Fireside Friends lead parade of colorful autumn parties

with Lula Jones Garrett

Pay no attention to this 90-degree weather . . . it's truly autumn.

I know because the mails have taken on that big-white-square-envelope look . . .

In the post, this week, were invitations to the first "Fall Ball" of the Fireside Friends. The affair is set for Odd Fellows' Hall next Friday (the 20th) evening.

Eva Barnes heads the group, and other members are Laura Stanley, Mervyn Robertson, Regina Boykin, Margaret Hill, Thelma Lane, Anita Scott, Madeline Dorsey, Margaret Turner, Bernice Pembroke, Freda Williams, Ruth Reynolds and Virginia Hicks.

AND THEN there's the banquet and testimonial for Dr. Miles W. Connor, at Sharon Baptist Church, the evening before (the 25th): the seventh anniversary Dinner of the YMCA, Turner Station, on Nov. 8, at which time Governor Theodore R. McKeldin is to be speaker and Barbara Prestwidge a special guest.

A cold keg of beer, hot coffee and Tom Moore's Coca-Colas helped lubricate dry throats between rounds of song. Hot dogs and chips filled the inner man.

SIGNIFYING that all was not play, the chapter voted to take out a $500 life membership in the NAACP after a plea had been made by Brothers Charles P. Howard Jr., vice chairman of local membership drive.

The 67 members present also heard a plea by W. G. Fullmer, assistant librarian of the Pennsylvania Ave. branch, to support the library loan which is on the Nov. 6 ballot.

Four of the proposed new branches, it was explained, are to be erected in areas convenient to colored Baltimoreans, including one in the Cherry Hill section.

THE MEETING at Poe Homes also appropriately enough served as the initiation scene for Charles Anderson, who was fellowshipped into the local Alpha graduate chapter.

Mr. Anderson is the manager of Poe Homes.

Frank Ellis is president of Delta Lambda chapter; Dr. Clifton Jones is secretary.

The Baltimore Chapter of Jack and Jill of America, Inc. initiated 22 new members Friday night in ceremonies held at the YWCA.

Mrs. Blanche Hughes president of the local chapter, administered the oath, and outlined the aims and program of the group. Local officers then pinned corsages on the new members.

Age-group chairmen outlined their programs for the coming year. Plans were laid for a Father's Party in celebration of the 10th Anniversary of the local and national group; and for the Polio fund drive.

New members initiated were:

Mesdames Edith Marshall, Leona Abrams, Genevive Mason, Grace Whitehead, Genevieve Roy, Kathleen Carter, Edith Davidson, Mildred Taylor, Margaret Nixon, Harrjette Stephens, Yvonne Barre, Vashti Joyner, Constance Morell, Jeanette Johnson, Vera Hudnell, Alice Punderhughes; Juliette Brazil, Mary Sprow, Margaret Sheffey, Frances Wood, Dorothy Brown, and Maizy Roberts.

Others present were:

Mesdames Gladyce Jones, Jeannette Chisholm, Roseari Julian, Margaret Proctor, Merita Stokes, Betty Perry, Evelyn Pinderhughes, Dorothy Koger, Aileen Lang.

Mesdames Katherine Jackson, Minerva Williams, Catherine Murphy, Gwendolyn Lassiter, Doris Oswell, Grace Burkett, Dollie Walker, Ruth White, Inez Hicks, Bernice Lottier, Mildred Murphy, Jean Turpin, Cordelia Johnson, Mary McPherson, Ella Edemy.

Mesdames Irene Templeton, Priscilla Lansey, Laura Jackson, Emma Hughes, Corrie Allor, Mattie Chapman, Ruth Blacke, Lelia Powell, Marye Oliver, Evelyn Bass, Ida M. Smith, Vashti Matthews.

Mesdames Gwinevere Spencer, Novene Howard, Grace Burkett, Ambia Patterson, Gladys Sims, Ernestine Baker, Jewell Rawlings, Elois Parker, Vera Carrington, Vivian Washington, Alice Branson, Elsie Robinson, Carolyn Willis.

Mesdames Mamie Todd, Maxie Woodford, Ruth Lighston, Gladys Prestwidge, Elise Clark, Charlotte Sherrington, Hazel Barrett, Elaine Bevans and Elsie Robinson.

"AND A goodly crowd was there," as the Kappas held their second annual cabaret party at the Coliseum last Saturday night. In fact, such a throng showed up at the Monroe St. arena that it was necessary to queue up to even get inside the door.

Seating this year was on a first-come-first-served basis and late comers faced a difficult task trying to find a table. But, nobody seemed to mind, because the music never stopped as two combos alternated on the bandstand.

Music was supplied by Baltimore's Lou Bennett Band, and the Bullmouse Jackson combo, and real foot-tapping stuff it was too.

Informality was the keynote of dress, since the cabaret came on the heels of the Howard-Morgan homecoming game, and many folk just stopped by while on their round of homecoming parties and dances.

