Brown Tops Wilson In NFL Rushing, Davis Moves Up

Jim Brown, Cleveland's All-American from Syracuse University, took over the Individual ground-gaining lead in National Football play during the past week.

The rookie workhouse of the league - leading Browns displaced Tom Wilson of Los Angeles, by virtue of his work against the Washington Redskins last Sunday.

Brown's 532 yards edged ahead of Wilson by seven yards, although the brilliant Rams' halfback maintained a better average. His five yards per carry bettered the 4.1 by Brown, mainly because Jim is the heavy duty man of all the backs in the pro circuit.

Brown has been called upon 130 times by the Cleveland offense. Except for Rick Casares of the Chicago Bears, there is nobody near Jim in the matter of work. Casares has carried 127 times.

The next busiest back in the loop is Frank Gifford of New Giants, with a relatively low total of 109 carries.

* * *

BY MOVING to the top, Brown ousted the man who had held the lead in NFL yardage for eight weeks. Not since the second week of the season, had Touchdown Tommy been out of the pacesetter's seat among the pro rushers.

Ollie Matson, fifth in rushing, gave tan athletes three of the first five places in that department. The Chicago Cardinals' ace has gained 436 yards. However, his 4.9 average is second only to Wilson's.

Hugh McElhenny of San Francisco, and Casares are third and fourth in running.

JACK McCLAIREN of the Pittsburgh Steelers, is second in pass-receiving, with a total of 31 catches and 397 yards. He thus is second in the loop to Billy Wilson of the 49ers.

Matson is eighth in scoring with 42 points. Although not included among the first 10 in this category, rookie Willie Galimore of the Chicago Bears, boasts the best one-day performance with 24 points against Los Angeles on October 20.

Dave Mann's 43.9 average is third in punting. His teammate on the Chicago Cardinals, Woodley Lewis, is seventh in punt returns and eighth in kick-off returns. The latter's averages are seven yards per punt runback, and 25.6 yards kick-off return.

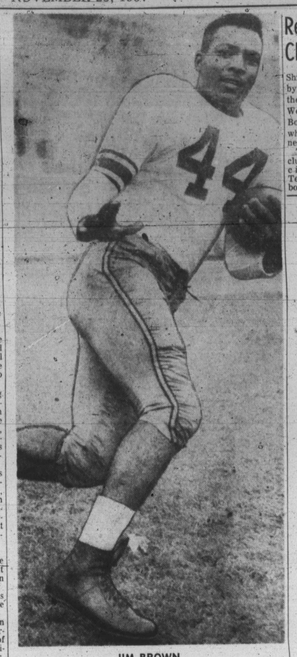
* * *

ONE OF the surprises of the late season, though, is Milt Davis, the rookie defenseman of the Baltimore Colts.

The former UCLA halfback is tied for second among the pros in pass interceptions.

Davis and Jack Christiansen of Detroit, have seven interceptions to their credit. Two of Milt's came in Sunday's triumph over the Chicago Bears, one good for a 46-yard touchdown and the other good for a 74-yard runback.

Leader in the interception department is Jack Butler of Pittsburgh, with eight — SAM LACY.



JIM BROWN

HARRIER KING — Fifteen-year-old William Lewis led Carver High School's junior varsity team to the Maryland Scholastic Association cross-country title last week. Lewis is a 10-B student, majoring in electronics. His time for the one-and-a-half miles was 8:07.

SONG BOOK FOR KIDS

NEW YORK—Oscar Brand, folk singer and BMI songwriter, has written a song book for both children and grownups called "Singing Holidays," published by Alfred A. Knopf on Nov. 15.

Russell hangs up NBA mark

BOSTON — Bill Russell, sophomore ace of the unbeaten Boston Celtics, smashed the National Basketball Association rebound mark here Saturday as the Celtics rolled to a 111-89 win over the Philadelphia Warriors.

Russell snared 49 rebounds and racked up 28 points as the Celtics ran their NBA string to 11 straight victories. He thus bettered by ten the old record of 39 rebounds held by Philadelphia's Neil Johnton.

* * *

THE CELTICS captured 103 rebounds to break the previous team record of 92 set by New York in 1953.

The 103 rebounds also topped the record of 102 for a game with one overtime period set by St. Louis in 1955.

Howard meets its longtime foe, Lincoln

The Howard Bisons close out their season Saturday by playing their arch rival, the Lincoln Lions, at Lincoln. The series between the two universities, which goes back to 1894, is the oldest among colored schools.

The Bisons go into the grudge tilt with the same record they carried into the game last year, 3 - 5.

In 1956 HU was a 13-0 winner to go ahead in the ancient series, 21-19-9.

All week Howard has had but a single thought in lengthy practice sessions, BEAT LINCOLN.

* * *

A WIN WOULD break the Bisons' three-game losing streak.

* * *

QUARTERBACKS TANNER George and Charlie Smith will split signal-calling chores in an attempt to win "the big one."

Lincoln has had little success this year. Its conference record is 1-4. Last week Shaw University swarmed the Lions, 46-0, in the mud.

Playing their last game for Howard are Bob Brown, Kenny Washington and Van Whitfield.

Young speaks

"The relationship among colored and white players is really wonderful. The coaches have done a tremendous job in the area of human relations."

Claude (Buddy) Young, a veteran of nine pro seasons as a player and now assistant in personnel and public relations to the Baltimore Colts, was speaking informally to the Frontiers Tuesday at their weekly meeting held at the Druid Hill Ave. YMCA.

Mr. Young retired last September from the Colts. A native of Chicago, he attended the public schools of that city. He received the B.S. degree from the University of Illinois in 1947, where he played half back with the team.

Red Shield Boys' Clubs board meets

Shield Boys' Clubs, sponsored by the Salvation Army, met for the first time Monday at the West Baltimore Red Shield Boys' Club, 215 N. Calhoun St., where extensive renovation is nearing completion.

Tom Ross, director of the club, and Saul Perdue, principal of Carver Vocational Technical High School, and a board member, reported progress in the completion of the library, game room and craft shop.

David Glenn, Urban League industrial secretary, told fellow board members that the West Baltimore branch was still seeking organizations to sponsor some of the rooms and facilities at the club.

The Salvation Army sponsors three interracial Red Shield Boys' Clubs in Baltimore. They are the Clinton St., Middle River and West Baltimore Branches.
