WINS SECOND TITLE—Members of the Tennessee State University women's track and field team which won the National AAU title for the second straight year, Saturday. Coached by Edward S. Temple (right), the Tennessee Tigerettes piled up 94 points to retain the championship won last year. They set two American records and took away eight gold medals. Victorious members of the team will compete in Washington Saturday in the final Olympic tryouts at American University.

Tenn. State athletes vie for Olympic berths

Tennessee State University, two-time winner of the National AAU women's track and field championship, has a strong squad entered in the Olympic tryouts scheduled Saturday at American University.

Led by Mae Faggs, winner of the 100 and 200 meters championship, the Tigerettes, coached by Ed Temple, hope to place at least a half dozen athletes on the Olympic squad.

* * *

MISS FAGGS, a member of the 1948 and 1952 Olympic teams as well as winning the 1955 Pan-American games 400-meter relay quartet, will be seeking a third trip to the international games. She has been named to the last four AAU All-American squads.

Serving notice that they will be strong contenders in the Olympic final tryouts, the Tennessee flashing belles crossed the finish line in one, two, three order in the 100, 200, and 400 meter relay races and the running broad jump in the national championships at Philadelphia last Saturday.

* * *

MISS FAGGS, Isabel Daniels, Lucinda Williams, Rudolph Matthews and 14-year-old Willie B. White who set a new junior broad jump record with a 18 foot 6 inch leap and took second to teammate Matthews with an 18 foot, 11½ inch jump were standouts for his Olympic team hopefuls.

Georgia-born and indoor world's 50-yard record holder, Miss Daniels retained her outdoor 50-meter crown by besting Chicago Comets Barbara Jones with a 6.4 final after Miss Jones crack Alice Coachman and Catherine Hardy's 6.4 record for this distance.

In the girl's division, Temple's defending champions made a clean sweep shattering four records while picking up 86 points for their team trophy making it two in a row. This more than doubled South Pacific's 40 points for second place.

Fifteen-year-old Clarksville, Tenn. born Rudolph posted new marks in the 75 and 100 meter races. The Clarksville lass turned in a 8.3 in the 75 meters, 11.7 in the 100, and anchored Tennessee's 200 meter gold medal relay team. Rudolph, Martha Hudson White and Darlene Scott ran a 32.4 for the 200 meter distance and a new record.

MAE FAGGS, sensational sprinter, who won both the 100 and 200 meter championships in the National AAU women's meet at Philadelphia, will be trying for a third trip to the Olympics in the tryouts at American University Saturday. She represents Tennessee State University.

Sugar Ray denies tax tieup with IBC

GREENWOOD LAKE, N.Y. (ANP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, in training here for his middleweight title defense against Gene Fullmer, last week angrily denied that an agreement with the U.S. Internal Revenue Department for collection of his back taxes depended upon Robinson making two more title defenses for the International Boxing Club. He also reaffirmed his break with the IBC.

Robinson's denial was in reply to a statement by Truman Gibson, executive secretary of the IBC, who had explained that a three-way plan had been worked out between the government, Robinson and the IBC for liquidation of Ray's back income taxes.

According to Gibson, Robinson is have two more fights under the promotion of the IBC to satisfy an estimated $45,000 tax debt. Gibson emphasized that Ray is committed to fight for the IBC and "not under some other promoter."

* * *

ROBINSON HAD announced that he is through with the IBC and would not go through with the club's plan to have him defend against Fullmer in Yankee Stadium, Sept. 25. He said the IBC refused to guarantee him $60,000 from theater - TV money in addition to 47½ per cent of the gate, for the fight.

He stated that he had been given such a guarantee by a Los Angeles promoter and would defend against Fullmer there. He said he had received a similar offer from Philadelphia.

JIM NORRIS, president of IBC, said he believes that Robinson is just popping off. He added: "... We're not breaking off relations with him. He owes us too much money."

According to Gibson, Robinson owes the IBC "between $10,000 and $12,000," which he was allowed as take home pay in excess of his purse for the last Bobo Olson defense.