WHEN MRS. BESSIE POINDEXTER entertained at dinner, Sunday, she served, chiefly, dishes from recipes gathered while she was in Germany.

Her guests of honor were Mrs. Constantia Berksterner, soprano, of New York, who was here on an engagement with a group at Douglas Memorial Church, and Mrs. Marjorie L. Butler, whose houseguest Mrs. Berksterner was.

Mrs. Katrine White and Mrs. Emma Poulson were also guests. Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Marietta Hall, who recently attended a musicians' meeting in New York were entertained by Mrs. Evelyn Franklin.

LAST SATURDAY, the home of Helena Wright was the scene of a very beautiful tea. The Maters were entertaining the MatersII.

This is a new chapter that cial guest.

Lambda Kappa Mu Sorority's annual tea is to be held at the Greenmount Recreation Center on the 28th, and the Business and Professional Women's business show at Odd Fellows' Hall on the 29th.

The Maryland League of Women's Clubs' annual affair for presidents of member units will be a brunch, this year . . . on the 27th and at Copping State Teachers' College.

There will be workshops held at 11. Mrs. Alice Arrington, executive director of the Harlem Branch YWCA, will speak at the 12:15 brunch hour. Mrs. Vivian Alleyne is president of the League.

Kappa Silhouettes have garnered Victorine Adams to do the show at their cocktail sip and fashion revue on Nov. 4. They've also garnered Emmanuel Hall, Liberty Heights Ave. for the affair. In fact, plans are rounding out VUHRRY nicely under the leadership of President Rosia Under.

The Quettes are busy little beavers these days . . . routing out plans for the entertainment of the national conclave of the Omegas, to be held here, Christmas.

They met at the home of Eva Bird, this week-end, and with Mrs. Bird they were entertained by Jean Anderson, Meribel Bell, Myrtice Bennett, Bernice Brandon and Monterey Clay.

Welcomed into the group by the president, Charlotte Mebane, were new members Estelle Hagan, Anne Norris, Alma Parker, Annette Johnson, Terah Comegys, Mabel Perkins, Gaynell Spaulding, Helen Crosby, Charlotte Shockly, Elnora Burton, Bernice Chatman and Helen King.

Lusty Alpha voices were raised in song Monday night during the annual smoker of Delta Lambda chapter, at the Recreation Room of Poe Homes.

Pep songs that many of the brothers had not sung since long forgotten college days many years ago were revived with the vigorous assistance of younger brothers from Beta Alpha chapter, Morgan State College.

HUSBANDLY ASSIST—Herbert Jones gives aid to his new bride, the former Miss Ruth Pindle, as she accidentally steps on the train of her gown leaving the altar of Macedonia Baptist Church, Sunday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Pinder, all of Baltimore.

Sigma Wives' tea takes turn to a top-notch fashion show

The Sigma Wives filled the auditorium of the Madison Avenue branch YWCA, Sunday afternoon, for a delightful fashion show, which featured their own wardrobes.

They were supplemented, in the showing, by models from the Walters Academy. Miss Pearl Dyson was commentator.

CHILDREN OF the Wives, who modeled included Violet Ann Bailey, Irvin Carnerty, Linda Ruth Harris, Alexander LaBeach, Marcia Lewis.

Jenifer Mason, Wanda Polston, Sherrill Spencer, Alicia Wallace and Ronald Williams.

In the grown-up group, were Bronwyn Wallace, Edward Williams, Franklin Philips, Michael Valentine, Edward Wilkins, Lenore Woods, Yvonne Lanier, Priscilla Lansey.

Joy Edemy, Tanastasia Phillips, Betty Noel, Yvonne Cole and Sheila Chamnah.

MISS COLE showed a smart raincoat, half pole coat. A hunter coat, in pale beige and black lining, and worn with black accessories by Miss Patricia Woods, drew much applause. So did the lacy sheath frock, worn with mink stole by Miss Anatasia Phillips.

Another leather coat, pale pink, with push-up sleeves and blue plain lining topped the navy dress worn by Miss Sylvia Tilghman.

JOY EDEMY in beige R.A.R. shirtail frock, of polished cotton, with pleated waist and full skirt was an attractive young model. A two-toned brown velvet dress, with matching suede shoes, a lighter toned hat, hand bag and glove, made the smart ensemble worn by Mrs. Zerita Williams. Her wrap was a fur cape.

Miss Joy Newsome's empire sheath of textured wool in flame red, had a striped brief jacket.

THE WALTERS Academy models were Mesdames Sonhia Burch, Mildred Johnson, Peggy Hubbard, Ruth Tibbs and Vertice Wheeler.

Mrs. Wheeler showed a sheath of taffeta with cap sleeves that could be worn on one or off the shoulder, and with interesting fan detain on the left side. With it she wore a large hat, hat of velour, feather trimmed, long black gloves and rhinestone jewelry.

