Gadabouting In Baltimore

Oh, la la, how those natal parties sparked calendar!

... with Lula Jones Garrett

Those who say Baltimore has no society in August are swallowing their words, this week. They had forgotten that but not birthdays continue to arrive, and for those events, celebrating there must be!

When Peggy Riddick and Lt. Wilbert A. Jones put heads and purses together to surprise their mother, as a birthday token, they really planned it!

Carrie D. Scott (said mater) with Elizabeth Edwards, had sallied forth to escape the heat in an air-conditioned movie. Liz decoyed her home on the pretext of wanting something cool to drink. When Carrie put the key in the door it opened, leaving her gasping and looking into the eyes of Peggy.

Another step forward and error of "surprise" greeted the speechless matron, who is usually so poised and flusterproof. There were many of her close friends; called by Peggy and Wilbert a day or so before. There was a beautiful table of delectable food, including a birthday cake made by Veola Boyd and sufficiently large to feed the entire group of guests.

Sippables of all sorts filled another table.

The evening fairly galloped away with dancing, talk, joking, etc.

Those who surprised Carrie and showered her with gifts were:

Ruth and Arnold Bailey, Guini and Bill Spencer, Mary and Marvin Lyles, Naomi and William Nash, Margaret and Robert Waddell, Veda and Sue Byrd, Gladys Roberts, Leila Terry.

Alma Williams, Rowena and Bill Lewis, Elizabeth Edwards, Ethel Hall, Queenie Lane, Dot Baker, Matthew Chamberlain, William Riddick, LeRoi Bennett, Dr. Talmadge Pinkney and James E. Scott from here and abroad.

From Washington: Inez Cox, Sterling Wormley, Leon Burrows, Venelia Johnson, Naomi Copeland, Capt. Howard Sweeney, Lt. William Dillard and Lt. and Mrs. Robert Sweitzer.

Previous to the surprise Carrie had had in for a soft of pre-birthday celebration a few "girls", including Martha Robinson, a cousin visiting here from Hampton; Weida Alston, Alfreda Pinkney, Dorothy Hall, Liz Edwards, Lavinia Green, Peggy Riddick, Ethel Hall, Rowena Lewis and Leila Terry.

* * *

AND WHEN Mark Patterson chalked up another natal day on the fourth, there were more members of the families (Scott maternal; Patterson, paternal at the party given for him than he knew existed.

Hostess at the party was his sister, Jessie Merritt, who held forth in her very lovely Allendale Rd. apartment, where she, assisted by nieces, Florence Carter and Vonnetta Tolbert, served an elaborate buffet supper.

Showering him with gifts and reminiscing far into the night were:

Mesdames Edna Butler, Marie Turner, Edna Middleton, Florence Carter, Vonetta Tolbert, Mark Patterson.

Messrs. and Mesdames Ernest Holly, Fred Scott, Irvin Lindsay, Frank Hawkins, Charles Fletcher, Bobbie Hawkins; Misses Rachel Scott, Blanche Hawkins, Grace Pumphrey; and John Pumphrey.

* * *

MR. AND Mrs. Lenwood Lawson, of Bond St., both celebrated their 50th birthday at an elaborate surprised dinner party recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Elliott, of Woodbrook Ave.

The party was planned and prepared by the couple's children residing here in the city. They are Mr. and Mrs. Willie Grady, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Elliott, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lawson.

The Lawsons who are originally from Roxboro, N.C. were guests of honor at the affair to approximately 60 guests which included six children, eight grandchildren, brothers, sister and friends.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Lillian Tally (daughter) William Tally (grandson), Mrs. Randolph of N.Y.C.; Mr. and Theodore Lawson son and daughter in-law). Miss Theodora Lawson (granddaughter) and Mrs. Virlee Thomas (sister) of Roxboro, N.C.; Mr. Cornell Thomas and family and Mr. and Mrs. William Lawson of Washington, D.C.

