Baseball Trades Shift 3 Tan Aces

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. —Three of the game's biggest names changed teams within two days as trading activity began at the winter baseball meetings here this week.

Larry Doby, Minnie Minoso and Al Smith will change uniforms next summer, the result f the biggest shakeup involving colored talent in the 11 years of major league integration.

Doby was sent from the Chicago White Sox to the Baltimore Orioles, Minoso from the same White Sox to the Cleveland Indians, and Smith was dealt from the Indians to the White Sox in the same transaction that switched Minoso to Cleveland.

MINOSA SMITH

IN ORDER to get Doby, the Orioles parted with pitcher Ray Moore, outfielder Tito Francona and infielder Billy Goodman. Lefthanded pitcher Jack Harshman accompanied Larry to Baltimore.

The White Sox gave in infielder Fred Hatfield along with Minoso to the Indians when they obtained outfielder Al Smith and pitcher Early Wynn.

* * *

THIS LATTER deal was the first to be made by Frank Lane in his new role as general manager of the Indians.

There have been numberous deals in which colored players have moved from one team to another in the past, but in none of them have the names involved been of first-line rank.

* * *

AMONG PREVIOUS trades have been the following:

(1) White Sox sent pitcher Connie Johnson to the Orioles;

(2) St. Louis Cardinals sent pitcher Brooks Lawrence to the Cincinnati Redleys;

(3) Brooklyn Dodgers sent utility man Jim Pendleton to Milwaukee Braves, who later shipped him to the Pittsburgh Pirates;

(4) Milwaukee Braves sent first baseman George Crowe to the Redleys;

(5) Chicago Cubs sent pitcher Sam Jones to Cardinals;

(6) Cubs dealt off infielder Gene Baker to the Pirates.

The nearest thing to rival the "name" deals of this week was one which didn't come off. That was when the Brooklyn Dodgers sought to swap Jackie Robinson to the New York Giants.

It was nullified when Robinson elected to retire.

Pro draft plucks 5 tan stars

PHILADELPHIA — National Football League teams picked five colored players in its annual early-winter draft of college material here Monday.

Two of the five were the first choices of NFL clubs —Leonard Lyles of the University of Louisville, and Jim Pace of Michigan. Both are halfbacks.

THE BALTIMORE Colts plucked Lyles, marking the third straight year the thirsty Monumental City club has spent its initial chance on tan talent. The Colts took Lenny Moore of Penn State, first in 1955, and Jim Parker of Ohio State, first in 1956.

Pace, the hard-running All-American from Michigan, was the No. 1 pick of the San Francisco 49ers.

THE OTHER three tan collegians picked up in the screening were tackle Proverb Jacobs of the University of California, fullback Erich Barnes of Purdue, and fullback Jim Jones of University of Washington.

Jacobs was the second choice of the Philadelphia Eagles. Barnes was plucked in the fourth round by the Chicago Bears, and Jones was the Los Angeles Rams' selection the fourth time around.

Nelson winner of cross-country run

Charles Nelson captured the annual Thanksgiving Day cross-country run, sponsored by the Sportsmen's Club.

Running unattached, Nelson completed the distance in 9 minutes, one second, defeating Leonard Cephas, stellar harrier from Baltimore Polytechnic High School.

The other two entries in the mile - and a - half race were Ernest Hardwick and David Thompson, both disqualified for rules infractions.

Cross country hopefuls interested in competing in this type of race are urged to contact the Sportsmen's Inc., 1207 Central Ave., this city.

Pro grid lineup

JOEY BROWN

Two tan players named to All-America eleven

NEW YORK — Two colored players are among the eleven picked by the Associated Press in its 1957 All-America football selections, released this week.

In addition, one tan performer made the third team, and nine others are among those given honorable mention in the poll.

Chosen on the first team are halfback Jim Pace of Michigan, and guard Aurelius Thomas of Ohio State.

Halfback Bobby Mulgado of Arizona State was named to the third eleven.

