Dobson Circle tea nets $300

The Spencer G. Dobson Circle of St. Mark's Institutional Baptist Church realized over $300 at its autumn musical tea attended by 400 persons on Sunday afternoon at the church.

The church is located at Bentalou and Lanvale Sts. Pastor of the church is the Rev. Spencer G. Dobson.

The tea featured fashions by Pauline Brooks and models from her dress salon; hats by Nell Sheridan. Arthur Warner, tenor, was soloist. He is a member of the Douglas Memorial Church choir.

David Dobson was his accompanist and also provided background music during the fashion show.

Mrs. Mildred Dobson is president of the Circle which she organized this past September. Aim of the Circle is to assist the pastor and raise funds for the church.

Bishop Love at meeting in Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Bishop Edgar A. Love, head of the Baltimore Area of The Methodist Church, was one of four bishops of the church speaking at the Council of Evangelism here, recently.

Other bishops appearing on the program were Bishop W. Angie Smith, Oklahoma City, president of the Methodist Council of Bishops; Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy, Los Angeles, and Bishop Paul H. Martin, Little Rock, Ark.

Bishop Love was also guest preacher at the First Methodist Church in Duluth, the Rev. W. S. Haycock, pastor.

The council is an auxiliary of the General Board of Evangelism of The Methodist Church, with headquarters in Nashville, Tenn.

A member of the executive committee is the Rev. J. O. Lockman of Lincoln City, Del. He was unable to attend because of illness, and was represented by the Rev. George T. Jackson of Snow Hill, Md.

Baptist ministers held joint meet

The Baltimore Baptist Minister's Conference entertained the Baptist Ministers of Washington and Vicinity Monday at Perkins Square Baptist Church. The Rev. Ward D. Yerby, pastor of the church, served as host.

The conference is held each year in October in this city and in May in Washington.

Some 200 ministers and their wives heard the Rev. Henry Houston, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Roslyn, Va. speak on "How God Provides for His People."

The Rev. J. M. Raynor, pastor of Concord Baptist Church and president of the Baptist Ministers' Conference, presided at the meeting with the Rev. Edgar Newton, pastor of Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church, Washington, D.C. and president of the Baptist Conference of the District.

The session closed with a full course turkey dinner given by the ladies of Perkins Square Baptist Church.

Ethical Meeting Mrs. Mary Hayes

Mrs. Virginia Hanson, publications editor for the U.S. Bureau of Prisons in Washington, D.C., will be the guest speaker of The Baltimore Ethical Society on Sunday, November 3, 11 a.m., at 19 E. North Ave.

Mrs. Hanson, who is a former president of the Middle Atlantic Federation of the Ethical Society and the author of an historical novel and a number of other works, will speak on "Concepts of Man's Nature and Destiny." The meeting is open to the public.

John Hicks

"He liked to raise flowers pigeons and rabbits — he kept them until he was unable to care for them and then he gave them away."

Mrs. Daisy Matthews, spoke of her brother, John Hicks, 57, 2444 Etting St., who died Sunday after an illness of four years.

Mr. Hicks died at Johns Hopkins Hospital on Sunday after being there for two weeks.

* * *

BURIED ON THURSDAY from a Calhoun St. funeral home. Mr. Hicks is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ollie Hicks two brothers, Elmer and Robert Hicks, and six sisters, Mesdames Grace Johnson, Nancy Williams, Dorothy Taylor, Daisy Matthews, Helen Coates and Lilly Coates.

McMillan promises to aid NAACP foe

WASHINGTON

Rep. John L. McMillan (Dem., S.C.) Wednesday disclosed in a letter to Rep. Joel T. Broyhill (Rep., Va.) that he would do what he can about stopping activities of the NAACP in connection with the Police Department.

Last week the Virginian, who is chairman of the House District Committee, asked McMillan to have a subcommittee investigate the NAACP "for reckless accusations and unreasonable demands."

"I hope that several other members of the Police and Firemen's Subcommittee can meet with us to see that the activities of the NAACP, in connection with the Police Department, are discontinued immediately," he wrote.

County gives health report

The Baltimore County Health Department reported three cases of chickenpox and one each of scarlet fever and measles throughout its area for the fiscal week ending Friday.

In comparison, one case each of chickenpox and whooping cough was reported for the previous week.

The Health Department also announced that a tuberculosis clinic will be held at the Cockeysville Health Center, Firemen's Hall in Cockeysville, on November 1, at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. F. Hines

"Seeing she is absent from her body, her walk of life—her faithfulness, her joyous testimony of the wonderful work of God in her life shall live forever . . ." said the Rev. C. Davidson, pastor of Fire by Holiness Baptist Church, Roxbury, Mass. He was speaking of Mrs. Frances Hines, 33, 788 W. Mulberry St., in a letter to her family.

Mrs. Hines, who left her native Baltimore a year ago to work in Boston, died in a hospital in that city last Thursday.

Before she left Baltimore she was a nurse's aide at a Catonsville convalescent home for three years.