PERIGRINATORS: Judge and Mrs. E. Everett Lane snagged a cottage at Great Herring Shores, Cape Cod, and have perked off to that Massachusetts resort for the next two weeks.

Last week he took Mrs. Lane to Virginia to introduce her to Rabbing... and just like Kitty, she up and landed a big Norfolk spot on the first line she had ever thrown out... pulled in some 30 others ere she stopped for a breather. They were guests of Jessie and Boyd Byrd and their son, and the party of five fetched in a catch of over 400 fish.

Off this morning (Friday) went the scores of "guests" on the Canadian tour which Gladys Britt is directing.

They're headed first for St. Joseph's Oratory, in Montreal. From there they will go to the Shrine of St. Anne De Beaupre, near Quebec and then to the Shrine of Our Lady of the Cape of Cape De Madaline in upper Quebec. Here they will attend the feast of the Assumption.

The tour is under the sponsorship of the Altar Guild of St. Peter Claver Catholic Church, which is headed by Elizabeth Berry. Co-sponsor with Mrs. Britt is Bessie Burns, and co-director of the tour is Ruth Ward. They will be away 10 days.

At the end of the tour, the Britts (Marcus) will spend two weeks in Saratoga Springs.

Magistrate Linwood Koger Sr. was hosting, this week, that well-known Newark, N.J. Mortician, James E. Churchman Sr. They danced at the Savarn's crab feast, saw the town. Now, upper on the magistrate's agenda is the annual session of the Lawyers Association in Cleveland Ohio at the end of this month.

He, his son, Linwood Jr., and Archie Williams, both attorneys, will motor out . . . have reservations at Hotel Hollenden in Cleveland.

Bernard and Adelaide Mason motored to Atlantic City over the weekend and took with them Bernard's cousin, Mrs. Mary Coleman, directress of the Association for the Handicapped, and her daughter, Dorothy Lymas. Incidentally, Dorothy is looking fine these days.

In town for the Delaware Conference Methodist Church meeting, at Morgan State College, last wek, was Marian Coffman Perry, Philadelphia schoolmarm. She was a counselor and assistant registrar at the session, which was attended by 255 young people. Mrs. Perry is a cousin of this town's Alphonso R. Cottman, postal employee; and William Kirkwood of the AFRO.

Florence Dennis and Laura Waller sends notes to make one envious . . . they're having oh-such-fun in North Hatley, Quebec, Canada.

And Naomi Armstrong, city teacher, is seeing Europe...having already been to France, Germany, Switzerland, Spain, Italy, England and Luxemboburg.

The Braceys: Eleanor, Joe, Jeanne and Cherie, took a respite from local heat with some weeks in Oak Bluff, Mass. The U. Theodore Hayeses (the attorney and his Lorraine, with their Pat) are back from Huannis, Mass.

Melissa K. Sterling and her daughter, Joan, who visited relatives in Waterbury, Conn., came home to be honored at a dinner party on Tuesday, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Fannie P. Rollins. The party was attended by her father, Edward Kelly; John Rollins, Mesdames Maud B. Smart, Annie P. Cephas, Fannie Rollins, Ella Kelly and E. Sterling.

Adah Jenkins spent a week in Pittsburgh attending the annual American Friends Service Committee Institute, held at Chatham College. She was luncheon guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Benesch, formerly of this city and dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Culbertson, who left Baltimore last winter.

* * *

"WE SAID our prayers and I blew out the candles," said three-year-old Guy Curtis Davidson, describing his birthday party, Thursday.

And he was assured that there was no nicer way of beginning a party.

Six youngsters, and their parents enjoyed the affair which was given by Guy's mother, Mrs. Mattie Mayers, at their Robert St. home.

They included Pamela Johnson, Levin Palmer, Tony Coward, Mark and David Gail and Evans Nelson.

And that was quite a party at which Eileen A. Beckett celebrated her birthday, recently, when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beckett, took her and their friends to Patapsco State Park.