Both Pace and Thomas were recently named to the All Big Ten team. The former was the leading scorer in the Midwestern Conference, edging Don Clark of Ohio State. Thomas was the bulwark of the strong Ohio State line which played a vital role in winning the trip to the Rose Bowl for the Buckeyes.

* * *

GIVEN honorable mention in the nationwide appraisal were the following:

Halfbacks Don Clark of Ohio State, Blanche Martin of Michigan State, Collins (Red Mike) Stigler of Iowa, Tom Greene of Holy Cross, Leon Burton of Arizona State, and Danny Lewis of Wisconsin;

Fullback Jimmy Jones of University of Washington, halfback Bob Mitchell of Illinois, and end Leo Brown of Ohio State.

JIM PACE

LINCOLN UNIVERSITY (MO.)

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — Dr. Walter Talbot, chairman, Department of mathematics, Lincoln University, is among 15 scientists and educators who were invited to Washington, D.C. last week to evaluate applications for faculty science fellowships awarded by the National Science Foundation.

Thomas on Look All-America

NEW YORK—Aurelius Thomas, the redoubtable guard of Rose Bowl-bound Ohio State has been named to the 1957 Look-Football Writers Association All America, it was disclosed this week.

"Aurelius Thomas keyed the Ohio State line that implemented Coach Woody Hayes' beloved power-possession game," the magazine said in announcing the All America selections, which will be published in the issue out Tuesday.

"It was the locking of Thomas that contributed much to Clark's running," Look declared, "and Aurelius also did well defensively."

Picked by the 824-member Football Writers Association, this season's Look All America features the twenty - two top stars from seven major conferences, two service academies and an unsung Midwestern independent.

Brown stops Lopes in 11th to keep lightweight title

CHICAGO — Joey Brown unleashed a withering barrage of lefts and rights in the eleventh round here Wednesday night, to register a technical knockout victory over Joey Lopes, of Sacramento, Cal.

The attack that left the flashy challenger dazed and helpless, marked the third successful defense of the lightweight title for the 28-year-old champion from New Orleans.

Brown had his adversary on the canvas three times during the melee, once in the seventh and twice in the eleventh before referee Joey White stepped in to halt the action.

* * *

TWO OF the officials had Brown out in front at the end of ten rounds and referee White had scored it all even, 45-45, up to that point.

But it appeared that it was only a matter of time before Brown's heavier punches would wear down his busy, but lightlitting opponent.

Lpes carried the battle to the champion during most of the scrap but he didn't carry the heavy guns. Brown waited his chance for sharp, counter-punches while dancing back and away.

* * *

THE CHALLENGER was bleeding from cuts around both eyes and inside the mouth.

First indication that the end could not be far off came in the seventh when Brown shook up Lopes with his first real solid combination of the night.

Then the champion landed a brutling right to the point of the chin and Lopes hit the deck. Although his corner crew shouted to Lopes to take more time, he bounced up at the count of four.

* * *

DESPITE this knockdown Lopes sailed into Brown in the eighth and ninth while the champion seemed to be biding his time. Brown opened up again in the 10th and Lopes was so bewildered at the end of the round that he went to Brown's corner and sat on his ring stool after the bell.

The end came at 1:50 of the 11th after two more trips to the canvas by Lopes.

The 4 to 1 underdog took a four count the first time and came up wobbly at a three count after the second shot on the chin.

When Brown backed him against the ropes with another wild flurry, referee White decided Lopes had enough.

Md. State drops cage opener

SALISBURY, Md — Bennie George's Delaware State Hornets outhusted a patently green Maryland State College basketball team here Monday night, 96-78. It was the latter's C.I.A.A. opening contest.

The half filled gym saw the charged up Doverites repeatedly catch "Nay" Theodore Hawks looking when they tossed the fast break with Ivory Collins on the scoring end. But the inexperience Anne freshman-studded starting quint served notice that they will be troublesome very soon.

At the half, the visitors led 44-37 and when they returned to the floor they finished the contest at a 52-point clip.

Maryland's Wilbur "Deucy" Smith, of Fairmount Heights, last year's Maryland School star, shot a 34 to gain top honors for the night, but he glittered in a losing cause. Charlie Moore, another frosh starter for Maryland, checked in with 16 tallies.

