HYMN OF THE MONTH:
"Come Trembling Sinner, In Whose Breast"

St. Luke, has $90,000 home

The Independet Order of St. Luke, organized in Bethel AME Church, here, in 1867, now boasts of a home which is valued at $90,000.

The Order, a fellowship of fraternal insurance boasts of 500 juveniles in the 14 states in which it has chapters.

Mrs. Fannie P. Rollins is worthy grand matron of these units as well as president of the local Matrons, Patrons Board.

Other officers are Mesdames Sarah Johnson, vice president, Mrs. Mary E. Mossley, secretary; and Mrs. Annie Walthall, treasurer.

THE GROUP aims to have a self sustained Juvenile Department serve as a recruiting station for the Adult Department.

They strive to instill impressive lessons of fraternalism in the hearts and minds of their children to better fit them for future duties and a more efficient and serviceable life.

They strive also to inculcate a love of home, awaken interest in the life of the community, assure loyalty to country, devotion to God, and unselfish service to humanity.

THE INDEPENDENT Order of St. Luke was organized by Miss. Mary Prout, an ex-slave, in old Bethel AME Church in Baltimore, 1867.

The Order aided the sick and helped bury the deceased by levying a small tax on the members. When Miss Prout died, William L. Forrester took over and wrote the ritual. Later Mrs. Maggie L. Walker, a young school teacher, took over and in 1899 became secretary-treasurer.

When she took over, the organization had a few hundred members, $34.68 in the treasury and bills amounting to $500.

Under Mrs. Walker, the order purchased the Home Office building at 900 St. James St., Richmond, Va. valued at $90,000 at the time.

THE JUVENILE Department was organized in 1895. The St. Luke Penny Savings Bank, now the Consolidated Bank and Trust Co. followed and Mrs. Walker serve as first president in Richmond.

The organization operates in fourteen states and is 160.83 per cent solvent.

The group has a Regalia and Supply Department and up-to-date Printing Department. The St. Luke Fraternal Bulletin is published monthly.

THE THIRD oldest fraternal order in the country, the St. Luke has an Educational Loan Fund of $10,000.

Special activities this year included the Children's Day annual Picnic held, last month.

Our every equipment is thoroughly modern and we spare no effort or courtesy in performing the duties confidently imposed on us by those in bereavement.

Mother of AFRO worker buried in Florida

"Her life was limited to the church for the last 25 years," An AFRO employee, Leslie Bell, 1532 McCulloh St., was referring to his mother, Mrs. Annie D. Henry whose funeral was held in Daytona Beach Fla., on July 26.

Mrs. Henry, 89 years old, died in Daytona Beach on July 21 after a short illness. Funeral services were held at the Mount Bethel Baptist Church, where she was a deaconess.

A native of Palatka, Fla., Mrs. Henry resided in Daytona Beach for the last 27 years.

MR. BELL, a machinist in the mechanical department of the AFRO, rushed to Florida upon learning of his mothers' serious illness.

Approximately 30 close relatives from various parts of the country attended the final rites, Mr. Bell said.

Survivors beside Mr. Bell included four daughters, Mrs. Dorethea Hinesville, Mrs. Ruby Greene and Mrs. Anita McRae, all of Daytona Beach, and Mrs. Mildred Sruggin of Jacksonville, Fla.

Mr. Bell said his mother had devoted all of her outside activity to the church for the past quarter century.

Cooking Is Fun

By FANNIEJOE REID

Some of my friends complain that we have so many this-and-that-kinds of week, that our whole year is spent in celebrating something.

But often takes that sort of celebrating to bring things to our attention and so I say something here about sandwich celebrating.

I think it is an especially good thing that such "weeks" are set aside, as far as we cooks are concerned. Otherwise we would often forget that there are foods and ways of preparing foods that we overlook. Anther thing, it gives us an opportunity to catch up on new ideas and new methods.

Take August, for instance. This month is National Sandwich Month, you know. So I have been doing some research as to what is new in the sandwich world. I have found a plenty.

The Wheat Flour Institute has conceuptu this year, with some especially good ideas. Here are some of them:

A perfect main dish for summer entertaining is one you can prepare in advance and then forget. A sandwich such as Lobster Cheese Bake makes and keeps this promise.

Here's how it works—you can use the tangy lobster-cheese spread hours ahead of serving time. Then refrigerate it while you go on with other party plans. Later, fill the buns and wrap them in foil. They're all ready to go in the oven. Put them in to bake 20 minutes before you plan to serve.

Lobster Cheese Bake is a marvel on your buffet table, whether it's indoors or out. Offer it still wrapped, toasty-warm and mysterious within the foil. Lobster Cheese Bake is a big sized sandwich that feminine guests like too. A delicate flavor blend of lobster, Swiss cheese and tarragon vinegar will appeal to the most esoteric tastes.