Very smart was the black sheath, with satin torso featuring a bow bustle, chosen by Mrs. Johnson.

Other adults modeling included Mesdames Cynthia Cannaday, Reva Lewis, Miss Silvia Tilghman, Zerita Williams, Peggy Harrison and Miss Mary Boulevare.

Piece de resistance of the show were ensembles worn by Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Cannaday, highlighting the theme, "Fall" and "Winter."

Mrs. Lewis's gown was of gold lame, and gold nylon net. The bodice was enhanced in intricately gilded gold, and the bouffant skirt trimmed with red roses.

Mrs. Cannaday, depicting winter, wore an original created by her mother, Mrs. Douglass J. Camper. The white satin torso dress flared at the knees, the front and lower skirt covered with iridescent sequins.

The frock was topped by a floor-length coat of black taffeta. The coat was reversible and could be worn on the white slipper satin side, also.

THE SIGMA WIVES served nuts and mints after the fashion parade, sandwiches and cakes, show.

The hostesses included:

Mesdames Florine Branion, Beraice Buckner, Jeanette Christian, Nora Clark, Camper, Emma Dorsey, Gladys Dixon, Fannie Goodwin, Green, Cora Gibson.

Mesdames Juanita Hill, Lorraint Hayes, Marlene Holden, Geraldine Jenkins, Katherine Johnson, Violetta Lee, Reva Lewis, Carrie Nichols, Hazel Phillips, Mesdames Marguerite Wilkins, Vashti H. White, Gertrude Woods, Mary Woodhous, Edith Saunders.

Mesdames Mary Lou Redd, Bernice Watson, Lettie Woodland; standing: Mesdames Rosita Uncies, president of the chapter; and Carolyn Willis.

Alpha Wives to hear Dixon

With politics filling the air, the Alpha Wives as they ended their summer recess Tuesday night have called on Councilman Walter Dixon to enlighten them on the subject.

Mr. Dixon, a Democrat, who represents the Fourth District, has been asked to give an objective appraisal of the presidential campaign so the wives can vote more intelligently on November 6.

Emphasis is expected to be placed on the importance of all qualified voters casting their ballots for President as well as for a series of local issues which are to be decided on.

THE MEETING will be held in the club room of the Alpha Wives' newly elected president, Mrs. Catherine Adams at 910 Edmondson Ave. The program will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Other new officers of the Alpha Wives, an auxiliary of the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity are Rubye Walker, vice president; Margaret Driver, recording secretary; Maxine Higginbotham, corresponding secretary;

Also Alma Gray, financial

Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Blake Jr. honorees at wedding reception

Wearing an exquisite frock of eggshell lace with voluminous skirt of tulle and a corsage of orchids, the former Mrs. LaNita Thompson and her husband, Shirley Blake Jr., received at their Gwynns Falls-Parkway home, Saturday evening.

Mrs. Blake is the daughter of Edward Lykes of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. Beatrice F. Martin of this city, who was hostess at the reception for the newlyweds. Mrs. Martin wore a gown in two shades of gold tulle, with matching accessories and a corsage of orchids.

MR. AND MRS. BLAKE were married on July 9. A ceremony of blessing was performed by the Rev. Simon Bassett, pastor of Douglass Memorial Church, at the beginning of the reception, Saturday.

The couple and Mrs. Martin were assisted in receiving by a bevy of hostesses who included:

Mrs. Leora Powell, who introduced guests to the receiving line, and who wore a gown of gray taffeta trimmed in black velvet; Mrs. Olivia Harmony, in pink taffeta, lace trimmed, and Miss Dorothy Johnson, in striped jersey, who attended to the gifts.

Mrs. Cardova Wright, whose gown comprised a red net skirt with top of white nylon, at the cocktail table; Mrs. Zerita Skates, aqua taffeta; Mrs. Dora Smith in pink jersey and embroidered black skirt; Mrs. Mandy Byrnes, in pink net, who presided at the bridal table;

Mrs. Dorothy Street, suave in red taffeta; Mrs. Carolyn Carter in a green taffeta frock; Mrs. Merrial Spencer, who wore a smart sheath of white Bavarian wool; and Mrs. Beverly Greene, wearing beige metallic lace, who kept the guest book. All wore corsages of colorful roses.

Frank Blake, Leon Clarke and Clarence Thrower were at the bar in the club room.

'Wonderful good time' is had with Plain People of Pennsy

Banquet tables laden with Gaila Bona Salaad, Hinkel Welschkraut, S. Schnitz Un Knepp, Grimeley Bel, Eppel Butta, Koppli Kaes and Schmierkas.

This was the "wonderful good" meal that was in store for 108 children and mothers of the Northern Child Study Group, when they made a tour of the Pennsylvania Dutch Country, Saturday.

In plain English, the meal, served at Hotel Brunswick, Lancaster, Pa., consisted of
