No "power-behind-throne" for today's woman; she wants "in"

"The day of the dedicated woman politician, the Mary Bethunes and the Mary Terrells has passed.

"The new era woman, who devotes her time and energies to the game, looks at it more as an investment with immediate returns in view.

"The power of big political bosses has waned. Hence the G. J. Fleming power of the woman voter, working at the grass roots, has increased.

With the constant increase of the feminine population over that of the male, it is apparent that any time, now, the hands that rock the cradle will to turn that chore over to baby-sitters, and themselves turn to king-making; and they have pretty good prospects of success.

"Added to this, women have the leisure in which to put a lot of thought and action into politics."

These are the opinions of Dr. G. James Fleming, analyst and professor of political science at Morgan State College.

Interviewed in his campus office, this week, Dr. Fleming, on the verge of a research project in the field, had some other thoughts to throw out on the subject.

SAID HE:

"This country is going to benefit, once women become aware of their powers and realize that wistful wishing will get them nowhere.

"Women are natural workers for causes and objectives. Note what they have done with their door-to-door dime drives for polio.

"Men must hold down jobs—are tired. Now is the time for them to move in.

"Under the present mode of communication, the radio and television, women have more opportunity for the study of political issues, because they have more time to listen, to watch.

"Women can more safely move in on critical situations. Despite the apparent dwindling of gallantry, even the crudest cop hesitate to rough up a woman.

* * *

"WOMEN HAVE the natural nerve to ask for what they want. It was the NAACP's Dr. Lillie Jackson who first stepped up and demanded school integration; Alabama's Mrs. Rosa Parks who stood pat on the bus discrimination, and Miss Lucy, who put her foot in the wedge of the university case.

"Women are natural teachers. They will be able to play a highly important role in the simple, but effective projects of instructing voters in how to use voting machines, how to write letters, etc."

* * *

LAST WEEK'S Democratic Convention in Chicago, and this week's Republican Convention in San Francisco have gone a long way to prove the correctness of Dr. Fleming's opinion.

That women are no longer satisfied to influence through a top man was, and will be indicated by the action of the National Council of Negro Women.

That organization's president, Mrs. William Mason, attended the convention last week and is at the one this week with a special purpose in view. The Council wants more women of color in policy making positions. It has drawn up an imposing list of women qualified and ready to fill such posts.

* * *

AND THINKING back to the first Adlai Stevenson campaign when women in scores wanted to know the ins and outs of his divorce case, and to the Nixon funds affair, when they, in great measure, sided with the Vice President, campaign strategists took a good look at the feminine viewpoint.

Looking back at the Nixon affairs when the ladies opined "That nice young man . . . whose wife wears just a cloth coat . . . no mink . . . and his well-behaved children . . . it's a shame," Miss Bertha S. Adkins, assistant to the Chairman of the Republican National Committee issued special printers for clothes and TV appearances at the convention.

"No formal evening dress will be necessary unless attending a special social function. Wear regular street make-up, natural looking, without sheen. Use medium shade of lipstick. Go easy on eye shadow," said the communique.

In the Republican camp, similar tactics were used. Highlighting the expectancy of the junior Adlai Stevensons, they had women all over the country sighing (of the Presidential Candidate) "Oh, he's to become a grandfather." That, in the ladies' opinion decidedly upped his respectability.

Also, the National Young Women's Christian Association has initiated a five-week course in politics to arouse the interest of women voters.

The course is also designed to show women to learn their way around in political setups and how to be effective in the party of their choice, and will investigate the potentialities of women in politics.

TO PROVE that the women are not merely standing by, a large number of them were on the scene at last week's convention, including:

Mrs. Edith Sampson, Chicago, former delegate to the UN; Mrs. Venice T. Spraggs, Washington, D.C., assistant to Vice Chairman William L. Dawson, Democratic National Committee; Mrs. Jean Dago, National Association of College Women; Mrs. William Harvey and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, wives of Chicago aldermen; Mrs. Corneal Davis, wife of the Illinois State Senator.

Also Mrs. Harry S. Phillips, Mrs. Mary Bell, Mrs. Helen Worth, Mrs. Hiland M. Ryan, all of Detroit; Mrs. Patricia Roberts Harris, Dr. Dorothy Ferebee; Mrs. Jane Spaulding, Mrs. Vivian Carter Mason and Dr. Margaret Butcher.

