Gadabouting In Baltimore

Social picking slim but they're still ultra

with Lula Jones Garrett

This week's calendar is almost (just skipping quite) as lean as Mother Hubbard's cup board, socially speaking.

But give us time, Sister, give us time.

There's the matter of limping back . . . and recuperating from vacations . . . of getting Junior into school and of perking up the old homestead for the fall season.

And speaking of perking up, the Donald Millards have already done that little thing in an elegant new home on Wrenwood Ave. "Warmed" their maison a-night ago . . . with ever so much fun.

Dr. and Mrs. George Spaulding should be dittoing any week now in their brand new place in Morgan Park. With three weeks on the job, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Jackson are smoothing out the decor edges of their swank new split - level place in the same colony.

And schoolmarm Nellie Buchanan (Douglass High) has desserted the Madison Avenue neighborhood and moved on to Bateman Avenue.

Talking of Bateman Avenue folks, when Correspondent Herbert Fribby (of thereabouts) returned from the Artic and that momentous assignment of dropping a plaque, etc. at the North Pole, friends thronged the station to greet him . . . then moved on to Bateman Ave. "Ispot" for a homecoming celebration that lasted into the wee hours.

THEODORE AND Doward Patterson held forth with a suave barbecue and yacht party on Monday at the Patterson home of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Thomas, Sr.

The affair served two purposes . . . first to introduce that lovely new bride, Mrs. Theodore Patterson, the former Sylvia Turead of New Orleans, to towns folks, and second to say adieu to Joseph H. Thomas Jr., USMC, who is leaving for a tour of duty on the West Coast.

Guests were invited at four in the afternoon for lawn games, which were followed by a barbecue supper, which, in turn was followed by a cruise down the Chesapeake on the "Fla - Joe." They came back for dancing in the Round House.

Incidentally, hosts and their wives were cutting dashes in identical shirts and Bermuda shorts.

Having fun with them through the evening were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Leonard Simmons, Ernest Murphy, J. Tyson Tildon, Ernest Morial, Lewis Randall and James B. Newton;

Sam and William Adams, William Confiere, Reginald Evans, J. Haywood Harrison, Walter Fisher, Mrs. Barbara J. Patterson, Mrs. Lola Matthews, Miss Marsha Chapman, Charles Sykes, Miss Mariam Hughes, James Sheppard, Miss Helen Michaels, Miss Shirley Kyle, Mrs. Alice Sykes, Dr. and Mrs. William C. Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Melville W. Paugh, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Thomas, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Doward Patterson, Sr., Lt. and Mrs. Joseph H. Thomas, Jr., and of course the young Mesdames Patterson.

WHILE Mrs. Maurice Adams and her sister, Mrs. Nathaniel Pitts, rocked happily about their native state, Florida, a week or so back, Dr. Adams built for her a charming patio on their Morgan bpark place.

Came Labor Day, it got christened in the most pleasant way . . . with a small group of friends . . . with a couple of spabales and one of Catherine's incomparable dinners . . . about for which were:

Dr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Pitts, Mr. and Mrs. Talbridge Hill, Mrs. Theresa Waters, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Chatman (Nola Aiken) so having journeyed into Florida this summer) and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Patterson.

LOVE THOSE safe and sane LD's. Another of the restful holiday parties was that hosted by George and Arnetta Latier at their summer home.

The girls turned their babes over to their daddies for the day's amusement, and beast themselves down for cards.

The couples who came, bringing their children included the Harry Gails, Clarence Dysons, John Nixons and Bob Matthews; also Audrey Brooks and Frankie Wood.

ADORABLE Angela Gross, daughter of John and Inetta Gross, celebrated her first birthday with a party, which featured games and prizes, Saturday.

Not only did the tots have fun, but their mommies and daddies watched the young ones play while they sipped cocktails.

Angela gave each of her little guests a "thank you for coming" gift, ranging from footballs for the fellows to teething rings for the wee ones.

Celebrating with Angela were Cindy Snead, Harriet, Yvonne and John Lane, Howard and Lloyd Davis and Billy Gross.

AND THEN there was that other birthday party for a member of the lollipop set, on Saturday, when petit Irving David Wise celebrated his third birthday.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Wise, of course gave the party, which was attended by Donald and Courtayne Payne, Romaine, Robinette and Halcyon Valentine, Paul and Brenda Green, Denise Harrod, Joyce Rooks, Brenda and Larry Deford, Stephen Lane and Ramudh Valentine and Alan Wise.

