Players are named to East-West tilt

CHICAGO — Battle lines have been drawn for the 24th annual East vs West baseball classic to be played here Sunday afternoon in Comiskey Park.

Both squads have been filled with top - grade talent from the sponsoring Negro American League after nearly two months of screening.

Dr. J. R. Martin, president of the league, announced that the fans can expect to see 49 of the leagues' top players in action on All - Star day.

That's the number of stars who have been selected by the four club owners, managers and coaches and approved for the one-day competition.

Moore-Parker Canadian tops

TORONTO, Ontario, — (ANP) — The record heavyweight bout between Archie Moore and James J. Parker here was a profitable venture for the light heavyweight champion and promoters of the fight.

It was reported that the bout, in which Moore stopped Parker in 2:02 of the ninth round, set an all-time Canadian gate record. A total of 19,832 fans, paying $148,500 to see the bout in Maple Leaf Stadium, provided Archie with a $46,000 paycheck.

IT ALSO netted the veteran campaigner a "private title." (The Moore-Parker bout was advertised as for the world heavyweight championship), which Archie said he will defend against Patterson in New York, Sept. 18, "if the price is right."

The Parker bout was little short of a massacre, how ever, as Moore hammered his larger, younger opponent into a state of helplessness, causing Referee Billy Burke to call a halt to the bloody orgy.

The bout was not recognized as a champions hip fight neither by the National Boxing Association nor the New York Boxing Commission.

Colt fans due first look at Hill Monday

BALTIMORE

A raft of talented newcomers will be on display here Monday night at Memorial Stadium when the 1956 Baltimore Colts are unveiled for the first time in the annual intra-squad game.

The regular August football show, played for the benefit of Baltimore Police Boys' Clubs, will mark the pro baptism of Bob Hill, hard-running fullback-halfback from Jackson College.

* * *

HILL HAS attracted considerable attention during the Colts' drills at Westminster the past two weeks, and coach Weeb Ewbank expects the all-conference (Midwestern) blockbuster to cut quite a figure in the pro ranks.

Because of his unusual speed for a big man, Hill is undaunted by the presence of another fullback on the squad — Allen (The Horse) Ameche. He is a shifty runner and possesser of good hands, therefore may be of service as a halfback on occasion.

* * *

HILL AND the veteran Buddy Young have been assigned as teammates for the intra-squad tiff. They will play on the "Blue" squad against a "White" lineup that will include Burrell Shields, recently converted to offensive end, and Jesse Thomas, still considered a valuable asset at defensive safety.

Game time is scheduled for 8:30 o'clock, with numerous preliminary activities beginning at 7:30. In last year's pre-game stunts, Young defeated a horse in a footrace.

* * *

But he came back again and Carter cornered him in a neutral corner and put on the finishing touches with both hands. Martin stopped the fight as Satterfield was going down for the third time.

Carter scores 5-round KO of Bob Satterfield

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — Young Harold Carter overcame the heavy guns and leech-like tactics employed by Bob Satterfield to register a fifth round knockout of the Chicago veteran here Wednesday night.

A nationwide television audience and the 2,100 fans who collected at War Memorial Auditorium for an in-person look, saw the Linden, N.J., heavyweight floor his rival three times to win an automatic kayo.

* * *

THE INCONSISTENT Satterfield, ranked sixth among the world's heavies, spent the better part of the action clinging to Carter. Rated the harder puncher of the two, Bob never was able to land effectively with either hand.

Referee Teddy Martin and judges Dick Fazio and Paul Cummins all had Carter as the unanimous winner on points through the four complete rounds of milling. The knockout came at 2:52 of the fifth.

* * *

AS THE fifth round opened it was obvious Satterfield had to go. Carter caught him first with a hard left hand followed by a quick combination that put the Chicago boxer down for the first time.

Another combination put Satterfield through the ropes for the second fall. Promptly, Carter connected to the body with a right and Satterfield went whirling across the ring, grabbing the ropes to keep from going through.

Season ticket sales set all-time high for Colts

Season ticket sales of the Baltimore Colts have reached an all-time high of 21,000. And there are still two months to go before the 1956 National Football League opener with the Chicago Bears.

Ticket Manager Ray Gilland made the latest count available early this week, and said, "As far as I can tell, there is no indication that the season sales are going to stop either."

Gilland says, too, that season tickets may be ordered until Sept. 29 and that buyers may pick up their seats any day between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. at the Colts' office and until noon on Saturdays.