Jackson named to AAU board

By GEORGE LYLE JR.

PHILADELPHIA — In the running of the Women's AAU championships at Franklin Field Saturday, the spectators caught the fever and were most vociferous—as could be expected. The prize, however, was the young man who leaned over the wall to shout to Bertha Diaz of Cuba who won the 80-meter hurdles, "Cha cha, senorita."

Mrs. Earlene Brown, the 21-year-old mother from Compton, Calif., was getting measured for a uniform—carrying about 225 pounds on her five-foot, six-inch frame, she was quite dismayed when she found that she was 38 inches around the waist.

The 49 inches around the "equator" didn't disturb her a bit. Her son is nine months old and mom puts a mean shot—so sonny, better watch out.

Top Mak Faggs, quite the opposite of Mrs. Brown, is one of the most relaxed runners, I've seen—and can she cover the ground. A graduate student at Tennessee State, she hails from Bayside, Long Island.

* * *

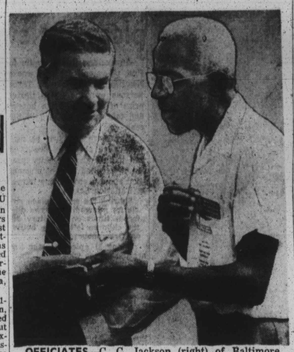
BALTIMORE'S C. C. JACKSON, long an avid exponent of track and field events, has been named to the national board of the AAU, a post (I think) that comes as a first.

Margaret Matthews, who set a new mark in the broad jump is a junior at Tennessee, major-ing in physical education (what else). Her home is in Atlanta.

Another tiny tot, Willie B. White of Greenwood, Miss., was the broad jump champion in the girls' division and when Margaret set her record on Saturday, Willie's whoops could have been heard all the way to Greenwood.

Two of the girls collapsed and had to be rushed off in the ambulance—but with the mercury hovering in the mid-nineties, it's a wonder a lot of us poor old spectators weren't carted off, too.

Hard luck hit Barbara Jones of the Chicago Comets. Runner-up to Isabelle Daniels in the 50, she fell after passing the finish line and was unable to compete in the rest of the meet.



OFFICIATES—C. C. Jackson (right) of Baltimore, Md., talks things over at the National Women's AAU track and field championships in Philadelphia with Head Field Judge James P. Lyon. Mr. Jackson served as one of the championship meet officials.

MILWAUKEE'S HANK AARON

Biggest batting wonder since Willie Mays?

In five short years he has gone from a sand-lotter to one of the greatest hitters in the National League! Only a few players in the game can touch his runs batted-in average, and experts claim it's practically impossible to put a fast ball past him!

Now, in this week's Saturday Evening Post, find out why ex-manager Charley Grimm says Hank Aaron is even more of a find than the fabulous Willie Mays . . . what such all-time greats as the Cardinals' Stan Musial say about his ability as a player!

Read about his early life in Mobile, Alabama . . . how he got started in baseball with the Indianapolis Clowns . . . about the personality traits that make him one of the most unusual men in baseball today! Don't miss "Born to Play Ball" in the August 25 issue of the Post . . . on sale August 21.

Recreation Notes

WOODSON CENTER

Members of the Woodson Recreation Center held a picnic at Ft. Smallwood recently.

A motorcade with over 100 youngsters and adults departed from P. S. No. 160 for the outing. Among those in the group were:

Portia Jones, Carolyn, Johnny and Betty Senior, Floria, Lois and Raymond Goins, Victoria Johnson, William Mark and Shelly White, Freda, Valoria and Skipper Campbell, Teresa Clark, Donald, Tony and Karen Lisby and Jeannette Whisonant.

Others included Barry, Martin, Stanley and Charles Johnson; Mae, Laura, Arigesta, Catherine and John Steele; and Delano Washington, Doris Andrews, Thomas Robinson and Betty Pinkney.

G. Faulkner is the director of Woodson Center. M. Payne is Recreation Leader.

Elmer Henderson Center

The Dramatic Club of Elmer Henderson Center presented its second annual puppet show Thursday.