ALREADY CLUBS are a-stirring . . . and as usual new ones are peeping up on the horizon.

In the latter category is the new "In - Betweens," a mother and children aggregation, which is planning to get into stride about the 15th.

Mothers included Mesdames Lulvan M. Nichols, who is president; Etta Dyson, Charlotte Jordan, Ruby Tarter, Maizie Umphery, Ray Holland, Alice Carroll, Mildred Newton, Estella Keyser, Maizie Johnson and Virginia Clark.

Children in the group are Derwin Keyser, Beverly Umphery, Guy Clark, Patricia Holland, William R. Nichols, Anne Carroll, Bernetta Dyson, Rayna Keyser, William Clark, Doreen Newton, Robert Tarter, Sheridan Umphery and Marsha Jordan.

PEREGRINATORS: Mr. and Mrs. Walter (Rena) Brown are off to Chicago to visit their daughter, Mrs. Hilda Graves. Mrs. Brown is one of the East Coast's best known Christian Science practitioners. Dr. and Mrs. Chick Chissell were home for the holidays. Ditto Mrs. Ruth Shipley from Washington . . . and looking mighty chic.

Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Dedmo have been doing Tennessee. Were in Nashville, last week. Mrs. Bernyce Welling and Mrs Gloria Fisher are attending the annual sessions of the Guilds of the National Urban League in Cincinnati, Ohio, this week.

Seeing this town, over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil B. Murrell (he's a top flight realtor) and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Barnup (business man) of Los Angeles, California.

They were house guests, respectively of Mrs. Lillie Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bayne.

The Californians were en route home after a three-month tour of Europe, where they visited 17 countries. Stopped for a brief tour of Washington, where they were entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Ellis D. Knox, of Howard University, are taking a plane for Los Angeles.

After having had as house guests Eleanora and Leonard Whaley and daughter, Jacqueline, of Cambridge, Mass., the James E. Scotts (Carrie D.) rolled northward to relax for a few days with Hamilton and Morine Jewett of NYC.

Along with Marvin and Mary Lyles, Carrie also hostessed Betty Agnew of Boston and Edith Simpson of Lynchburg, Va. John H. Murphy, Jr., in Ohio, last week, sending back cryptic messages from Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Savage holidayed in NYC. Mrs. Anne G. Moore and granddaughters, Renee and Derita Cogdell of Kinston, N.C. were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Isler and Mrs. Mabel G. Webster, here. Mrs. Moore Mrs. Webster and Mrs. Isler are sisters.

Mrs. Ethel S. Conway of Gwynns Falls Parkway, is vacationing and attending the National Baptist Convention in Denver, Colorado. Prior to leaving the city she was feted at luncheon, on Thursday, by Mrs. Zola Phillips.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey E. Walden, Jr. and family have just returned from vacationing in the mid west. They visited Detroit, Michigan, Chicago, Illinois and also Windsor, Ontario.

While in Chicago, they visited with the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey E. Walden, parents of Harvey, Jr. The Rev. Mr. Walden is the pastor of Grant Memorial AME Church in Chicago.

Miss Royce Richardson, daughter of Mrs. Millicent Richardson of Chester, Pa., was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walden's daughter, Harvetta, on the trip to Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. James Green, Mr. and Mrs. William Goldman and Mrs. Lucy Davis of this city have returned from a trip to Mark Haven Beach in Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldman, who were celebrating the 30th anniversary of their marriage, and Mrs. Davis were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Green. Mrs. Goldman is the former Miss Blanche Bowler of Essex, Va.

POT-POURRI: Mrs. S. Bernard Hughes, a visiting her brother in Chester, Pa., Monday, in a mishap stepping from a train received a broken arm, other injuries. Is home, now. That annual fashion showing of The Pauline Brooks Fashion salon is set for Sunday, after noon at three, at the Johnson's Farm, Eldersburg, Md.

Add an up-coming wedding for Theresa Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Reid Johnson of Washington, and Carson W. Smart, son of the Frank A. Smarts, of this town. The respective parents-in-law of the bride-to-be gave an elaborate engagement party for her, here, Saturday. Wedding date: the 15th. Also add an expectation for Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Walden which will make their family a quintet. They already have two sons.

THEY VISITED HERE— Fresh from an overseas trip that covered 16 countries, these Los Angles residents paid a brief visit to Baltimore last week visiting friends including Mrs. Lillie Jackson, president of the local NAACP. Shown left to right: Mrs. Gerald Barnun, principal of an elementary school in the California city; Mrs. Cecil B. Murrell, manager of the LA public schools; Mr. Murrell, businessman, and Mr. Barnum, real estate broker.

