STRICT ATTENTION is given conference business by Bishop Edgar J. Amos Love, area bishop, and D. R. Fletcher, director of Division of Nations, right, as they listen to reports at the Thursday session of the 94th Washington annual Conference of the Methodist Church at Ames Memorial, Carey and Baker Sts. Meetings opened on May 21, will close Sunday in the Morgan State College Hurtt Gymnasium with announcement of appointments at the 3 p.m. session.

1,000 STRONG, Methodist ministers, delegates and visitors are in attendance here at the 94th session of the Washington Annual Conference. Shown above is the overall view of Wednesday's meeting held at the Ames Memorial Church, Carey and Baker Sts. The Rev. F. J. Frye is host pastor. The Rt. Rev. Edgar A. Love, resident bishop of the Baltimore Area, is presiding at the six-day session. The conference closes with reading of appointments on Sunday at 3 p.m. at the Hurt Gymnasium at Morgan State College.

Anticipates no major church changes, says Bishop Love

"I anticipate there will be no major changes . . . just routine appointments."

The Rt. Rev. Edgar A. Love, resident bishop, was speaking on Wednesday as the 94th session of the Washington Annual Conference began its organization.

The conference is meeting at Ames Church, Carey and Baker Sts. The Rev. F. J. Frye is host pastor.

As resident bishop the Rt. Rev. Mr. Love is host to the approximately 1,000 delegates and visitors in attendance here from churches in Md., Va., W. Va., Pa., and the District of Columbia.

* * *

THE CONFERENCE will conclude on Sunday at 3 p.m. with the reading of appointments.

This final session will be held in the Hurtt Gymnasium at Morgan State College, as will the 11 a.m. Sunday service when Bishop Love will give the sermon.

Baltimore leaders welcomed delegates to the city on Tuesday evening at a public meeting.

The AFRO's 1957 Ideal Mother Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson, told the audience:

"The church has been highly responsible for the progress in our state. But I hope the church will concentrate more on education the community that to register and vote means freedom."

* * *

FURTHER greetings were extended by Dr. Martin Jenkins, Morgan State College president; Dr. Houston Jackson, assistant superintendent of schools; Dr. Willard W. Allen, grand master of Masons and Mrs. Pearl Brown, daughter ruler of the Elks Great Southern Temple No. 30.

Mrs. Patricia Dorsey spoke for the youth of the church, Dr. H. C. Graham, the Ministerial Alliance; Alfred Dixon, Ames Church, while the Rev. C. H. Churn brought greetings from the Baptist State 31st. Convention in session at the Whitestone Baptist Church.

Greetings were sent by Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, Jr., and by Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin's office.

* * *

RESPONSE TO the greetings was by the Rev. Edward G. Carroll, who said the speakers offered "an atmosphere of encouragement" for church efforts. The Rev. R. H. Johnson presided.

Wednesday's program was highlighted by the afternoon report on Bennett College by its president, Dr. Willa B. Player, who made an appeal to the conference for a Health education building which will afford additional instruction opportunities in the field of special health education.

Bishop Love opened Wednesday's session with Holy Communion assisted by the Rev. Mr. Frye, while Friday's session began with the Rt. Rev. Mr. Love's devotional address.

Dr. Norman L. Trott, president, Westminster Theological Seminary, was guest speaker at the afternoon session.

* * *

FRIDAY'S (today) meeting opened with devotions by the Rev. I. G. Simpson and included the report of the Ministers' Wives Association.

Dr. Harry V. Richardson, president of Gammon Theological Seminary, Atlanta, delivered the afternoon address at 12:30 p.m.

Among those presiding at the Conference of Women's Society of Christian Service will be Mrs. Olivia Batter, president, the Rev. Mrs. Emma D. Hill and Mrs. Edna Rawlings.

Presiding at the evening services will be the Revs. C. E. Johnson, A. W. White, L. A. Dyson, H. A. Parker, H. A. Green, L. Scott Allen, David M. Pleasants, and Dr. Douglas Ward, who is executive secretary of the General Board.

* * *

HIGHLIGHTS OF Saturday's program are the reports of the Board of Education at 9 a.m.; the Ordination service at 11 a.m., with sermon by the Rev. Silas J. Mack.

Bishop Love will ordain the ministers assisted by the District Superintendents.

The ministers' wives outing will be at the home of Bishop and Mrs. Love, 2416 Montebello Terrace Morgan Park at 3:30 p.m. on Saturday.

BETWEEN SESSIONS of the 94th Washington Annual Conference of the Methodist Church which met at Ames Memorial Church this week, are shown resting: The Rev. Oliver Beason, Simpson Church, Wheeling, W. Va.; The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. T. Beecher Travis, of Roanoke's St. Paul Church, and the Rev. Albert H. Hammond, Sr., St. James Church, Baltimore.

OUT-OF-TOWN ministers discuss the days program on sidewalk outside Ames Methodist Church, Carey and Baker Sts., on Tuesday as the 94th session of the Washington Annual Conference got underway. They are left to right: The Revs. L. A. Dyson, Indianhead, Md.; Clarence Davis, Broadneck, Md.; J. H. Peters, Washington and Godfrey L. Tate, Staunton, Va.

Trinity AME settles suit out of court

A suit filed by Sidney Bearmand and Philip E. Wolfe against Trinity AME Church to compel the latter to pay them a sales commission has been settled out of court.

The complainants charged that they were engaged by the Church group and the pastor, the Rev. I. A. Miller, to negotiate with the Mayor and City Council for the sale of the church properties at 262 and 264 W. Biddle St. and 255 Camel St.

A commission of five per cent was agreed upon, they said.

