Smith and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Lisle.

—Callowhill's plan

Mrs. Carl Wheelock; Dr. G. James Fleming of Morgan State College, and Phillip A. Campanesch, executive secretary of the Commission.

The only Commission member absent was Maxwell Albert, Councilman from the Fourth District.

The suggestion to send the matter to the City Solicitor came from Mr. Emory and was accepted by all the commission members with the exception of Mr. Filby who said the case should be handled within the Commission itself and not sent to an outside source.

Mr. Filby also said that he was opposed to not granting the NAACP a chance to be heard on the Callowhill issue.

DR. FLEMING took exception, pointing out that it is unfair to hear only one side of a question and "not the other."

He said:

"It is to be regretted that our Commission lent itself last week to a one-sided set of allegations and assertions before first weighing and examining these allegations in the light of all possible information, and without independent checking by this Commission's representative.

"This is all the more to be regretted because the one-sided presentation has tended to arouse tempers and to encourage charges and counter charges which can beclout issues and engender community illwill."

MR. EMORY replied that Mr. Callowhill is a public official. Dr. Fleming countered with:

"He has no special previleges. We have no special obligation to city officials."

Dr. Fleming also deplored the fact that many people would be influenced by public city to agree with Mr. Callowhill's charges even though they may not be true.

He also said that the Commission should not have listened to the recreation case without being prepared to handle it.

MR. FILBY vigorously opposed sending letters to the city solicitor asking for a ruling, and to Mrs. Mitchell denying the hearing.

He said: "In my opinion, the decision of the City Service Commission (which lists applicants without racial designation) was made as a result of the Supreme Court decision."

He accused the Commission of "passing the buck" to the city solicitor.

Mr. Filby also told the Commission:

"Discrimination that has been and continues in the Department of Recreation's employment practices would have been before this Commission long before if we had had a staff to work with them."

Mr. Filby accused Mr. Callowhill of "beating to the punch" people who are discriminated against.

STILL ANOTHER member of the Commission, Mr. Sachs, referring to Mr. Callowhill commented:

"He wanted to throw off the shackles of the City Service Commission."

Mr. Sachs said further:

"Any organization has the right to come here and be heard, Mr. Callowhill is bound by the City Service regulations until we release him."

Another Commission member, Mrs. Wheelock, past president of the Women's Civic League, said that the Commission could not listen to a "for and against" group on each issue.

Mr. Emory in summary, said that no permission has been granted under Section 10 of the City Ordinance for any type of employment discrimination.

No definite time has been set for the next meeting. The Commission will await a decision from the city solicitor.

City Councilman Walter T. Dixon (D. 4th Dist.) told the City Council Monday that Mr. Callowhill "should be asked to resign, if he hasn't the decency to do so of his own accord."

Mr. Dixon termed the Callowhill proposal a reflection on the entire citizenry of Baltimore.

"It seems to me," Mr. Dixon added, "that when the Council passes a law of any kind, any public official should be asked to resign if he hasn't the courage and the ability to carry out the law.

"It is inconceivable that any public official should interpret the law," he said.

58 seniors get diplomas at Md. State

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. — Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the NAACP, delivered the commencement address here at Maryland State College as 58 seniors received their diplomas yesterday (Thursday).

Approximately 500, guests and graduating seniors heard Dr. Logan Kearse of the Baltimore Ebenezer Baptist Church, deliver in Kiah Hall, the Maryland State College's 70th Anniversary Baccalaureate Sermon.

Speaking from Roman 12:2 Dr. Kearse said that it would be wise to "Be not conformed to the world but be transformed by the renewing of your mind."

In conculsion he asserted, "The real gist of any kind of salvation, Jew or Gentile, Catholic or Protestant, is that a man has formed a partnership of two — himself and God — against the world and all that dwell therein."

Dr. John T. Williamson, president of the college, introduced the speaker and music for the occasion was supplied by the college choir, and band.

Cooperative Directors were chosen as follows: Mrs. Ivanma H Hart, Head and Assistant, professor of the music department respectively.

MRS. MARY R. CARTER was guest speaker at the annual luncheon meeting of the Sixth Ward of the Cooperative Women's Civic League, in Baltimore, Saturday.

tious grand ballroom of the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel. Upsands not only the spring ball was held, but all sessions of the convention; their cunning souvenirs . . . trays bearing salt and pepper shakers bearing the hostess' name.

The opening party on Friday (a closed affair) was at Norris and Helen Davis' "Hide-Away," and though Gays had planed, trained and motored in during the day, no one was too tired to last through until the A.M. hours.

Saturday was both a business and fun day. The executive meeting and luncheon, presided over by Marion Thomas of Detroit, was followed by a general meeting.

And while the ladies were in session, escorts and husbands were being entertained at the famous "Chickland." In fact, the plan had been for brunch there and then to the Suffolk track. But the guys were having such a fine time that they couldn't be pushed out of Chickland.

