There's much to see and do in Atlantic City

By Melvina A. Jackson

Sea, Sunshine, Fishing Provide Fun During the Day, 5 Miles Boardwalk, Night Clubs Mecca for Visitors After Sundown.

Atlantic City's resort facilities thronged with life and color, ing-rolling boardwalk bicycling, ties are now catering to thou- miles of Boardwalk lined with fine amusement piers, horse sands of visitors who discover every conceivable shop and racing, etc.

there's no place like this re-show provide every form of Mr. C. J. Newsome and the members of the Convention fun for the complete vacation. Regardless of taste and fine accommodations Bureau of the Atlantic City Board of Trade have left nothing undone to bring to Atlantic City each year many of the major conventions. They will gladly assist you in arranging your trip or the planning place of any convention. Just contact them at 111 N. Indiana Avenue.

Plan a trip very soon to Atlantic City. The merchants on this page welcome you and your patronage. You'll be assured of first class accommodations and the service if you make plans to come to them while in Atlantic City.

tion or for attending a convention sort of amusement for every

Anyone from anywhere can easily get to this "Playground of the World." Railroads offer direct service as well as the big companies; airlines land attractions; air-conditioned restaurants and there is speedy taxi service. Transportation to the resort hotels, night clubs with top entertainment stay open 24 hours a day; as are 90% of the hotels in Atlantic City.

From the minute you arrive, to the minute you leave, every second is streamlined full of vacationing! Strolling thru the Boardwalk, bathing, golfing, boardwalk bicycling, City. Every type of sport imaginable is available in Atlantic City. There's swimming in the surf, healthful sunbathing on Sunfish stretches of beaching, golfing, boardwalk bicyling, City.

Talent recognized

By BARBARA PRIGMORE

PHILADELPHIA

Miss Sylvia Stratton, 17-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry A. Stratton won the "New Faces TV Award" on Sunday on the Horn and Hardart Children's Hour. She is a talented pianist.

Stan Lee Broza, master of ceremonies presented the award to Miss Stratton for her brilliant rendition of "Revolutionary Etude" by Chopin.

The number 13 proved lucky for Miss Stratton who was the 13th participant on the program.

Miss Stratton, a June graduate of Girls' High School, will enter Howard University in June, which her mother and father both attended.

Mrs. Stratton is a popular member of the Links, Inc. and the Between Us club.

Miss Stratton studied music 8½ years with Miss Marie S. Bish and is a member of the teenage Jack and Jill Club. She resides with her parents at 6418 Emlen St.

In Old Baltimore' you got nickel beer and free lunch

Stimulated by his own and others' memories, Mr. Blicks (Happy Days) flicks, 821 Arlington Ave., wrote again to tell of the good old days in response to the call: "Wake up, Old Baltimore."

"DO YOU remember the Central Theatre on East Baltimore St.—afterwards, it was called the Monumental — but popularly known as the Bridge Theatre? atre.

"They had great vaudeville stars, six-day bicycle race, six-day walking matches and prize fights. Do you remember 'Big Six, Frank Hunter and the St. Mary's bully who fought there?

Remember Fitzsimmons Riverview Park - waiters with Tray in one hand and towels on their arms served drinks and sandwiches, All sandwiches were five cents except chicken - it was 15 cents.

"October 6 was German Day at Riverview but it was later changed to September 12.

"Remember Prof. Butterworth's swimming pool on North Howard St.—the natorium? The man who built it built the Howard Auditorium on the site in 1903.

"Remember the old seminary on Paca St. and Cardinal Gibbons?—

"ROBINSON AND McGraws Bar on Howard St. near Center had five-cent beer and free lunches - sour beef, hot dogs, cheese, salami, pickled fish, rye bread and pretzels.

"Remember the Waldorf, the old Hoffman House and Druid Hill Ave.? - Gans Goldfield in East Baltimore and the Black Diamond Hotel on W. Pratt St.

"Remember the sleigh rides on Lexington St. from Charles to Calvert Sts.?

"And James Ditchlens' furniture was—Baltimore's largest colored furniture movers?

"And William Daly's movies on the lot in the 1'st block Pennsylvania Ave." Where Mt. Royal Station is, there was a wholesale vegetable and potato yard.

Remember Moses R. Hicks 3rd, the writer, attended the fountain at Wageners Drug Store, Howard at Franklin St.? Then the first colored fountain girls were started working in the city.

Another 'old Baltimore Regular,' Leland R. Finney, sent in one of his interesting letters. He wrote:

"Just a few more memories of Old Baltimore, where all the old boys are who used to play ball on the stepstones in the 100 block Argyle Ave.

Some of the names recall so well are Sam Wilson, the Gough brothers, Worthington, Ulysses and Coleman; Herb and Tecumseh Woodland, London Taylor, Jimmy Cain, and my brothers.

"Remember when we played in Mother's lumber yard on Pennsylvania Ave. where Preston St. is cut through now to Argyle Ave? Walter Kearney used to play with us, too, and when the jump in the lumber and hide, "Kearney would go in the police chased us, we would back of his father's sandy store which was at Pennsylvania Preston Sts.

"REMEMBER THE great Joe Gans; world's lightweight champion, who lived at 1st Argyle Ave. where the brass rail was. c.

"Mr. Butler (Berkley and Everett's father) and Mr. Carpenter were the bath house attendants then. They were two good Christian souls who would not allow any singing while bathing, especially on Sundays.

"Remember the Savoy Theater on Eutaw St. where Butlers is now.

"For ten cents in those days you could see two pictures and a comedy—we saf in the peanut gallery, of course.

"Do you remember Mr. Zier, the milkman, with his horse and wagon? And how about the fish man who blew a horn ? The body of his wagon was a big beautiful fish of different colors.

"And remember the Bluestem Coal Co. with the horse drawn wagon? Did you know that was the beginning of the present American Oil Co.

"Come on, fellows, write in your memories. Let the newcomers see what a great old town we had in our day."

And with this call to his comrades, Mr. Finney closes his letter.
