"Come, Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove"

In Our Churches

During the week of June 3 many persons celebrated along with the Rev. William. W. Payne, pastor of the Wayland Baptist Church, his 10th anniversary.

Anniversary festivities ended on Monday night, June 10 when a banquet was held in his honor.

Before the banquet, a program was rendered. At that time, presentations were made. Among them were a check from the church, gifts and several valuable books belonging to the First pastor of Wayland Baptist Church, the late Rev. Willis J. Winston.

THE PRESENTATION was made by the widow of the late Rev. Winston, Mrs. Bertha Winston.

After the program, the Rev. Mr. Payne, dressed in formal attire, entertained more than 200 guests in the lower church.

The dining hall was artistically decorated with floral designs. The topic of conversation was the center piece at the host's table, a large beautifully decorated "Open Bible Cake".

Getting acquainted was made easy by the hostesses, The Young Ladies' Guild of the church. Each person attending the affair, was given a "Get Acquainted Name Card" by the hostesses.

The menu consisted of a full course turkey dinner. The Rev. Jentry E. McDonald, member of Sharon Baptist Church, who served as master of ceremonies and toast master introduced many speakers during the evening.

INTOLERANCE

One of the greatest sins of mankind is intolerance. Ignorance and superstition are the major causes of intolerance. When a man or a group of individuals, are ruled with the most horrible malady (intolerance) it is because of the lack of intelligence.

The bitterest intolerance grows out of racial, religious, political and fraternal differences of opinion formed during early childhood. A normal person as he grows to age becomes more intelligent and the germs of intolerance (ignorance and superstition) are overcome. But there are some abnormal persons who are infected with this malady that only death can bring relief to them and humanity. As man become more intelligent, ignorance and superstition will fade away, then intolerance will become a thing of the past. The world awaits the day when the words "Alas, my brother will be saved over the last remains of those of us that intelligence can't change."

We, the officers and members of this Most Worshipful Grand Lodge, knowing that our allotted time on this earth is short, are really trying to let friendship, morality and brotherly love be the guide posts of our action.

We hope for the day when men will stop being classified as Jews or Gentiles, Catholics or Protestants, Blacks or Whites, Yellows or Reds, but just human souls.

Sisters and Brothers through the fatherhood of God and Intolerance, like cannibalism, will be a word associated with the dark past.

—Have day in court

questioned Mr. Hayes as to why the forgery charge was preferred on a two-year-old check.

The magistrate said: "The check was dated in 1955, and you just got around to getting a warrant out on June 10, 1957?

"It looks like you were using this as a hammer. It looks like the police have been used, and now I have been used in your divorce case."

He continued: "That's the way the matter has developed. It occurred in 1955 and now—bang — you come here and get a warrant just before the divorce case is about to go on."

MR. HAYES explained:

"Mrs. Carter was not within the jurisdiction of the court from 1955 until just yesterday. We were unable to locate her. She was living out of the state."

At one point during the police court hearing, there was a flareup between the attorneys for Mr. and Mrs. Carter.

Magistrate Wiesand asked Dallas Nicholas, attorney for Mr. Carter: "Is there any probability of a false arrest suit coming out of this thing?"

Mr. Nicholas replied: "There may be."

Mr. Carter's attorney, Mr. Hayes, immediately told the court: "There is merit in this case, and if you want it that way we will continue the case right now."

THE FORGERY warrant issued for Mrs. Carter on Monday lent an air of excitement to the Tuesday divorce hearing before Judge Reubin Oppenheimer in Circuit Court.

From approximately 10 a.m. Tuesday until 4 p.m. the arresting officers Sgt. John Dunn, Officers Leroy Moody and Stanley Jastremiski, sat in the rear of the fourth floor courtroom prepared to arrest Mrs. Carter.

Throughout the morning and afternoon sessions, she looked around apprehensively at the police officers.

At the conclusion of the lengthy hearing, Judge Oppenheimer sternly stated:

"We will maintain the decorum of the Courtroom. There will be no arrests within this room nor within the corridors of this building."

