Sharp Street MYFers have definitely decided to have their Italian Dinner on Dec. 28. Naturally, Italian dishes will be served and the Fellowshipers have even gone so far as "to have music while you dine by candlelight."

Shirley Randall entertained Maurice Allen, Delores Holt, Page Johnson and yours truly, J.B., with a pinochle and sound party Friday nite. Some mouth-watering snacks were served.

On Saturday, La Randall showed Randolph Croxton, her Washington guest, some sites in our town. Randy's visit was climaxed on Sunday at the Lyric with Shirley.

TWO YOUNG female Baltimoreans are receiving many long distance calls between D.C. and Mass. The calls are from the sons of a Liberian envoy.

The Junior Achievement is the newest organization in the Monumental City. They are sponsored by large companies around town to give young people a hand in a business.

Time - Pharaia, youth division of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, gave a basket containing canned food and a ham to a needy family for Thanksgiving. Portia Smith and Veronica Mosbey delivered the gift. Mrs. Cornelia L. Smith, Delta sponsor, accompanied the girls.

LAST SATURDAY night a few "jazz crazed" teens hopped out to Catonsville for a jam session, where "hot" sounds jumped out of a "wall to wall hi fi."

Bennie Matthews played the role of host to Adolph Laughton, Douglas Parmer, Shirley Randall, Page Johnson, Delores Holt, Arnett and Montague Palmer.

Gary Bartz of the Interracial Jazz Society has tickets for that concert on Dec. 29 at the Famous Ballroom featuring the Zoot Sims Quartet.

Balto. Contractors have Yule party

The Annual Christmas Dinner Dance of Baltimore Contractors, Inc., was held Saturday at the Odd Fellows Hall. This traditional party is one of the highlights of the year at Baltimore Contractors.

Entertainment included a top - rated show, featuring a calypso dance ensemble, as well as various drawings and prizes. Two prizes were presented by Victor Frenkil, president of Baltimore Contractors, to the wives of employes with the longest service: Jack Young and James Johnson, who began their careers with the firm back in the thirties. The traditional drawing for the boinsettia center-piece on each table was also held.

A full course turkey dinner was served. Mr. Frenkil gave the Christmas address and presented each employe with his Christmas bonus check. Donald A. Date was master of ceremonies.

THERE'S A LUCKY picture in this and every edition of the AFRO. Look for it. If your head is circled, you can collect $5 cash by calling at AFRO City Desk before the next edition is out.

FETED AT DINNER—Two employees with the longest service at the Baltimore Contractors, Inc., Jack Young, left, and James Johnson, were singled out by Victor Frenkil, firm president, for special honors at the company's 19th annual Christmas dinner dance at the Odd Fellows Hall. Prizes were presented to the wives of Messrs. Young and Johnson, who began their careers with the firm in the thirties.

JOLLY MODERNETTES — The charity club was entertained at the home of their secretary, Mrs. Betty Jones, 608 Ashburton St. They completed plans for their charity dinner to be held Dec. 16 at 1515 N. Bruce St. for the Old Aged Home. Mrs. Essie M. Snead is president.

Frank Ellis re-elected Alpha president; Judge Paige speaker

Frank Ellis was re-elected for his third term as president of Delta Lambda chapter, Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity Monday during the December meeting in the Alpha Oasis, 2209 Eutaw Pl.

Alphas, in addition to electing officers, were given the inside story on sharp, merchandising practices by Edwin Lockard, general manager of the Better Business Bureau.

Mr. Lockard, emphasing that the big majority of businessmen were honest, explained how it was his job to expose the small percentage who "cut corners."

He described how unsuspecting consumers are gypped by bait and switch advertising, fictious comparative prices, gouging television service men and model home schemes.

* * *

OTHER OFFICERS elected were Joseph Bracey, vice president; Frank Veney, treasurer; Arthur Spencer, corresponding secretary; Frederic Jackson, financial secretary; Cliff W. Mackay, associate editor to the Sphinx;

Also Charles Anderson, sergeant at arms; the Rev. Edgar Ward, chaplain and Dr. J. Douglas Sheppard and Luna Mischoe, lay members on the executive board.

More than 150 Alphas, including 50 members of the Washington chapter, are expected to attend the 52nd annual Founders' breakfast Sunday morning at St. John AME Church, 810 Carrollton Ave.

The affair begins at 9 o'clock.

* * *

JUDGE MYLES PAIGE of Brooklyn, national president of the fraternity will be principal speaker at the breakfast. Later the group will sit in a body during morning services. The pastor, the Rev. I. M. Gray, will speak.

A number of Delta Lambda members will attend an all - day in Washington Saturday.

The meeting, called to re - evaluate the fraternity's national program, is being held at the Mu Lambda Alpha House, 18th and S. Sts.

Saturday evening Delta Lamda and Mu Lambda chapters will be joint hosts as a smoker for the conference delegtes expected to represent graduate and undergraduate chapters all over the nation.