Cocktails in the Venetian Room of the Sheraton-Plaza was on the evening program, and then came the spring formal in the grand ballroom, which was attended by 500 guests.

An after party at the Professional and Business Men's Club brought more eats, drinks and music; and then they went on to Cambridge, where they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Moe Robinson.

Breakfast, hosted by the Hon. John B. Hynes, Mayor of Boston, was the final affair. There was professional entertainment after which the Boston chapter presented $300 to the NAACP, with Herbert Tucker, president of the Boston NAACP, receiving the gift.

The Boston chapter which provided this elaborate program includes Myrtle Henderson, president; Mercedes Roberts, Evelyn Cardoga, Viola Minor, Rheia Ferguson.

Also Helen Coates, Myrtle Boles, Emily Lewis, Pauline Crawford, Marjorie Phillebert, Alice McCoy, Helen Davis, Lerlaine Levister, Thelma Crawford, Vera Keeland.

From Baltimore went Dr. and Mrs. Reynold Lighston, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Monroe, Judge and Mrs. E. Everett Lane, Dukye Woods, Mac Allen, Waltye Doles, Alexander Malone and Magistrate Linwood Koger Sr.

From Washington were Dr. and Mrs. Harold Whitted, Harriet DeMond, Leonora Drew and Freda Wormley.

Dr. and Mrs. Carter Marshall, Dr. and Mrs. John Davis, Lois Smallwood, Thelma Spangler, Edna Harris, Edith Jackson, Eileen Brown, Janice King, Christine White, Marion Wyatt were there from New York.

Dr. and Mrs. Alf Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Thomas and Bali Schalk came from Boston; and from Philadelphia were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Abel, Dr. and Mrs. William Ramsey, Vashti DeMiranda, Lelia Jones, Mary Manley, Lucille Paul, Hallye West and Helen Wormley.

Dr. and Mrs. William Session were from Pittsburgh.

MRS. CHARLOTTE MARSHALL JORDAN and William R. Perry Jr. were married, Friday evening in the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Reginald J. Daniels.

Only immediate members of the family witnessed the ceremony and attended a reception for the couple following.

Mrs. Perry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus W. Marshall Sr. and is a member of the faculty of School No. 137. The bridegroom is the son of Dr. William R. Perry Sr. and the late Mrs. Edna Perry of Durham, N.C. He is a clerk in the Baltimore Post Office.

Mrs. Jordan was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Reita M. Ringgold. Mr. Perry had as best man, Julian McConnell of Washington. After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home at 2308 Harlem Ave.

THE SATURDAY RAINS were politely snubbed by guests who were invited to celebrate the birthday of Schoolmarm Jacqueline Johnson at a lawn party at the home of her godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Horsey in Catonsville.

They just moved in doors and had a ball.

About were:

Anna Davis, Delores Sanders, Georgia Newby, Violet Simmons, Bertha Wilson, Ida Chisolm, Peggy Johnson, Lois Young, Delores Lee,

Messrs. and Mesdames Harry Dyson, Robert Woods, Dennie Logan, Sandy McArthur, Theodore Watkins;

Lois Washington, Francis Gardner, Shirley Randell, Jean Tyler, Isaac Harmon, Travers Lynch, Roland Cawthorn, Franklin Cyrus, the George Boyds, the Raymond Regestees and Linda Watkins.

FRIENDS OF OLGA FAE THOMAS surprised her with a kitchen shower at the home of Patricia Woods last Thursday night.

Guests had been instructed to have all gifts wrapped in red and white as that was the color scheme of the table and the bride-to-be's kitchen. Decorations consisted of a white ruffled parasol in the center of the dining room table, supported by red ribbon which went from the chandelier to the gifts at the edge of the table.

At the handle of the parasol was a bunch of red roses. All so at the beginning of each streamer on the table was a single red rose, which made a very pretty table.

Olga received many unique gifts, plus several booby gifts such as two clothes pins to help hang her first wash, twin baby dolls and a baby napkin.

Guests were Gloria Baden, Doris Bryant, Anita Harris, Theodosia Raspberry, Anne Sherrington, Patricia Woods, Lois Young, Olga and her mother, Mrs. V. Thomas and Mrs. Geneva Woods.

POT-POURRI: Those orchids, including a magnificent white one worn by Waltye Doles at the Boston Gays' formal, were flown in especially for her from Hawaii by the Air Force Department supervisor in whose department she works in Baltimore.

One of the smartest frocked gals at the NCNW Leadership conference in Washinoton, Saturday, was Dr. Maybelle Weaver of this town, whose chic white linen, edged in blue at the neck, was topped by a magnificently embroidered linen blue topper. Her hat and shoes were white.

And speaking of clothes, Vigorine Adams out-modeled her models in a black and white ensemble when she held forth at that appreciation fashion show for town clubs, a Saturday ago.

Coach and Mrs. Talmadge Hill of Morgan are heading a European tour.

Mildred Hall of Detroit was the pleasing young woman that Verda Welcome was showing about town this week. Mrs. Hall, a social worker with the State of Michigan, had been attending the conference in Philadelphia. Came here to house-guest for a spell with Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Banfield (she was Marion's classmate at Howard) went on to New York for a spot of shopping.

Miss Jane Sheppard of Meyersdale, Pa., was also in town this week. She and her sister, Mrs. Madge Hunt, and Mrs. Jannie Wilder of Washington were just back from Bermuda. She came to see another sister, Miss Kate Sheppard, here.

Dr. Charles H. Epps announced, this week, the engagement of his sister, Marjorie Harriet Epps, to Paul DeNard, son of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel DeNard, Sr. of Detroit, Mich. The wedding will take place in the fall.

Also announced, this week, is the engagement of Miss Bertha Ann Jones to Robewood J. Vaughn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vaughn, by her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Jones of Cherryland Rd., Cherry Hill.

Miss Jones is a sociology major and a sophomore at Morgan State College. Mr. Vaughn is a political science major and also a sophomore at the same college. The wedding will take place on June 29th at the Cherry-hill Community Presbyterian Church.

HONORS WENT to Calvin Carrington, Raymond Puryear and Robert Griner, as members who have best upheld and perpetuated the ideals of Beta Sigma Tau.

ON SUNDAY, May 26, the Y Wives of Cherry Hill Community celebrated their 10th anniversary. This lovely group of ladies worshiped at the Cherry Hill Presbyterian Church that morning, and ended the day with a gala dinner with their husbands, which was held at the Madison Ave. Branch of the YWCA.

Members of the Y — Wives are Mesdames Maffie Johnson, Henrietta Jones, Helena Bailey, Estelle Parker, Lelia Harrison, Ethel Keef, Marjorie Boyd, Martha Washington, Evelyne Gordon, Olga Benjamin, Annabelle Draton, and Thelma Warton. The director of the Madison Ave. Branch of the YWCA, Mrs. Thomas was also preseft.

Mrs. Annabelle Draton is the president of the group.

The PTA Club sponsored a mid-day movie at the Community Presbyterian Church, Saturday, May 25. The children had an interesting time.

The PTA Club sponsored a mid-day movie at the Community—Presbyterian Church, Saturday, May 25. The children had an interesting time.

The Cherub School of the Presbyterian Church held their graduation exercise on Wednesday, May 29, at 10 a.m. The exercises were held at the church.

The Brownie and Cub Scouts of the Community Presbyterian Church have been very busy of late. The Brownies had a "walk out" to explore the community last Wednesday and returned with renewed energy. The Cubs, under the leadership of Calvin Thomas, have organized a baseball team. According to Mr. Thomas, the team is composed of a number of promising batters.

Children between the ages 3-16 are invited to come along to Vacation Church School at the Community Presbyterian Church. School will begin on June 24 and will continue until July 19. Mrs. Connie McCree is the director.

Church workers association of the church will meet on Saturday, June 1. All workers are urged to attend.

Says Beta Sigma Tau brings democratic concept to campus

"Beta Sigma Tau has brought a new concept of fraternity and brotherhood to college campuses, the concept that the better measure of a man is his humility rather than the humiliation he can endure.

"The fraternity's concept is that inclusiveness not exclusiveness builds better relations among campus students; and that a fraternity should be composed of men with common interests, not common colors or religions."

CALVIN M. CARRINGTON, president of the Baltimore city alumni chapter of the fraternity, thus described the organization to guests at the dinner meeting which marked the ninth anniversary, Saturday.

The session was held in the Madison Avenue Branch YWCA, with William H. Ross presiding.

Pointing out that the fraternity was the pioneer in breaking the color bar of such organizations on college campuses, Mr. Carrington told the group it is also pioneering in broad welfare interests.

Towards the latter the Baltimore chapter assists indigent persons, victims of disaster and has as special project a big brother program with the youngsters at Boys' Village. They give personal service in play, at parties and in other personal relations needed.

The fraternity, said Mr. Carrington, also provides scholarships for deserving students.

Wilkins cited by Unitarians

BOSTON —Roy Wilkins executive secretary of the NAACP, received the John Haynes Holmes-Arthur L. Weatherly award of the Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice on Friday.

The award was presented to Mr. Wilkins at the Fellowship board's annual dinner meeting here. The award, presented annually to an individual "who has provided outstanding leadership in social justice during the year," cited Mr. Wilkins for his leadership of "that courageous organization, the NAACP."

In his acceptance address, the NAACP leader recalled that Dr. Holmes had been one of 53 leaders who signed the Lincoln Day call in 1909 which led to the organization of the NAACP. He summarized the hostile actions against the Association in the South and called for enactment of the pending civil rights bill in Congress.
