Mrs. Ardella Kent, of E. Balto. family

Funeral services for Mrs. Ardelle Kent, 80, will be held at the First Baptist Church, 1 p.m. today (Friday), with the Rev. V. T. Williams officiating. Burial will be in Arbutus Cemetery.

MRS. Kent, a member of one of the oldest Baltimore families, died Monday at the residence of her niece, Mrs. Gladys W. Dixon, 1117 Whitelock St. She had been ill five years.

A native of Baltimore, she was the daughter of the late William and Isabelle Anderson.

SHE WAS active in all of the departments of First Baptist Church including the Senior Choir, At the time of her death, she was a member of the Deaconess Board.

Mrs. Kent was the first woman baptized in the church pool after the church moved to its present location at Caroline and McElderry Sts.

Largely through her efforts the old School No. 101 was built in 1917 at Caroline and Jefferson Sts. She served as a teacher at this school.

MRS. KENT was active in politics and was a familiar figure seen working at the polls on election day in East Baltimore.

Her husband, George Thomas Kent died 29 years ago. Survivors include nieces, and nephews.

Stricken in church, dies on anniversary eve

Mancefield Harmon missed the 42nd anniversary of his wedding by just a few days.

Mr. Harmon, 46, was stricken ill in Metropolitan Methodist Church Sunday morning and died Tuesday at Provident Hospital.

Mr. Harmon and his wife Bessie said their vows on Nov. 24, 1915. They have since have marked the 42nd anniversary of the wedding. They resided at 1320 Druid Hill Ave.

HE WAS stricken Sunday soon after he finished conducting a Sunday School class. He had been in declining health for two years.

Commenting on the death of Mr. Harmon, the Rev. Frank Williams, pastor of Metropolitan Methodist Church, stated:

"Mr. Harmon was one of the finest members of our church. He possessed those high qualities that make people like and love good. He has borne this reputation through the years and he guarded it jealously.

"He was altogether dependable as detected by his attendance in church Sunday morning when he was stricken. He "supported his church by his constant attendance and evident sacrificial spirit. Metropolitan is poorer, today because he has gone from us."

Funeral services will be held tomorrow (Saturday) at 1—p.m. from Metropolitan Methodist Church. The Rev. Mr. Williams will officiate. Burial will be in Arbutus Memorial Park.

A MEMBER of Metropolitan for 46 years, he was leader of No. 10 class and a member of the Steward board, Methodist Men, Harriet Tubman Charity Society of Baltimore and served as treasurer and chaplain of the Men's Beneficiary Association.