Also Mrs. Barbara Dawson Morgan, daughter of Rep. William L. Dawson (D.-Ill) Mrs. Odas Nicholson, Mrs. Martha Sheppard, Mrs. Bessie Fulton, Mrs. Mamie Manuel, Mrs. Thelma Clark, Jean Hurley, Atty., Mrs Helen Boston Leeds, Mrs. Charles Laws, Mrs. Fannie Howard, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Edward M. Saxed; Mrs. Juanita Brown Mrs. Todd Duncan, Mrs. Helen Boyle, Mrs. Pauline Shackleton and Mrs. Laura Magnuson, of Washington.

An equally imposing group will be on hand in San Francisco, this week—Lula Jones Garrett".

The engagement of Miss Delores Christian of Baltimore, to Ulysses Ginn Jr., of Chester, Pa., has been announced by her mother, Mrs. Lillian Christian.

Cooking Is Fun

By FANNIEJOE REID

Let's do some more salads, this week.

I think that no cook's repertoire can exclude this versatile menu item, that can be just an addition to a meal or actually a full meal.

Take Macaroni Salad for instance.

For Macaroni Roses you will need 1 tablespoon salt, three qts. boiling water, 2 cups elbow macaroni (8 oz.), 1½ cups grated carrots, 1½ cups cooked or canned green beans, 1/3 cup French dressing, 1/3 cup Mayonnaise, two tablespoons (finely chopped onion (1 teeth garlic chopped), 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, and eight medium sized tomatoes.

Add one teaspoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally. Rinse with cold water and drain. Add carrots, green beans, French dressing, mayonnaise, onion, 2 teaspoons salt and pepper to macaroni. Mix well.

Cut chilled tomatoes vertically, into wedged-shaped pieces without cutting apart spread sections and fill with vegetable-macaroni and garlic mixture. Serve on water cress or crisp lettuce as desired. (Serve with cold cuts.)

CHIFFONADE SALAD is made with one tablespoon salt, three qut., boiling water, 2 cups elbow macaroni (8 oz.), three cups escarole, broken into bite size pieces, one cup coursely chopped water cress, two stalks celery, cut in thin strips; two medium sized tomatoes, peeled and quartered; 3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped; 1-8¼ ounce can diced beets drained; one tablespoon vinegar, three tablespoon olive or salad oil, ¼ teaspoon prepared mustard, one teaspoon chopped parsley, 1½ teaspoon chopped chives, ⅛ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper.

Add one tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil, cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Rinse with cold water, drain. Combine macaroni and remaining ingredients, toss lightly but thoroughly. Chill. Serve in crisp lettuce cups if desired.

CHEESE PEAR Salad is fine for a simple quick-to-fix item to serve 3 or 4 guests.

Mix a pint of cottage cheese with ¼ cup mayonnaise, 2 or 3 tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Add to the bowl of shredded lettuce and toss until well mixed.

Serve in individual salad plates, topping each with diced fresh Barlett pears and chopped nuts.

SALMON LIMA Salad is made with one cup cooked large lima beans, one pound or one can salmon, one tablespoon finely cut onion, ¼ cup diced celery, ½ cup cut sweet pickle, one tablespoon prepared mustard, one cup commercial sour cream, ⅛ teaspoon salt, and ⅛ teaspoon pepper.

Drain and chill limas. Drain salmon, remove skin and bones and break into chunks, combine salmon and limas with remaining ingredients. Serve on salad greens.

MEXICAN MACARONI Salad requires one tablespoon salt, 3 qts. boiling water, 2 cups elbow macaroni, 2 tablespoons chopped scallions or green onions, ¾ cup finely chopped celery, ½ cup sweet pickle relish, two tablespoons chopped canned, pimiento, one tablespoon prepared mustard, one teaspoon celery seed, ½ teaspoon salt, and ½ cup French dressing.

Add one tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water, gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil, cook uncovered, stirring occasionally until tender. Drain in colander. Rinse with cold water, drain.

Serve with cold meats or garnish any cold plate for color.

A DELICIOUS WAY with chicken is via the route of paprikas with noodles. See recipe on this page.

Raisin orange coffee square

Yeast breads that require kneading and shaping, frighten some novice cooks, but here's a simple one that's easy as stirring up a muffin. It does have to rise, of course, but that's no work for the cook.

Plan to make a "Raisin Orange Coffee Square" on a day when you have some ironing to do, and will be on deck anyway. There's nothing that tastes better, or smells more enticing, than yeast bread baking!

The tender light cake with plump, chewy raisins would make a good dessert for dinner, and the rest may be reheated for a breakfast treat.