Puppets were made to represent characters in such stories as "The Little Red Hen and the Grain of Wheat."

Among those who participated in the show were: Priscilla Williams, narrator; Lena Lacy, red hen; David Thaniel, the Cat; Ivy Williams, the dog; and Theresa Williams, the duck.

The stage and settings were constructed by John Faulkner, center director. The production was tape recorded and played for the cast and the audience by Mrs. John Faulkner. E. Ward was program chairman.

Members of the Midget softball team were the guests of Easterwood Park Wednesday.

RODMAN CENTER

A program entitled "Playtime Around The World" was presented by the Poplar Grove campers Thursday at the Mary E. Rodman Center at P.S. 145.

The program featured a camp demonstration designed to give parents an idea of this to say:

"At the close o fthe season last year I think we had developed one of our better teams, and we didn't lose too many of our men by graduation. We ought to have, I'd say, a high level football team."

The Morgan mentor admits he would be more optimistic were it not for the fact that since spring practice, when Roosevelt Brown, ex-Bear and New York Giants star, paced the boys through training, several of the top players have been lost for a variety of reasons such as withdrawing from school and academic ineligibility.

AMONG THE top players lost was Charlie (Buck) Porter of Richmond, halfback, who withdrew from school. Porter was the CIAA's top ball carrier last year.

Despite these losses, however, Coach Hurt said the Bears ought to be able to round out a good team for their eight-game schedule, which will commence against Central State College at Wilberforce, Ohio on Sept. 22, then open on home grounds Sept. 29 with North Carolina College of Durham.

OTHER KEY players expected among the veterans are:

Joseph Bucknor, Baltimore; Lawrence Buffaloe, Norfolk, Va.; William Clark, Steelton, Pa.; James Courtney, Baltimore; Arthur Dean, Wayne, Pa.; Frank Daub, Orberlin, Ohio; Dreyfus Froe; Bluefield, W. Va.; Bobby Gordon, Columbia, S.C.; Donald Hart, Butler, Pa.; Clarence Hawkins, Chestertown, Md.; Wilbert Hawkins, Washington, D.C.

James Haywood Jr., Delray Beach, Fla.; James Kelly, Richmond, Va.; Benjamin McCoy, Baltimore; Ernest Mays, Greensboro, N.C.; Samuel Matthews, Charlottesville, Va.; Albert, Rowe, Syracuse, N.Y.; George Ruff, Newport News, Va.; John T. Sewell, Norristown, Pa.; LeBaron Stewart, Asbury Park, N.J.; Robert White, Utica, N.Y.; and Dolphus Williams, Trenton, N.C.

36 Veterans boo st Morgan hopes for football season

There's a fair share of optimism in the Morgan State College athletic camp this week as the coaching staff awaits the practice gong on August 31 for the 1956 football season.

Accounting in large measure for the relatively happy state of affairs is the fact that approximately 36 seasoned men are expected to man the Morgan football squad.

Included among the 36 veterans are many of last year's best players, including star end Jackson Rozier of Richmond, Va.; fleet-footed halfback Jerome (Jerry) McArthur of Baltimore, and Henry (Goose) Smith of Portsmouth, Va., who may well be called upon to quarterback the Bear aggregation.

Smith, a senior, showed excellent form toward the latter part of last season, pacing the Bears to thrilling victories over Hampton and Virginia State.

TWO OTHER veterans, a Maryland combination, will co-captain the Bear squad. They are Robert (Jake) Jacobs, plucky 180-pound center from Annapolis, and William E. (Tiny) Gordon, 270-pound tackle from Aberdeen. Both are seniors.

In sizing up his team's prospects, Coach Eddie Hurt had this to say:

"At the close o fthe season last year I think we had developed one of our better teams, and we didn't lose too many of our men by graduation. We ought to have, I'd say, a high level football team."

The Morgan mentor admits he would be more optimistic were it not for the fact that since spring practice, when Roosevelt Brown, ex-Bear and New York Giants star, paced the boys through training, several of the top players have been lost for a variety of reasons such as withdrawing from school and academic ineligibility.
