Guardsmen set for exciting holiday

With Lula Jones Garrett

Baltimore Guardsmen, a week hence, will be getting out their white ties, brushing off their tails, and re-stocking for their annual Thanksgiving week end.

They tell me that their affairs, this year, are to be similar events . . . the dance on Friday evening, a formal and in the Morgan State College Refectory, and their party, in the Blue Crest on Reisterstown Road.

LAMBDA KAPPA MU sorors, of this town, who went to Newark, N.J., for the regional conference of the sorority, were entertained at a gay breakfast party by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wall of Orange on Sunday.

The Walls held forth in their swanky home on Central Avenue. Mrs. Wall, the former Thelma Drew, is a graduate of the nursing division of Provident Hospital, here, and formerly was with the Public Health Service in this city.

She is now retired and devotes her time to travel and civic activities.

The breakfast was attended by Naomi Johnson, Olivia Bates, Imogene Douglass, Louise Anderson, Zerita Skates, Ovella Dorsey, Myrtle Jones and Susie Myles.

DR. AND MRS. RENNIE M. F. CHARLES of Trinidad, B.W.I., entertained at a buffet supper, Tuesday evening.

The party was a return courtesy to the friends who have enlivened their stay here. Dr. Charles, under sponsorship of his government, is studying tropical diseases at Johns Hopkins Hospital. They will be here until next March, and during the time are occupying the Morgan Park home of Mrs. Ernest Artis.

Mrs. Artis is you, you know, in Atlantic City, with her husband and at the same time holding down a teaching post in an Atlantic City high school.

Invited by Dr. and Mrs. Charles were:

Dr. and Mrs. Richard McKenney, Mrs. Maude LaForest, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Burgess, Dr. Irene Diggs; Dr. and Mrs. Frank Sorrell, Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Hill, Dr. and Mrs. John Gunn, Dr. and Mrs. Enriques Thorahill and Mrs. Artis.

IF YOU PLAN to have a bridge party, and want the men to show up — for goodness sake, don't schedule it for a Monday night. That's the night the fellows gather at the Kiseco Club to do battle for match points playing duplicate bridge.

It all started about five years ago, when four fellows, calling themselves the "Double Fi nesses" began playing bridge on Monday nights. They have now expanded to six tables, and plan to hold open sessions once a month and invite the gals in to try their skill.

Robert Matthews is director of the group; Alfred Woolridge, secretary, and Henry Parks, treasurer.

Last Monday's match was won by the team of Dolbert Harden-Mickey Robinson, first; Ben Matthews-Paul Harris, second; and George Lottier-Francis Green, third.

Others glimpsed around the tables included Carter Wood, Charles Michaels, Lawe Nickens, Clyde Dillard, Embra Bowie, Leonard Underwood, George Jude, Gerald Venture, Clem Venture, Garland Diggs, Orrin Nixon, and Sam Monroe.

KAPPA ALPHA PHI men flung open the doors of their newly-acquired "Kastle," to their Silhouettes, Saturday evening.

And speaking for Kappa men, Dr. Talmadge Pinkney extended the privileges of the Kastle to their wives for movings, etc. Ernest Murphy, of the Kastle committee, proudly conducted the starry-eyed gals on a tour of the building.

And to keep the Silhouettes meeting in the same happy frame, Gwen Brooks, president, reported that the cabaret ball, recently held, came up to all expectations.

Attending the session were: Janice Langley, Charlene Byrd, Miriam Dixon, Madora James, Shirley Roberts, Venciedora Kane, Sara Gray, Gloria Carpenter, Mildred Taylor, Gwendolyn Lynch, Dolores Augustus; Renita Uncles, Lettie Woodland, Erma James, Betty Knight, Mary Ammons, Ruth Wilson, Bernice Watson, Joan Carr, Mary Lou Redd, Helen Thornton, Gloria Simms and Gwendolyn Brooks.

KAPPA CHAPTER, of Iota Phi Lambda Sorority held its monthly meeting, Saturday at the home of Soror Sarah C. Diggs.

The meeting was opened with devotions in observance of Thanksgiving, led by Soror Odessa Howard, president.

Soror Mable C. Waters gave a report of her committee on the program to be sponsored on Sunday, in observance of American Education Week at Coppin State Teachers College.

Plans were discussed for the annual Christmas project at which time a needy family is helped so that they will have a happy holiday. Soror Diggs is chairman of the project.

Members present were:

Sorors Mable C. Waters, Jessie Nicholson, Anna White, Margaret Johnson, Gladys Ball, Evelyn Wilkey, Claudine Franks, Fannie Poulson, Hazel G. Hyman, Bertha Green, Marian Ransome, Odessa Howard;

Sorors Mary Crump Thelma B. Jiggetts, Josephine E. Wallace, Ida Newton, Naomi Lee, Mildred Ayers, and Ruth W. Brunson visiting from Mansfield, Ohio.