Starting Sept. 4, the day after Labor Day, the Colts' 2023 N. Charles Street office will be open at night until 9 o'clock. Individual game tickets will go on sale at that time.

Season ticket holders are reminded of their August 30 option for claiming their same seats for the Sept. 16 pre-season contest with the Washington Redskins in Memorial Stadium.

Gilland says that tickets for the Intra - Squad game here on Aug. 6 and for the August 11 meeting with the Philadelphia Eagles in Hershey, Pa., also may be picked up at the Colts' office. The Intra-Squad game includes a gala pre-kick-off program of field events, a mile run by Wes Santee and a preview of the Colt team.

Intra - Squad proceeds go to the Police Boys' Clubs in Baltimore.

'We're giving these little fellows something they want'

"We're giving these little fellows something they want and need, but we could sure use some more help."

As a group of eager young boys darted back and forth across a ball diamond in Druid Hill Park Monday, that was the comment of Lynde Jordan, general manager of the Chesapeake Little Leagues.

The stars of tomorrow were busy practicing for a shot at the Maryland Little League baseball title as their director spoke of them.

The day before, the team composed of the best players from four clubs, took their first step toward the championship with a 3 to 4 victory over the Leaking Pack Little League team.

With five consecutive victories, they could capture the state championship.

* * *

Others are: Winfield Kelly of the Indians, second baseman; Ronald Stewart of the Dodgers, catcher; Leon Green, Indians, left fielder.

Michael Press of the Dodgers, pitcher; Irvin Womack of the Indians, outfielder; Rufus Hackett, Giants, outfielder; and Charles Lynch of the Yankees, pitcher.

Guy Pratt and Lynde Jordan are bat boys.

* * *

IT WAS with mixed emotions that Mr. Jordan spoke of his charges Monday.

He was elated over the fact that the boys had shaped up well in performance, but downcast because attendance at their games has not been up to par.

There is also a continuous need for donations to keep the team in the running.

"Although we have received donations from many people, there is always a need for just a little more," Mr. Jordan declares.

"We need money for equipment, transportation and a hundred and one other things."

This is no little thing. These boys are playing according to standard baseball rules and we intend to keep them on the field in style," Mr. Jordan said.

* * *

ONLY BOYS in the 11 to 12 age group are eligible to play little league baseball.

Managers of the four Chesapeake League Teams are:

William Kerney of the Indians; Paul Scott, Giants; Lawrence Robinson, Yankees; Edward Alior and Les Wallace of the Dodgers.

A Presidwidge is president of the league; Alexander Woodhouse, vice president; George Jude, secretary; and Fred Nichols, treasurer.

Among those who have made contributions to the league are Bernard Corbin, the law firm of Brown, Allen and Watts; the Fulton Pharmacy; Star Cleaners; Paul Scott, the Home Center; Roland Park Cleaners; Dr. Charles Woodland and the S. Grinago Co.

One team, the Yankees, is sponsored by the Baltimore Frontiers Club.

'Junior Olympics' to be held at Sollers

"Junior Olympics Day," scheduled for Saturday, has the children who attend Sollers Homes playground as excited as they can be.

Most of the athletic athletes have been practicing all summer for the events in which they will compete, but even though they are busy rehearsing the various stunts and games they will enter, they still find time for other activities.

Monday, the children had Group Day, and they made beautiful belts and bracelets. Following their week's theme "Wagon Wheel West," the larger children presented a play.

* * *

WEDNESEAY, which is movie time at the playground, the children saw three hours of comical cartoons. Thursday, Special Events Day, the Playground sponsored a doll show. All of the little girls brought their dolls beautifully attired.

There were prizes for the most beautiful, which was won by Betty Taylor; the most unusual, won by Kathleen Taylor; and the most comical, won by Brenda Franklin.

Other participants were Carolyn Williams and Virginia Jubilee. Judges were J. Rice, T. Whittey, R. Covington, L. McMorris, Richard Speaks, and E. Green.

* * *

FRIDAY the children and adults held another father and son baseball game.

The playground leaders, Miss Mildred McNeill, Mack Simpson and Miss Betty Young, are making plans for a picnic for all of the children as the climax for the summer season.

Joe Butler's tum ling team is making plans for an exhibition at the Sollers Point Teen Center, where Miss Mildred McNeill and Oceola Smith are leaders.

This program is sponsored by the Bay Shore Operating Company, the Baltimore County Department of Recreation, and The Turners Station Recreation Council. Archie Williams is the project manager.
