Burned girl, 10, in need of blood

"Colleen needs ten pints of blood."

That was the plea of Mrs. Bernice McGraw of 2000 E. Federal St., made this week for her 10-year-old daughter, a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Her daughter, Colleen McGraw has been a hospital patient since last November 25th when the hem of her dress caught fire near skitchen stove and she was burned over her entire body.

It is the belief of doctors that the child may have to spend more than a year at the hospital and when released, must learn to walk again.

During one phase of treatment the injured girl was given 125 pints of blood according to her parents.

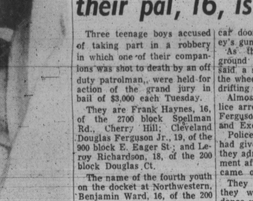
THE CALL for blood donors

went out as doctors started grafting skin from her arms and chest to put on her back.

Colleen celebrate her 10th birthday at St. Joseph's on June 18th.

She has four brothers and three sisters.

Her father is George McGraw an employee of the city housing authority.



LUCKY COLLEEN — Although she has been a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital since last November when she was burned over her entire body following an accident in her home at 2000 E. Federal St., Colleen McGraw, 10, managed a smile recently when told that she must undergo a skin graft operation. Her parents are asking for blood donors.

Warning... lead poisoning can be fatal

In a six-months period the City Health Department has issued a total of 611 notices to remove lead paint from dwelling unit interiors and 391 corrections have been made to date.

The Department reported that landlords and home owners have been "very cooperative" in the program which started in January 56 this year and in only five instances has it been necessary to take recalcitrant property owners to Housing Court.

It was also reported that there has been the usual sharp summer up-swing in child lead poisonings and in July 13 new cases were reported and one death.

THIS BRINGS the total in the city this year to 28 cases and two deaths.

Mrs. Mary Lanahan, the public health nurse who investigates all lead poisoning cases, has reported that the majority of the cases are of a serious nature and it is very likely that many of these children will be mentally and physically disabled for life.

In a booklet, the Health Department has listed the following preventive measures for lead poisoning:

1. Remove the lead paint from the window sills, woodwork and walls in your home.

2. Do not allow your young child to chew on window sills or other painted surfaces either inside or outside the house.

3. Supervise your young child's activities at all times, especially during teething ages, 1-3 years.

Man hurt in unexplained 2nd floor fall

A man attracted considerable attention Tuesday afternoon, by sitting in the second floor window of a vacant house at 1129 Madison Ave., then falling to the pavement below.

At Provident Hospital where he was taken bleeding and in an unconscious condition, the man was identified as Albert Carroll, 32, of 1127 Pennsylvania Ave.

Identification was made by his father, Robert Carroll, of the same address. Mr. Carroll told Sgt. Andrew John that his son had been in Crownsville State Hospital, and was subject to epileptic fits when under the influence of alcohol.

A Provident Hospital spokesman said Wednesday Mr. Carroll injured his head in the fall, but is recovering. He gave police no explanation for entering the vacant house, or why Court granted Mrs. Gassaway,

60-year-old husband must pay wife alimony

A 60-year-old husband who said he had not seen his wife in 15 years has been ordered to pay temporary alimony of $25 per week until his request for divorce from her is heard on Sept. 27.

He is Clarence Gassaway, 2162 Pennsylvania Ave., who had filed in March for a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Laura Gassaway, 56, from whom he had been separated since June 1943.

In the petition Mr. Gassaway states he and his wife separated voluntarily. They were married in June, 1926. There are no children.

Through his attorney, Solomon Baylor, Mr. Gassaway testified that he had not seen Mrs. Gassaway since the day he left their home in 1943.

He also stated that he had been ill, had not worked for a period of time and had just started working regularly in June.

HOWEVER, Judge Ralph Caplan ordered the husband to pay the vacant house, or why Court granted Mrs. Gassaway, 2915 South Dunham Circle, the temporary alimony as her request filed in April 1957.

Judge Warnken said:

"Although Mr. Gassaway did resume work in June, it will not hurt him too much to pay this amount.

"He will just have to live less comfortably for the next eight weeks."

Teenagers held for theft; their pal, 16, is buried

Three teenage boys accused of taking part in a robbery in which one of their companions was shot to death by an off-duty patrolman, were held for action of the grand jury in bail of $3,000 each Tuesday.

They are Frank Haynes, 16, of the 2700 block Spaulding Rd., Cherry Hill; Cleveland Douglas Ferguson Jr., 19, of the 900 block E. Eager St.; and Leroy Richardson, 18, of the 200 block Douglas Ct.

The name of the fourth youth on the docket at Northwestern, Benjamin Ward, 16, of the 200 block N. Exeter St., was marked abated by death.

Lt. Leslie Kummer testified before Magistrate Simon Schonfield that Ward was shot after a group of boys were caught taking an auto battery, two screw drivers, a Madonna figurine and a cigarette lighter from an automobile owned by Stephan Lusby of the 1300 block Harford Ave.

The officer testified that after the youths had entered a car owned by Ferguson at Harford Ave., near Hoffman St., St. (Sunday morning), they were approached by Patrolman Isaiah Pressey.

When the officer reached the car, Ward allegedly flung the car door open striking Pressey's gun and causing it to fire.

As the youth fell to the ground wounded Lt. Kummer said a second man slid behind the wheel when the car started drifting and sped away.

Almost three hours later police arrested the three boys in Ferguson's automobile at Lowe and Exeter Sts.

Police said two of the youths had given statements in which they admitted taking the equipment after their automobile became overheated.

They allegedly stated that they were returning from a dance when the car stopped on Hoffman St.

Lt. Kummer said Richard played the part of lookout man during the robbery.

As a result of the fatal shooting, Patrolman Pressey was suspended from duty and released in custody of his commanding officer pending a further hearing.

The father of Cleveland Ferguson told Magistrate Schonfield: "I don't know what made my son do that. He works and bought his own machine."

Funeral services for Ward were held on Wednesday.

BROWN—In loving memory of my beloved wife, SARAH E. BROWN, who departed this life August 12, 1953.

Yours were the sunlight of my home,
My light, my life, my all;
To know you was to love you
But you answered Jesus' call.
Tho gone, you're not forgotten,
For my love is Heaven's gain.
And there admedy, I ever pray,
To join you once again.
Devoted Husband,
REV. J. FRANK BROWN

Our Angel child has gone above
To the Heavenly garden to bloom
You left us all with broken hearts
Because you went so soon.
God plucked this tender flower
So young, so sweet, so fair
And placed her in His garden
Under His loving care.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender fond and true.
As we think of you dear darling,
That we do not forget you.
LOVING MOTHER, GRANDMOTHER AND AUNTS

JOHNSON—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, JOSEPH J. N. JOHNSON, who departed this life August 10, 1955.
Time has swiftly passed away
But still we do not forget,

Your vacant place there's none to fill
Sleep
Down here we mourn, but not in vain
For up in Heaven, we'll meet again.

All that I can do

by we will meet
On that Beautiful
Shore.
Devoted Husband,

YANCY—In loving memory of my mother, SARAH, who passed away August 24, 1941.
No one knows how much we miss you.

There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
Loving Son,

YANCY—In loving memory of my wife, EVA, who passed away August 4, 1948.
What would we give her hand to clasp
Her patient face to see,

But some sweet day we'll meet again
Beyond the toil and strife,
And clasp each other's hand
In Heaven, that happy life.