HIS REMARK followed closely on his decision to grant Mr. Carter the divorce on the desertion charges.

In granting Mr. Carter his freedom, Judge Oppenheimer stated:

"I believe Mrs. Carter took advantage of Mr. Carter's enforced absence (while he was in prisin) as an opportunity to leave him.

"She left home because she knew he was to be paroled. She left him with no expectancy of returning.

"More than 18 months have elapsed," he said.

Offsetting any expectancy of alimony, Judge Oppenheimer added: "She has lived out of the state for sometime and I am convinced that she can support herself."

THE JUDGE also ruled on the matter of Mrs. Carter's having been accused of illegally signing her husand's name to checks over a period of time. He said:

"I believe Mr. Carter authorized Mrs. Carter to sign checks for him both before and after he was confined to the House of Correction.

"He testified that he knew she was signing them even after he told her not to do so. He also testified that he never notified the bank to stop honoring her signature?"

Judge Oppenheimer also stated that Mr. Carter had adequately supported Mrs. Carter while she was in prison.

He said: "I do not find that there was failure to support.

"Even while Mr. Carter was in prison he made provision for her support. At one time he gave her $1,000 for her own use."

MR. CARTER appeared in Court on Tuesday wearing an expensive looking toast brown summer suit and a gold ring set with three large diamonds.

He testified that he is employed as a longshoreman, and has been for 32 years. He also told the Court that in 1954 he paid $2,354.15 income taxes.

During the hearing he stated that while he was in prison he told his wife to turn his books over to State Sen. Harry Cole who would take care of his business affairs.

He testified:

"In 1955 she came to see me at the prison, and she said all the money was gone.

"I asked her where is the money and she said she used it to pay bills. I then sent Senator Cole to pay off what I owed. It was then I found out the account was overdrawn $1.86."

MR. CARTER also testified that he had authorized Mr. Nicholas, his attorney at that time, to sell a lot for him.

"The lot was sold for $475 but I never got the money."

At this point in the hearing Mr. Carter asked Mr. Nicholas what became of the money.

Mr. Nicholas replied: "You're not supposed to ask the questions."

It was later testified by Mr. Carter that Mrs. Carter told him the funds from the lot sale were placed in the bank.

Mr. Carter, however, disputed her statement as he testified:

"She never placed it on the checking account. She drew from my bank account to pay bills.

"I also gave her $115, $300, $350, $324 at various times and she got $535 from the safe. She took all my war bonds."

MR. CARTER'S son, Kermit, was also expensively dressed. He stated that he was employed as a fisherman and that he resided at the Fulton Ave. address with his father.

The son also revealed that he has had custody of his father since he was paroled in October 1955.

Ironically, the younger Mr. Carter paid $1,000 in cash on the $2,000 bail placed on Mrs. Carter while she was awaiting a hearing on the forgery charge.

The balance of the bail was paid by a professional bondsman.

The money was paid in ten, $100 notes; six, $50 notes and 35, $20 notes.

MRS. CARTER appeared in Court on Tuesday dressed in a black and white gingham checked cotton. She wore a large black hat, rhinestone earrings, necklace, scatter pins and bracelets and carried a black and white knit stole and a black and white purse.

She told the court that she was employed as a housekeeper and that she lived at the home of her employer.

Asked if she were a "sleep-in girl" by her attorney, Mrs. Carter replied:

"Yes, I sleep on the job."

DURING THE trial two persons testified that Mrs. Carter left their home before Mr. Carter returned from prison.

Robert L. Johnson Jr., parole officer, stated that when Mr. Carter came up for parole he made effort to formulate a program for him.

Mr. Johnson testified:

"I made an exhaustive investigation to locate Mrs. Carter but I did not find her at home.

"I then contacted the son to formulate a new program so that Mr. Carter could live in the home in care of his son."

