Acquitted at second trial for robbery

The second time around held the charm for James Curtis McIntosh, 26, 600 block S. Green St.

After winning a new trial in a purse snatching case, Mr. McIntosh on Friday was acquitted of the charge by a jury in the court of Judge John Tucker.

In January a jury convicted Mr. McIntosh of robbing Mrs. Anna Walker, 414 E. North Ave., on Nov. 26 of her purse containing five dollars in currency.

AT THAT time Judge S. Ralph Warnken withheld sentence when Bernard B. Feiken, defense attorney, said he would file a new trial motion. The Supreme Bench on April 6 granted the defendant a new trial.

Mr. McIntosh was found not guilty on the second day of the robbery trial.

Under Maryland law the maximum penalty on conviction for unarmed robbery is ten years imprisonment.

Harlem Park meet

The foot policeman who enforces the law in any given neighborhood has the additional responsibility of acting as a human relations counselor.

This was the general opinion of persons participating in a discussion of police-community cooperation Monday at the Harlem Park Neighborhood Stewardship meeting seeking ways to improve living conditions in that area.

Capt. Norman Schleigh, commander of the Police Academy, and Alvin Zumbrun, of the Criminal Justice Commission, led the lively discussion.

Other discussion groups considered a variety of problems confronting persons residing in the Harlem Park area.

Mrs. Mary Brooks, chairman of the Harlem Park Neighborhood Council, was moderator of the meeting.

Dr. William E. Vickery, director of the Baltimore Education Commission, and Dr. Louis A. Radelet, of New York, gave summaries at the conclusion of the meeting.

"The meeting was held at Wood School No. 136, Schroeder and Franklin Sts. The final session will be held next Wednesday evening.

gets 3 years

"When I went in there I didn't take nothing. I didn't intend to take nothing."

This explanation by Rudolph Lee Jr., 33, 100 block W. Henrietta St., did not convince Judge Joseph L. Kaplan Warnken who sentenced the pint-sized convict to three years in the Penitentiary for burglary.

John Weiss, prosecutor, said Mr. Lee was arrested by police who observed the defendant entering a rear window of Biasco's Cafe, 509 Light St., on April 26.

Mr. Lee told the court he had been drinking on the night of his arrest. He said he entered an open window of the place and was coming out of the cafe, not entering it, when the officer arrived.

According to Mr. Weiss, the defendant has a criminal record dating back to 1940.
