BALTIMORE

The undefeated Morgan State College basketball Bears meet North Carolina College of Durham, N.C., here tomorrow (Saturday) night in what is expected to be a real battle for the local quintet.

The game will begin at 8 p.m., in the Hurt Gymnasium, and will be preceded by a preliminary beginning at 6 p.m.

Morgan Coach Talmadge Hill said Thursday: "We expect North Carolina to give us the biggest test we've had this year. We know that they have a veteran squad, with some of the conference's top players, and we can't forget the fact that North Carolina was last year's visitation champion."

THE EAGLES boast such veterans as James Sligh of Winston-Salem, N.C.; Gilbert Riley, Durham; John Keels, Tarrytown, N.Y.; Dorian Parrott, Asbury Park, N.J.; and Albert Little of Durham.

Thus far this season, the Eagles, coached by Floyd Brown, have defeated Kentucky State 77-66, Elizabeth City, 80-65, and Virginia State college, 74-68. In four contests, they have lost only one, to Camp LeJeune.

MORGAN IS undefeated in two starts, having toppled Kentucky State, 69-65, and Virginia Union, 73-71. Hill, however, is worried that in the face of a strong team the Morgan defensive play might not be up to par.

"So far this year, we've not shown the defensive skill we need, and we're hoping and working to be stronger on defense for Saturday's game—in fact we'll have to be stronger," Hill said.

Hill indicates that he'll probably give the starting nod to seasoned regulars Charles Brightful, William Lyght, Ronald Garner, Allan Moore, and William Long.

Others of the varsity are a non-conference game with Thomas Briscoe, Gerald Marlowe, Dana Froe, Lindberg Moody, Cecil Bond, James Lynch.

Union looks good losing opener to St. Augustine

By CHESTER M. HAMPTON

RICHMOND

Coach Howard (Howie) Jones took the wraps off his Virginia Union Panther squad and, despite losing the opener to St. Augustine's 65-62, showed Richmond an exciting team loaded with promise.

The game was a close one all the way—two minutes after it began, St. Augustine's led 3-1. They lost this lead and never regained it until the fourth quarter.

At half-time, the score stood 33-32 in favor of the Panthers—that's the way it was all night—close. At no time did one team lead the other by more than six points.

The critical difference between the two teams was the willingness to hustle over the long run. St. Augustine's really hustled all night while Union showed a periodic reluctance to follow up long, set shots by getting under the back-board to snag rebounds.

Fletcher Phillips was a master in this department throughout the first half. However, when Phillips himself was shooting, there seemed to be no one to contest Redderick Henderson's (of St. Augustine's) domination of the board.

ALSO PERIODICALLY brilliant in the rebound department was five-foot, nine inch Eddie Simmons. His speed and incredible leaps made him more than a match for Henderson (six-four) and Albert Stirrups (six-three).

All too often, however, Henderson and Stirrups had the rebounds all to themselves and this, in the final analysis, is what worked Union's downfall.

Both teams showed brilliance in play-making and ball-handling. On defense, both teams used what seemed to be a modified man-to-man. Despite the fact that the St. Augustiners moved the ball by dribbling while Union used passes, the Panthers' Eddie Simmons took honors for the best and fastest dribbling although at one time a Falcon dribbler seemed to have delusions of Marques Haynes).

WITH A little more hustling for rebounds and more polished shooting accuracy, this could be a good "freshman" year for "Howie," one of Union's all-time greats.

With him are: Alan Braxton, Freshamn, Coatesville, Pa., five-ten; Ronal Bressant, senior, Brooklyn, five-ten; Roger Gibbs, freshman, New York, six three; Alex Harris, junior, Buffalo, five-eleven; Otis Harrison, freshman, Brooklyn, five-ten; Welford Lewis, Freshman, Richmond, six-one;

Also: Fletcher Phillips, sen-

STOPPING HIM TOUGH.—The Florida A and M University Rattlers will have their hands full stopping the hard running of Ray (Rusty) Hayes if they are to justify their favorite's role against Maryland State College in the Orange Blossom Classic tomorrow (Saturday) at Miami, Fla.

—Colts warn fans

the people back home were disappointed last Sunday when we lost in the last few seconds (17-13) to the 49ers. But they weren't any more disappointed and hurt than we were.

"All of us wanted that game so badly we could taste it.

"Having played out here before going to Baltimore, I know what a job it is beating the Rams in this town. But the attitude our whole squad is that we've just got it to do. And we all believe in each other."

THOMAS A. AMENTED the breaks that went against the Colts in their loss at 'Frisco last Sunday. He declared:

"Going into that game last week, I told John Steadman, our public relations man, that I felt we'd not only win over the 49ers, but that we'd beat them convincingly. I was wrong in that prediction.