Runnerup in Smith was the Hornets' Collins who registered 26.

Bisons to open home cage season vs. Md. State, Tues.

WASHINGTON

Hometown fans will get their first glimpse of the 1957-58 Howard University basketball team on Tuesday night, when the Bisons entertain Maryland State College at Capital Arena at 8:30 p.m.

The lid was pried off the Blue and White season this week, what with the Bisons playing four games on foreign floors. The first of these took place at Charlotte, N.C., Monday against Johnson C. Smith.

Other contests found Howard at Virginia State, Tuesday, and at St. Paul Wednesday. They journey to Lincoln University tomorrow (Saturday).

The Bisons meet Smith December 13 and St. Paul December 14 at Capital Arena before breaking for the Christmas recess. The Smith game begins at 8:30 p.m. and the St. Paul contest at 3:15 p.m.

FOUR LETTERMEN and one freshman have been selected by Coach Tom Hart to start against Smith. They are seniors John Syphax and Harold Eaton, both from Dunbar High; sophomores Ernie Bell (Spingarn) and O'Donnell Hooks (Carodno) and Robert Cole-man, a first year man from Newburgh, N.Y.

Syphax, a 6-foot-1 honor student in chemistry, was unanimous choice for All-CIAA honors for the past two seasons. He led the 18-team conference in scoring last year with a 24.8 point average in 23 games.

Eaton, a 6-foot-7 center, led the Howard team in rebounds last year with 11.3 per game and compiled a 14.4 scoring average. He will be teaming with Syphax for the seventh consecutive year, including three seasons at Dunbar.

Bell, 6-foot-1, and Hooks, a 5-foot-7 playmaker, were regulars on last year's squad. Coleman, a 6-foot-1 sharpshooter, was the leading scorer at Newburgh Academy in 1956-57.

* * *

SEVEN OTHER players will make up the Bisons' traveling squad. Four of them are holdovers from last year. They are Tom Bradford of Washington, D.C., Bill Daniels of Washington, N.C., Dick McFerrin of Alton, Ill., and Ken Marius of New York City.

The three remaining berths will be filled by first-year men who survived the pre-season cuts. Vying for the berths are Lou Dorfetias of New City, Chris Phoenix of New York City, Joe Gantt of Baltimore, Marshall Isler of Kinston, N.C., Charlie Murray of Cleveland, and Fred Jordan of Washington, D.C.

Service cage tourney scheduled for YMCA

WASHINGTON

The 12th St. Branch YMCA will hold its first World Service Basketball Tournament Dec. 20 and 21.

Trophies will be awarded for first, second and third place. Individual trophies will be given to members of the winning team.

Delaware State cagers on road

DOVER, Del. — The Delaware State cage squad begin the first of a 22-game schedule on the road on Monday when they met Maryland State College.

Dr. E. Preston Mitchell is director of athletics.

On Thursday, Dec. 5, the Hornets will play their home opener against Philadelphia Textile Institute.

The interest in the home is very high because the DSC Hornets will be playing their first game in their new gymnasium—Memorial Hall—which has an ample seating capacity. Ceremonies in connection with the home opener will take place prior to the game.

LAST SEASON, the Hornets had a mediocre season, winning eight and losing 9 which included a win and a loss to Maryland State.

Five of the defeats were suffered following the loss of half of the team because of low marks at the end of the first semester.

This has led Coach Bennie J. George to not make any predictions about the type of season he expects.

With many veteran players, the Hornets have the nucleus of a good team.

The veterans are Randolph Cameron, NYC; Ivory Collins, Wilmington; James Evans, Trenton, N.J.; Joseph Lewis, Mt. Vernon, N.Y.; John Matthews, Philadelphia; Claudius Trotman, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Clifford Noble, Philadelphia; John Barber, Pottstown, Pa.; James Dixon, Wilmington, Del.; and Ernest Perry, Brooklyn.

