Come To The Church Of Your Choice For A Spiritual Blessing

HYMN OF THE MONTH:

"Come Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove"

'The credit goes to the faithful . . .'

"The credit goes to the faithful working of our group. They give rallies, they have suppers and other programs and they contribute well, both financially and spiritually.

"We can truthfully say the Lord has been with us," Elder Clarence E. Powell Sr., a man with a small church which is doing big things, was the speaker.

For the past two years, Elder Powell of 2831 Gwynns Fall Parkway, has been pastor of the Ebenezer Church of God in Christ at 1505 Brady Ave. in Fairfield.

Most of the members there have been in the church more than 16 years — and that's future larger than the number of members, which Elder Powell says now stands at 15, about—the same as when he came to the church.

REV. C. E. POWELL
Fairfield pastor says 'the credit goes to the faithful. . .'

ELDER POWELL became pastor at Ebenezer in October of 1955, succeeding Elder Frank Parker, who is now pastor of Bethel Church of God in Christ and district superintendent of the denomination's first district in Baltimore.

Since that time the small 50 by 30 church, with an approximate seating capacity of 400, has paid off a $155 mortgage and done other work costing about $3,500, the minister said.

"Today," he related, "we owe only about $300."

Work done included—putting in two restrooms, running water, gas for cooking, lowering the ceiling and painting the church inside and out.

Their next goal, Elder Powell said, is to put in heat in the restrooms and the dining room. He expects to get started on this right away.

AT 48, Elder Powell's influence in his church extends statewide as well as locally.

He is president of the State Usher Board as well as district president for the Young People Willing Workers of District No. 1, a member of the Elders' Council of Maryland, and one of the expediters of the Convocation and annual Spring Convention.

Elder Powell is also an NAACP campaign leader in his community.

In telling of the achievements of his congregation, Elder Powell reminds that "they are all laboring people, too."

Two of the church pillars and hardest workers are Mr. and Mrs. Pate Powell, the pastor's parents.

"My mother is a mother in the church and she always raises more money than anyone else in the rallies. We call her miracle woman. My father is a deacon."

Asked if they are proud to have their son leading the church they attend, Elder Powell said: "They sure are. You can tell that by the way they work."

* * *

THE FIRST Mrs. Powell died in 1954 and he is now married to the former Annie Beatrice Peters and they have a nine-month-old son, William Eugene.

Elder Powell also has two adult children, Mrs. Ada Delores Marshall, of Baltimore, and Clarence Jr., now in the Army.

The minister is a native Baltimorean but his wife is from Clifton Forge, Va.

Testimony to the esteem in which the small band at Ebenezer holds the pastor is apparent in the way they have treated him on his two anniversaries.

In October of 1956 they gave him a purse of $630 and this year they made it $763.57.

She was a native of Atlanta and attended Spelman, Fisk, Tuskegee and Howard before coming to Baltimore seven years ago.

Hanukah, Christmas marked at Fellowship

The annual celebration of Hanukah and Christmas took place at Baltimore Fellowship Monday evening during the monthly membership meeting.

The history of Hanukah, the Jewish Feast of Lights which occurs in December, was given by Wilbur Dantzic, research student in Jewish history, who has returned recently from Israel.

"The Second Christmas" was read by Rev. Edward Carroll, pastor of Sharp St. Memorial Methodist Church and a member of the executive board of Fellowship.

SEVERAL carols were sung by Mrs. Marjorie Short, soprano and Mrs. Dorothy Lee-Davis, from the Schwarz Studio of Musical Arts.

The evening closed with three choruses from "Messiah" by the Haffenden Chorale of Fellowship House, directed by Robert Haffenden. Mr. Hazel Elberg, co-chairman of Fellowship, was mistress of ceremonies.

Holiday refreshments were served by Mrs. Ida Davenport. Present in the audience was Miss Ruth Fagley of Philadelphia Fellowship House.

Benjamin Washington, retired teacher, buried

WASHINGTON

The last rites for Benjamin Washington, 84, retired schoolteacher, of 936 S St., NW, were held at 19th St. Baptist Church Thursday with the Rev. Jerry Moore presiding.

Mr. Washington, who ended his teaching career in 1943 after nearly a half century, was buried in Lincoln Memorial Cemetery. He died Monday at Freedmen's Hospital.

* * *

THE REV. MR. Jerry Moore said of Mr. Washington, "His interests covered many areas and they were skillfully employed.

"As a teacher he was a master, as a musician, he was good, as a Christian, he had no fear; as a father he was loving and kind, as a husband, he was providing and took his marital vows to heart," said the Rev. Mr. Moore.

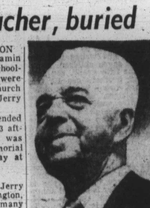
Other individuals and organizations lauded the deceased.

Board of Deacons of the Nineteenth Baptist Church: "He was devoted to his family, to the church, and to his friends."

The Rev. Frederick E. Reissig, executive secretary of the Council of Churches of the National Capital Area: "We extend our sympathies to the family. All who came in contact with Mr. Washington have lost a dear friend."



BENJAMIN WASHINGTON

D. H. Keck, member of the Piedmont Board of Officials: "He devoted many years to sports for the young."

Pallbearers were Jehu L. Hunter, John H. Burr, Joseph L. Drew, James T. Chambers, William B. West, George L. Singleton and Thomas H. Henderson.

Son of the late John M. and Annie E. Washington, he was born in the District June 13, 1873 and educated in the public schools here.

Mr. Washington was graduated from Miner Normal School and Howard University. Subsequently he studied at the Armour Institute, Chicago, Hampton (Va.) Institute, and Massachusetts Institute of Technology.
