Fans express preference as Dodgers clip Yankees

It's the Dodgers 2-1 among baseball fans of the District.

This decided preference was expressed by persons questioned as they watched the Bums beat the Yankees 6-3 on the opening day of the series. However, a small minority picked the Yankees.

But the expert followers did not base their decision upon anything so tangible as hits, runs and Sal Maglie's strikeouts.

THE IMPORTANT factor in the initial selection of the Dodgers ranged from tradition and past world series records to politics (This is an election year!)

Here is the way the expert (viewers) put it according to the AFRO survey:

Lawrence F. Hunt, YMCA executive secretary. — "I'm pulling for the Dodgers, but I think the Yanks are going to win in five games. The Yanks will have to take it."

P. S. Broadnax, "Y" business manager — "The Dodgers in six games. They're the champs, I'll have to go along with the world champions."

George B. Mitchell, YMCA president — "I'll say the Dodgers, because they have the better team and they play better ball."

Donald Janes, 1306 U St., NW — "The Dodgers, of course. Let's say they have a better fighting spirit and a greater desire to win."

H. Richards, retired government employee of 405 Division Ave., NE.—"I'll take the Dodgers. They got to win. They have the best all around hitters. They've got the 'Old Pros'."

Leon Hackney, cab driver of 726 21st St., NE.—"The Yankees because they have a great tradition going for them and a great world series record."

Thomas Gilmore, investment broker student at the Y—"The best team is going to win. I think it will be the Dodgers because it is an election year and there are going to be quite a few surprises — Integration has nothing to do with it."

George Baskerville, 1729 11th St., NW. — "The Yankees because they are the better team, that's all."

Albert F. Sneed, Y Cafeteria operator—"I pick the Dodgers because they have a better balanced club than the Yankees."

Mrs. Juanita Hoban, secretary—"The Dodgers have got to win. I think they will take the first two games, after that the Yankees may get a break."

Walter P. Johnson, secretary, Robertson and Roundtree law firm—"I think they will play at least five games, but the Dodgers will win."

Mrs. Daphne Coleman, secretary, Cobb, Howard and Hayes law firm — "I hope it will be the Dodgers."

Dolphin Thompson, public relations counsel — "The Yankees will take it. They have consistently won over the Dodgers except for last year's accident. This year they have the superior team in every respect."

Mrs. Elsie Hunter, 1140 Buchanan St., NW.—"I pick the Dodgers."

Lee Young, 709 Upshur St., NW.—"The Dodgers will win the first two games. After that, it will be up and luck."

Kenneth Pittman, 25 Logan Circle — "Brooklyn will win by taking the first four games."

Algie Russell, 1000 block U St., NW, porter, said, "I think the Yanks are going to win. It works that way. They win more than anybody else. We have been a Yankee fan for 50 years."

Charles E. Foreman, 920 block French St., NW, recreationist, said, "Who you think? The Yankees. They have a better team than the Dodgers. They have better hitters."

Mrs. Harriet G. Smith, 3106 block Sherman Ave., NW, elevator operator, said, "You know I'm a Dodger fan. I'm for the Dodgers all the way. They're playing good ball now. They will win the five games."

Huntley W. Fox, 3200 block 11th St., NW, receptionist, said, "I hope Brooklyn will win, but the Yankees have a powerful team. I believe Brooklyn will win. If Newcombe wins tomorrow (Wednesday), Brooklyn will take the series."

Mrs. Annabelle W. Dickens, 2200 block Douglas St., NE, clerk, said, "I'm pulling for the Dodgers, of course. I think the team is stronger than it has been in some time. They will outhit the Yanks. They will win the series in six games."

Jackie will not retire

By SAM LACY
AFRO Sports Editor

EBBETS FIELD, BROOKLYN, N.Y.—Jackie Robinson is not going to retire. He will play third base for the Brooklyn Dodgers next year.

That's what he says. And if you know Robinson, that's what you'll have to expect—notwithstanding that when "next year" gets here, Jackie will be 39 years old.

At this time last October, Robinson was asked about the persistent rumor that he intended to quit the game.

