Palmera's 8; she's having a birthday party Sunday

Palmera Bennett, the plucky St. Peter Claver pupil who miraculously recovered from a serious brain injury, is having a birthday party on Sunday afternoon at her home, 2315 Ruskin Ave. She was eight years old on November 18.

Palmera was enroute to rehearsal for her first Holy Communion last May 8, when she was struck by a truck in front of the church. Until August 9, she was confined to Provident Hospital. Doctors there saved her life following a delicate four-hour brain operation and she was able to enroll in school last month.

Union scores 20-0 win over Hampton

RICHMOND — The "quick muffed the pass from center, touchdown" won for Virginia Union, over Hampton Institute Thanksgiving Day at Hovey Field.

Louis Shackleford, sophomore quarterback had pulled the visitors out of the hole in the opening minutes when he muffed a pass from center on a punt try and raced out from his 22-yard stripe to the 37 for a first down.

WORKING THEIR favorite play of the day, a deep lateral with loads of blocking, the Pirates moved to Union's 40. John Martin, junior end from Hackensack, N.J., recovered a fumble knocked from Shackleford's hand on the Hampton 44.

Union made it to the 25. Hampton went 45 yards in six plays to the Union 30, but stalled. Four yards in three tries sent Hezekiah Braxton, big sophomore fullback from Baltimore, to point into the Union Hampton-Sydney game.

AN EXCHANGE of penalties, preceded the first sudden score. Shackleford raced to the 47, then lost five, stymied the Hampton quarterback again.

MORGAN SCORES—Elmer Flye, Morgan State left half-back, races 23 yards to pay dirt during the Thanksgiving Day Classic. The Bears lost to Virginia State, 40 to 14.

Va. State Romps Over Morgan, 40-14

What game lacked in glamour townsfolk made up in hosting

By SAM LACY

BALTIMORE

Undedog Virginia State College put together a 65-yard pass play, a pass-interference penalty, a blocked kick, a 90-yard touchdown run and a 45-yard pass interception to stun Morgan, 40-14, here Thursday afternoon.

The beating, the worst inflicted on a Golden Bear eleven in the 27-year history of the traditional Thanksgiving rivalry, was the first to be engineered by Coach W. W. Lawson over the local team in his three years at the Trojan helm.

The previous high for the Virginians was a 32-0 win away back at the beginning in 1928. And the only other time that either was able to score 40 points was in 1933, when the Bears took a 40-0 decision.

IN REGISTERING their upset, undoubtedly the most surprising of the CIAA season, State came off a 13-13 halftime deficit, and ran out the cold, rainy afternoon with a 27-point second half.

Using the blocked kick to grab the lead within six minutes after resumption of play in the third quarter, the Trojans literally forced the Bears into Morgan defense early in the fourth period.

* * *

THAT WAS when they sprang halfback George Moody loose on their own 10-yard line, and the shifty 167-pound junior from Portsmouth, Va., raced 90 yards to pay dirt.

Thereafter, the demoralized Bears could do nothing right, either with the ball or without it.

* * *

THE TWO RIVALS began as though they meant to make it a lively afternoon throughout. Both had touchdowns before the game was ten minutes old.

Morgan took the opening kickoff and aided by a short 45-yard return by fullback Ernie Mosby, went all the way. Except for an 8-yard Jack Dennis-to-Joe Buckson pass, the entire journey was on the ground, built up mainly on short bursts by Mosby and halfback Elmer Flye.

* * *

ON REACHING the one, Dennis sneaked over for the TD, 6 minutes and 47 seconds after the starting whistle, then kicked the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

It was a shortlived advantage for the Bears, however, as the Trojans took less than three minutes to even the score.

One big stroke served the purpose for Virginia. That was a 55-yard pass play, from the State wayne Jeter to James Hoefer.

Hoefer, a quarterback converted into an end, took the ball on the Morgan 40, sidestepped three tackles at the 24 and tight-roped down the sideline to pay dirt. Jeter converted at 9:19 and the score was deadlocked at 7-7.

* * *

THE BEARS regained the lead six plays later, moving quickly from their own 20, where Mosby put down the Trojan kickoff.

Flye, Mosby and Bobby Gordon took turns to drive to the Virginia 23, from which point Flye, on a fake reverse, cut back from Washington, went over via a scamper around his right flank.