Eileen was seven, and to mark the occasion, the following children and parents joined for a day of games, fun at toasting hot dogs, and picnic luncheon:

Huston Crutchfield, 3rd., Earl Crutchfield and Wayne and Kevin Crutchfield, twins, here cousins from New Rochelle, N.Y., Robin and Jeffrey Patterson, Pamela, Paul Jr. and Lisa Frederick, Ricky McAuley, Wendy Hamiel, Elwood and Patricia Hall, Denise and Billy Stanley.

Deneen and Jackie West, Michael, Aaron and Irvin Blackwell Jr., Emmett Smith, Cathy and Ivory Russell Jr., Sheila, Frank, Martin and Laura Phillips;

Stephanie and Sidney Burnett, Joanne Minnis, Lawrence, Avon and Olivia Jones, Duane and Shirley Baylor, Jimmie Barber, Michael, Lydia and William Edison;

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. H. Crutchfield Sr. and the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Crutchfield Jr. of New Rochelle, Mrs. Goldie Beckett, grandmother of Eileen;

Messrs. and Mesdames Jesse Stanley, Warren Stanley, Edgar Hamiel, James Leith, Claude Patterson Jr., Irvin Blackwell, Henry Phillips;

Mesdames Gertrude Wilkins, Evelyn West; Raymond Hughes William Edison Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Courtney, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fredericks and Mrs. Thomas, 80 a year-old grandmother of Long Island, N.Y., who also graced the party.

* * *

POTPOURRI: Vivian Alleyne (Mrs. Bruce) who has been ensconsed in Johns Hopkins Hospital, is back in her Auchenoroly Terrace home.

Incidentally, she celebrated her birthday in the hospital... and such flowers, gifts and cards she received! The posies spilled over into the corridor, there were so many. The cards, which filled the standing space, were also stacked a foot high.

There were telegrams from folks from this town, including the Mayor... to others from all over the East. There were gifts ...from perfume from her doctor and nurses... to a birthday cake, which it took threats from the physician, to keep her from getting up and serving.

Also out of the hospital (Provident) is Nicki (Mrs. Lloyal) Randolph, whose pressure dropped so low that she required three transfusions.

But tucked in is Philathea (Mrs. John) Carter Hall, town's top gal realtist, who was rushed to Maryland General Hospital over the weekend.

Elaine (Mrs. Clarke) Davis, who has just been awarded a 2,000 Fellowship from the American Association of University Women and a grant from John Hay Whitney Foundation, has also received a promise from Sir Stork. 'Twill bring her family to four...they already have a son.

'Twill ala bring her degrees to four. She has degrees from Coppin State, Morgan State, a law degree from the University of Maryland and a master's from Johns Hopkins. At present is working on a Ph.D. at Hopkins.

If you've noticed Augustus J. Halsey floating on air, these days, it's because he is a grandfather again.

The latest addition is another boy, born to his son-in-law and daughter, the Dallas Barcliffs. The baby is a junior, of course.

Two years ago his daughter, Augustus Smith, broke the female trend in the family (there hadn't been a boy in generations) when her son arrived. Incidentally, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Smith added another son to their household in April.

Buddy Craigway, son of the Ray Craigways (she was Willhelmina Reid) has ordered a baby sister... expected about November.

Little Celonia Arguene Walden, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Emerson C. Walden, was christened by her grandfather, the Rev. Charles E. Walden Sr. of Cumberland, Md., Sunday.

Godparents are Dr. and Mrs. John H. Holmes, 3rd, of this city and Mrs. LaVerne Matthews of Washington.

Present also for the ceremony were her grandmother, Mrs. Celonia B. Banks, Charles W. Matthews, Misses Charlotte and Pamela Matthews, all of Washington; and Emerson Jr. and Thomas Walden, brothers.