My Luck Charm

MRS. MILDRED RUSSELL

This statement was made by Mrs Mildred Russell of New port News, Virginia "I believe the promise that God made to Moses, I saw the advertising of the Mazuzah and sent for one. Since receiving it, I have had nothing but LUCK. My enemies are now my friends. I have money and the bad luck crosses has left me.

I believe in the Mazuzah, in the Shield of Faith as millions of others do, I believe it is a Divine Omen of good luck and a protection against evil and misfortune. I feel it has made my life worth living, and a happy one, because of all the good things that have happened to me. When I went to see "Doc" Anderson later, I could well understand why so many people have so much faith in him."

The Mazuzah is a beautiful piece of jewelry about one inch long, with the Divine promise inscribed inside, and it may be worn around the neck with price and joy. The price is very small for such a wonderful luck charm. ONLY $3.00 Cash and 3c in stamps, or pay the postman $3.00 plus Charges. RUSH YOUR ORDER NOW TO:

PEARLIE'S PRATTLE:

A social whirl! Keeping up with NIA and all of you!

WASHINGTON

By PEARLIE CO XHARRISON

What a whirl! The social moves, I mean, of the National Insurance Association at the Statler Hotel last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray J. Marvin, executive director and assistant executive director, respectively, came from Chicago early, And Sunday, August 26 at 4 p.m., they said "hello" to the press.

WELL, from that time on until the last visiting insurance executive took a train, plane or auto home, the press had a ball! Breakfasts, luncheons, cocktail hours by the half dozen, banquets, even a Fashion Show.

The hardest-toiling group at spreading the welcome mat was the Insurance Women's League of Washington, organized by that charmer Erma Shamwell Cook and currently headed by another lovely, Eula V. Thomas. The gals set a breakfast table with the help of Florence B. Duncan of "Let's Eat" fame.

Then they said to all visiting ladies "Come dine with us twixt 7 and 9 a.m."

The visitors had to rise early anyhow because they were scheduled to call at the White House that very same morning. So they came by the score.

AND SEEING that no one missed a big plate (and pretty) were League members Helen W. Carter, H. Montoucet, Theodosia Murphy, Beulah K. Nell, Dannie E. Slone, Georgia Stringhelow, Eula V. Thomas, Helen Strother, Ethel L. Waters, Lillian Williams, Erma Cook and Mary B. Wyche.

Working hardest for the program's sake was G. Norman Branche of Federal Life;

Most charming career girl in the group, Mrs. Murray J. Marvin; jollest politician seen during the session, Val Washington; best oratory — spreaded Belford V. Lawson; nicest smilers, D.C's Mrs. Lionel Maloney and Birmingham's Mrs. A. G. Gaston; Official of National Insurance Association with most soldier-like bearing, Chicago's Edward Gillespie;

EXECUTIVES rushing home fastest, A. Macco Walker, president, to Memphis to get better acquainted with the Walker's new baby; and Chicago's Earl B. Dickerson to Chicago to rest up after two big evenis, entertaining more than a thousand people at his daughter's wedding, August 18, and moving through an NIA session at the Statler Hotel in Washington;

Most popular three-somes, Mr. Norman G. Branche and their daughter, Jane Elise; the Rupert Clarks and daughter, Rupertia Hunt; the James Holtrys of New Orleans, and their daughter, Maxine Daniel; Mrs. Pearl Dejoie and son Prudhomme Jr. and his Mrs. of New Orleans.

Prettiest print dress with red tones predominating worn by Mrs. Kitty L. Byars;

SEEN AT most of the NIA's social functions, Doctors and Mesdames Isaiah Burton and W. Henry Greene;

Loveliest senior in glamorous back-paneled gown, June Norton; trimmest little mother (stylish too), Mrs. Harry Thomas, (Romaine);

Smartest black and white dress at the informal dance, worn by Mrs. Terry Bevans;

HAPPIEST newsman around, Odis Von Blasingame, ex-president of the Capital Press Club. His smiling Georgette was so pleased with the red and white ball gown Blasingame bought for his helpmate's birthday;

Loveliest sister-teams, Richmond's Mrs. C. P. Hayes and D.C.'s Mrs. G. Norman Branche; and Mrs. Margaret Savoid and Mrs. Erma Cook; lost: Richmond's Clarence L. Judge that's been dodging "double harness" longest, James A. Cobb;

Rushing home to learn nursery rhymes, Mrs. Wallace Triplett of Detroit; smartest earrings (hand-made and beaded) worn by schoolma'am Adrienne Marshall Ryan, sister of D.C.'s Dr. C. "Murphy."