MRS. EDNA GRAY, 1323 N. Fulton Ave., a neighbor, testified that Mrs. Carter told her she was going and not coming back.

During the proceedings both Mr. Carter and his wife revealed intimate details of their marriage.

Mrs. Carter testified: "He struck me and beat me up so often, I never said anything about it."

She also disclosed that she had no intention of resuming their relationship as man and wife because of incompatability.

She stated that when Mr. Carter requested that she turn over his books to Senator Cole, she did so.

ASKED WHY she did not leave her husband before, Mrs. Carter said: "He said he would shoot me if I left. He took my clothes and locked them up. I had him arrested once, it was dismissed."

Asked if she had ever been arrested upon her husband's complaint, Mrs. Carter testified:

"I was arrested in 1949 before I married him but he withdrew the charges."

Mrs. Alise Jones, 307 Dolphin St., a beautician, who is Mrs. Carter's sister, testified that Mr. Carter was "indifferent and nasty" to Mrs. Carter.

Mr. Carter testified that when he left the Maryland House of Correction and returned to his Fulton Ave. home in October 1955, " . . . when I got there nobody was home but the dog," he stated.

HIGHLIGHTING the divorce hearing was the admission of testimony which revealed circumstances surrounding Mr. Carter's arrest in 1954.

Portions of the testimony follow:

Q—Did you give Mrs. Carter $1,000?

A—I gave her $1,000 to deposite in an account so she could pay bills.

Q—Isn't it true that after June, 1955, you had as your counsel Senator Harry Cole?

A—I turned all my affairs over to Senator Cole.

Q—You said you were a kind and affectionate husband. Wasn't Mrs. Carter afraid of you because of the number of guns you had?

A—Nope, she wasn't scared of me.

Q—When the police came to your house, how many guns did they get?

A—Maybe 12 or 9. They were all unloaded.

Q—All unloaded? Didn't you carry one on you and wasn't it loaded?

A—All except one.

Q—Wasn't Mrs. Carter in such fear she was afraid to let you know where she was?

A—Nope, she wasn't scared any.? Mr. Carter replied.

Suspect in 'Mr. Tom's' death held in Detroit

A suspect sought by Baltimore Police since April for questioning in connection with the fatal beating of an elderly man has been arrested in Detroit.

Police identified the suspect as Willie McCoy Williams.

He is the nephew of the late Thomas (Mr. Tom) Dixon, 85-year-old man who was found beaten to death in his home at 139 Upton St.

The arrest of McCoy was the second in connection with the death of Mr. Dixon.

THE DEAD man's son-in-law, Levin Worthington Chase, 30, of the 2400 block Maisel Ct., was charged with homicide last month.

The body of Mr. Dixon was found by police 17 hours after neighbors overheard him pleading, "Don't hit me any more because I don't have any money."

Police stated that when Williams was picked up in Michigan last week on a robbery charge, he told arresting officers he was wanted here on a bastardy charge.

Digit player fined $25 on guilty plea

A 43-year-old man who pleaded guilty in Criminal Court Tuesday as a numbers player was fined $25 and costs.

Judge S. Ralph Warnken imposted the penalty on Wesley Ellis, 500 block Presstman St.

Mr. Ellis was charged with the Lottery violation when Racket Division officers arrested him on May 29 with a digit slip in his possession containing five numbers and showing $1.25 in play.

The defendant was represented by Alex Rothenberg, attorney.

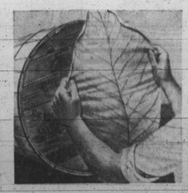
Only Viceroy takes the 3 steps that lead to smoother smoking!

1. Smooth!
From the finest tobacco grown, Viceroy selects only the Smooth Flavor Leaf. No other will do!



2. Extra Smooth!
Each Smooth Flavor Leaf is specially Deep-Cured, golden brown through and through, for extra smoothness!

3. Super Smooth!
Only Viceroy smooths each puff through 20,000 filters made from pure cellulose—soft, snow-white, natural!