His answer then — written right here—was that his decision hinged on two things: (1) how he felt physically, and (2) what kind of contract the Dodgers would offer him.

JACKIE HAD come out of a tough season, in which he had suffered intermittently from a chronic stomach, a series of leg injuries, a bothersome heel, and a back ailment.

Rest and treatment restored his health, and the offer made by the Brooks was, to use his adjective, "satisfactory."

Then came the spring and speculation began anew concerning Robinson's future.

Over the winter, the Dodgers had obtained Hank Jackson from the Chicago Cubs to play third base. It was pretty clear to the minds of the Brooklyn front office that the younger Jackson, with his home-run threat in tight Ebbets Field, would solidify the infield for defense of the world champions.

WHAT DID Jackie plan to do? "Hardly a good ball player," said Robbie, a man who doesn't hesitates to voice his convictions.

"He's a good ball player, but I'm a better one. I'm going to be the third baseman, and I'm going to play 115 games," asserted Jackie between warmup tosses with teammate Gil Hodges in St. Petersburg's (Fla.) Al Lang Field, last March.

When the season ended last week, Robinson had played 118 games.

Here Wednesday, awaiting the start of the 1956 World Series (this is still), Jackie once more pushed back the year of his retirement.

It'll stay pushed too.

Aaron tops NL batters

CHICAGO (ANP). — The Brooklyn Dodgers won the National League pennant on the final day of the season, thus closing out one of the hectic races in history.

The winning pitcher was Don Newcombe, who was credited with the 8-to-4 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Contributing to the victory were Jackie Robinson and Sandy Amoros, each of whom whacked home runs.

The Dodgers made possible the clinching of their second consecutive flag, and the sixth in the 10 seasons that Jackie Robinson has been with the team, by snaring a double victory Saturday from the Pirates.

Newcombe's victory was his 27th of the season, against seven losses, making him the major's biggest winner.

HANK AARON was the apparent winner of the NL's batting championship, after the final game Saturday. Aaron's average was .328, a better-than-.300-point bulge on his closest competitor, Bill Virdron of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Larry Doby of the Chicago White Sox reached the 100-runs-batted-in mark Saturday night when he hit a home run with one ar as the White Sox clinched third place in the American League. Doby's 24th home run over Kansas City. Doby's 24th homer, his lowest total in his seven seasons in the majors, hit 100th, 101st and 102nd RBIs.

Willie Mays of the New York Giants had the stolen base crown all wrapped up. Mays had 29, with two games left, 19 ahead of runner-up Junior Gilliam of the Dodgers.

Dodgers beat Yankees, 6-3; Robinson, Hodges hit homers

By SAM LACY
AFRO Sports Editor

BROOKLYN — The Brooklyn Dodgers took up where they left off one year ago—to day—turning back the New York Yankees, 6-3, in their second consecutive World Series got under way.

On October 4, 1955, the Bums whipped the Yanks to capture their first playoff victory in history. On October 3, 1956, they took the decision which they hope will lead to their second World Series.

Steered by Gil Hodges' 3-run homer and a solo blast by Jackie Robinson, the Brooks overcame an early Bomber advantage to go one up on their traditional fall rivals.

Sal Maglie fashioned an expert pitching job, outlasting four Yanker throwers, including Whitey Ford, the American League's leading ERA (2.22) man and ace of the New York staff.

He struck out 10, bettering by four the best one-game mark during the regular season.

Though frequently in trouble, the solemn Barber was pretty much master of the situation after a shaky start.

Jim Gilliam, the Bums' top hitter, was without a safety, but he contributed plenty with Maglie some rough moments.

One particularly spectacular play saw Gilliam leaping, one-handed grab of a line drive by Moose Skowron that checked a Yankee rally in its tracks.

It was also Gilliam who turned a smash by Mickey Mantle into a game-ending double play.

The weatherman lifted an ideal day out of the late-summer almanac, bathing Ebbetts Field in a brilliant sunshine.

It was a fitting afternoon for Flatbush's reception to the 34,419-plus who were in the stands. The plus, of course, represented President Eisenhower, the Duke of Wales, U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, et al. They beat the gate.

