'Eva was a regular gal' friends say

"Eva was a regular-gal.

"Everyone loved her and she did her work well.

"She had been with us for two years and was always happy.

"On the night she died she was happy. She was that kind of a gal."

This was the comment of an employee in a bar at Federal and Bethel Sts., Wednesday afternoon as he talked about Mrs. Eva Wilkins an Eastside bar manager who was shot to death in a parked car last Tuesday.

The young man was among those who cried at the bier of the young mother when services were held for her at the Pennsylvania Avenue AME Zion Church Saturday afternoon.

According to police, the 33-year-old woman died from a gunshot wound in the abdomen while sitting in an automobile in the 1300 block E. Cold Spring Ave.

In connection with her death, Robert Lee Hall, 32-year-old chauffeur has been charged with homicide.

IN A statement given to Northeastern District police, Hall allegedly admitted that he shot Mrs. Wilkins with her own gun after she had threatened to kill him.

Hall, who works in New York but makes his home in Baltimore described the dead woman as his "girl friend" police said.

It was reported that following the shooting, he drove the dying woman to the entrance of his home in the 1400 block N. Bond St., placed the death weapon in her right hand and then called police.

When police arrived, they said they found a straight razor in the left hand of Mrs. Wilkins, and a .25 caliber pistol in her right hand.

She was pronounced dead by a doctor who was summoned from St. Joseph's Hospital a block away.

The dead woman's husband said that Mrs. Wilkins had returned from vacationing in New York the day before the shooting.

He said that he had no idea his wife had been keeping company with someone else.

MRS. WILKINS was co-manager of Rusty's Restaurant and Bar in East Baltimore.

Her mother, Mrs. Rosa Scott Budd attributed her death to "jealousy," and termed the shooting "a frameup."

Pat Fagan, owner of the bar where Mrs. Wilkins was employed, described her as "a wonderful person" whose death was a "very great shock to us."

Another employee described Mrs. Wilkins as "a very nice person."

After requesting that his name not be mentioned he said:

"I knew Eva well. She was so happy when she returned from her vacation.

"I was a friend to both Eva and Robert but I'll say this, if I ever bet I'll pay for it.

"I'm really sorry this had to happen. I have met her family since then and they are all nice people.

I attended her funeral but I had to leave. I couldn't stand it."

When asked if Hall had ever been married the speaker declared: "There's some talk about that. It's hard to say."

A woman who answered the door at the Hall home stated: "We have nothing to say."

MOTHER MOURNS — Mrs. Rosa Scott Budd enters funeral car following services for her daughter, Mrs. Eva Wilkins, 1628 N. Fulton Ave. Wilkins was found shot to death in a parked car last week. Funeral was at Pennsylvania Ave. AME Zion Church where Mrs. Wilkins and her family are longtime members.

Passing of radiologist shocks all

ORANGE, N.J. — "His passing has left us bewildered. It was so sudden. He was in good spirits before the attack."

This statement was made to the AFRO on Tuesday morning by Mrs. Laura Longshore, grief-stricken wife of Dr. Walter E. Longshore Jr., 49, noted radiologist, who died from a heart attack in Orange Memorial Hospital at 9 p.m., Sunday.

The nationally known physician and former Housing Authority official was stricken at his home, 366 Oakwood Ave.

The funeral of Dr. Longshore will be held at 1 p.m., Friday at Union Baptist Church, Orange, N.J.

HE WAS honored by the National Medical Association at its recent national convention in Cleveland, Ohio, when he was appointed chairman of the NMA's radiology section.

One of the few certified radiologists in New Jersey, Dr. Longshore had been practicing here since 1935.

He graduated from the Orange High School, Lincoln University, Pa. and Howard University where he received his M.D. degree.

He interned at Freedmen's Hospital, Washington, D.C., and studied radiology at Sydenham and Bellevue Hospitals, both in New York City.

DR. LONGSHORE was assistant chief radiologist at the Martland Medical Center, Newark, formerly City Hospital.

He was also assistant radiologist at the Union Health Center, Newark; assistant visiting radiologist at Sydenham Hospital, NYC; and courtesy staff member at Orange Memorial Hospital and the Orange Orthopedic Hospital.

He was past president of the South Jersey Medical Society, and a member of the Essex County Medical Society, the American Medical and the National Medical Associations.

LONG active in civic affairs, Dr. Longshore served several terms on the Orange Housing Authority up to 1956 and was its former chairman.

He led the successful fight for integration of the Authority's two projects, one of which is named for the late Dr. Walter Alexander, former Assemblyman and former president of the NAACP.

He was named to the AFRO Honor Roll in 1955.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by a son Walter E., 3rd; a daughter, June and his father.

Widow, 42, ends life to join mate

WASHINGTON

For months, Mrs. Mettie Nora Turner, 42, a widow, had prayed for death. She said she wanted to join her husband who died approximately five years ago.

Finally on Wednesday, Mrs. Turner grew impatient and took matters into her own hands.

Fashioning a noose out of two neckties knotted together, she stepped on an empty portable type writer case, lifted the noose around her neck, tied the ends over a water pipe and kicked the typewriter case away.

When she was found by her daughter, Gloria Turner, 14, in the basement of their home at 30 Chaplin St., Mrs. Turner's prayer had been answered. She was dead.

