Peck-Turner wedding set for ceremony in St. Peter Claver

with Lula Jones Garrett

Miss Lorna Jiggets Turner, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Jiggets Kyler, and Joseph W. Peck have set a wedding date for the 25th.

Their exchange of vows will take place in St. Peter Claver Catholic Church at four.

POT-POURRI: Mrs. Marie Hammond is recuperating from surgery at Provident Hospital. Also mending is Mrs. Rosalie McGuire, town school principal, who was injured in a fall at her home.

Dr. and Mrs. DeLoss Berry, Sr. of New York City, came down over the week end, to bid adieu to his mother, Mrs. Linda J. Pullman, who was off, this week, to Nassau and Cuba. Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Walker came in from Calibora where they had visited friends at Los Angeles, and San Francisco.

Residents in the Sequoya Avenue section were making detailed inquiries this week, about their new neighbors, Dr. and Mrs. Walter T. Davidson. Not pointed out the nearer, that they were fighting an integrated neighborhood, just wanted to be sure of their "community" standing. Well!

The McDonalds (Lloyd and Lillian) of Poplar Grove St. threw a lawn party, Friday night, honoring the Jarrett Jacksons of Philadelphia, who were their guests for the week.

Dropping in to meet the visitors were:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas Jr., the Senior Mr. Thomas, Dr. and Mrs. Talmadge Pinckney, the Paul Chesters, Walter Edmonds, Elihu Norfleet, Melvin Johnsons, Melvin Greenes, John Tilghmans, Mrs. Erma Roy, Miss Arnetta Deshields, Miss Ann Macklin and William (Babe) Jones.

Dr. and Mrs. W. Eugene Byrd (Mable) have another boy, making a trio of sons. They had hoped for a daughter. The baby, named Joel Piety, weighed in at Johns Hopkins on Wednesday, tipping the scales at six pounds, three ounces.

PEREGRINATORS: Vera and Bob Williams have been hosting, at their Prestman St. home, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown of Sand Spring, Oklahoma, the past days. The past days. The Browns will also visit her sister, Alestine Thomas, in Acamac, Va. ere turning homewards.

Imagine, if you can, Morgan State College President Martin D. Jenkins and Mrs. Jenkins slowing down to horse-cart speed . . . but that is wh they were doing in Quebec, Canada, this week browsing around the town in a nag-drawn two - seater.

The Calvin Ashes (Letitia) are doing the same much-of-nothing in Atlantic City, where they have been relaxing for a couple of weeks. Will be in on the 25th, fetching with them Neil Hackney of Cleveland, who will be here for a brief spell.

Anethia Williams, who has been hitting the high spots of the West, posts from Salt Lake City, this week. Bob Matthews turned the nose of his car towards Detroit, Mich. a week back, for a refreshen in home ties on his native front.

After completing four years as a jet mechanic at George Air Field Base in California, S/Sgt. Alfred Dickerson is home with his mother, Mrs. Mollie Dickerson of Longwood St. His sister, Mrs. Betty Cottman, flew to California to accompany her brther home.

Other news anent our young Army man includes that of Lt. C. Warfield Barnum, who recently returned from an assignment of two months in Morocco, North Africa, and who is now stationed at Forbes Air Force Base in Topeka, Kans. Upn his completion of this overseas assignment, he was promoted to first lieutenant. At present he is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Barnum, here.

Eleanor Bracy and her two daughters, who headed for Oak Bluffs, Mass. at the beginning of the season, still have until Labor Day to go to that delightful resort. They are summering with her step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Samuels of Oak Bluffs and Boston. Also at that spot are Elaine Howard and her brother, George and his wife, Dorothy Ann.

The Ernest (Louise) Dennises, their daughter, Edith, and her mother, Mrs. Mussenden, are enjoying New England, from Bradford, Manor, New Hampshire. They will spent a week in West Haven, Conn. ere returning home.

Naomi Thomas, of New York, and of the Planned Parenthood Methodist Ministers School of Methodists in session at Morgan State College, Speaker on the Wednesday program was Dr. A. Long of Johns Hopkins. Dr. G. James Flemings of the Morgan College faculty presided.

PARTY PRATTLE: Mary and Marvin Lyles entertained at a beautifully appointed breakfast, Saturday, in honor of Carrie Scott, who chalked up another birthday.

And that evening, Bernice and Elwood Brown had Mrs Scott, along with Alfreda Pinkney and Hermione King in for dinner. Carrie had ne more than limped in from a day of gafavanting that evening, settled down to go through a pack of natal day cards, than in popped Myrtice and LeRoi Bennett, with Dora Miller, Peggy and William Riddick and their son, Billy. So Carrie managed party fixings and the fun was on 'til the wee morning hours.