The President was on his feet cheering with the Flatbush Faithful in the second inning when Jackie Robinson blasted his home run, and again in the seventh when Jim Gilliam made his sensational catch of Skowron's liner.

Thanks to Mantle's first inning homer, the Yankees were off to an early 2-0 lead. The blow cleared the right screen with plenty to spare, to score Slaughter who had gotten a life on a rubber off Hodges' glove.

The Bums, rallied by Jackie's leadoff blast, came back to knot the score in their half of the second.

After Robbie's shot into the left seats, Hodges singled to shallow center. Furillo doubled down the left center alley and Gil went all the way to tie it up.

One inning later, Hodges was back again to plague Ford. This time, he came with Reese and Snider aboard and poled a fast ball into the lower deck in left to set up a 5-2 margin.

After Martin made it 5-3 with a home run in the fifth inning, the Brooks got it back via a double by Campy and a first-pitch single by Amoros.

Play moved along at this pace the rest of the way with no further scoring by either side.

Play-by-play of tan players in World Series

FIRST INNING

Gilliam: Took a loose curve ball for one ball but bounced out, short to first.

SECOND INNING

Robinson: Swatted a 2-2 curve on line into leftfield seats for Dodgers' first run.

Campanella: Lined out to rightfielder on 2-strike pitch, advancing Furillo from second to third.

Amoros: Filed-to short center with count two balls, two strikes.

THIRD INNING

Gilliam: Fouled off four pitches to reach a 2-2 count, then popped to shortstop.

Robinson: Reese on second. Snider on first; one out; Lined first pitch to center — no advance.

FOURTH INNING

Campanella: (Knocks pitching in relief of Ford) Banged 2-ball pitch to deep center for double.

Amoros: Hit first pitch through the box for single, scoring Campanella. Erased in double play.

Gilliam: Safe on error by first baseman, Stole second on first pitch. Left stranded.

FIFTH INNING

Robinson: Worked count to 3-2 with Kucks throwing nothing but curve balls; lined change-up to leftfielder.

SIXTH INNING

Campanella: (Morgan pitching) Smashed first offering on a line directly at centerfielder.

AMOROS: Infled 1-1 delivery for easy fly to left.

SEVENTH INNING

Gilliam: Fooled off one then looked at four straight pitches for base on balls.

Robinson: (Gilliam on third) Snider at first; two outs. Bounced into force of Snider on 1-1 pitch.

EIGHTH INNING

Campanella: Swung viciously at first pitch and popped to first. Thus ended the game as I watched a third strike called.

Newcombe does victory dance—in pink shorts

BROOKLYN (ANP) — Don Newcombe, Brooklyn's 27-game ace, celebrated this season's duty celebrating last Sunday evening, following the Dodgers' 8 to 4 pennant-winning victory over the pesky Pittsburgh Pirates.

Clad only in pink shorts, "Big Newk" danced the Cha-cha in the bedlam packed Ebbetts dressing room. "Hot dog," he kept repeating as he shuffled back and forth to dance.

While Newcombe celebrated, teammate Duke Snider, whose home runs accounted for half the Dodgers eight runs, sat calmly in front of his locker and took a swig from a bottle of champagne. Sandy Amoros chatted gleefully in Spanish, as Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella and Gil Hodges exchanged pleasantries. Carl Furillo celebrated in a more serious vein. He reacelled how he prayed to God "like never before."

MEANWHILE, teammates took turns, backslapping Sandy Amoros, who also hit two homers in the Sunday tilt, as well as another decisive effort Friday in the opener of the twin bill on Saturday.

Amoros is the tan Cuban senior who won fame for his spectacular catch of a drive by the Yankees' Yogi Berra in the seventh and deciding game of last year's great victory for Johnny Podres.

It was a great tribute to Amoros, who four days before the final Sunday was criticized by teammates for dropping an easy fly in a game wh ichended in a 7 to 3 loss for Brooklyn to the Pirates.

Newcombe apologizes to Amoros

NEW YORK — "I was sorry for him as soon as it was over and I told him so."