* * *

THE VISITORS struggled to even matters, moving after the ensuing kickoff, from their 30 to the Morgan 19. There, however, the drive stalled as Dennis intercepted a pass by Moody in the end zone, and returned to the Bear 15.

Moments later, though, Dennis fumbled and Ken Easley beat the Morgan quarterback to the ball for a Trojan recovery on the 14.

A HOLDING infraction and an offensive pass interference penalty set the Trojans back to the 40. But another pass interference was called two plays later against Morgan and State was back knocking at the door at the Bear 12.

Herbie Tobias smashed 11 yards up the middle to the Morgan one, and on the next play he blasted a halfback from Plainfield, N.J., plowed over.

Jeter's conversion attempt was wide and the Trojans trailed 14-13.

* * *

A 44-YARD pass play from Jeter to end Marvin Harrell that carried into the end zone was nullified midway by second quarter by an off-side penalty against State.

Still another ominous situation was escaped by Morgan when the half ended on an incomplete Trojan pass, attempted on fourth down at the Bear two, with 51 seconds on the clock.

* * *

MOODY, who was a constant threat to the Bears all afternoon, was later to race 90 yards, barely missed an earlier tally. He broke clear for 52 yards shortly after the second half got under way, and would have covered the distance except for the speed of Bobby Gordon.

Morgan's CIAA sprint champion caught the Trojan scatback from behind for a saving tackle at the Bear 14.

THE VIRGINIANS' bid was thwarted as Morgan braced her defenses. But the respite was only temporary.

Seeking to give his punter, Jack Rozier, a little air for a kicking job, Dennis called a running play. However, State's Wilton Barnes broke through to nail a 6-yard loss on the home-linings.

Then as Rozier essayed his kick the Trojan line surged in to block it—and tackle—Al Short fell on the loose ball for a touchdown. Jeter's conversion try was blocked and Virginia was ahead, 19-14, to be in front for keeps.

MOODY'S 90-yard jaunt came as the tempering factor after Morgan twice had threatened to snarl matters again.

The first of these Bear thrusts reached the Trojan 16, as Dennis unleashed an aerial attack that hit Joe Buckson and Jack Rozier for sticky gains, only to run into an interception by Tobias at the 16.

THE SECOND went all the way to the 8, with Dennis finding Jim Moody, Buckson and Homer Robinson in that order. At the 8-yard line, however, the State forwards buckled down and held, taking over at the 10.

No sooner had he gained possession than the visitors called on Moody and he responded with his 90-yard sprint.

AS DENNIS tried to pull out from the 26-14 deficit, the air was filled with Morgan passes. One was snatched down by Easley and the 180-pound sophomore fullback romped the 45 yards to the TD.

To complete the afternoon as they had started it—a TD pass from Jeter to Hoefer—the same pair hooked up for a 35-yard scoring aerial as the last entry on the busy, rain drenched scoreboard.

Top 10 Big Ten berths

CHICAGO — Colored players snared four positions on the All-Big Ten first eleven in the Associated Press poll early this week, and made it ten in all by copping three slots on each the second and third teams.

Named to the first eleven were backs Jim Pace of Michigan and Don Clark of Ohio State, end Leo Brown and guard Steve Bowman, also of Ohio State.

* * *

ON THE SECOND team were Michigan State's Sam Williams, at end, and Wisconsin's Danny Lewis and Illinois' Bob Mitchell, at halfbacks.

Four team choices were Earl Hill, Wisconsin, end; Collins (Red Mike) Hagler, Iowa, halfback, and Blanche Martin, Michigan State, halfback.

The three nominees from Ohio State will be on the Buckeyes' squad that will meet the Pacific Coast Conference champion in the New Year's Day Rose Bowl game.

Richard Wilbur, young American poet and 1957 winner of the Pulitzer Prize in poetry, will read from his works at the Library of Congress on Monday evening, Dec. 2, at 8:30 p.m.

What a Coach and Mrs. Talmadge Hill, as in their home, opened their Morgan Park home to scores.

Hundreds of house guests, however, were Dr. and Mrs. Purvis Williams, Messrs. and Mesdames S. Bruce Brown, Ralph McKinney and Richard Bell Sr., of Washington . . . along with Richard Bell Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Black of Norfolk, Va. and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cole of Newport News, Va.

AND ACROSS the street from the Hills, Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Adams were hosting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brown of New York and their daughter, Michelle. The Browns came in on Wednesday for the week end and their hosts invited a few couples who knew them in Wednesday evening. There at that time were Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeCasta, Dr. and Mrs. James Pair and Dr. and Mrs. Fred Adams.