"But we have the 'horses' to win with here this week and all we need is a break or two—which we didn't get last Sunday."—LACY.

His teammate, senior Bob Mulgado, finished second in scoring.

Burton's four touchdowns led the Tempe team to a 47-7 victory over its arch rivals, the University of Arizona. That brought his tallying production for the season to 96 points and 16 touchdowns.

Newk signs for 30G, goes into trance

COLONIA, N.J. — Don Newcombe, 1956 "most valuable player" who took something of a dive last year, signed his 1958 contract with the Los Angeles Dodgers here last week.

Newcombe agreed to a token drop in pay, then went into a trance to try to sleep himself against the fear of dropping from an airplane.

NEWK CONFIRMED reports that he is holding special sessions with a hypnotist in the hope of overcoming his fear of air travel. He said he took the step because he was aware of the growing demand for use of planes in making the National League schedule, now that the Dodgers are planted on the West Coast.

E. J. (Buzzy) Bavasi, Brooklyn's general manager, disclosed that the club has approved Newcombe's method of coping with the fear. He revealed that Big Don states he knows a plane crash he witnessed two years ago near Elizabeth, N.J.

EXPLAINING THE hypnosis idea, Newk said:

"I'm fully conscious at all times during the treatments, completely aware of my surroundings. He talks to me on a variety of subjects. He touched on baseball and a lot of generalities.

"That isn't all there is to the treatment. "Three times a day for five-minute periods," said Newcombe, "I've got to stop whatever I'm doing and, in a sitting position, have what is called a relaxing session. I'm supposed to clear my mind of worries or things to be done and just relax completely."

Althea's award 'snowed under'

NEW YORK—The snow accomplished here last week in one day, what the world's female tennis players couldn't do in a whole year.

It stopped Althea Gibson from picking up honors that were to be presented her at a Hotel Plaza dinner

MISS GIBSON was to have been one of five women voted Gold Key Awards for 1957 by the Fashion Division of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies. But the heavy snow which blanketed the Eastern section of the country, plus the New York subway strike, eliminated the net queen.

Mrs. David M. Levy of the Rosenwald Fund, was named "woman of the year." Feted as "gold key women," were Althea, ballerina Alicia Markova, banking genius Mary Roebling, and Magazine editor Helen Valentine.

Wells and Brown lead AU to win

CHESTERTOWN, Md.—Dickie Wells and Willie Jones played brilliantly as the American University Eagles bounced Washington College, 72-61, in a Mason - Dixon Conference cage tilt Tuesday.

The two scored 41 points between them. Wells had one more free throw. AU simply maintained the 11 - point spread it enjoyed at halftime.

Big man for the losers was Bob Brown who tallied 20 points. The Eagles now stand at 2-1 for the young season.

'Love next,' says Johnson

BALTIMORE

"The next thing to do is for the young intelligent colored person to love the white man."

This was the suggestion made Wednesday by Dr. Mordecai Johnson, president of Howard University, as he addressed a group of students and instructors on the subject "What next in Race Relations."

The seminar was held as part of Morgan State College's fourth Religion-In-Life-Week.

EXPLAINING HIS views, Dr. Johnson said that the majority of the southern whites had been corrupted and brutalized by the effects of the slave system.

"We are dealing with a people who are weak in their experiences of democracy," he said.

One of the greatest things that has been done to them (the southerners) is for the Supreme Court to have told them that they must now operate unsegregated schools."

He explained that through contact their ideas would change.

Advising his listeners to love their enemies, Dr. Johnson declared:

"God is love and he that loveth abideth in God."

YMCA wins 93-48, away from home

WASHINGTON

The 12th Street Branch YMCA brought its record to two wins and no losses by breezing to a 9348 victory over Leeds Comets Saturday night at Hagerstown, Md.

Coach Mel Davis' "Y" team was slow finding the range in the first few minutes. But once the Comets fell behind it was no question of the outcome.

Slick ball - handler George Dill fired in 23 to lead his quintet. Terry Hatchett, ex-Arm-stronz star, gave him plenty of help with 22.

Former Lincoln University performer Sonny Watson was a bright spot for the hometown with 16.

Relay wins give Bison swimmers Pirate meet

HAMPTON, Va.—The loss of two relays which scored seven points each, was the primary factor in Hampton's 50-35 loss to the Howard University swimming team in the first meet of the season.

A scant six inches meant the difference in the free-style relay. However, Howard won the medley relay with a substantial three-yard margin.

Placing in the meet for Howard were:
