er, of 2027 Winchester St. Mr. Woods and Mr. Thompson are colored.

HOWEVER, DEAN K. Reeves, international representative in this area who took over operation of the union, reinstated the financial and recording secretaries and the treasurer on a temporary basis, and him carry on union business.

Mr. Clowes has not indicated as yet whether, or when, he plans an election of new officers or if the present top officers will be reinstated.

A delegation of union members, headed by Herman Williams, a shop steward, of 1603 N. Monroe St., complained to the AFRO of what he termed "at least" five major instances which have brought on the present upheaval.

HERE THEY ARE, according to Mr. Williams.

1. That shortly after the June union elections a year ago, Mr. Ruke told Mr. Woods and Mr. Thompson that, since he was white, he did not need the support of the union's colored members.

2. That during a union meeting this past January, Mr. Ruke said he was going to divide the union into two parts, one colored and the other white, and that this statement broke up the meeting in disorder.

3. That Mr. Ruke appointed a white member to fill the vice - presidency vacancy after Mr. Woods was suspended for a parliamentary procedure ruling, when this office was always filled by a colored member, and the majority of members wanted this practice continued at that time.

4. That Mr. Ruke, likewise, appointed a white member to fill the zone committeeman vacancy created by Mr. Woods' suspension, when it was the practice and wishes of a majority of the members that a colored member be appointed.

5. That during a union meeting the past April 10, Mr. Ruke violated union laws by calling in police and a private detective agency to police the meeting, and that at least one colored member was searched for a weapon.

The delegation stated that Local 2610 has approximately 12,000 members, 60 percent of whom are colored, for an estimated total of 7,200.

MR. RUKE met the above charges with the following:

1. "I only said that if I were politically ambitious (within the union), I would have no need for the colored vote, because whites outnumbered colored at the meetings."

2. "What I tried to point out at this meeting was that the colored members are in a color line. The whites were voting one way, and the colored another. I said if they continued this, they would split the union the same way. I told them I wanted to see colored and white against issues."

3. "Perhaps it has been the practice to appoint a colored member to the vice - presidency, in such instances. Normally, an election would have followed at the next meeting, but this was postponed on the advice of the district director. Anyway, we had no protests against this appointment at the time."

4. "THE REASON why I appointed a white member to fill this zone committeeman spot was because there were no colored members eligible for the job.

"None had attended meetings regularly over a two-year period, as required for the appointment.

"Besides, the white man appointed was the logical choice, because he was the department chairman and next in line for the job."

5. "When we set up this meeting, I talked it over with district officials, and we agreed that it was a good idea to have police in just to protect union property.

"We had had several large meetings before, and the fellows would get unruly and break up chairs and other property, and the parking lot would always be full of empty whiskey bottles."

Mr. Ruke said Local 2610 had 11,600 members, but the only 35 percent or roughly 4,060 of them are colored.

"I AM NOT anti-colored," Mr. Ruke said. "I was the first to appoint a colored member, Floyd Owens, as director of our Newspaper Committee which handles all our publicity. I would not put a colored man in this spot, if I had anything against colored people."

The suspension order involving Local 2610 top officials can be lifted, according to Mr. Clowes, as soon as the union demonstrates it can carry on its affairs, conduct meetings in an orderly manner and transact its business.

The recommendations of Mr. Clowes and Albert Atallah, district director for the international body, are said to be necessary for the executive board to lift this suspension.

MR. WALLACE, in company with another teacher, Miss Hilda Barrett of 3121 Gwynns Falls Pkwy., was parked in Druid Hill Park after 12 midnight when they were approached by an officer who said, "All right, boy, move on . . ."

At the time, Mr. Wallace said he did not know of the midnight curfew, and went to the police station to register a complaint about the "boy" rethe triple tragedy on Musgrave St., facing Cliveden Park.

The shootings climaxed a month-long feud between the minister, the Rev. William Cavell of 6404 Musgrave St., and Mrs. Thomas and her husband William, of 6402.

In court action, a year's probation and a peace bond were imposed on the cleric.

The foreign matter, according to some neighbors, appeared to be what believers in black magic refer to as "roots".

As Mrs. Thomas, who had a garden rake in her hand turned away from the minister, she was shot. Attempting to aid his wife, Mr. Thomas was then wounded.

THEIR neighbor stood in his doorway as he fired upon the couple. With only a 16-foot frontage, the newly - built houses are close. A narrow cement walk separates them.

Just without the range of fire was 11-year-old Barbara Williams of 6400 Musgrave St. She witnessed the shootings after which the Rev. Mr. Cavell went in his house for an instant. His wife had remained inside.

Upon returning to the doorway, he shot twice at Army Sgt. Emery Crosby who had stopped his car to help Mr. Thomas. Sgt. Crosby, 25, of 13 W. Pomona St., ducked the bullets as the gunman yelled, "Do you want some, too?"

The next bullet was fired at a passing woman motorist. Although it blew out one of her front tires, she kept driving.

The minister then ran upstairs to a second-floor front bedroom and shot himself. He was found face up on the floor.

The commotion attracted the attention of Policeman Thomas Davis who was painting his house on Johnson St. east of Musgrave. First on the scene, the off-duty officer summoned police emergency patrols.

All three were taken to Germantown Hospital where Mrs. Thomas and the Rev. Mr. Cavell were pronounced dead on arrival. Mr. Thomas, in critical condition upon admittance, was reported able to sit in a wheelchair this week.

PRIVATE SERVICES were held for the Rev. Mr. Cavell Tuesday night at Chew Funeral Home, 2125 Christian St. The Rev. W. H. Williams of Holy Trinity Baptist Church officiated. Burial was in Eden Cemetery.

A native of Lynchburg, Va., the minister had been a resident of Philadelphia for 14 years. His wife, Minnie, survives.

Mrs. Thomas was an active member at Jones Tabernacle. Her late father was a trustee.

Mrs. Deborah Harrell, an aunt who reared her orphaned niece as her daughter, also survives.

A third-grade teacher at the 12th St. and Columbia Ave. school, Mrs. Thomas was highly praised by the principal, Miss Ella P. Webb. A member of the faculty for several, she also taught the fourth grade.

MRS. THOMAS was sponsor of Dunbar's Civic Council and Clean Block Campaign. Noted for her creative ability in plays and costuming, she was a leader in assembly programs.

A native of Philadelphia, Mrs. Thomas received her bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Pennsylvania. She was also a member of Alpha Wives, by virtue of her husband belonging to Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity. He is an and Harford Aves.

All three were at the same funeral home.

AMONG THOSE who took part in the services for Mr. Davis were: The Rev. Albert Hammond Sr., pastor, St. James Methodist Church; the Rev. Winfield A. Showell, Apostolic Faith; the Rev. William Shorter and the Rev. Angelus Smith.

Two dozen floral pieces banked the gray casket.

Mr. Davis was an Elk and a board chairman of the Alphian Social Club and a World War I veteran.

He also belonged to the men's chorus and the Baptist Training Union at his church.

DURING THE services, the engineer at General Electric,

MARRIED approximately a year ago, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas went to the Musgrave St. house as newlyweds. A reception at Broadwood Hotel followed the couple's fashionable wedding.

Rev. Mr. Browne referred to Mr. Davis as "a man who loved his church and family."

A native Baltimorean, Mr. Davis was well known throughout the city and had been a Park Department employee for 19 years.

Fifteen cars carried relatives and friends to National Cemetery for burial.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Davis is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Mildred King; a godson; two sisters, Mrs. Cora Barnes and Mrs. Pearl Chambers; and a brother and sister-in-law and four grandchildren.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery
Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids
New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.
In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.
Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.
And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!
In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.
All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.
This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.* Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

mentioned by Mr. Lehr involves a proposed elementary school in the area bounded by Biddle St. on the north; Caroline St. to the east; Chase St. south, and Eden St. on the west. This is directly north of the Madison St. Square.

This site went in the city's master plan this past March 6.

ORIGINALLY LISTED there on November 3, 1954, was a site west of the square in the area bounded by Chase St. to the north; Eden St. on the east; Eager St. south, and Central Ave. to the west.

This site proposed the closing of Eden St. and utilizing a portion of Madison Square as a recreation area.

Mr. Lehr said the decision to take the new site came because it is more satisfactory.

OF THE two new school sites mentioned above, a condemnation ordinance has been brought to the City Council only on the property to the north of Madison St. Square.

This was brought before the council's Judiciary Committee on Monday. Chairman Solomon Lass held up action, when a large delegation of homeowners of the affected properties appeared at the hearing to protest the School Board's new decision.

Father-son affair held at School 101

The PTA of the Elmer Henderson Elementary School No. 101, recently gave a father and son banquet.

William Rawlings, supervisor of adult education, was guest speaker. James P. Matthews, a member of the faculty at 101 acted as the "toast master."

The members of the Committee were: Mrs. O. Redd, Mrs. T. Jones, Mrs. J. Browne, Mrs. Dempsey, Mrs. B. Gardner, Mrs. F. Adams, Mrs. Larkins, Mrs. Thaxton, and Mrs. Jenkins.

Girl gets probation in abandonment case

Mrs. Laverne Johnson Hamm, 18, convicted last month of abandoning her newborn child who later died, was given a three-year suspended prison term Monday and placed on probation for two years.

Chief Judge Emory Niles, presiding in Youth Court, imposed sentence after telling the young mother's lawyer, Douglas N. Sharretts, "I'm going to follow the recommendation of the probation report."

Mrs. Hamm, who resides at 2623 Pudget St., Mt. Winans, was convicted of child abandonment by Judge Niles on May 14.

The jurist remanded the young mother to jail until the case was finally disposed of Monday.

MRS. HAMM, the mother of one living child, was arrested after the newborn infant was discovered alongside the B and O railroad tracks in Mt. Winans on April 11.

The infant died at University Hospital on April 18 of heart disease.

According to testimony, no one knew of Mrs. Hamm's pregnancy until after she gave birth to the infant unassisted and placed it beside the railroad track wrapped in a blanket.

She told the court she didn't "know exactly" why she abandoned the child.

A neighbor, Robert Gladden Jr., 2635 Pudget St., testified that she was attracted by the child's crying and found it in a basket wrapped in the blanket.

Youth misses prison in assault case

Leslie E. Lewis, 19, 3000 block W. North Ave., who pleaded no contest Wednesday to a charge of assaulting a 13-year-old girl, was given a one-year suspended sentence in the Reformatory.

Chief Judge Emory Niles told the youth that one of the conditions of the suspension was that he leave Baltimore and return to his home in Monkton, Md., for at least a year.

Lewis was arrested on May 20 on the girl's complaint that he criminally assaulted her. However, a medical report introduced by Norman Pulski, prosecutor, did not bear out the rape charge.

SGT. VIOLET MILL WHYTE, Northwestern District, told the court the prosecuting witness put her age up to 18 in order to get a part-time job at a restaurant.

The girl, an eighth grade pupil, worked in the cafe from 3 p.m. to 11 p.m., the court was told. Lewis also was employed at the restaurant.

The defendant was represented by Michael Freedman, attorney.

Low Dong top pupil at BTW

MISS JOAN COLE, 22, of 307 E. 23rd St., will be graduated from St. Johns College, Annapolis, on Sunday. She will be the first girl of her race to finish the course at the 164-year-old college, and will be one of the five speakers at the class day exercises at the college on Saturday at 10:30 a.m. Baccalaureate exercise will be Sunday at 11 a.m., and graduation at 4 p.m. on Sunday. Miss Cole is the oldest of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Cole.

"I'm so happy I don't know what to say."

These were the words spoken by Low Kwong Dong when he was informed that he ranked first in the graduating class of 352 pupils at the Booker T. Washington Junior High School.

Words of happiness and joy were also stated by Milton Bugger Jr., salutatorian and Bernice Gibson, the other two respectively of the top-ranking three.

Low Dong and Milton Dugger will enter Baltimore City College in September where they will take the Latin-Biology course.

Bernice Gibson will enter Western High School in September where she will take the Latin-Biology 1 course.

LOW DONG is in class 4-11 and Bernice Gibson and Milton Dugger are of class 105. Mrs. C. Lilia Paige and Miss Suzanne Reid are the homeroom teachers respectively.

In addition to the three top-ranking pupils the PTA will present seven awards for citizenship, scholarship, service to the school, leadership in the school and growth in character. Also to the pupil who has shown courage in overcoming obstacles, the Haratio Alger Award will be presented.

IN ADDITION the Dr. Thomas A. Pitts Award of $25 will be presented to the pupil who has attained most in the face of obstacles.

Finally the school faculty will make awards to the two top-ranking students in recognition of their scholastic success.

The third ranking student, Bernice Gibson, will present to the principal a check from the class completing payment on a spotlight presented to the school by the last three graduating classes.

Matron guilty in husband's slaying

"The finding of fact is that the man did not run into the knife at all" but there was a stabbing by the defendant.

"There was no reason at all for her to believe she had to kill the man in order to protect herself."

So ruled Judge John Tucker in convicting Mrs. Edna Romaine Chase, 1306 E. Monument St., of manslaughter Thursday in the Feb. knifing of her estranged husband, Harry Chase, 41, 916 W. Mulberry St.

Mrs. Chase, a frail 5 foot 4 matron, burst into tears as the jurist announced his finding. Her attorneys, Marvin and Sheldon Braiterman, said they would file a new trial motion and sentence was withheld.

MRS. CHASE contended that during their stormy marriage her longshoreman husband beat her numerous times when he had been drinking.

She also described scars inflicted on her with a knife and stevedore hook.

The Chases had been separated nine years but the man had been supporting Mrs. Chase for the last two years, according to testimony.

Beware of strangers with gifts

Take Marvin Scott's advice, the next time someone hands you a "gift horse" — beware.

Marvin reported to police this week that another youngster handed him a strange looking device in the vicinity of Mosher and Dukeland Sts.

The thing appeared to be part of a TV set and Marvin being 13 years old and of an inquiring bent of mind, decided to see what was inside and for the purpose he acquired a hammer.

"BAM" went the hammer, no results. "Bam" went the hammer, still no results. But then the third bam and then there were results.

"It went off" is the way Marvin describes what happened. What he had been beaming was a detonator cap and the resulting explosion peppered him with shots.

He was treated at Lutheran Hospital for multiple superficial cuts. Police took a hand in the affair by rounding up 23 other caps which the mysterious youth had distributed throughout the area.

There is still no word on where the caps came from but Marvin, who lives at 2750 W. Mosher St. and is a seventh grade pupil at the Gwynns Falls Junior High, believes now in the adage:

"Beward of Greeks bearing gifts."

Illness will keep Dunbar senior from graduating

"Louise Brown was critically ill in the hospital when pictures were taken. The class sincerely prays for a speedy recovery."

Behind these 20 words in the yearbook, "Golden Memoirs" lies the story of an 18-year-old girl who is fighting for her life.

Louise Brown will not be among the 225 graduates who will get their diplomas at graduation exercises on June 7.

She is still confined to Johns Hopkins Hospital where she was admitted on June 4 suffering a cerebral hemorrhage.

On Thursday, relatives said the family was keeping a vigil at her bedside.

During her three years at Dunbar, Louise maintained a 78-point average.

She has also been active in various school organizations including the girls choir and basketball team.

She is an active member of St. Francis Catholic Church. Caroline and Eager Sts.

Louise, is the oldest of the five children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown of 1206 McCulloh Court.

The other children are: Harriell, 16 years, Edward Jr. 15; Betty, 12; and Emmalean, 10.

Mr. Brown is employed at the Bethlehem Steel Corp. in Sparrows Point.

8 from No. 354 make a trip to the nation's capital

Eight pupils of School No. 354, the school for young tuberculous patients in the Tuberculosis Division of Baltimore City Hospitals, made a one day trip to Washington recently.

This marks the first time since the school began in the fall of '54 for such an event. The children were accompanied by Franklin Bills, one of their teachers.

The trip was made possible by the Red Cross which provided two station wagons.

Pupils who made the trip were: Louella Jamison, Shirley Davis, Lillie Mae Williams, Miriam Harrison, Ruth Blackburn, Grace Jones, Vernon Chappell and Furman Thompson.
