A and T throttles No. Carolina 21-0

GREENSBORO, N.C. — The A&T College Aggies whipped their arch rivals, the North Carolina College Eagles, 21-0, in their annual setto, the Carolina classic football game, played here at Memorial Stadium on Thanksgiving Day.

It was the outstanding play of the Aggie line which threw their into the Eagles' vaunted running attack to just three first downs, and their hard charging against the aerial game, held that completely in check.

The victory gave the Aggies a 13-11 record in the series, the 27th annual meeting between the intra-state foes.

It was a sweet victory for freshman coach, Bert Piggott, closing out his first season at the helm of the Aggies. To each of the coaches, including Herman Riddick of NCC, a win in this hotly contested rivalry always indicated the close of a successful year, regardless of the previous record.

Diminutive Howard Smith, junior quarterback, who had seen little action this year, carved out the victory. His passes clicked in the clutches and his superb ball handling kept the Eagle defense completely confounded for most of the day.

The Aggies scored immediately following the opening of the second period as Charlie Debose dived over from the one-yard line.

The play was set up as Edward Godbolt intercepted a pass by Ed Hudson, NCC quarterback, on the latter's 40-yard line. He ran it to the 16. A personal foul against the Eagles put the ball at the crucial 1-yard spot.

Smith then split the uprights for the extra point to give the Aggies a 7-point lead.

The Eagles had been given an early opportunity to score in the first quarter as James Forbes, NCC guard, shot through to cover a fumble by Godbolt on the Aggie 12, but the Aggie line held at the 6-yard line. From that point, the Aggies mounted a drive which carried all the way to the Eagle 21, where a pass interception stopped the threat.

The Aggies got their second TD just before the end of the half as Edward Neabit, fullback, intercepted a pass by Hudson on the NCC 34, cut for the sidelines and raced the distance.

Smith passed to Burnie McQueen, end, for the extra point to give the Aggies a 14-0 halftime lead.

Smith accounted for the third Aggie TD as he shot around end on a roll out play from the four-yard line. The score climaxed a 70-yard drive starting on the Aggie 30. Lloyd Oakley, Greensboro fullback, aided by vicious blocking of the A&T line, ripped off huge yardage in the drive, including five carries for a total of 50 yards.

Oakley kicked the extra point for final scoring, giving the Aggies the 21-0 victory.

The Eagles muffed a scoring opportunity in the fourth period as they lost the ball on downs at the Aggie 10-yard line. Thomas Johnson, NCC halfback, got off a beautiful punt return run, sling-the ball to the Aggie 17. Only seven-yards were gained, however, in the four attempts to pierce the Aggie wall.

POLY BOOSTERS—From this dugout at Memorial Stadium, members of the 73 piece Poly band waited for the train to let up Thursday while their team rolled to a 31-0 victory over City College. Some 20,000 fans witnessed the 57th annual Thanksgiving Day classic.

FLYING HOME—Headed for the goal line in the waning minutes of the 57th annual Thanksgiving Day game between City College and Poly, Half skin for the Engineers escorted by Back Charles Johannes lugs the pigskin. The tackle was made by City's Gordon Kamka. Poly won 31 to 0.

Tan aces see action in City-Poly game

Two tan players each from City College and Poly saw action Thursday at Memorial Stadium when Poly routed their arch-rival 31-0.

Some 20,000 fans braved a steady rain to witness the Thanksgiving Day encounter at the 33rd St., bowl.

Backfield ace Leon Armour and end Wayne Reed were among those in City's starting lineup.

In the waning minutes of the 57th annual game, Poly fielded halfback Frank Sartor and Jasper Johnson, a lineman.

Armour teamed with Cliff Melton, Gordon Kamka and Charlie Linn a number of times in the aerial department in an effort to put the Collegians in the scoring column.

* * *

THE FAVORED Poly Engineers earned their first tally in the final seconds of the first period when Fullback Ronnie Klages scored on a two-yard center plunge after a 40-yard drive down field.

Poly added their second score when Quarterback Jack Norwood struck pay dirt on a 16-yard run.