RAISIN ORANGE COFFEE SQUARE requires 2/3 cup light or dark raisins, ¾ cups milk, 1 cake compressed yeast, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, ¼ cup shortening, 1/3 cup sugar, 2 egg yolks (or 1 egg), 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, and 2 teaspoons grated orange rind.

For the topping you will need 1/3 cup brown sugar (packed), 2 tablespoons flour, and 1 tablespoon butter or margarine.

RINSE RAISINS and drain. Scald milk and cool to lukewarm. Add crumbled yeast a stir until dissolved. Stir in 1 cup flour, mixing until smooth. Cover and let stand in warm place until very light (about 1 hour). Cream shortening and sugar together thoroughly. Blend in egg, salt, spice and rind.

Stir in yeast mixture. Add remaining flour and raisins, and mix well. Turn into greased 8 inch square pan and smooth top of dough. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Sprinkle topping mixture over dough.

Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 40 to 45 minutes. Serve hot.

Old World pot roast

"Doesn't "Old World Pot Roast" sound good? It's an inexpensive cut of beef livened up with red cream, and made hearty and flavorful with California large dry limas. Get out the French bread and set the table.

* * *

OLD WORLD POT ROAST is made with 2 cups California large dry limas; 3 to 4 - pound beef chuck roast, 1 teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons shortening, 1 chopped clove garlic, 1 slivered carrot, 1 large chopped onion, ¾ cup red table wine, 1 cup commercial sour cream, 3 tablespoons flour, ½ cup water, and 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Rinse limas, cover with 5 cups salted water and simmer gently while the meat cooks. Sprinkle the meat with salt and pepper, and brown in deep skillet or Dutch oven in shortening. Remove meat and cook garlic, carrot and onion.

Heat wine and combine with sour cream, then pour into skillet and add meat. Cover and simmer for about 2½ hours or until meat is tender. Stir in drained limas about 15 minutes before serving.

Remove meat, blend flour and water, and stir into hot liquid. Stir until mixture boils and is thickened. Add lemon juice.

Serves 6 to 8.

Chicken with foreign tone

Food is a perfect mood setter for the imaginary trip to the Far East because whole-hearted love of food is part and parcel of life there, where people not only cook aand eat "with the heart" but they glorify food in song, poetry and folk dance.

"Paprikas" is the Hungarian name for a whole family of paprika-ful dishes. These are similar to goulashes except that they seldom include vegetables and always make generous use of sour cream.

* * *

THE AMERICAN HOUSEWIFE may prefer adaptations of paprikas that do add vegetables, and may sometimes substitute the less tart, cultured type of sour cream. But she will never stint on the paprika. For true Hungarian flavor, she will do as the Hungarian housewife does — not sprinkle paprika, but ladle it by the heaping teaspoon or tablespoon. The knowing cook also adds black pepper or cayenne to the sweet paprika. The American Spice Trade Association has developed the following recipes in which this is done for paprikas with Magyar-flavor.

* * *

TRY CHICKEIN PAPRIKAS WITH NOODLES made with a three pound ready - to-cook chicken; ½ cup chopped onion, ¼ cup shortening, ½ teaspoon ground black pepper, and 2 teaspoons salt, 1 cup hot water, 1 tablespoon paprika, ¾ cup sour cream ½ pound noodles, cooked.

Wash chicken and cut into serving size pieces and set aside. Saute onions in shortening 3 minutes or until limp and transparent. Mix black pepper and salt with the chicken and add to onion and shortening. Brown on all sides.

Add water, cover and simmer 1 hour or until chicken is tender. Stir in paprika 10 minutes before cooking time is up. Remove chicken and add sour cream to drippings left in pan. Mix well and heat thoroughly, but DO NOT BOIL.

Arrange chicken over cooked noodles on a platter. Serve with the sour cream sauce. If desired, garnish with parsley.

Peach salad

"Peach Fanfare Salad" gets its name from the arrangement of the fruit on the salad plates. Golden slices of canned cling peaches, grapefruit and orange are "fanned" out on lettuce leaves. The lovely colors are like a ray of sunshine on the table.

* * *

PEACH FANFARE SALAD requires 1½ cups canned cling peach slices, 1 grapefruit, 1 large orange, Salad greens, and Tart French dressing.

Drain peaches thoroughly. Pare and section grapefruit and orange. Arrange peach slices alternately with grapefruit and orange sections on salad greens. Serve with French dressing.
