Ceremony in Emanuel Church for Miss Yancey, Chris Dyer

Miss Patricia M. Yancey, lovely in white sylph lace, exchanged vows with Chris Donald Dyer in Emanuel Christian Church, here, Sunday afternoon.

The five o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. Miss Era Ferrell, acting pastor of Emanuel. A program of nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Mildred Bryant, organist, and Miss Barbara Dungee, soloist.

MISS YANCEY'S wedding gown was made with a lace bodice, with the lace continuous in the panels of the skirt which swept into a moderated chapel train.

Her veil of tulle was held by a band of seed pearls, and she carried a Prayer Book, topped with an orchid and showered with lilies of the valley.

Miss Alice Brailey was maid of honor. Her gown of blue, in two tones, had the upper shirred bodice half in the pale shade, and the lower bodice and wide skirt in the deeper tone. A panel of the light blue, beginning at the neckline featured the back. Her accessories matched the gown and she carried red roses tied with blue ribbon.

* * *

THE BRIDESMAIDS were Miss Vera Warren, who wore salmon pink and carried pink and white roses; Miss Joyce Dyer in green, with a bouquet of deep pink roses; and Miss Carol Bush, in yellow, with a bouquet of red roses. Their accessories and tiny hats also matched their frocks.

Two flower girls, Brenda and Pamela Dixon, wore orchid frocks of nylon, with white shoes, orchid socks and bands of flowers in their hair. William Dixon was ring bearer.

* * *

MR. DYER had as best man his cousin, Clodis Dyer. Ushers were Booker T. Yancey, Jr., Donald Yancey, Garfield Wright, Alfred Dyer and Edward Dyer, Jr.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Yancey was gowned in blue chiffon, made with lace sleeves and lace panels at the side. Tiny rhinestones enhanced the bodice. Her hat was of blue flowers and she wore an orchid corsage.

The mother of the bridegroom chose pink chiffon, a pink flower hat and a corsage of orchids.

* * *

FOLLOWING THE ceremony the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Booker T. Yancey, Sr., entertained 150 guests at a reception at their home, 2313 Dukeland St. Assisting as hostesses were Mesdames Reginia Campbell, Chessie Brailey and Alice Bush.

The new Mrs. Dyer, a graduate of Douglass High School and Cortez Peters Business School, is a clerk-typist in the Enoch Pratt Library. Mr. Dyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dyer, is a recent graduate of Morgan State College and plans a teaching career, beginning this fall.

Among out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Powell of Brooklyn, N.Y., Messrs. and Mesdames Booker T. Yancey, Jr. and Donald Yancey of Detroit, Mich.

Messrs. and Mesdames Joseph Smith and John Crooms and Misses Elinor and Delores Smith of Philadelphia.

ON HONEYMOON in New York are Mr. and Mrs. Chris Donald Dyer, who were married in a ceremony on Sunday at Emmanuel Christian Church by the Rev. Era Ferrell. Bride is the former Miss Patricia Mae Yancey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Booker T. Yancey Sr. She is a Pratt librarian. He is a June graduate of Morgan where he was commissioned a second lieutenant and is scheduled to enter the Army.

Cherry Hill Notes

By MARJORIE J. WARD

Alvin Wallace and Michelle Baker, cousins, celebrated their 4th Birthday recently at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Baker, 348 Roundview Road.

The Howdy Doody birthday cake attracted the attention of all the little lads and lassies.

William Penn weds school sweetheart

William Penn, early American statesman and signer of the "Declaration of Independence, was considered one of history's great men.

No less great in the eyes of his love and school sweetheart is Baltimore's William Penn, 20,3304 Auchentorly Ter., who was wed to his fondest admirer, the former Miss Ola Mae Vaughn on August 24.

The double ring ceremony which united the couple was performed at the 1600 Ellamont St. residence of the Rev. John W. Robinson who is pastor of the First Abyssinian Baptist Church, Warwick and Alunah Aves. where the bride has been a member since her Sunday School days.

She still sings on the choir there.

* * *

FOR THE 6 p.m. wedding the bride was a vision in blue. Her cocktail length blue ruffled net dress was matched by her veil, gloves and slippers while the red carnation bouquet she carried had blue streamers.

Her sister, Miss Ellen Vaughn was maid of honor and wore aquamarine blue, a shade darker than the bride's gown. Her youngest sister, Miss Delores Vaughn wore yellow lace while her mother Mrs. Hazel Vaughn, 1440 N. Carey St., wore dark blue chiffon.

