St.

Contradicting her statement was arresting officer Sgt. Hesler's declaration that she had on bobby socks and low heeled shoes.

It was brought out also that at the time of her arrest, Miss Ennuls stated that she was 22. However, in Criminal Court, Monday, she testified that she had admitted at that time that she was 19.

Expressing his doubt Judge Carter said: "You don't have to worry if you tell the true story each time."

Lawyers for the tavern owners were Meyer and Irving Reamer. They filed motions for a new trial, pointing out that the tavern owners should not be held responsible for minors who "take swallows" of beer which has not been served to them.

* * *

IN FINDING Eisman and Czeckai guilty Judge Carter said; "I don't believe there was any "drunk man." The girl was served without due caution."

Mrs. Murray testified that she realized Miss Ennuls was under age, did not serve her any beer. The "drunk man" had ordered the hot dog for the teen-ager, she said, and beer for himself and Miss Ennuls, unidentified female companions who were obviously "old enough" to consume it.

Sgt. Hesler took the stand a second time at Judge Carter's request, said he saw no "drunk man" although he and another officer observed Miss Ennuls drinking the beer before they spoke to her about it.

Miss Ennuls was fined $26 and costs when she pleaded guilty to charges Sept. 29, in police court.

Cherry Hill News

By MARJORIE J. WARD

A package supper will be held at 608 Hillview Rd., Saturday, Oct. 27, 1 p.m., sponsored by the Usher Board of the Community Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Maggie Johnson, chairman and the Rev. E. W. Ward, pastor.

The Friendly Circle, a group of "golden ages" (persons 63 and over), has begun its fall and winter meetings at the Cherry Hill Community Center.

Sunday, Oct. 21, the annual Men's Day will be held at Community Presbyterian Church. William Murphy, attorney, will speak. The Men's Banquet will be held at 3 p.m.

* * *

THE FALL and winter program at the Cherry Hill Community Center is offering dancing classes for children and adults. Classes for school age children include tap and ballet and tap and mambo for the adults.

Interested persons are asked to call and register within the next two weeks. Numbers to call are CU 7-6060 and after 5 p.m. CU 7-5902. Classes are scheduled to begin the last week in October. Mrs. A. Parham is center director.

The Parent Teachers Association of Cherry Hill School number 160 Tuesday, Oct., 8 p.m. in the auditorjm.

Invocation by the Rev. E. W. Ward opened the meeting. Perry Farrington presided.

After the business portion of the meeting, skits written by Mrs. Jennie Butler were presented.

'The shock might be too much for her . . .'

"I would like to request that you withold sentence until later in the day, your honor. I would rather the wife not be present. She is pregnant, the shock might be too much for her. will you impose sentence later?"

Defense attorney, Milton J. Allen, was speaking of the wife, Shirley, 20, of his client, Donald H. Lawson, 26, who was about to be sentenced in Criminal Court Monday by Judge Carter for being a user and a peddler of heroin.

Lawson, a tall handsome man, was impeccably dressed in a navy blue suit and a spotless white shirt. His record showed that on May 17, 1947 he received 5 days for receiving stolen goods; in November, 1947, he got 3 months for larceny. while in July, 1950, he received a sentence of one year for illegal use of an automobile and Aug. 1952, three years for burglary.

* * *

SEATED AMONG spectators, his pretty wife was hearing about him for the first time. She sat through testimony which revealed her husband to be "a long Birner" who could use as many as 8 or 9 capsules per day, and a "main line shooter" who had been "at it" for five years, and who was arrested Sept. 25 on a narcotics charge.

"She can leave the courtroom, can't she?" Judge Carter said.

"I'd rather you would impose sentence later, Your Honor," Atty. Allen replied.

The afternoon session found the young wife again present although Mr. Allen had taken her from the courtroom earlier.

Asked to leave before Lawson was sentenced, she merely moved to the back of the court. Dabbing her eyes with a handkerchief she listened to the sentence.

Lawson, whose operation in narcotics was termed by Lt. Joseph Carroll as "a new type of distribution," was discovered at his home, 837 W. Franklin St., Sept. 25, in bed with 63 capsules of heroine in his shorts. The cache is worth almost $190.00.

Lt. Carroll revealed that Lawson said he purchased the heroin in New York, sold it in Baltimore to two distributors in order to be able to afford "this habit."

* * *

"I'VE KNOWN LAWSON since he was 12 or 14 years old," Lt. Carroll stated "He used to hang around when I was a cop on the beat. He has been up before."

The Lawsons, who were married about a year and who live with his mother, his sisters and brothers, are expecting a baby.

Neatly dressed in a gray suit and wearing thin strap highheel sandals, Mrs. Lawson seemed to take the sentence calmly in spite of Mr. Allen's apprehension.

BUDGET-SAVING frozen fish fillets, served with easily-made Chili-Horseradish sauce makes a dish that is a conversation piece.

Frozen Fish Fillets splendid for hurry-up, economical meal

Frozen foods fit into our modern way of life so smoothly that sometimes we forget just why they are the perfect answer to culinary problems.

Frozen foods are easy prepared, of course. There is absolutely no waste, and, in many cases, such as frozen fish fillets, they are relatively inexpensive, bringing down the costs of the meal.