AND SAYING the nicest "hellos," Mesdames Mrs. H. A. Gilliam, Lynchburg's Mrs. Margaret Thurman; Buffalo's David Bishop; Philadelphia's Virginia E. Pryor; Tampa's Fannie B. Stone; Boston's Oscar B. Shelton; Dayton's Mrs. Warren Robinson and Miss Iva L. Craig; Richmond's James Coleman;

New Orleans' L. M. Lillys, Haidee Christophes, E. C. Thornhills, Ernest Cherries, C. C. Haydels; also Mesdames Mamie Simms, Pauline Johnson;

The G. W. Joneses of New Rochelle; Drew Segears of Whitehorse, N.J.; Durham's W. J. Kennedys; Richmond's G. A. Brannon's; Mesdames Mrs. Minnie H. Freeman and Hubert H. Townes; Cleveland's Martha H. Frye; Tuskegee, Florida's Gurtha Lee Thompson; Detroit's E. Earthmon Pirts; Jacksonville's E. W. Irvin; New York's Dr. C. A. Edwards; Mesdames Hall and Richmond's lovely Mrs. D.C. Deans, Jr.

"LET'S STAY LONGER"—

That was the cry of 55 Mississippians (Little Leaguers they call themselves) from Natchez and vicinity.

They're potential Jackie Robinsons, Campanells, Junior Gilliams, Willie Mayses and such.

With Robert Lee Williams, prominent in Natchez' civic circles, in charge, the group came to Washington for a week.

A TRIP is planned each year, previous jaunts having been made to St. Louis and Chicago.

But twas the Washington trip that stamped the boys thrill. And why not, with the whole town, almost, saying "Let us entertain 'em."

The Rev. J. D. Foy, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church, called "come home" to his Community Center, Wallace P. Gant, lay leader, showing the way.

Mrs. Viola Lee rang the dinner-bells. Bakers, Tom Leibrier and Rudolph Carson, district scout executive and assistant district scout executive, of James E. West, District, respectively, and also go-getting Sam Danley, vice chairman, James E. West District, got cots for the boys.

Mesdames Ethel J. Williams and Eunice Simmons were the director and program director of Southeast House, respectively, for the visitors picnic on the lawn.

Rufus Byars, of the District Theatres, gave a theatre party for the boys at Keith's.

YMCA let 'em swim and dive and play. Banneker Community Club also opened its pool.

Mrs. Alice Carr of the Howard University Medical Library, took them on a tour of Howard University; and they were guests of the Griffiths at a night ball game.

Sen. John Bell Williams of Mississippi had a word for the boys, and thrill after thrill and enjoyed when the group got inside the White House; the Capitol and the F B I Building.

ON ONE big night they were guests of the Mississippi State Club of Washington, the Rev. W. B. Marsh, president. Other officers are Mesdames H. Harvey, Wallace P. Gant, Marie Ivey Burkes; Misses Pearl Manaway, Juanita Peterson and Howard Jernagin.

Meeting of Harmony Community Club, Miss Aimira Streets, director, the "Little" had plenty of fun. There was music and song and dance as well as movies. Also, there were short speeches, and long minutes to just sit and chat and

Miss Purnell soldier's bride

Given in marriage by her brother, George Purnell, Miss Mary Bernice Purnell, Morgan State College freshman, was married to Sgt. James Williams, here, Saturday.

The ceremony was read by The Rev. Frank J. Frye.

Miss Purnell had as maid of honor, her sister, Miss Henrietta Purnell. Misses Connie Rice, Donzel Matthews, Elaine Tilghman, Doris Holland, Angelo Briscoe and Beverly Trott were bridesmaids.

Patricia Matthews was flower girl.

Ushers were Louis Thompson, Jerry Robinson, Connie Bailey, William Purnell and Eugene Askins.

A reception was held at the Cricket Club following the wedding.

enjoy the refreshments.

ASSISTING in making the hour a memorable one were Mrs. Velma Williams, former member of the Board of Education; James Geater, director of Training and Special Services of D.C. Recreation Department;

Also Chaplain Toms; Cassandra Taylor, Gilbert Farrell, Dorothy Earlene Aiker, Elaine Robinson, Oliver Bell and Mesdames Beaton and Logan.

