left the park muttering "nuts to Japan, I ain't going. For all or me, they can take it and stick it."

Until he appeared in court, there had been widespread conjecture as to both his plans and his whereabouts.

MRS. FREDDIE NEWCOMBE, the pitcher's wife, was unavailable for comment after stating Wednesday night that she could neither locate him nor had gone after leaving her around 4:30 p.m.

"He came to the house after stopping past his family home," she said. "After pacing from one room to another, he tossed the car keys on the table and said it (the car) was there for use if I needed it.

"Then he went out, saying he wouldn't be back," Mrs. Newcombe continued.

Therefore nothing had been heard from the player or his wife until the court appearance.

Throughout the morning — from 6:30 a.m. to noon—phone calls to his unlisted Colonia (N.J.) number got nothing but "busy line" signals.

NEWCOMBE gave the AFRO a hint that he planned to bolt the Japan trip if he could possibly do so, during conversation before Wednesday's final series game.

"I don't want to go," he said. "I don't like flying. Planes make me sick and they (the Dodger management) know it.

"I don't want to go and I don't think they can make me."

Aided by a New York baseball writer, the AFRO correspondent tried to dissuade the big pitcher.

He was reminded that he had signed a contract to make the trip; also that bad relations with the front office might possibly affect the pay raise he has every reason to expect next year.

"I signed that contract with a verbal assurance that it would be straightened out later; and that I wouldn't be compelled to go," Newk replied.

"As for the raise," he added, "my salary is based on my performance during the year. These post-season plans are theirs, not mine."

NEWK ENDED some of the speculation earlier when he showed up in Brooklyn Magistrate's Court to answer assault charges brought by a Flatbush parking lot attendant.

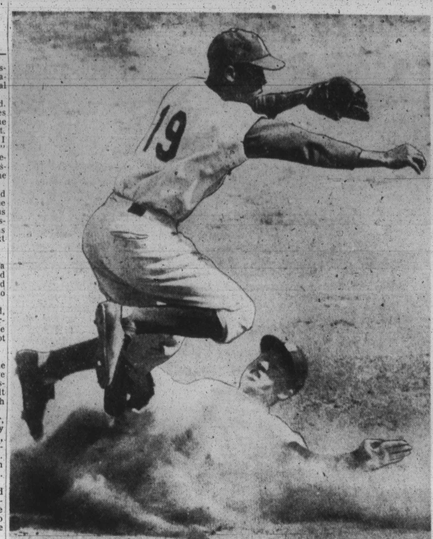
Flanked by his own lawyer, Morris Barnet, and an attorney for the Dodgers, Leo Healy, Newcombe asked for postponement of the hearing to Nov. 19. The team is scheduled to return from its trip to Japan on Nov. 14.

Magistrate Tierney granted the postponement on being advised that Newcombe and the Dodgers were committed to contracts with the Japanese government.

He was told that the trip had been arranged through cooperation with the U.S. State Department and that Newcombe is one of three players on whom special stipulation had been made.

Foreign service exams to be offered Dec. 8

WASHINGTON (ANP) — The U.S. Department of State, which in recent years has made an effort to build up colored interest in foreign service jobs, has set Oct. 26 as deadline date for application to take examinations for appointment as Foreign Service Officers. The examination will be in major cities, Dec. 8.



FORCED AT SECOND—Jim Gilliam, Brooklyn Dodger second baseman, leaps clear of sliding Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees after getting him on a force out in second inning Oct. 5th game at Yankee Stadium. This bit of action was typical of the thrilling play throughout the World Series.

Jackie, O'Malley deny report Robbie to manage Montreal

EBBETTS FIELD — Neither Jackie Robinson nor the Brooklyn Baseball Club is considering the forty Dodger Third Baseman in the role of a manager next year.

Reports that Jackie is to be offered the pilot's job at the Montreal Farm Base were denied here Tuesday by no less authorities than Robinson himself and Dodger president Walter O'Malley.

A syndicated story published late Monday by the United Press asserted that Robby is to be offered the job of managing the Royals of the International League in 1957.

ASKED ABOUT it during pre - game warmup, Jackie said: "I know nothing about such a plan, nothing more than what I've read in the papers.

'Frankly, I don't know that I'd be enthusiastic about it, even if it proved to be true.

"I think," Jackie went on, "I still have some baseball left in me yet. I think also that I can make more money playing here (in Brooklyn) next year, and helping to win another pennant.

"Naturally," Robby added, "I would like to think I'll get a managerial offer when I'm finished as an active player."

O'MALLEY, CONNERED in the Runway leading to his special Ebbets Field Box, told the AFRO:

"This is just another of those 'runaway' stories," He said, "with no foundation in fact.

"We wouldn't even think of Robinson in terms of a manager until we were sure his playing days were over.

"And from what we've seen, I'd say Jackie has two or three more years of baseball in him."

Matson boasts gain to 237 as Cards win

CHICAGO — (ANP) Scoring in every period, the revived Chicago Cardinals scored their second straight upset victory in the newly born 1956 pro football season, downing the New York Giants, 35 - 27 before 21,799 fans in Comiskey Park last Sunday afternoon.

The victory kept the Redbirds on top in the Eastern Division, of the national football league and there are predictions that the Cards will remain a strong season contender. In their season's opener here a week earlier, the Cardinals, sparked by Ollie Matson, edged the world champion Cleveland Browns, 7-6.

LAST SUNDAY Matson racked up 93 yards to boost his total to 237 by 30 attempts, but it was quarterback Lamar McHan who walked off with Cardinals's scoring honors. McHan scored two touchdowns, one on a pass and passes brilliantly.

Others aiding McHan and Matson in the victory march were Dic (Night Train) Lane, and Dave Mann, famed for his broken field running. Lane snared a pass by the Giants, Charley Conerly on the Cards 38 yard line and scampered 62 yards to pay dirt. The play came seconds before the first half ended.

Mann starred in the fourth period when he teamed up with McHan and Johnny Olzewski for the final Cards tally.

MEL'S FINAL tally in the fourth highlighted the last serious challenge by the New Yorkers. It brought the score to 28-20. McHan, Mann and Olszewski then combined their talents for the Cards.

The Giants scored again seconds before the game ended, but by then it was too late.

The Cardinals will meet the Washington Redskins in Washington Sunday.