Don Newcombe was speaking, confirming that he had apologized to Sandy Amoros for berating the diminutive Cuban for his errors in a crucial final-week game.

AMOROS DROPPED a fly in Wednesday's (Sept. 26) game, opening the way to a Philadelphia win over the Brooks, and later was guilty of overthrowing third base for more damage.

"Sure I got hot," Newk admitted. "Several of us chewed him out on the bench. It looked like an unforgivable thing at the time."

"But I thought about it as I was driving home to Jersey, and realized it was just a tough break that could happen to any ball player," the big pitcher went on.

"So, Thursday I told him I was sorry about it and Friday when we went to the park for the game (one with the Pirates we had rained out) some of the other guys patted him on the rump as encouragement.

* * *

"IT MUST HAVE done him a lot of good, because Saturday he came up with two consecutive homers in the first game and got two for three in the second.

"The senor's a professional ball player and he knows a guy like me is likely to say anything in the heat of an important game.

"He knows you'll growl at anybody—even the manager — when things are like that." — SAM LACY.

In Memoriam 1

BATSON—In loving memory of my brother, WALTER E. BATSON, who passed away one year ago, October 4, 1955.
Gone but not forgotten
ANNIE M. BATSON, Sister.

BUTLER—In loving memory of our dear mother, MARY ELIZABETH BUTLER, who passed away Oct. 6, 1954.
Angels in Heaven are guarding the good.
As God has ordained them to do.
In answer to prayers we have offered
We know there is one watching you.
Loving Husband,
J. HIRAM BUTLER.
Children, HILDA B. PARKER AND J. HIRAM BUTLER JR.
Grandsons, ROBERT AND HIRAM AMMONS.

DYSON—In loving memory of our dear mother, EDNA; who passed away October 7, 1955.
We'll meet again someday I know
Beyond the distant blue;
But until then, our dearest one,
We'll always think of you,
When you departed from this life,
The blow was so severe.
That deep inside our aching hearts
There falls an endless tear.
Loving Son,
GEORGE E. and HODGES A. DYSON, Son-in-law and daughter-in-law.
CHARLOTTE A. DYSON.

GILBERT—In loving memory of our grandmother, BETTIE E. (Jee) MURPHY, who passed away Oct. 6, 1953.
You're not forgotten, Grandmother dear
Nor ever shall you be;
So long as life and memory last,
We shall always remember you.
Loving Grandchildren,
GEORGE D. GILBERT,
JENEVA D. LANE,
HARRY L. GILBERT, JR.

GROSS—In loving memory of our wife, mother and grandmother, LUCY, who passed away September 6, 1949.
In our home she is fondly remembered
Sweet memories cling to her name.
Those who loved her in life
Sincerely still love her in death
Just the same.
HUSBAND, CHILDREN and GRANDCHILDREN.

HILL—In loving memory of our father, WILLIAM H., who departed this life six years ago October 4, 1950.
Sleep on, dear Father,
Take thy rest.
We loved you dearly.
But God loved you best.
Children,
ALVERTA HILL DORSEY and LEON HILL.

HOWARD—In memory of my dear husband, SOLON HOWARD, who passed away September 30, 1941 and whom birthday was September 9th:
I loved you so I miss you,
In my memory you are dear.
Loved, remembered, longed for always,
Thoughts of you are ever near.
Loving Wife,
MALINDA.

OLIVER—In loving memory of my dear husband, SOLOMON C. OLIVER, who passed away October 6, 1944:
I miss you more and more each day,
And in my heart I always pray;
To see your kind and loving face,
For no one else can take your place.
Loving Wife,
GRACE D. OLIVER.

SMITH—In loving memory of my sister, ESTELLA P. SMITH, who passed away one year ago, October 3, 1941:
Dear, dear sister, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place
A happy home we once enjoyed,
Love, kind words money still,
But death has left a loneliness,
The void can never fill.
DEVOTED SISTER AND FAMILY.

WISE—In fond memory of our beloved mother, EFFIE M., who passed fifteen years ago, October 3, 1941:
The aching stream of life rolls on
But still the vacant chair,
Recalls the memory still,
But death has left a loneliness,
The void can
