Mrs. Ruth Johnson ends 37-year teaching career on gay note

Gadabouting in Baltimore

That was an elegant party . and the surprise of her life . . that tipped Ruth Taylor Johnson back on her heels, Friday evening.

The Art Department of School No. 181 was host. The attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roberts in Morgan Park was the site. The occasion: the honoring of Mrs. Johnson upon her retirement from the Baltimore School System after 37 consecutive years of teaching.

Under the subterfuge of an evening at cards, the honoree was driven to the rendezvous by her sister, Alma Thomas. When they reached the home, sauntered leisurely to the 'Roberts' club room, a burst of song greeted them.

Miles Harrison and Charles Hawkins led a group of 36 faculty members in this greeting . . .

After cocktails, the group was seated at a course dinner (catered by Mrs. Mary S. Stubbs), and then came the entertainment.

Marjorie Sheffey, in a "This Is Your Life" take - off, showed slides of Mrs. Johnson as a pupil at the high school, which she attended then at Dolphin St. and Pennsylvania Ave.; as a teen - ager in leisure time activities at Wonderland Park, Brown's Grove and Wilson Park; and as a teacher who had travelled extensively prior to retirement.

Ethel Archer Clark, chairman of the Art Department at School No. 181, made a presentation of a set of ceramics, imported from Sweden, and the large number of telegrams and cards were read.

There was a "Memory Time" interval during which guests recalled incidents they had shared with Mrs. Johnson.

Joining in the affair were Messrs. and Mesdames Collin Stanley, William Taylor, Ralph Chambers, Samuel Johnson;

Also Mesdames Ethel A. Clarke, Dolly Mitchenor, Esther LaForest, Vada Malachi, Bernice Nickens, Elease Johnson, Emma Dudley, Alma Thomas, Margaret Sheffey, Gloria S. Stokes:

Also Frank J. Sorrell, Miles G. Harrison, Raymond Carpenter, Albert Byrd, Ronald Watts, Charles Hawkins, George L. Moorw, Benjamin Whitten, Dr. Louis Johnson and Randolph Myers.

And then Mrs. Johnson unfolded her life as a teacher since 1920.

She mentioned her first assignment under Principal John Woodhous at School No. 115 in Waverly. She told of her work as supervisor of art in elementary schools over an eleven - year period. Under a school retrenchment program, Mrs. Johnson went back to the schoolroom as teacher of art, being assigned to School No. 112, under the late Dr. George Murphy.

In succession she taught at School No. 106 under the late John Cotton, at Dunbar Junior High School under Dr. Caroline Davis and School No. 137 under Frank Sorrell. With Mr. Sorrell and his faculty, she was transferred to School No. 181, where she was at the time of her retirement in June.

Raymond T. Carpenter was toastmaster for this gala affair, and the impromptu remarks were by Mr. Sorrell.

THE LADIES OF TODAY had fun the other evening.

After the business session during which they mapped out plans for the year, their hostess, Mildred Johnson, turned to with a "hat" party.

Corinthia Green, with a headpiece of fresh fruits and vegetables on an inverted basket, copped first prize for the "smartest" hat, Beulah Westcott's "Spudnik" won second place, and Ann Blair's space hat took honors.

Then there was crazy headgear made with kitchen utensils by Margaret Singletary; Lucretia Datcher's "three fates" and a galaxy of weird ideas carried out by other members: Mildred Johnson, Elizabeth Carter, Rosa Harcum, Sarah Redmond, Evelyn Burton, Mary Hurley, Helen Hodge and Palestine Anderson.

'Twas a sort of rehearsal for have in mind for February 14, the Mad Hatters Ball they The affair, to be held in the New Albert, is to benefit their charities.

71 YEARS TOGETHER and still in love is the record of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Powell who live in Daisy in Howard County, Md. They were married November-25, 1886. Mr. Powell is 88 and Mrs. Powell, who answers to Ida, is 86. There was no special anniversary celebration, just a quiet time in their comfortable home located on a farm near Cooksville. There were 22 Powell children, 12 of whom are still living; 53 grandchildren and 23 great-great grandchildren. Their formula for a long and happy marriage: "If you don't love each other, don't get married. We've had our trials and our tribulations, but we loved each other so we got along . . ."

Other scores included: Harden - White, 88½; Diggs-Underwood, 82; Burns - Brown, 77; Green - Lottier, 75; Matthews-Harris, 74; Venture - Venture, 73; Nixon - Nickens, 71½; Michaels - Seaborne, 69; Redd-Hall, 67; Britt - Dodson, 68½, and Bracy - Skinner, 59.

Memorial for Vivian Alleyne

A committee, headed by Mrs. Maurice A. Lee, was formed this week, to perpetuate the memory of the late Vivian Garth Alleyne.

The committee has selected one of Mrs. Alleyne's chief interests, Provident Hospital as a benefit of the memorial.

"We hope to provide a lounge in the nurses' home which will be comforting to the nurses after a hard day's work, a place where they can relax in an atmosphere of quiet beauty," Mr. Lee said this week.

Another phase of assistance would be setting up a revolving loan fund from which the students who has financial difficulty might borrow. This is designed to aid in keeping in training efficient students who otherwise might have to discontinue training.

Mrs. Alleyne was a member of the board of the hospital at the time of her death.

* * *

THE DRIVE for funds, which are being solicited from friends of Mrs. Alleyne, is to be extended over a period of two months, beginning the past Tuesday.

Checks should be made payable to the Vivian Garth Alleyne Memorial Fund, 1514 Divisaion St., care of Provident Hospital.

Members of the committee include:

Mesdames Victorine Adams, Alice B. Arrington, Ruth B. Crown, Maida S. Brannon, Thelma Bando, William H. Chambers, Effie O. Ellis, Saretha Greene;

Mesdames Roger Harris, Hilda Higgins, Grace Jacobs, Ruth Johnson, Naomi Johnson, Lena Lee, Rose Mebane, Maggie Bristow, Agnes Hardgrove, Mary Nicholas, Phillis Hardy, Hilda Nelson, Doris Black;

Connie Macer, Harriet Hyde, Lenora Westry, Barbara Clark, Harvey Langley, Arthur Hyde, William Lomsford, Edward Sturdivant, Clifton Waller, Nonie Whitt, Arno Adams, Walter Cole, Lloyd Jones, Desmus Lewis;

BEWARE COUGHS THAT HANG ON FOLLOWING COLDS
A stubborn cough following a common cold may develop into chronic bronchitis—a condition far worse than the cold itself. Before it is too late relieve that cough with Creomulsion Cough Syrup right now. Creomulsion stops the tickle, comforts raw throat membranes, clears the breathing passages, fights the cause of irritation—quickly. It's safer, too, because it is free of narcotics or antihistamines. Don't let that cough break you down. Begin taking Creomulsion at once.