Perhaps best of all, for hurry-up meals, frozen foods have no equal. That doesn't necessarily mean that frozen foods are bland and must be served in an uninspired fashion.

For instance, give cauliflower a gourmet touch with a sprinkling of buttered bread crumbs. Pour lemon butter over broccoli. Put a blob of sour cream on frozen fruit and sprinkle with nutmeg. And here's a simple idea for preparing fish fillets, which are readily available in grocers' frozen food cabinets throughout the country.

* * *

OVEN FRIED FILLETS require 2 lbs. frozen fish fillets, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon salt, cup milk, 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs, and ¼ cup butter or margarine, melted.

Select a shallow baking pan in which fillets will fit side by side. If using cooky sheet, cover it with heavy aluminum foil, turning up edges all around. Grease pan or foil. Beat egg, salt, and milk together in flat pan. Spread crumbs out on waxed paper or in another pan. Dip each fillet in milk mixture, then in crumbs. Place in baking pan. Sprinkle with butter or margarine. Bake at 325 degrees (very hot oven) 10 to 15 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serve with Chili-Horseradish Sauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

THE CHILI - HORSERADISH Sauce is made with 1 cup chili sauce, ¼ cup horseradish, juice of one lemon, 2 tablespoons minced onion, Dash hot pepper sauce, and sprinkle of cayenne. You simply mix the ingredients.

Cooking Is Fun

By FANNIEJOE REID

Cooking is a wonderful way to satisfy one's creative urges.

You do not have to go out and spend a lot of money for new materials, or find time for new-fangled ideals, or take lessons.

You can just go into your own kitchen, use the materials you would use anyway, and create something new out of an old idea.

Here are some ways that I am sure you will find fun!

* * *

THE NEXT time you make Apple Betty, serve it with spices and whipped cream.

Beat the cream until it is partly stiff, then beat in a confectioners' sugar mixes with cinnamon and nutmeg. Use two tablespoons of suger and one eighth teaspoon of each of the spices for a half cup of cream.

* * *

WHEN planning a small birthday party for your youngster, instead of making a large cake, bake the batter in muffin tins, make a confectionary rose on each cup cake and put a candle in each.

Then pyramid the cup cakes on a large cake plate. Each little guest will have a complete birthday cake to celebrate the occasion.

Give a touch of color to your lima beans, when you think they look a bit drab served alone.

Place the beans in casserole. Place a delicate pink wreath around the edges made of a ground cooked ham.

Place in oven just long enough for heating and a little browning.

Decide to have an extra special dessert. Go to the shelf for a can of pear halves. Drain the syrup from the pears into a sauce-pan. Boil the syrup with one three-inch stick of cinnamon until evaporated to a half cup.

Meanwhile dot each pear with two cloves. Remove syrup from heat. Add a fourth tup port wine. Pour over pears. Chill until ready to serve.

Or stir up a batch of biscuits... quick with a mix. Sprinkle the tops with grated cheese. There, you have a delightful hot bread to serve with a good thick vegetable soup . . . that with a salad and your pear dessert, make a whole meal.

Instead of using crushed crumbs for your quick pie crust use a cereal flake, either cornflakes or wheat flakes instead.

There's a delicious ambrosia pie made with cereal flakes that will perk up any meal.

Use four cups of corn flakes, finely crushed after measuring, five tablespoons sugar and a half cup melted butter or margarine for the crust.

After the flakes have been crushed very fine, add sugar. Mix in melted butter thoroughly. Press the mixture into a nine-ince pie pan, making the bottom slightly thicker than the sides. Chill thoroughly before adding filling.

For the ambrosa pie filling you will need one envelope plain gelatin, one half cup orange juice, one and one half cups milk, one package vanilla pudding mix (not instant variety) one teaspoon grated orange rind, two eggs, separated, one fourth cup sugar, one cup well drained orange pieces garnish (optional), grated coconut, and orange slices.

Combine gelatin and one half cup orange juice. Let stand 5 minutes. Add milk to pudding mix. Blend. Cook over low heat until thickened. Beat egg yolks. Mix one fourth cup hot pudding mix into egg yolks. Return to pudding. Blend. Cook over low heat one additional minute. Add softened gelatin and grated orange rind. Stir until gelatin has dissolved. Cool.

Whip egg whites to a soft peak. Add sugar, two tablespoonfuls at a time, beating well after each addition. Beat cooled pudding until fluffy. Fold in egg whites. Add oranges, blend in carefully. Pour into pie shell.

Chill until firm. If desired, garnish edge of pie with a ring of coconut and center with orange slices. Yield: Filling for one 9-inch pie shell.

Halloween's a comin' and if you're planning a party, "Golden Nectar Punch" will help you carry out the orange and black color scheme.

Apricot whole fruit nectar and orange juice give an autumn gold color; lemon and lime juice and ginger ale give it sparkle.

* * *

GOLDEN NECTAR Punch is made with ½ cup lemon juice, ½ cup lime juice, 3 cups orange juice, 3 (Nov.) cans apricot whole fruit nectar, 1 quart boiling water, 1 tablespoon tea leaves, 1 cup sugar, and 2 quarts ginger ale.