President and Mrs. Martin D. Jenkins of Morgan got in from Europe Wednesday evening, right on promise. Were men and gifted (with champagne no less) at the station . . . then went home to ready for their Thursday guests.

The latter included the Arundel-on-the-Bay folks; Drs. Aris T. and Faye Allen, the H. S. Hilliards, the Douglas Kings and the Carroll Hessons.

Leave us face it. Dear College football ain't the glamour gal she used to be.

Those days when we looked on ensemble over and opined "Well, it's just mink, so what?" have gone forever.

All the Morgan-Virginia State 27th annual Thanksgiving classic, Thursday, there wasn't even enough mink about to make a muff. And if there was a Hattie Carnegie on the campus it must have been hidden under those rain hoods or tucked beneath those umbrellas. For, 'tis true, rain it did.

These days, the sweet young things, blessed with the proper figures, tuck their long slim legs in tight fittings pants, top 'em with suburban coats. Their big sisters stay home, dispense cocktails while the B.F. comflies by the T.V. The Moms settle for tweeds and a warm coat to ward off the bursitis.

No, Dear College football ain't of the Pair children and their wives and husbands to dine with the parents of Thanksgiving . . . so, of course, the Hill, Dr. and Mrs. James Pair, Jr., from this town.

Joining the family circle were Hubert Pair, attorney, and Mrs. Pair, Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Pair, Dr. and Mrs. John (Lois Pair) Turner of Howard University, and Mrs. Pair's recorder of deeds, and Mrs. Shirley, the former Virginia Pair, all of Washington. . . . Along of course were a batch of grand children.

Dr. and Mrs. Hunt had, as of Friday, her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown of Cleveland, Ohio. And then the latter three will spend to Mount Vernon on Sunday.

And since Hermione (Mrs. Clarence Pair) will be out of reading between now and then, it's safe to tell that the Cosmopolitan Club of West Chester County, New York, has a Sunday surprise up their sleeve for her.

They will present a gold plaque to her for the services she has rendered in the fields of religious, civic and social service at a surprise testimonial in the YMCA.

UP FROM Gloster, Va., were Mr. and Mrs. McCurley Garnett, and from Washington, Mrs. Hughes Rickards. They were guesting with Miss Marion Gregory of the Morgan State College faculty.

And speaking of Morgan folks, Dr. Vivian Wynder came down from NYC (she's on leave) for holiday with Bill and Mattie Gardner.

And the Ulysses Stubbses hosted Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Thomas of Washington (he's registrar at the District of Columbia Teachers' College). The Thomases dined their time between this town and New York. Came in early for the Sigma dance, Friday night.

ERNEST AND GLORIA STOKES lifted their latch to Elizabeth and Norman Powell of Newark, N.J. Mrs. Powell is the renowned hat designer, and with Gloria's brother-in-law and sister (the Joseph Rouses) were Viron K. Jones, attorney, and his Ruby.

The foursome were up bright and early Thursday morning and to Ebenezer Church, where Mesdames Sobers and Boston were singing at the union services of Ebenezer, St. Paul and Mt. Zion Churches. Then to the Morgan-Virginia State game, and back to dinner at the home of the sister's mother, Mrs. Acte Sturgis.

The Lonard-Underwoods had in tour the Robert Garretts of Washington, bell patch. (Twas Mrs. Garrett, who was attendant at Lenny and Agnes' marriage, some years back.

With Irene Schmoke at her North Avenue home were her brother-in-law and sister, the Thomas Booths of Philadelphia and their children, Roderick and Ian; and Mrs. Schmoke's cousin, Mrs. Bobbie Pouissaint and children, Renee and Peppi of New York City.

TOO BAD about that rain. It had somewhat chilled ardor of Virginia State's pretty little "Trojan Queen," Ruby Jean Carter. She's the daughter of the Irvin Byrds of Bowling Green, a senior and a business major.

Her equally attractive attendants were Ina Jones of Elitz, a sophomore and a major in business administration, whose Dad is business manager of the college, and Pecolia Ferguson, freshman from Lynchburg, Va., and daughter of the John Fergusons of that city.

* * *

AMONG THE MISSING were Dick and Valada Hobbs, who motored off to their native Memphis, Tenn. The Theodore Johnsons, Berton Armstrongs, John Gambrills, James Johnson and George Whittington refused to allow a game to deter them from holding forth at the family homestead in Brooklyn, where the Howard Halls were offering the turkey, et al. The Calvin Ashes went to East Orange, N.J. for the annual reunion with his family.