New men showing promise are:

Roscoe Baker, Boston; Walter Broughton, Long Island, N.Y.; Eugene McKenzie, Washington; Eby Slack, Atlanta, Ga.; Stanley Savage, Philadelphia; and Robert Tisdale, Elizabeth, N.J.

Student assistant coach is Leonard Hudson from NYC.

THE ENTIRE schedule is as follows:

DECEMBER — 2, Maryland State College, away; 5, Philadelphia Textile Institute, home; 7, St. Augustine's College, home; 9, Lincoln University (Pa.), home; 10, St. Peter's College, away; 13, Hampton Institute, away; 14, J. C. Smith University, home; 17, Fayetteville State Teachers, home; Dec. 21, to Jan. 6. Christmas vacation;

JANUARY—9, D.C. Teachers College, away; 13, Howard University, home; 16, Morgan State College*, away; 17 to 21, final examinations; 23, Fayetteville State Teachers, away; 24, St. Augustine's College, away; 25, J. C. Smith University, away; 31, King's College, home.

FEBRUARY—3, D.C. Teachers College, home; 5, Maryland State College, home; 8, Hampton Institute, home; 10, Howard University, away; 11, Morgan State College*, home; 12, Lincoln University (Pa.), away; 18, Philadelphia Textile Institute, away; 20 to 22, CIAA Basketball Tournament at Durham, N.C.

*Tentative games. All home games begin at 8 p.m.

Morgan's Tipton to aid Myer's bid for 2nd title

Tom Tipton, ex-Morgan State basketeer, is expected to give added rebound strength to Fort Myer's Colonial hoopsters as they attempt to repeat as Middle Atlantic Inter-Service Athletic Conference champions.

Last year with Paul Covington (who averaged 22.0 points a game) showing the way, Fort Myer won 23 consecutive games.

Covington, Clive Fields, Gil Williams, Ray Martinez, Jack Tracy and Ray Chess are back from last year's unit and Coach Cliff Lancaster looks for a banner season.

Besides Tipton, other newcomers are Roger Mahan, Bob Felix, Reggie Smith, Don Tune and Al Williams.

Ambitious Colts face jinx in California

SAN FRANCISCO—The Baltimore Colts saddle up for the final pulsating stretch run in the Western Conference chase when they encounter the San Francisco 49ers in Kezar Stadium.

The Hosses left Thursday for this first of a two-game West Coast trip which will literally make or break their chances for a first NFL title. They play the Rams in Los Angeles on December 15.

BALTIMORE currently holds a one-game edge over San Francisco and the Detroit Lions with two games left to play. Sunday's scrape with A. Tittle and his 49er playmates will be the "big one" for both clubs. In their first meeting, the Colts balled out a 27-21 win in the last 53 seconds at Baltimore.

In playing on the West Coast, coach Weeb Ewbank's club comes face-to-face with one of its most persistent jinxes.

Baltimore has won only one of ten games on the shores of the Pacific and that was a 22-21 verdict over Los Angeles in 1954. The Colts, whether of NFL or All-American Conference variety, have never won a game in San Francisco.

Bisons, D.C. Teachers win; AU defeated

WASHINGTON

The Howard Bisons opened their 1957-58 basketball campaign with two successive wins.

Monday night they downed J. C. Smith, 82-70, in Charlotte, N.C with All-CIAA John Syphax pumping in 32 points for high scoring honors.

Virginia State College was the Bisons' victim a night later. Howard took VSC, 56-51, in a low scoring contest at the Petersburg, Va., school.

O'Donnell Hooks, onetime Cardno star, paced Howard's attack with 18 points.

* * *

IT WAS a set shot by Captain Kermit Banks with a half minute left which enabled D.C. Teachers to win their opener, 73-71, over Bowie State at Banneker gymn.

Hal Burke led all scorers with 24. Little Jim Perry was high for the losers with 18.

* * *

DESPITE 34 points by Eddie Clements and Dickie Wells American University fell to Navy, 70-67, Tuesday at Georgetown gym.

Red Johnson and Joe Sendek, who tossed in 20 points each, provided the offensive punch for the Middies.