Hostesses were Sorors Pauline Brooks, Emma H. Brown, Sarah C. Diggs, and Wilhelmina Duvall.

THE WOMAN'S Auxiliary to the Monumental City Medical Society met in the home of Mrs. George Pendleton.

Guest speaker for the meeting was Theodore Perkins, administrator of Provident Hospital, who expressed thanks to the group for its continuous support of the hospital and made suggestions for a project of the 1957-58 season.

A contribution was made to the Woman's Auxiliary of Crownsville State Hospital Fund for the canteen maintained for patients by volunteer workers.

Mrs. Emerson Walden, delegate to the national convention in Cleveland, gave her report and presented a scrapbook of the proceedings and activities to the auxiliary.

Plans were made to show a film "Israel and the Middle East" offered by the National Council of Negro Women as its Current Affairs Project. Members also worked on plans for a Christmas party for their husbands to be held December 14 at the Chesapeake Club.

All members present received prizes for cards and games played, with first prizes going to Mrs. Albert Laforest, Mrs. Percival Smith, Mrs. Thomas Harris, and Mrs. Glenford Mussenden.

New members welcomed by the group were Mrs. Marilyn French and Mrs. Jewel Moseley.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. George Pendleton, Mrs. Berkley Butler, Mrs. John Braxton, Mrs. Garland Chissell, Mrs. Robert McDaniel, Mrs. George Page, Mrs. Franklin Phillips, Mrs. Ralph Reckling, and Mrs. Frank Saunders.

Other members attending were Mrs. Bernard Harris Jr., Mrs. Bernard Harris Sr., Mrs. Badshaw Higgins, Mrs. Lewis Johnson, Mrs. Douglas Shepard, Mrs. Bernard Hughes, Mrs. Charles Campbell, Mrs. Simon Carter, Mrs. Henry Welcome, and Mrs. Mansell Lawrence.

THE GIRLS of Time Phratria, the teen-age group sponsored by Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, have planned a full calendar for the season . . . and it isn't all for fun.

There are baskets being prepared for the needy on Thanksgiving (Portia Smith is in charge of this project), and story telling to children in a city hospital, under the leadership of Carol Jean Poulson.

But there is fun a plenty in the making, including a weiner roast, a Christmas dance, dance instructions, and bowling.

Working on these projects are Margaret Taylor Joan Young, Sylvia Patterson, Norma Brown and Paula Lawson.

THE FLOWER Guild of St. James Episcopal Church lucked up on a combo of hostesses, each of whom is special in that area, and thereby came out with as delightful a party as could be, Tuesday evening.

The hostesses were Emma Brown, at whose delightful Auchentoroly Terrace home, the meeting was held; Pearlie Pennington, Verba Dorsey and Goddia Ford.

But despite the enticing salad, hot rolls, homemade cake, etc. that was being served, the Guild-ers were not too distracted for their worship.

Alpha weekend planned by Baltimore, D.C. chapters

A weekend of festivities, marking the beginning of closer cooperation between Baltimore and Washington Alphas, will be held Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 14 and 15.

Plans for the program uniting the efforts of Mu Lambda chapter, Washington, and Delta Lambda chapter, Baltimore, the two largest in the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity were completed Monday night at the Alpha Oasis, 2209 Entaw Pl.

Baltimore Alphas will journey over to Washington on Saturday, Dec. 14 for a day-long conference led by the national officers of the fraternity.

* * *

THE CONFERENCE, which has for its theme, "Re-evaluation of the Alpha Phi Alpha Program," is expected to attract Alphas from up and down the Atlantic seaboard. Belford Lawson, Washington attorney, and former national president, is serving as chairman.

The two chapters will serve as hosts at a smoker in the Washington Alpha house on the night of the conference.

The following day, the national officers and Washington Alphas will journey to Baltimore for the observance of Delta Lambda Founder's Day.

* * *

THE OBSERVANCE will begin at 9 o'clock Sunday, Dec. 15 with a breakfast at St. John's AME Church, followed by services at the same church at 11 a.m.

The Rev. I.N. Gray is scheduled to speak. H. Gray Gillem is serving as chairman for the Washington chapter, while William Griggs is chairman of the Founder's Day program. Charles P. Howard Jr., is chairman of the liason committee between the two chapters.

Three of Mu Lambda's members attended the Monday meeting in Baltimore to work out details of the joint affair. They were H. Gray Gillem, Clarence D. Toomer, Mu Lambda secretary; and William S. Powell.

* * *

DR. BENJAMIN KIMBERS, chairman of the undergraduate committee, reported on the progress being made by brothers at Morgan, while John Richardson announced proposals for the chapter's scholarship program.

Wilbert Waters, chairman of the reclamation committee detailed his program for increasing the chapter's membership which now stands at 107 brothers. It was estimated that there are approximately 200 Alphas in the Baltimore area.