POLICE SAID that Mrs. Turner, mother of five, had been depressed over financial problems since her husband's death.

Unemployed, she and three of her younger children resided with her oldest son, Hubert Turner, 23, and his wife at the Chaplin St. address. It was reported that the son had also been unemployed in recent weeks.

The widow, thought to her neighbors as a quiet person who seldom mingled with others. But those who were in several occasions after she moved into the Chaplin St. home last winter, said she confided in them her troubles.

"WE NEVER really got a chance to know her," one resident in the quiet community said.

"She kept to herself.

"She would ask us how poorly she managed her affairs. She said she wi t to die. And also said that she had prayed and asked the Lord to take her so she could join her husband."

Mrs. Turner had also expressed a belief that her children could "manage without her," an acquaintance said, adding the widow, herself, said she was unable to face life without her husband.

"I've always lived a sheltered life," the mother was quoted as saying. "I've never been alone before."

Ex-Government worker leaves $81,000 estate

WASHINGTON

Mrs. Jennie Bourne Lee, 86-year-old widow and former government employee who died last Aug. 6, left an estate valued at more than $81,000, according to a financial statement filed in District Court.

Active in social and civic affairs, Mrs. Lee, who formerly lived at 928 Westminster St., NW, left most of the estate in trust to be used to establish student loan funds at four colleges.

The loan funds, for underprivileged children, are bequeathed to Howard University, Virginia Union University, Bethune - Cookman College, and Morehouse College.

Under terms of the will, the "Jennie B. Lee Student Loan," as it is to be called, will be available to students in loans of up to $300 yearly. Repayment terms will be arranged according to the discretion of the trustee, the Riggs National Bank.

MRS. LEE WAS the widow of Jabez Lee, retired Post Office employee and brother of Ivy Lee who died in 1956 leaving an estate of approximately $25,000 from which she received a widow's share.

Mr. Lee left the net income from his estate to Howard University to be used after his wife's death to found the Jabez Lee Scholarship Fund in honor of his brother, the late Rev. George Wellington Lee, former pastor of Vermont Avenue Baptist Church.

Mr. Lee was one of the original trustees at Florida Avenue Baptist Church when it was founded.

According to a petition for probate of Mrs. Lee's will, she is survived by three cousins.

Under terms of the bequest, made July 11, 1942, Phyllis Wheatley YWCA will receive a collection of antique furniture.

THE FINANCIAL statement listed the following assets as part of the estate:

Lincoln Memorial lots, $440; property at 1732 Vermont Ave., NW, $3,095; deposits in Industrial Bank, $3,641.41; Perpetual Building Association, $10,706.79; Equitable Savings and Loan Association, $7,290.70; Riggs National, $11,408.87; notes, $480.95; stocks, $75; bonds, $48,000 and furniture, $300.

DEBTS ON the estate are estimated at $1,000.

Her surviving cousins are listed as Hope Hamilton, 2617 Georgia Ave., NW.; Barbara E. Miller, 415 M St., NW., and L. L. Boone, 5618 Old Dominion Drive, Falls Church, Va.

Woman atty. takes oath for P.O. job

WASHINGTON

Miss Cora Brown, a prominent Detroit lawyer, was sworn in Tuesday as special assistant general counsel of the Post Office Department.

Abe M. Goff, general counsel, conducted the brief ceremonies in the reception room of the Post Office Department.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.) were among the first to extend congratulations to Miss Brown.

Mr. Goff said it is a "distinct advantage" to add Miss Brown to our staff.

Holder of an A.B. degree from Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., and a law degree from Wagner University, Staten Island, N.Y.; Miss Brown's appointment will become effective Sept. 1.

"I pray my best will be good enough," she told the small gathering.

MISS BROWN, who was admitted to the Michigan bar in 1948 has been practicing law with the Morris and Brown Law Firm in Detroit.

From 1953 to 1956 she served in the Michigan State Legislature. At one time Miss Brown was a policewoman in the Motor City and a social case worker.

Elks cutting down on deficit spending

PHILADELPHIA
By LOUIS LAUTIER

Improvement was shown in the handling of the finances of the Elks grand lodge as it convened here Tuesday in its 58th annual session.

The order is moving to bring about a balance between income and expenditures, Grand Exalted Ruler Robert Lee Vann said.

Vann said the lodge is now in the black for the first time in many years.

Theater man is accused

A 32-year-old theatre employee, Calvin C. Vaughn of the 1400 block McCulloh St., was ordered held without bail for grand jury action in Northwestern Police Court Wednesday, on a charge of criminally attacking a 15-year-old girl in a Pennsylvania Ave. theatre on August 18.

The girl complained to police that Vaughn had attacked her.

Tipsters share $$$ for being alert

Two newstipsters who were first to advise the AFRO City Desk of newsworthy events, are winners every week.

Remember, not every tipster wins. Only those tips mentioned in the story appearing in each Friday edition.

Both won $5 cash for calling in their tips.

The tipster who was first to report that a man was found stabbed to death in the 1400 block Bolton St. Friday night, was Mrs. Ethel Mae Matthews, 1420 Druid Hill Ave.

Mrs. Matthews said she was awakened by the victim's moans and called the police.