The elegant new home which Dr. and Mrs. Ted Phifer have just purchased is at 4717 Forest Park Ave. Also with a new address is Thelma George, 2018 Chesterfield Ave.

THE LADIES of the Baltimore Urban League Guild garnered their guests, some of whom came from as far away as New York City and Washington, tra ported them to Love's Grove (the estate of Ruth Love) in Howard County, for their Guild Picnic. It was quite fabulous, what with the members seemingly having no end to their "barbecued ribs" and other picnic goodies. They danced and p l a y ed games until the late part of the evening.

Incidentally, the Guild is being represented at the Urban League Conference which will be held at the Sheraton-Cadillac in Detroit, Michigan, September 1-5, 1957 by Bernyce Welling, president of the local chapter here and Mrs. Olivia Broy.

Miss Welling is also a member of the executive committee of National Council of Urban League Guilds.

MRS. EMERSON C. WALDEN is the newly-elected president to the Woman's Auxiliary to the Monumental City Medical Society.

Other officers are Mesdames Thomas W. Harris, first vice president; Simon H. Carter, second vice president; Percival C. Smith, recording secretary; John H. Holmes, financial secretary; Mesdames I. Bradshaw Higgins, treasurer; Albert F. LaForest, corresponding secretary; G. Franklin Phillips, parliamentarian; and Mattie Coxey, chaplain.

Cleveland bound for the N.M.A. Convention, next week, are Mesdames Walden, delegate; Smith, Phillips, Lillian L. Lawrence, Henry C. Welcome and Bernard Harris Jr.

FAMILY SCENE — From Washington on Sunday came these visitors to Carr's Beach. They are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowman of 1213 Holbrook St., NE. The young lady is their daughter.

Mattie Oliver party honoree

Mattie Oliver, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Oliver of 1129 N. Mount St., celebrated her birthday at a party on Sunday.

The affair, held on the ASCO Club, was attended by 60 guests including:

COOKING IS FUN

It's a 'peacherino'—Fanniejoe of dessert

By FANNIEJOE REED

For a peach pie that is a pippin, try this Peacherine served with spicy peach sauce.

You will need one and a half cups sifted flour, three teaspoons baking powder, a half teaspoon of salt, six tablespoons shortening, a fourth cup milk, eight large peaches, three tablespoons sugar.

Also a tablespoon flour (for filling), a fourth teaspoon each of cinnamon and mace, an eighth teaspoon nutmeg and a tablespoon vanilla.

Sift the flour, baking powder and salt into a bowl. Cut in shortening with a pastry blender until the mixture is crumbly. Add milk and stir until blended.

Roll this dough out on lightly floured board into a 12-inch round about a fourth-inch thick. Fit into a heavy 9-inch pie pan. Leave edges over the edge of the pan. Place peach slices in a spiral in the dough, then turn edges back over the peaches.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 50 minutes, or until crust is golden brown and filling bubbles up. Serve warm with spicy peach sauce.

To make the sauce combine one and a half tablespoons cornstarch, a tablespoon sugar, a fourth teaspoon nutmeg and a dash of salt in a small saucepan.

Stir in one and a fourth cup grated lemon, three tablespoons sugar syrup, a half teaspoon lemon juice and three tablespoons butter. Cook and stir until sauce thickens and boil an extra minute.

* * *

ANOTHER delicate summer dessert that you may like to try is chiffon fruit juice.

It is made with an envelope of gelatine, a half cup sugar, a fourth teaspoon salt, a fourth cup hot water, a can (three cups) of fruit juice of your choice, two egg yolks, an eighth teaspoon vanilla. Mint sprigs for garnish.

Place in a bowl the gelatin, sugar and salt. Mix together thoroughly. Add very hot water and stir until gelatine is thoroughly dissolved. Add fruit juice and stir until melted. Chill to slightly thicker than unbeaten egg white consistency. Add egg whites and beat with a rotary beater until mixture begins to hold its shape. Turn into six or seven cup mold, or individual molds, and chill until firm.

