Va. rites for Mrs. M. Gibbs

"We are shipping her body to Smithfield, Va., Friday but she will lie in state at the funeral home until 4 p.m. (Friday)," an official of the Rimoldi Funeral Home told the AFRO.

She was speaking about 58-year-old Mrs. Mary Gibbs, 615 Dolphin St., who died in Provident Hospital Monday of a heart attack.

"Virginia is her home and her children decided to take her back there. The funeral will be at the Carrollton County, Va. Church and burial will be in the church cemetery," the spokesman for the funeral home added.

Mrs. Gibbs was the wife of the late George Gibbs. She is survived by a daughter Gladys Jones, and a son James Jones, five sisters, Mesdames Bessie Banks, Rebecca Johnson, Mattie Alexander, Ivory Savage, Artistine Savage, and three brothers, Thomas and James Robinson and Elijah Jones, three grandchildren, two great grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

Church pays tribute to Rev. Graham

More than 300 persons from all walks of life in Baltimore paid tribute Sunday to the Rev. H. Octavius Graham at a testimonial banquet which marked the veteran clergyman's 30th year of service as pastor of Knox Presbyterian Church.

City Councilman Walter T. Dixon served as toastmaster for the affairs during which community and church organizations made presentations to the pastor in recognition of his contributions to the life of the church and community.

Among those who participated on the program were Richard Blackwell, William L. Barber, Mrs. Beulah M. Caldwell, Mrs. Birstal Ross, Mrs. Roberta Bacoat, William Barber, and the Rev. C. Edward Browne.

Also: James S. Russell, Clark Mock, Miss Emma Hamner, Richard Blackwell, Otho Pinkett, Mrs. Essie Hall and Miss Rachel Swann.

During the presentation session speakers included Dr. C. Mansell Lawrence, William Taylor, Mrs. Lillian Lawrence, Milton Dugger and Mrs. Lillie Jackson.

Members of the testimonial committee included Mrs. Josephine Jones, Mrs. Irene Walker, Mrs. Anita Hall and Mrs. Roberta Bacoat. Members of the program committee were Mrs. Beulah Caldwell, Mrs. Mercedes Douglass and Charles Downs.

Mrs. Annie Hemphill was hostess chairman and the young men of church served as waiters under the direction of Colonel A. Hall.

WELCOME BACK HOME — When a man has been away from home for 12 days then he is usually happy to return. When he has been away in jail because of mistaken identity,, then his happiness is doubled; Here is James Clark, the "mistake kidnap" victim, as he returned to his home at 1640 N. Gilmor St., after his release from a Greenville, N.C., jail. He is being greeted by his wife, Mrs. Ethel Clark, and his children, Cynthia, 5; Timothy, 3; Thadeus, 2; Cassandra, 11 months.

charges in Greenville while using James' license. The bondsmen posted $250 bail and never went back for trial.

When the bondsmen came to Baltimore they arrested James Clark despite his protests that he was innocent. Taken back to Greenville, Mr. Clark stayed in jail 12 days until through the efforts of the local NAACP and Jay McRae, attorney, he was finally released.

"HE TRIED to tip up the stairs when he first came home (last Friday) but I was awake. He pulled our daughter (Cynthia, 5) out of bed and asked had she forgotten him and she said no," Mrs. Clark said with another smile on Thursday.

"He was glad to sleep in his own bed after those hard bunks he had to sleep on and all he did was to talk about how good it was to be back home," she continued.

On Saturday morning, for his first meal at home, Mr. Clark had bacon and eggs.

"He told me in jail they gave him molasses and rice for breakfast and he was mighty glad to get something else," Mrs. Clark said.

Throughout Saturday and Sunday, friends and neighbors came to the Gilmor St. home in a constant flow.

"Some of the people I hadn't seen for a long time, but they all were so glad that James was home," the wife related.

EARLY THIS week when Mr. Clark prepared to return to work at Sparrows Point, he was informed by a clerk that he had been discharged because of his absence.

"But James took the AFRO down there and showed it to them and when they learned what happened they gave him his job back," Mrs. Clark said.

Now with their father home and working again, the Clark family, including the children, Cynthia, 5; Timothy, 3, Thadeus, 2, and Cassandra, 11 months, are more than happy.

"I'm going to church again this Sunday," said Mrs. Clark, "I owe the Lord some of my time for being so good to us."

Bill Worthy's mother dies

BOSTON, Mass.—Mrs. Mabel R. Worthy, 74, mother of AFRO Correspondent William Worthy, currently in South Africa, died here on Monday. The family home is at 37 Howland St.

Mrs. Worthy's death followed a two-year illness caused by hardening of the arteries.

Funeral services are scheduled for Friday at 11 a.m., at St. Augustine's and St. Martin's PE Church. The family has requested that no flowers be sent.

Instead, they suggest that contributions be made to the Massachusetts Association of Mental Hygiene at 41 Mt. Vernon St., Boston.

A NATIVE of Florence, Ala., Mrs. Worthy lived most of her life in Boston. She attended elementary and high schools here and was a graduate of Teachers' College.

She was founder and president of the Massachusetts Colored Women's Democratic Club and was a lifetime member of the Calhoun Club, organized to aid Calhoun College.

Mrs. Worthy was also the first colored woman employed in the Boston post office, having worked as a clerk for a short while prior to 1900.

IN NOVEMBER, 1912, she was married to Dr. William Worthy, a practicing physician, who died in May, 1954.

Besides her son, Mrs. Worthy is survived by three daughters.