* * *

THE NEW Mrs. Penn is a stenographer at the Department of Motor Vehicles while Mr. Penn is employed at a metal plant.

Both attended Douglass High School. Mr. Penn was graduated in February, 1957 while Mrs. Penn was a June, 1955 graduate.

Mr. Penn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Penn, 1006 Shelbrook Road, Cherry Hill.

The young couple is at home at 3304 Auchentorly Terrace.

Downingtown forced to turn down boys

DOWNINGTOWN, Pa. —Although there are still a few dormitory spaces for girls at Downingtown Industrial School, only 22 new boys can be accommodated this year. Numerous applications have been turned down.

One explanation for the situation is the number of students returning in September.

BREAKFAST PARTY — Having a mid-morning meal together as a part of their club program, recently, were Mesdames Pearl Blackwell, Elizabeth Goins, Evelyn Johnson, Rebecca Newman and Margaret Bass. All are practical nurses.

Miss Ruth Vera Harried is married to William P. White

Gilbert Stanley and their two-year - old daughter, Leslie Denise, came in from Japan, and are the guests of relatives here until after Labor Day. Mrs. Stanley is the former Audrey Blake, and they have been in Tokoyo for the past three years.

They are the son and daughter of Mrs. Naomi Stanley and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Blake, respectively. From here they go to Fort Lewis in the State of Washington, and if their wishes are fulfilled, to the European Theatre in not the too distant future.

'TWAS A SWELLICANT luncheon that Mae Chamberlain and Lilyan Slater gave on Saturday, for Leona Johnson, of Chicago, who was the latter's houseguest.

Miss Johnson, originally from Memphis, Tenn. formerly held down a post in this city with the Public Health Service.

To dine and reminiscense with her were Credella White, Hazel Bailey, Erdie Scott Anela Henson, Mary Fitchett, Constance Alston, Phyllis Shamwell, Lillie Branch, Ruth Lee, Geraldine Green, of this city; and Gladys Bettis, of Washington.

The hostesses gifted the honoree with a bracelet and matching earrings, and also gave Aneta a gift for being the first to arrive... and Hazel one, for being the last to arrive, which proves something, maybe that you should never be in-between.

A SATURDAY AGO, young Thomas G. Cook (he's the son of Edith L. Cook) had a Bermuda shorts party. The guests assembled on the cool double balcony veranda, with its overhanging wind - blown tree branches, for the perfect setting.

Having a fine evening were Sonia Peck, Boyd Peterson, Holbert Johnson, Bettye Russell, Elaine Whittaker, James Young, Paul Gray, Mary Lyles, Delores Browner.

Also Marion Johnson, Lorenzo Handy, Grace Japort, Katherine Ross, Joseph Caster, Donald Powers, Ann Price, Elaine White, Paul Weaver.

Also Laura Smith, Edwin Jones, Nathaniel Franklin and Jackie Peason.

BUT SHE CHANGED HER MIND—Miss Doris Yancey, whose engagement to Paul E. Gardner was announced at the same time as that of her sister, Patricia, when the two said they would have a double wedding, had apparently changed her mind. She gave no reason this week, as to the change of plans.

COOKING IS FUN

Raft of delicacies can be made economically by using Pet Milk

If you are like me you are always on the look out for ways to keep the food budget under control.

Louise R. Prothro, who, you know, is the home economist for Pet Milk has suggested a whole-raft of delicacies that are made with her product, and which, of course, is economical from the milk angle.

Especially delicious are the ones for pork chop dinner, hot bacon and tomato sandwiches for lunch, and banana cream pie for dessert.

Here's what Miss Prothro has to say about them:

"Pork Chops for dinner" is always welcome news at our house—and would be, any way I fixed them. But if you're like me, you get tired of fixing things "the same old way." That's why I am sure you will like to know about my favorite PORK-CHOP DINNER recipe.

"Actually, it's pork chops baked with a rich, delicious stuffing — an unusual stuffing, because it includes corn. The result is a dish that's extra hearty and satisfying, extra delicious, too, without much work or fuss. One reason why the stuffing is so good is that it's made the Pet Milk way.

"Best of all, though, Pork Chop Dinner made this way is the kind of meal that really makes a hit with the man of the house, any time — a good, plain meal, delicious and satisfying. Here's the recipe.

* * *

USE FOUR lean pork chops, one half inch thick (a pound), one teaspoon salt, one eighth teaspoin pepper, one Tablespoon hot fat, one half cup finely cut onion, three cups one half-inch bread cubes, two days old, two-third cup Pet Evaporated Milk, one half teaspoon ground sage, (can omit) and one and one-half can whole kernel corn, drained.