There to shower her with gifts were:

Gwendolyn and Bill Spencer, Ethel and Henry Hall, Natalie and Neal Woodson, Delores and Wilbert James (her son, recently returned from Germany); Margaret and Sykes Waddell, Leila and William Terry, Alfreda Pinkney.

Gilas and Gertie Carter, Selby Lewis, Queenie Lane, Helen Quarles, Nellie Buchanan, Rowena Lewis, Alma Williams, Katherine Russell Robinson, Ruth and Arnold Bailey and James E. Scott.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Jackson have recently returned from a visit to Charlotte, N.C. where they were entertained by many friends of their family.

Mrs. Jackson is the former Miss Louise Hare of Charlotte.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Jackson, formerly of Metropolitan Methodist Church, will leave the city Thursday, for a breather ere they begin the major task of moving to Washington, where the Rev. Mr. Jackson will head the D. C. District.

For a few days they will be in Atlantic City. For a few more days they will be in Mount Vergon, N.Y.

These days, since his new assignment, they have been in a constant round of dinners, etc., and swamped with letters, telegrams and cards.

The most recent of the dinner parties was in the Woodbrook home of Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Hampton. Mr. Hampton is a steward of Metropolitan, she is chairman of a circle and both are members of the choir.

Also, this week, they were entertained in the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Mooney, where the E. S. Williams Guild was host.

There were original songs, charades and fine food. Mrs. Cornelia Smith heads the Guild.

Other special guests were Mrs. Edna Redmond, chairman of the Washington Conference Wesleyan Service Guilds; Mrs. Dora Hutchinson, of the Rachel Taylor Guild; Mrs. Ruth Goode of the Wesleyan Service Guild of John Wesley Church; Mrs. Addie Smith of the Woman's Service Guild.

Mesdames Gwendolyn Walker, Emma Dudley, Marie Jenkins, Irene Samuels, Ellen Trotter, Margie Carvath, Hettie Dennis, Lillian Barber, Margaret Arnold.

Mesdames Helen Crosby, Myrtle Hoyard, Josephine Gross, Marie Brown; also Edwin Johnson, Sr., Edwin Johnson, Jr., Marvin Wright and John and Frederick Edwards.

Back in town, this week, were Alpha Phi Alpha men, and the wives they took along to Buffalo to celebrate with them the golden anniversary of the fraternity.

Talked of the politicing being spicy . . . the socialites being lush . . . and the program speaking of high interest. Say their gals did them especially proud being the sassiest and best-dressed Arm-deco assembled in the whole half century.

From here, there, were the Hiram Butlers, who went on for a post trip to her New England home town; Dr. and Mrs. George Paige, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jackson, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Dermond, Herny Parks, Tom Hawkins, Frank Ellis and Councilman and Mrs. Walter Dixon.

LT. AND MRS. JOHN SCOTT were recently married in Rocky Mount, N.C. The bride is the former Miss Olivia Lawrence. Lt. Scott is the son of Mrs. Alice Gross of Baltimore.

Cherry Hill Notes

By MARJORIE J. WARD

Grandparents Day will be observed on Sunday, August 19 at the Cherry Hill Methodist Church.

The 11 a.m. service will feature a sermon by Rev. Mrs. Edith Williamson of the Enon Baptist Church. A Lawn Party will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. and at 6 p.m. the Methodist Youth Fellowship will be in charge. The Rev. Nathaniel P. Perry is pastor of the church.

THE CHERRY HILL Stars were the first to receive new baseball uniforms this year. The uniforms were secured through the efforts of their manager, William Howard, the work of team members, and the assistance of parents and friends.

Uniforms for two other Cherry Hill teams have been sponsored by the Cherry Hill Community Recreation Council. Those teams are the Rainbow and the Dodgerettes.

The Rainbows are the Cherry Hill Junior Hard Ball Champions, and the Dodgerettes are the Junior Girls Softball champions. Both teams will play in city wide competition.

George Wainwright is the manager of the Rainbows, whose uniforms will be maroon and light cream and Mrs. Pauline Lee is manager of the Dodgerettes, who will wear red and white uniforms.

SHEPHERD H. BURGE Jr., is president of the Community Recreation council, which has sponsored numerous recreational activities throughout the Cherry Hill Area.

Another Cherry Hill Team recently receiving uniforms was the Vondaliers.

A large number of parents and neighbors were present when the Vondaliers donned their new red and white uniforms on last Tuesday evening and defeated the Cubs giving them a chance at the Midget League Baseball Championship.

'Pay up, or get out'

So you think you know all the answers when it comes to bill collectors.

You think you are running him into debt when you tear up all those notices, reminders and duns he sends you through the mail.

You think you are pretty smart when you see him walking up the steps and you run in a back room and hide beneath a bed while he wears out his fingers and knuckles ringing your doorbell and banging on the door.

