Picture not so glossy beneath heavy division

By CHARLES J. LIVINGSTON

CHICAGO (ANP) — In the last issue the Ringside reviewed the once famous heavyweight division with gloom and dismay. Today, we focus our attention on the brighter side of the relic picture.

For when last week we decried the dirge of talent in the No. 1 division, here is cause for optimism in the contrast provided in some of the other classes.

These classes — perennially strong for the past three decades — are the middleweight, welterweight and featherweight divisions. In each are men of sock, capable of exciting box - office appeal.

Each class has a worthy champion, and each boasts a roster of capable challengers. In fact, these divisions are so well stuffed with talented mitt men, that compared to any of the four, the heavyweight class appears a class for novices.

THE MIDDLES are ruled by the mature but ever popular Sugar Ray Robinson, the crafty tan ringmaster who carved a notch for himself in boxing's immortal Hall of Fame by becoming the first fist fighter to scoff at Father Time and survived to regain the title three times.

But, Robinson, strategist though he is, is not wanting for lively competition. For even with Fullmer conquered and discounted, Ray still must reckon with such proven challengers as Charley Humez, the rugged Frenchman; Ellsworth (Spider) Webb, Chicago's Wull-O-The-Wisp, Ralph "Tiger" Jones, all - action battler and one - time conqueror of Robinson; Joey Giardello, the counterpuncher; Rory Calhoun, as rugged, as they come; Joey Giambra; Bobby Boyd, not on the comeback trail; Charley Joseph, New Orleans sharpshooter, and Chebo Hernandez of Mexico.

And any of the 10 are capable of offering formidable opposition to Robinson.

IN THE welterweight division, Carmen Basilio is top brass. However, it would take the battle - scared onion farmer quite some time to run through his list of capable contenders.

All lively competitors, they are Tony DeMarco, Gasper Ortega, Isaac Logart, Virgil Akins, Johnny Saxton, Vince Martinez, Del Flanagan, Charley (Tombstone) Smith, Ramon Fuentes, and Waller Byars. With the exception of Saxton and Flanagan, all are capable of putting Basilio to a stiff test.

THE LIGHTWEIGHTS have Joe Brown as champion. The tall, lanky warrior from festive old New Orleans rules over the following challengers; Duilio Loi, Italian threat; Kenny Lane, the Michigan southpaw; Larry Boardman, the New Englander; Orlando Zulueta, Cuban campaigner; Willie Towers, South Africa; Ralph Dupas, also from New Orleans; Baby Vasquez, Mexico; Paolo Rosi, the balding European; Al Nevarez, Mexican sweater, and Johnny Gonsalves, California. These men, too, are capable of the toughest championship competition.

A TRAFFIC mishap which impaired his vision put Sandy Sadder on the sideline and ended his long dominance of the featherweight division.

But while he ruled he was not lacking for competition and the class boasts so many outstanding battlers that a recent elimination between the top contenders was a smash hit with boxing fans.

With Hogan (Kid) Bassey, Nigeria; Cherif Hamia, France; Miguel Berrios, Puerto Rico; and Carmelo Costa of "Pittsburgh," N.Y. contending, Bassey and Hamia emerged as title challengers.

In Memoriam 1

CONLEY—In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, ANNA STAFFORD CONLEY, who passed June 28, 1955.
There is a sad but sweet remembrance,
There is a memory fond and true,
There is a token of affection
dear . . .
There is a memory for you.
And a heartache still for you.
YOUR DEVOTED FAMILY

CONLEY — In loving memory of our beloved club member, ANNA STAFFORD CONLEY, who passed June 28, 1955.
Sad and sudden was the call,
Oh—we dearly loved by all;
A bitter grief, a shock severe,
It was to part with one so dear.
We often sit and think of you
And speak of how you died.
To think you could not say goodbye
Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best
Oh, God grant you eternal rest.
THE CLIQUES.

CLEMMONS—In loving memory of my beloved mother BERTHA H. who passed eight years ago, June 29, 1949:
Longing, always thinking,
Dear mother, for you
Wishing the skies would open;
Just for a glimpse of you.
With a broken heart, I watched
Saw you pass away;
Although I loved you deeply,
I could not make you stay.
I stood standing at your bedside,
And I saw you life depart
And when I knew that you were gone,
It almost broke my heart.
But no—I won't cry,
For eight years have passed, dear
Mother,
And my heart still aches for you.
The best prayer I could make,
Would be to wait for God's own
time,
To lift the cross we bear.
Not ours to know the reason why,
When loves ones from us part,
Not ours to have to faith and hope,
And to believe in the heart.
Not ours to know the reason why,
This anguish, strife and pain,
But ours to know a Crown of Thorns,
Sweet graces for us gain.
A cross, a bleeding heart and crown.
What greater gifts are given?
Be still, my heart, still murmur

KNOX—In loving memory of our dear husband, WILLIAM E. KNOX, who departed this life June 29, 1953.
God saw the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb;
Gently he lifted his burden up
And whispered, Peace be thine.

His weary nights are past;
His everpatient, worn-out frame
Has found sweet rest at last.