Sprinkle chops with one half teaspoon salt and the pepper. Brown chops slowly on both sides in hot fat in skillet. Remove chops from skillet. Add onion to fat in skillet and cook slowly five minutes.

Then add bread cubes, milk, one half teasp. salt, the sage and corn. Mix until bread cubes lose their shape. Put chops on top of corn mixture in skilet.

Cover and bake near center of 350 oven (moderate) for 30 minutes, or until chops are tender. Serve hot. Makes four servings.

* * *

"DO YOU ever get so busy that the time just flies away, and before you know it, the family begins to gather for a meal you haven't even started? I guess that happens to all of us once in a while, and when it happens the happy solution is HOT BACON AND HOT BACON AND TOMATO SANDWICHES.

"The whole family loves them — hot slices of toast heaped with bacon and tomato and topped with creamy-smooth cheese sauce. Of course, the key to the wonderful flavor of this sandwich is the cheese sauce — a rich, delicious blend of American cheese and Pet Evaporated Milk. That simple combination is quick and easy, too — which is mighty important when time is short.

"Another reason you'll like serving your family this kind of sandwich is that it gives them lots of good, wholesome nourishment.

* * *

"TAKE EIGHT slices bacon, four slices process American cheese, 3 x 4 x one-eighth inch, thick, three fourths cup Pet Evaporated Milk, four tomatoes, and four slices hot toast.

"Cook bacon slowly until crisp. Take from skillet, drain on paper towels, and keep hot. Cut cheese slices into one-half in. squares, then put into a heavy one-quart saucepan with one fourth cup milk. Stir over low heat until cheese is completely melted.

Stir in, a little at a time, one half cup milk. Heat until steaming hot, but do not boil. Cut tomatoes crosswise into three slices each and sprinkle with salt. Put the toast on serving plates and arrange three tomato slices on each slice of toast. Pour hot cheese sauce over tomatoes.

Arrange two crisp bacon slices on top of each sandwich. Makes four sandwiches.

* * *

"IF YOU'VE always thought it was hard to make a perfect cream pie, I've got wonderful news for you. The delicious BANANA CREAM PIE I want to tell you about today, for instance, is smooth — and rich. Yet the recipe is unusually easy, because it calls for packaged vanila pudding powder and just a few other simple ingredients.

Banana Cream Pie is made with one package vanilla pudding powder, two unbeaten egg yolks, one cup Pet Evaporated Milk, three fourths cup water, one ripe banana, two egg whites, and one fourth cup sugar.

Mix pudding powder and egg yolks in a one and one-half-qt. saucepan. Stir in gradually a mixture of the milk and water. Cook and stir until mixture comes to a full, all-over boil and is thick, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat.

Cover and cool slightly, about 5 minutes. Pour half of the pudding into a cooled, 8-inch baked pastry shell. Slice the banana over the top, then cover with rest of the pudding.

Chili con carne pie uses corn meal pastry for top

Today many of us are inclined to overlook the fact that the popular chili con carne isn't the only dish that can be flavored with this piquant spice. Still keeping the Mexican feeling, we can serve other dishes that will be heartily cheered by out families and friends.

Corn meal and chili are two soul mates, also. The test kitchen of the American Spice Trade Association has developed an interesting corn meal pastry that is ideal to use on a chili con carne pie! There's the south of the border feeling, with all the heartiness that your family craves for these first fall appetite-tingling days.

Chili powder blends well with all types of beef. Beef patties sprinkled with the tasty spice and with a chili bean gravy become a distinctively different main dish.

Keep the Mexican feeling when you use chili powder—but don't get into a chili con carne rut every time you think of this delicious spice.

CHILI CON carne pie with corn mpal pastry is made with one pound ground beef; one half cup chopped onion, one third cup chopped green pepper, one tablespoon shortening, two cups (16 ounces) canned tomatoes, one teaspoon salt, three teaspoons chili powder, one-fourth teaspoon poultry seasoning, one-fourth teaspoon ground black pepper, two and one-half cups (20 ounces) canned red kidnty beans, and corn meal pastry.

Brown meal, onion and green pepper in the shortening. Add tomatoes and seasonings. Cook until thickened (10 to 15 minutes). Add kidney beans. Heat thoroughly. Turn into a one and one-half quart casserole. Cover with corn meal pastry rolled one eighth inch thickness. Trim, turn under the flute edge. Cut a gash in the top to allow for escape of steam. Bake 20 minutes or until done in a hot oven (425F.) YIELD: 60 to 8 servings.