Virgil White and his Junior Citizens Band. Mesdames Mozella Alexander, W. T. Whitlock;

Scout officials, Tom Lehmier, Rudolph Carson and Samuel Danley;

Lela Mae McCreary, daughter of Dr. W. McCreary of Texas Southern University, Houston, Texas, and Mrs. Angie McCleary, Alburquerque N.M.

Lela Mae, who is simply in love with Washington, is visiting relatives, the Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Foy. And, like the "Little Leaguers," she really wanted to stay longer.

ABOUT YOU AND YOU—

Mrs. Snowden due in town this week after a stay in Italy, where her husband, Dr. Frank, was on a U.S. tour of duty. Mrs. Snowden's father, the noted educator, Dr. Leslie Pinkney Hill, who went over for a visit, is accompanying his daughter home while Dr. Snowden tarries a bit on business...

Maj. and Mrs. James T. Tolliver (he's Professor of Military Science and Tactics at Howard University) home again from visits in Michigan and other points.

The place they liked best to relax in is owned by Dr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Nelson of Baldwin, Michigan and Idlewild. Mrs. Nelson, dressmaker so smart clothes, chose an adorable combination for her Sunday morning garb (navy and chartreuse).

And Patricia, the Tolivers' darling daughter is so refreshed from her vacation she wants to know right away when another children's contest is coming up. Likewise the pretty part Patricia played when 20 or more cuties competed at the Press Club's Carnival.....

Mrs. Marie Morris, D. C. teacher, is out of town too, this summer (New York), getting ready to bring back a Master's Degree from Columbia. She did just that last week. And is Marie proud?...

Mrs. Priscilla Wilkes, picture pretty in pink-splashed gray and pink to lavender bonnet.

Atlanta's John A. Britten visiting relatives, among them Mrs. Robert Hough.

Soldiers "on-parade" Sunday (walking into a church), Pvt. Aurabelle Steward and Pvt. Genola Tate, both of Ft. Slocum, N.Y.....

Prettiest polka dot sheer, Mrs. John McCormick's black and white dress. And just as pretty is the Mesdames' acquainted with the law (her husband and her son are barristers).....

Mrs. Ada Jones' church club gives her a tea that helps to bring beams to her face. She's a cheer-leader for sick and shut-ins.....

Mrs. Fanny Williams off this week with her daughters, Dorothea and Patricia, to join her husband, Dr. Emerson A. Williams at Ft. Bliss. Dr. Williams is the son of the late Rev. R. M. Williams.....

Mrs. Willie Mae King, back from a plane trip to Juarez, Mex. Making the trip with her was her kinsman, Mrs. Mabel Walker of New York.

Choosing pink for her Sunday dress, and making herself a radiant lady by doing so, was Mrs. Gerald C. Branford, wife of an up-and-coming young minister.

Scouters' Weekend coming September 22 and 23, Camp Hoover, Criglersville, Va. And busier than any bees are members of Troop 542. Considering it a "privilege to work with boys" are Samuel Danley and Artamas McNair....

Mrs. Emma T. Humphries, well-known in social, civic and church circles, finding quiet play-days in Massachusetts (Oak Bluffs)...

Mrs. Angela McIntyre, vivacious little widow, vacationing with relatives in Atlantic City...

Testimonials coming up, one for Judge Armond W. Scott, the other for Mrs. John Henry Dale. Guess I'd better press the old black dress. How could I skip either with two such swell honorees...

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd M. Hackney will receive Saturday, Sept. 22 from 5 to 7 p.m. in honor of the wedding of their daughter, Jacqueline Ann and Frank Fixley. The place, 1719 13th St. NW.

The Kennie Browns in Canada. Such globe-trotters, my! Gone since early August, across the country and back, where next will they land.

Job 'fascinating' says new analyst

It's a fascinating job.

"It's wonderful to know that you are doing something to help someone."

That's what Miss Blythe M. Kyle thinks about her new job as assistant planning analyst with the Baltimore Planning Commission.

The former AFRO - AMERICAN Newspapers reporter who assumed her new duties a week ago, has been assigned to the Urban Renewal Section in the Harlem Square area.

The purpose of the urban renewal program is to improve housing conditions in Baltimore.

The Commission works in cooperation with the Baltimore Housing Authority, the Health Department and other city agencies.

Wherever an urban renewal program is in effect, efforts are made to salvage as many homes as possible.