Serve plain or with custard sauce, which utilizes the remaining two yolks. You may garnish this with whipped cream.

Incidentally this dessert is excellent for dieters. A serving contains only 53 calories.

* * *

FOR A company dessert, by all means try this Walnut Ice Cream Sundae Pie.

This is made with two cups vanilla wafer crumbs, a half cup finely chopped walnuts, a half cup butter, a quart of vanilla ice cream, a cup of strawberries or peaches, a pint of whipped cream, an eighth teaspoon vanilla.

Mix wafer crumbs, walnut and butter together. Press into bottom and sides of a nine-inch pie plate. Bake a fifty degrees for seven minutes.

Refrigerate until well chilled. Spoon half the softened ice cream into shell. Spread with half of berries, cover with remaining ice cream and strawberries. Garnish with whipped cream and walnut halves. Place in freezer or in the coldest part of refrigerator until ready to serve.

FRESH PEACH AMBROSIA—A true ambrosial dessert is this fresh fruit composition which combines peaches, bananas and shredded coconut and is sprinkled with fresh lemon juice.

Summer salad

When it's too warm to eat, serve something cool and tangy for lunch—perhaps this refreshing "Summer Luncheon Salad" Smart cooks will like this easy-to-prepare entree.

Simply mix ripe olives with cottage cheese, celery and seasonings. Pile into a hollowed-out tomato and garnish with more flavorful ripe olives.

Summer Luncheon Salad is made with one cup ripe olives, one and two-thirds cottage cheese, two-thirds cup sliced celery, few drops Worcestershire sauce, few drops Tabasco sauce, six medium-sized tomatoes, lettuce, mayonnaise, pickle relish and ripe olives for garnish.

Cut olives into large pieces. Combine with cottage cheese, celery, Worcestershire sauce and Tabasco sauce. Blend thoroughly. Peel tomatoes and hollow out centers. Drain well.

Stuff with cheese mixture. Place on a bedded lettuce, top with mayonnaise and spoonful of pickle relish. Garnish with whole ripe olives.

Serves 6.

OSCAR PICHON, who operates a well-stocked confectionery at 1800 Baker St., is shown adding to his supply of bulk ice cream, one of the fastest moving items in his place. His store remains open from 8 a.m. to midnight every day.

Thriving grocery keeps operator 'on the ball'

"This place has really kept me on the ball since I've been here."

Oscar Pichon, "the only Pichon in the telephone directory," was referring to his confectionery located at 1800 Baker St., which keeps him busy from 8 a.m. to midnight, seven days a week.

For a neophite in the grocery business, Mr. Pichon gives the appearance of knowing more about business operations than most veterans. His has a small establishment, but from his well stocked shelves he has just about everything a grocery customer would want.

"Everything that comes in here I pay for when it hits the door," said Mr. Pichon as he surveyed his merchandize.

If you're curious about his name and wonder if he comes from Louisana, then you're correct. He's a native of New Orleans.)

* * *

MR. PICHON got into the grocery business early last year. His first confectionery was located in a basement at Mosher St. and Carrollton Ave. But, because of growing pains that comes with the desire to give first-class service to his customers he had to look for another location.

"When I first got into this business I didn't know anything about it," confessed Mr. Pichons a former automobile salesman.

"When asked why he got out of the automobile business, his curt reply was; "It's too cutthroat for me."

"I'd wanted a grocery store before," the businessman explained, "and when I saw the opportunity to get one I jumped to it.

MR. PICHON employs two full-time clerks and on Sundays his wife, Mrs. Mildred Pichon, lends a helping hand so he can catch up on his rest or go to church.

On week days Mrs. Pichon operates a beauty parlor at 1534 W. Lanvale St.

"Sometime you get mad with yourself," said Mr. Pichon, when asked how he enjoyed operating his own thriving business. "You don't have a boss to get mad with."