A full program of social activities has been planned by Joseph Bracey, chairman of Delta Lambda's social committee, it was reported. Dr. Frederick Dedmon reported on the chapter's participation in the Pan Hellenic Council, of which he is president.

21 women's clubs confer at Goucher

The Maryland League of Women's Clubs and the Baltimore Urban League Guild will be among more than twenty one civic-minded women's organizations to be represented at a Voters Service Conference today (Friday) at Goucher College Alumnae House.

The Conference is under the sponsorship of the League of Woman Voters of Baltimore and the metropolitan area.

According to Mrs. Donald Thompson, president of the Baltimore League, the conference is the first step in a project begun last spring, with the purpose of consolidating and coordinating the public service-and-civic-activities-with which these women's organizations are involved.

* * *

THE GROUPS hope to set up a permanent council for the exchange of information and ideas; and to gain the active support, for civic measures, of the thousands of women who thereby will become informed of existing problems and proposed actions.

The Baltimore Urban League Guild will be represented by Mrs. Olivia Broy and Mrs. Alverta Mitchell. Mrs. Roger Williams will represent the Maryland League of Women's Clubs.

Founders Day

An observance of Founders Day will be held this week by the Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Alpha Alpha Beta Chapter. A rededication program will be held on Friday at the Pennsylvania Ave. branch of the Pratt Library, 8 p.m.

A luncheon will be held at the Madison Ave. YWCA on Saturday at 1 p.m. Sunday worship services will be held at the John Wesley Methodist Church at 11 a.m.

POT-POURRI: Spending the long week end on the local hearth was Dr. Lulu Johnson, dean of women at Cheyney College, Pennsylvania. Was house guest of Dr. Gladys Jones of Morgan College. Mrs. Flossie Dedmond, basileus of Epsilon Omega chapter, Alpha Kappa Alpha, dashed off to Boston, Mass. Saturday for a basilei conference of the sorority, was back here, Lawrence Waters; introduce her soror, Mrs. Cora Brown, who spoke on the Women's Day program at Sharp Street Methodist Church. Incidentally, Sharp Street women gathered $3,475 that day . . . say they will make it $4,000 by time all collections are made. Enon Baptist Church women, where Miss Nannie Burroughs was speaker, topped them. Raised $4,400.

The town, who claims her, is no end glad that Mrs. Beatrice (Coach Eddie's) Hurt, is recuperating at her home on the Alameda, after a spell in Johns Hopkins Hospital.

The Everett Butlers have welcomed another grandson. The newest member of the family arrived a week back, is the son of Albert and Miriam Butler. The Floyd Robinsons' infant son was christened at Enon Baptist Church, Sunday.

Grace Winckler, city school marm, and Raymond, Post Office, having agreeably settled their business by his transferring their Longwood Street home to her, now go ifffa court to agreeably dissolve their marital business via a divorce.

The John Brents took one last fling of entertaining at their Chester, Md., home, last week end and then closed the summer place for the season.

Mrs. Emily Jones, now of El Centro, Calif., flew East, Thursday morning of last week, to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Black. Will be here through both holidays.

St. 1/c and Mrs. Warren Weems (she was the former Alease Yorkman) left Wednesday, for Germany, where they will remain for the next three years. Took their children, Venetia, Wenda and Warren Jr.

Dr. Maybelle Weaver and her sister, Mrs. Lillian Williams, who spent mid-week in Washington attending sessions of the National Council, spent the week end in Dover, Del., attending the sessions of the Del-Mar-Va branch of the Medical Auxiliary. The latter meeting was also attended by Mrs. Lillian Lawrence.

Also in Washington for Council sessions were Mrs. Verda Welcome, Mrs. Salome Fuller, who heads the Baltimore Council; Miss Kate Shepperd and Mrs. Lucille Ross, and Mrs. Anne Beadenkoph.

Cute Natlee Chase of Woodstock, Md. and Robert Mathews Jr., will exchange vows in St. Alphonsos Church, Saturday morning at 10.

Add to the fast - growing Lynhurst Road community the Harry C. Williamses.

"A poor father is just a fifth wheel around here," says Theodore C. Patterson of Dundalk as he trys to get a hand in on the goings on over his brand new daughter. The baby arrived at Provident Hospital This week. Weighed six pounds and has been named Gina Louise.

Mother is the former Sylvia Tureaud of New Orleans, daughter of A. P. Tureaud, attorney, and Mrs. Tureaud of the Louisiana city. Mrs. Tureaud is here to greet her new and first grandchild. And it be ing the mere second grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Doward Patterson it goes to say that Gina herself is having some difficulty providing enough gurgles to go around.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM J. COOPER were married in Saint John A.M.E. Church, Baltimore, recently, he bride is the former Miss Edna Dorethea Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin E. Gray.