* * *

THE PAIR obtained a sales price of $78,000, they said, and the Rev. Mr. Miller expressed complete satisfaction with this price.

Then, they charged, the Rev. Mr. Miller hired Josiah F. Henry Jr.; attorney, who got $4,000 more for the property.

They asked for a declatory order alloting them $3,900.

Under the settlement the church will pay Messrs. Bearman and Wolfe $2,100. The original claim of $3,900 with court costs would have amounted to $4,250.

* * *

MR. HENRY is representing the congregation in the purchase of its new edifice, the former St. Mark Lutheran Church and parsonage at Collington Ave. and Hoffman St.

The congregation of Trinity is purchasing this property for $87,000, and moves into its new home on Sunday, June 9.

It had to vacate its Biddle St. church to make way for a State Office building in Redevelopment Area 12.

BAPTIST MEET ENDS TODAY

Rename Boddie—favor aid for Union debt, back merger

"I felt since the mortgage on the Baptist Home for the Aged was paid off, my work was done.

"I have completed seven years. I thought I'd settle down, but they re-elected me."

The Rev. Timothy Boddie, pastor of New Shiloh Baptist Church was telling the AFRO on Thursday of his re-election as president of the United Baptist Missionary Convention of Maryland.

Election of officers took place at the White Stone Baptist Church, Baker and Longwood Sts., where the 31st annual session of the Baptist convention will close Friday (today).

In attendance are 800 delegates and visitors from all over the state.

Under the Rev. Mr. Boddie's leadership, the Baptist Home for the Aged on Raynor Ave. was purchased at a cost of $26,500.

HIGHLIGHTING convention business was the appointment of three committees.

One under the chairmanship of the Rev. Thomas B. Davis, Leadenhall pastor, is to devise plans by which local Baptist churches may give financial assistance to the Union church to liquidate its debt.

A second committee was organized to propose a merger of the Maryland Baptist Convention, whose president is Mt. Sinai Pastor, the Rev. J. R. Butler, and the United Baptist Convention.

The Rev. A. J. Payne, pastor of the Enon church, was named chairman.

A third committee is to work out an organization of deacons which may become affiliated with the State Convention. The Rev. Ward D. Yerby is chairman.

* * *

OFFICERS elected for the year 1957-58 are:

The Revs. Mr. Boddie, president; Charles H. Churn, first vice-president; Leroy Bowman, second vice-president;

W. H. Thompson, third vice-president; G. A. Crawley, Jr., recording secretary; E. W. Williams, assistant recording secretary.

Also the Revs. W. D. Yerby, corresponding secretary; Hiram E. Smith, statistician; Luke G. Reynolds, treasurer; J. L. Moore, auditor; J. H. Matthews, director of finance; Isaac Williams, secretary of finance;

And, B. F. Jackson, chairman of education board; W. L. Clayton, chairman of foreign mission board; V. T. Taylor, chairman of home mission board.

The Revs. C. H. Churn, chairman of National Baptist home mission board; J. L. Tilley, director of Christian Endeavor.

* * *

U. THEODORE Hayes was re-elected attorney while George V. Lottier was executive secretary of the Maryland Baptist Aged Home.

The Rev. Marcus G. Wood was secretary of the nominating committee of which the Rev. Mr. Payne was chairman.

The convention will close today (Friday) with the Rev. Mr. Bowman presiding at the afternoon session at which time Dr. S. D. Proctor, president of Virginia Union University, will speak.

The Rev. Mr. Boddie will preside at the evening session, while the Rev. T. J. Andrews, pastor of the Fairmount Heights First Church, will deliver the Missionary sermon.

REV. J. TIMOTHY BODDIE Begins 8th year as president of Baptist Convention

Rev. Matthews visits Union

"I was just here for the day—it was Women's Day.

"I am going back to a rest home for a few days longer. I don't know just how long.

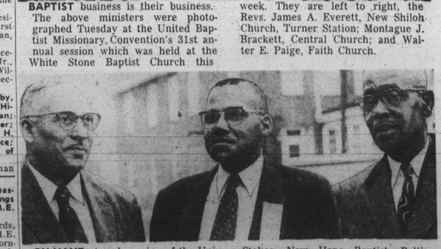
"I feel pretty good now and I am returning this afternoon."

The Rev. Baxter L. Matthews, pastor of Union Baptist Church, Druid Hill Ave. near Dolphin St., was telling the AFRO Sunday about his first day in his church after a 10-week absence.

The Rev. Mr. Matthews has been at the Brook Lane Rest Home near Hagerstown, Md. since April 13.

He was accompanied on the return trip to the rest home by his wife and Charles H. Pressley, a Union Church deacon.

BAPTIST business is their business. The above ministers were photographed Tuesday at the United Baptist Missionary Convention's 31st annual session which was held at the White Stone Baptist Church this week. They are left to right, the Revs. James A. Everett, New Shiloh Church, Turner Station; Montague J. Brackett, Central Church; and Walter E. Paige, Faith Church.



ON HAND at each session of the United Baptist Missionary Convention's 31st annual session were the Revs. David Benjamin Banks, Greater St. Johns, Turner Station; T. B. Scott, First Baptist, Bel Air; and W. N. Stokes, New Hope Baptist, Baltimore. The conference, convened on Tuesday, holds its final meeting today (Friday). All meetings were at White Stone Church, Baker and Longwood Sts.

Randallstown, Md., Mt. Pleasant A.M.E. Church, Owings Mills, and Campfield A.M.E. Church, Hanover, Md.

The Rev. W. N. Edwards, pastor, Union Bethel A.M.E. Church, will deliver the morning message Sunday on the subject of the Third Commandment.