* * *

JOHN L. MARTIN (he's the candidate for the vice presidency of the International Longshoremen's Association) and Mrs. Martin deviated from the turkey and fixings that regaled his dinner guests. Served T-bone steaks, Maryland fried chicken . . . and the dillies that went along . . . to say nothing of the assortment of select beverages.

Their guests included Messrs. and Mesdames George Jackson, Howard Taylor, Robert Washington, Peace Boarding, William Thompson, Joseph Mello, Charles Cherry, Otis Pennick, Milton Gloster, Herbert Lane, Leon Hawkins;

Also Mesdames Shirley Queen, Florna Foster, Hennie Wilmore, Ann Dayson of Sanford, Mass., Eunice Robinson, Esther Harris, Marie Robinson;

Misses Beatrice Fitzgerald, Dorothy Brown and Lonnie Mae Bruce, and Norman Booker, John Pegram, Charles Slappy, M. Thomas Wilkerson, John H. Smith, Alfred Myers, Paul Lucas, Sammy Taylor and Samuel Cornick.

NICHOLAS came up from Petersburg. Were guests of her sister, Jeanie Francis, and dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Barnes. The Barneses also hosted Mrs. Eugene Dickerson of Washington and daughter, Leona.

City Councilman and Mrs. Walter Dixon, kept open house during the evening for their house guests, Dr. and Mrs. William Brown of Albany, N.Y., Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Pierce of New Rochelle, N.Y., and Dr. and Mrs. Norris Atkins of Washington.

DR. AND MRS. RAYMOND HUNT hosted their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Q. Pair and son Quinton, of Mount Vernon, N.Y. Guests were Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Q. Pair and son Quinton, of Mount Vernon, N.Y. over Wednesday night. The trio went on to Washington for the day with their parents, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. James Pair Sr.

It's the established custom for all of the Pair children and their wives and husbands to dine with the parents of Thanksgiving . . . so, of course, the Hill, Dr. and Mrs. James Pair, Jr., from this town.

DREARY DAY—Thursday was a dreary day for Morgan fans as they sat through a steady Thanksgiving Day rain to watch the Bear drop the football contest to Virginia State by a score of 40 to 14. A near-capacity crowd turned out to watch the traditional Thanksgiving Day Classic.

In Memoriam 1

BROWN — In loving memory of my dear mother, HARRIETT R., who passed away Nov. 3, 1954.
It would take a million years
To tell you how I miss you dear,
I tried to tell you, Mother
How my heart still aches for you,
Though days run by and dusty years.
Speed gently on their way.
The grief I hold within my heart
Is mine to bear day by day.
Loving Daughter
ZELDA V. GARDNER.

GARRETT — In loving memory of my dear husband, EDWARD GARRETT, who passed away November 28, 1954.
He would not want the one he loved . . .
To grieve for him today.
He would not say that he is dead.
For he is just away . . .
Away upon a journey
To a land that's bright and fair.
We miss him here
And memory of him here bring us
Comfort everyday.
As I recall, he is just away.
His Wife, MAGGIE GARRETT.

GASKINS — In loving memory of our son and brother, HERBERT DEAVER, who died April 16, 1954 and EDWARD JR., who died November 27, 1954:
Sunshine passes, shadows fall
Love's remembrance outlasts all
Though the years be many or few
They are filled with our thoughts of you 10fc.
Mother,
AIKEN GASKINS
SISTERS AND BROTHER.

GILES — In loving remembrance of our dear mother, SOPHIA HANNAH B., who passed away 4 years ago today, Nov. 30, 1953.
You left a beautiful memory.
A sorrow too great to be told.
But to us who loved and lost you,
Your memory will never grow old.
FROM THE FAMILY

SMITH — In loving memory of my husband, LILLIE SMITH, who passed away seven years ago, November 29, 1950.
We thought comes back to me today
With meaning deep and true,
How much of my young life's way
There was because of you.
Loving Husband,
CORNELIUS W. SMITH AND FAMILY

WIGGINS — In remembrance of my dear son, brother and father, WILLIAM WIGGINS, who passed away November 27, 1952.
Sad and sudden was the call.
Of one so dearly loved by all.
Devoted Mother,
SARAH YOUNG
SISTERS, BROTHERS, SON AND DAUGHTER