As accompaniments serve a crisp vegetable salad plate that includes cucumbers, tomatoes and lettuce, potato or corn chips, beverage and a refrigerator dessert.

For Lobster Cheese Bake use: 1 cup (4-ounce can) coarsely chopped lobster, ½ cup cubed Swiss cheese, 2 tablespoons minced onion, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon tarragon vinegar, 4 enriched hamburger buns, and butter or margarine.

Measure lobster into bowl, being careful to remove cartilage. Add cheese, onion and salt. Mix mayonnaise and vinegar. Add to lobster mixture and toss lightly until well blended.

Split buns. Spread with butter or margarine. Spread lobster mixture on bottom halves of buns. Cover with bun tops. Wrap in aluminum foil and bake in moderate oven (350 Degrees F.) 20 minutes.

Cool 5 minutes. Unwrap and serve hot.

MAKE-A-MEAL sandwiches, you've probably found, solve the big problem of planning a simple buffet supper.

Jot down a he-man sandwich on your menu, and the accompaniments almost suggest themselves.

Each of the following sandwiches has fix-in-advance features that are so easy on a hostess.

At the same time, each is hot and hearty—and guaranteed to stay that way while last minute details are attended to.

Western Style Burger is made "scrambled" hamburger with ripe olives and Swiss cheese, baked in a bun.

Western Stile Burger is made with:

1 teaspoon salad oil,
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion,
½ pound ground beef,
½ cup chopped ripe olives,
1 teaspoon prepared mustard,
1 cup shredded Swiss cheese,
4 enriched hamburger buns,
and butter or margarine.

Heat oil in skillet. Add onion and cook gently about 5 minutes. Add meat and cook until all red color disappears. Blend in olives and mustard. Remove from heat.

Stir in cheese quickly. Split buns. Spread with butter or margarine. Spoon meat mixture on bottom halves of buns. Cover with bun tops. Wrap in aluminum foil.

Bake in moderate oven (350 Degrees F.) 20 minutes. Remove from oven and cool 5 minutes. Unwrap. Serve hot.

SERVE THIS zesty Skillet Barbecue Sandwich from your chafing dish. Or, keep the sauce mixture hot in a covered serving dish equipped with a candle warmer.

For Skillet Barbecue Sandwich you will need:

12-ounce can luncheon meat, cubed,
3 tablespoons fat or drippings,
1 small clove garlic, minced,
¼ cup chopped onion,
2 tablespoons minced parsley,
½ teaspoon salt,
Pinch oregano, if desired,
½ cup tomato paste (6-ounce can),
2 tablespoons brown sugar,

South Sea ham sandwich

Faraway islands, swaying palms, exotic foreign ports—they may not fit into your family's vacation plans. But you can call these things to mind when you serve up a South Sea Ham Sandwich.

Pineapple and brown sugar give ham or luncheon meat in the filling a tropical air. Yet this sandwich will be right at home in almost any mealtime situation.

SERVE SOUTH Sea Ham Sandwich for a refreshing luncheon. Cut the sandwiches in "finger" strips for a change of pace. For crispy accompaniments choose carrot curls, celery fans, radish roses and salty potato chips. Ice-cold milk or frosty iced tea round out a menu that's satisfying but light.

Sandwiches plain, sandwiches fancy and sandwiches in between, like this one — all are honored during August, Sandwich Time. You'll cheer them too when you see how easy summer meal planning is if you make a habit of depending on sandwiches.

You can also depend on sandwiches nutritionally. When you make them with bread and rolls which are either enriched or whole grain, they provide three necessary B vitamin and food iron.

To make South Sea Ham Sandwich, use: 2 cups ground ham or luncheon meat (12-ounces can), ½ cup drained crushed pineapple, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 12 slices enriched bread, butter or margarine, and 2 tablespoons brown sugar.

Lemon drops

Lots of sweet chewy raisins give special appeal to these soft little "Raisin Lemon Drops". They're cake-like cookies that youngsters like to eat by the handful; not so rich you need to worry about the number they consume!

Raisin Lemon Drops require:
1 cup light or dark raisins,
½ cup shortening,
1 cup sugar,
2 eggs,
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind,
3 tablespoons lemon juice,
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour,
1 teaspoon salt,
½ teaspoon soda,
1 teaspoon baking powder,
and 2 tablespoons milk.

Rinse and drain raisins. Cream shortening and sugar together thoroughly. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Blend in lemon rind and juice. Sift together flour, salt, soda and baking powder, and blend into creamed mixture alternately with milk.

Stir in raisins. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) about 13 minutes. Remove to wire rack to cool.