The confectionery operator has lived here since 1944.

Asked why he decided to settle in Baltimore, Mr. Pichon smiled and gave this explanation:

"You know the old saying about you're going so far from home that they'll have to use a 25 cent stamp to write to you!"

The answer was evasive, but the point well taken.

Ask Cleveland to raze slum

CLEVELAND — The National Phillis Wheatley Foundation last week called on the Cleveland Metropolitan Housing Authority to remove the temporary buildings on Cedar Ave. between E. 46th and 49th Sts. immediately.

Miss Jane E. Hunter, president-director, acted as spokesman for the association. She stated that the neighborhood is rapidly depreciating because of the existing poor housing conditions.

She added that the houses were erected by the county commissioners who promised to raze the buildings at the close of World War II.

Corn at top of best food buys

By VIRGINIA L. McLUCKIE food economist

Maryland grown sweet corn on the cob is a particular favorite in vegetable buying this week. With nearby farms contributing generously, now is the time to enjoy corn at its best — "garden fresh — says Virginia McLuckie, food economist, Home Economics Department of Markets, University of Maryland.

Sweet corn on the market is generally of good quality. Corn has its best flavor when it is cooked and eaten immediately after it has been picked. It is not possible for many to obtain garden fresh corn so we must rely on those who handle it to keep it as fresh and in good condition as possible.

Buy sweet corn from a store that keeps it cool — preferably on ice or in a refrigerator case. Remember when you select corn, look for husks that are dark green, appear fresh, and see that the kernels are plump looking, full of milky juice and a good color for the variety.

Now is the time at peak of season to can or freeze corn for later use.

* * *

OTHER VEGETABLES on the best-buys list are celery, squash, peppers and onions. If you want a pepper upper for your menu flavor-wise, color-wise and healthwise, peppers have what it takes. Choice peppers that are bright and shiny in appearance, firm, well fleshed and feel heavy for their size. Use them in salads, rings, and diced, they add colorful garnishes as well as flavor. Extra raw, they are especially high in Vitamins A and C.

Summer squash, the yellow long necks from New Jersey and white scallops from Maryland are good eating as well as good values. Select squash that is heavy for its size, with tender skins and free from blemishes and bruises. Summer squash is low in calories and can be fixed in so many tempting ways, it is a pleasant addition to everyday fare.

CRISP, CRUNCHY celery of the green or pascal variety mostly from California is reasonably priced. Selecting celery at the food counter is a fairly easy job. You can tell almost all you need to know about its quality by the way it looks.

Just make sure it is fresh, crisp and green, and free from blemishes.

When you bring it home from the store, separate the stalks, wash them carefully, trim any damaged or bad spots, cut off the leaves, but save them, dry the celery in store — ready for use — in the hydrator or covered container. The leaves make nice garnishes and flavorings for gravies, soups and stews.

Onions are available in both the dried or yellow onion and green onions at attractive prices. Store your yellow onions in a cool dark dry place to help prevent sprouting and decay.

PEARS AND peaches continue on the best-fruit-buys list. These two fruits are in abundant supply and reasonably priced. Find a new recipe or new way to use pears and peaches in your daily menus.

Variety meats are highly recommended for use in summer meals. Beef liver cooks quickly, keeping the kitchen cool, compliments the flavor of many vegetables, and is very nutritious. There is no waste to variety meats making costs per serving low. Hearts are another variety meat that is tasty but must be cooked with moist heat to be tenderized. Turkey meat continues in abundance. For the fish selection, choose croakers.

GREEN PEPPER casserolets are made with eight green peppers, one small onion, chopped; one pound ground beef, one tablespoon fat, four tablespoons flour, one cup hot fat. Add tomatoes, corn and seasoning. Stuff peppers, and top with buttered crumbs. Stand upright in greased baking dish. Add about one-half inch water. Cover and bake at 350 degrees F. for one hour. Serves 6 to 8.