The TD was preceded by a 58-yard drive by the Engineers who failed to make the extra points on both occasions.

Poly went scoreless in the third quarter but came roaring down the muddy field in the fourth to score 19 points.

The goal line was crossed by Poly's Guard Gus Vaselaros; Half Back Charles Johannes and Half Back Ted Valentine.

The victory for the Engineers was their 27th over City. The Collegians have won 23 of the annual games and there have been seven ties.

Both teams had a 6-2 record for the season going into Thursday's game.

Poly employed a speedy backfield and the T-attack to bowl over a City team quarterbacked by Melton, Linn and Kamka.

The game between two of the oldest rivals in scholastic football history closed out the local grid season.

A pre-game ceremony featured performances by Poly's 73-piece marching band, their color guard and rifle unit.

A total of 56 members comprised the City College band and 51 persons were in their drum and Bugle Corps.

All of the units including the cheering squads from both schools were integrated.

Pick 3 tan cagers for All-America

NEW YORK—Three of the five players making up Sport Magazine's pre-season basketball All-America are colored.

Wilt Chamberlain, Guy Rodgers and Elgin Baylor are the nominees in the magazine's early release, currently at the newsstands.

"For scoring punch, rebounding potential and ball-handling skill," says the article, "this year's club is probably unmatched by any previous collection of all-stars."

Here's the first team:

Wilt Chamberlain, Kansas; Burney Cable, Bradley; Elgin Baylor, Seattle; Guy Rodgers, Temple; Frank Howard, Ohio State.

Making Sport's second team are:

Jimmy Smith, Steubenville; Bob Boozer, Kansas State; Archie Dees, Indiana; Johnny Lee, Yale; Don Hennon, Pittsburgh.

* * *

THE THIRD team is comprised of:

Hubert Reed, Oklahoma City; Cal Ramsey, NYU; Temple Tucker, Rice; Joe Stevens, Wichita; Tommy Kearns, North Carolina.

IN ADDITION, Sport Magazine predicts the following sophomores are players to watch:

Fred La Court, San Francisco; Ralph Brandi, Holy Cross; Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati; Wayne Lawrence, Texas A. and M.; Don Mills, Kentucky; George Brown, Duquesne; Lee Shaffer, North Carolina; Ron Cochran, Alabama; Balen Showalter, Tennessee; Dickie Prater, South Carolina; Dick Bergholf, Miami; Nolden Gentry, Iowa.

Jim Brown increases NFL lead

Fullback Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns, moved into a commanding lead in the National Football League this week.

The rookie workhorse of the pace-setting Browns increased his rushing yardage to 769 yards with a record-breaking performance against the Los Angeles Rams last Sunday. His 237 yards escilpsed the old mark of 223, set by Tom Wilson last year for one day's work.

The effort put the former Syracuse All-American 197 yards ahead of his nearest pursuer in the rushing department, Rick Casares of the Chicago Bears. Casares had a total of 572 yards, 13 more than Wilson, who was leader for the first seven weeks of the campaign.

Ollie Matson's 493 yards were good for fifth; John Henry Johnson's (Detroit) 417 placed him eighth and Willie Galimore's (Chicago Bears) 408, made him ninth.

JIM McCLAIREN of Pittsburgh, held onto second place in pass receiving, with 36, two fewer receptions than Billy Wilson of San Francisco.

Although Brown and Matson are far ahead of any other players in the loop in touchdowns, they were tied for fifth in individual point-scoring. The placement kickers—Sam Baker (Redskins), George Blanda (Bears), Lou Groza (Browns) and Fred Cone (Lions)—lead in that order.

Both Brown and Matson had tallied nine times for 54 points.

* * *

ELSEWHERE in the statistics, Dave Mann of the Chicago Cardinals, is third in punting; Wendell Lewis of the Cards, is sixth in returning punts and seventh in kickoff runbacks. Tom Wilson is fifth in bringing back kickoffs.

BALTIMORE'S Milt Davis closed in on Pittsburgh's Jack Butler in the interception department. His eight retrieves were one behind Butler.