Now, if you're not guilty of these antics, then you can stop reading right here. BUT, if you are, then you'd better read on.

TRUE, Mr. Bill Collector does not appreciate wasting his postage on unread mail or making fruitless visits to homes.

This is his friendly way of reminding you that you haven't paid your account. But, he can get pretty mean when you try his patience to the very end.

He can put you in a messy state of affairs if you own any property like a house, car or furniture.

It's difficult for him to get his money by attaching a lien on your salary (in this state, according to attorneys) but he can slap a lien on anything you own with no trouble at all.

According to recent notices in a legal paper, a clothing company has attached liens on several homes in Baltimore to get its money. Unless some agreement is reached by the owners, their homes will be auctioned at nominal costs.

TAKE THE case of a couple on E. 22nd St. They owe the company $39.58. Their home is scheduled to be auctioned on Aug. 17 at 3:20 p.m.

Then there is another couple on Walbrook Ave., who owe $29.90. Their home is scheduled to be auctioned on Aug. 17 at 2:45 p.m.

And still another couple on Prestman St., who owe the company $100.20. Their home is scheduled to be auctioned on Aug. 17 at 2:30 p.m.

In each case, these liens were filed in the People's Court, by the clothing company.

According to clerks of the court, it would be cheaper for persons to go ahead and make arrangements to pay their bills rather than stand the exorbitant costs of keeping their homes after a lien has been attached.

As one of the clerks said, "You can't outsmart a bill collector. You've got to pay one way or another."

Fellowship House holds lawn party

The annual interfaith, interracial lawn party will be sponsored by the Baltimore Fellowship House, Saturday, on the grounds of the Arnolia Methodist Church, Joppa Rd. near Oakleigh Rd.

The Rev. Elsworth Bunce is host pastor.

BEGINNING AT 4 p.m., the lawnfest is intended to raise funds for the program of the local organization, including art classes for children, an international doll collection (called "Dolls for Democracy"), Fellowship Choir, forums and workshops.

The public is asked to contribute books, dolls, "white elephants," and plants for the event.

In charge are Mrs. Gertrude Nitzberg, 4812 Laurel Ave. and Charles Culbertson, 21 W. Preston St. Articles will also be picked up through calling LI. 3-9946.

Serving on the program committee are Mesdames Edith Ballard, Marian Frankel, Adah Jenkins, Gertrude Nitzberg; the Misses Gertrude Laing and Elizabeth Johnson; Barton Bond, Richard White, Robert White, Edward Young and the Rev. Marcus Wood.

'Love all the people,' says Miss from Trinidad

"I just love all the people. I've just made friends all over."

Picture these words coming from a young lady with a warm smile, a complexion that people usually refer to as "peaches and cream," and the softest accent you've ever heard.

Take all of these things together and you would have Joan Huggins, a 19-year-old miss from Trinidad who is visiting in Baltimore this week.

BACK IN Port of Spain Joan has been a member of the Junior Red Cross for five years and when it came time to send a delegate to the International Junior Red Cross Study Center in Washtigton, D.C., at Hood College, Joan was selected.

She arrived in America on July 21, attended the conference from Aug. 1 to 11, and will leave these shores on Aug. 21.

Meanwhile, she is visiting here with Miss Esther LaForest, 1537 N. Eden St., as part of a program designed to give the Red Cross' foreign guests a chance to see America close by living with an American family.

EVERY VISITOR takes home from America some outstanding impression, and for Joan its the way the homes are constructed.

"In Trinidad each home is built on a separate pattern but here you build all the houses on the same pattern, just alike."

While in Washington, Joan had the opportunity to visit Mt. Vernon, the home of George Washington, and this also left a memory.

"To hear the background and the history and then to see a historic place, that makes you feel good. We don't have many historic places at home," she said.

JOAN IS A student in Trinidad and she hopes one day to study a business course. While this is her first trip to American, Joan hasn't found the adjustment too difficult.

"After all we speak English, we eat the same food as you, we wear the same clothes and we even have your music," she said with a grin.

When Joan returns one of her warmest memories will be of the friends she made while she was here and of this she says: "This is a friendly country and I've had a wonderful time."

Teachers College frosh exams set

WASHINGTON

Applicants for admission to freshman status in the District of Columbia Teachers College will take the special entrance examination on Wednesday, Aug. 22, at 10 a.m. in the Wilson Building of the College, Eleventh and Harvard Sts., NW.

This will be the final administration of the examination to applicants for admission to the September 1956 class, according to Charles W. Thomas, registrar and director of admissions.

Dr. Thomas reports that the College expects 75 applicants Aug. 22. During previous entrance examination periods (March 24, May 26, and July 27), 373 applicants took the examinations.

Of the estimated total of 450 students taking the examination Dr. Thomas judges that a freshman class of approximately 300 students will be organized.