However, the former UCLA star was out in front of the rest of the circuit in returing the interceptions. His 40 yards were three ahead of those credited to Bobby Dillon of the Green Bay Packers.

Milt also holds the season mark for a single interception runback, a 74-yard touchdown jaunt against San Francisco.

Gavilan nods Walter Byars

CHICAGO—Kid Gavilan, former world welterweight champion, concentrated on attacking the body of Walter Byars here Wednesday night, and the result was a unanimous decision over the left-hooking New England contender.

* * *

IN THE sixth round, Byars complained of a low blow to referee Frank Sikora and then looked as if he would tear into the Cuban kid in a frenzy of anger.

After the bell he pushed the former 31-year-old titlist away in a gesture of disgust which the national television audience probably missed.

All officials — judge Frank McAdams and Howard Walsh and Sikora — favored Gavilan 47-45 under the five point must system.

It was the 105th win in 140 pro battles for Gavilan, who won the 147 pound championship in 1952 and lost it in 1954 to Johnny Saxton. Since then he has been attempting to get back into title contention.

Balto. Dunbar catcher inked

James (Buck) Tanner, 18-year-old catcher of the Dunbar High School baseball team, this week was signed to a contract to play organized ball.

The Kansas City Athletics announced the acquisition of Tanner Tuesday, and said he will report to spring training with the Matoon (Ill.) team of the Class D Midwestern League. Young Tanner was scouted and signed by Ed Dunn, chief scout of the A's in this area.

According to Dunbar coach, Bill (Sugar) Cain, Tanner is a long ball hitter with an exceptional throwing arm. Cain said the boy is stockily built at 5-10 and 180 pounds.

Tanner, the coach declared, is to be graduated in February. He enters spring training in March in Florida.

Winston-Salem's Rowe new CIAA offense leader

DURHAM, N.C.—B. Rowe of Winston-Salem is the total offense individual leader at the end of 10 weeks of play in the CIAA.

Maryland's J. Sample continues individual rushing leader with 116 yard average in 6 games.

TEAM LEADERS include Shaw University (yield— only 129 yards in 7 games) repeating as defense leader, Maryland (220 yards in 6 games) replacing Shaw as tops in rushing, Lincoln (21 of 44 completions for 31.2) replacing Maryland in forward passing, and Winston-Salem (281 yards in 6 games) replacing NCC in total-offense.

OTHER INDIVIDUAL leaders are Ed Hudson of NCC, passing (32 of 58 in 7 games for 48.1); J. Buckson, Morgan, pass receiving (23 catches in 8 games for 237 yards) Eugene Hammonds, Shaw University, scoring (78 points in 7 games); and A. Tinsley, S.T Paul's, punting (30 kicks in 7 games for a 37-yard average).

ALL-COAST PICK — Jimmy Jones, fullback of the University of Washington football team, this week was named to the All-Pacific Coast Conference eleven.

Aggies drop 3 gridders

GREENSBORO, N.C.—Three members of the A. and T. College Aggies football team were dropped from the squad.

In a statement released by Bert Piggott, head football coach, the men had been "indefinitely suspended" for breaking training rules. He would not elaborate on specific charges, nor did the statement give the time length of the suspensions.

The three included Arthur Werthy, star halfback and senior from Gastonia, who leads the Aggies in ground gaining for the current season; Otis Perry, New York City, junior quarterback, who has handled most of the signal-calling in the absence of ailing, first string quarterback, Paul Swann, and Barney Moore, Gastonia, second string center.

Howard closes first season with White

The Howard Bisons finished their first season under Coach Bob White. They wound up with a 3-6 record for a percentage of .333 which was a game below last season's mark of 4-5.

Howard opened its 63rd season with two straight victories and appeared headed for a banner year.

But the Bisons went scoreless the next two outings while sustaining losses from Virginia Union and Morgan State.

After a victory over Fisk, Howard lost its last four tilts to D.C. Teachers, Hampton, Morehouse and arch rival Lincoln.

* * *

THREE MEN ended their football careers at Howard when the final gun sounded, ending the Lincoln contest.

They are Van Whitfield, Bob Brown and Co-Capt. Ken Washington. Coach White worked with the recreation department in Connecticut before coming to HU.

Prior to that he coached Elizabeth City (N.C.) Teachers College to four consecutive EIAC championships.

Basketball clinic for girls at AU

The District Division for girls and women's sports is sponsoring a basketball clinic 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 4 at American University.

Included in the program will be a clarification of rules, a question-answer period and a demonstration of officiating and coaching techniques.

Livingstone victor

SALISBURY, N.C. — Livingstone College's Blue Bears notched their fourth victory of the season by defeating St. Paul's Polytechnic Institute, 19-0, in their annual homecoming.

Over $2 million voted to improve telephone service

To expand and improve telephone service in Maryland, the board of directors of The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland, in its regular meeting approved expenditures of $2,289,000.

For the Baltimore area, three projects totaling $175,000 were approved for additional equipment to increase the capacity of local and long distance dial systems and for additional cable in the southeast area of the city.

An expenditure of $57,000 will be made for additional Northfield central office equipment to provide service to new homes in that area; also $61,000 will provide for cable facilities as part of the recently announced dial changeover project for Virginia Telephone.

To serve the fast growing communities surrounding Baltimore, $44,000 was authorized for cable and poles for the connection of more telephones in Pikesville; also, $52,000 will provide for cable and poles to meet continuing service demands near Ellicott City.

SALARY SLASHED—Catcher Roy Campanella, suffering his second consecutive "off" season, accepted a sizeable cut in pay from the Los Angeles Dodgers last week. According to vice president Buzzy Bavasi, Campy will get "about $36,000," a probable slash of $6,000 from 1957.

BERGEN COUNTY SPORTS BUGLE

By RUDY NICHOLS
72 Washington Ave.
Rutherford

NEWARK

The football player of the week in Bergen and Passaic counties is Dennis Trouse, right halfback on the unbeaten Ridgewood High School team.

Trouse scored three touchdowns Saturday, Nov. 16, when Ridgewood beat Ramsey, 49-12 in a Northern Bergen Interscholastic League game.

Ridgewood is tied for first place with Fairlawn.

TROUSE'S touchdowns were on runs of 9 yards, 22 yards, and a 75-yard punt return.

Bob Harrell of Paterson, who is playing with the American Linoleum Company in the Passaic Major Football Conference, scored three times against the East Paterson Hornets, and passed for two to beat them, 36-0.

Hackensack defeated Tenafly High School, 39 to 7.

Sophomore Bill Harris, who alternated at left halfback with Bruce Wilson, paced the ground attack, gained 113 yards, and also scored one himself.

Milt Lockett, fleetfooted sophomore, and Joe Tyler, junior end, tallied the other touchdowns.

SCORING four of the five times it got its hands on the ball in the first period, George Baldwin's unbeaten and untied Glenwood machine rolled to its seventh straight win of the season over Leonia, 38-12.

Stan Hill shared the scoring spotlight for the winners with two TDs, spinning 63 and 15 yards respectively.

Mel Dukeford, quarterback of the team, was brilliant in his ball handling and faking.

Mel Williams of Passaic ran his third kickoff for a 75-yard TD Saturday against Lyndhurst in a losing cause, with Lyndhurst beating them, 26-6.

Quaterback Club hears HU dean

By LEN LEWIS

Thomas E. Hawkins, dean of men at Hampton Institute, addressed the Homeland Quarterback Club last week at the Leigh St. YMCA. His subject was "Why Men Fail."

He said that men of today are frustrated by the events as they occur in his life, those that have already occurred and the prospects of what will occur.

He said there is a growing tendency to compromise integrity and principals for material gain.

Dean Hawkins pointed out that men of today lack the moral responsibility in fostering the ideals of democracy and christianity. Men fail because they feel self sufficient, lacking the faith that will sustain them.

The Quarterback Club meets every Monday at 8 p.m. in the lounge.

Schedule for November 25: Coach "Tom" Harris of Virginia Union University, subject "What Does the Future Hold for the Negro in Sports."

December 2 - Film of the Union - Hampton Game

December 9 - Hi lites of the Cleveland Browns (film)
