Beach party and picnic next on Alpha's social calendar

Their spring formal now a gladly accepted the challenge matter of pleasant memory, of Baltimore Alphas in the reLambda chapter are now turning their attention to plans for their first Intercity beach party and picnic to be held in July.

Co-hosts at this affair will be brother Alphas from Washington's Mu Lambda chapter, 15 of whom were guests of the local chapter Monday night at the A-Phi-A oasis, 2209 Eutaw Place.

High spot of the meeting was the appearance of James Hinger, of Chicago, the fraternity's general secretary, who made a brief report of plans for the general convention to be held this year in Los Angeles in August.

Morgan College Charm Club ends year with gala party

Misses Hope Gray, Shirley The Tubman House Lounge was literally a flower garden of fresh blooming tulips when the Charm Club gave its closing party at Morgan State College on Thursday evening.

Members of the Charm Club, gaily attired in varied spring frocks, and their escorts enjoyed a festive evening dancing, playing games, and enjoying a delectable supper.

Misses Hazel and Ann Jenkins, president and vice president, respectively, of the Charm Club, assisted Dean Thelma P. Bando, the club's founder and sponsor, in receiving the many guests.

For the occasion, Miss Hazel Jenkins wore a printed nylon chiffon with flowing skirt. Her sister, Ann, chose a melon colored sheath dress, and Dean Bando was attired in a sheet lame blue metallic frock.

MEMBERS OF this Charm Club ended their year of activity in cultural training, and the closing party was some what of a practical experiment to see how well the social graces that had been taught were retained and put into action.

The party ended by the club repeating its slogan "Morgan girls are cultured girls" and "Morgan men are gentlemen."

This marked the end of this year's Charm Club, as a new Charm Club will be formed with the ensuing freshman class.

OFFICERS, other than the Misses Jenkins, are Misses Jean Strayhorn, secretary; Valerie Milton, treasurer; Hope H. Gray, chairman of the social committee; and Etha Vincent, sergeant-at-arms.

don, Frances Drye, Aurelia Parker; Jessie Colson, Gloria McDaniel and Betty Williams. Mrs. Sheffey and Miss Colson, long-time Fellowship House workers, are the coordinators.

Fellowships' monthly "Open House" for May will take place on Sunday, May 26, half an hour earlier than usual, and at a new place this one time.

The time is 3:30 p.m. and the place: Koinonia Foundation, Valley Road, near Green Spring Ave., Pikesville.

This will be a full program, including the installation of new officers of Fellowship House. The feature attraction will be a literary review of Langston Hughes' book, "I Wonder as I Wander," by Professor Waters Murpin of the English Department of Morgan State College, an author in his own right.

The choir of St. Andrew's Russian Orthodox Church will sing. Refreshments will be served.

Weather permitting, the "Open House" will be held in one of Koinonia's lovely groves under the skies. Regardless of the weather, "Open House" at Koinonia is also invited to join the Koinonia family in their Sunday vespers at 5 p.m., after which supper will be available.

THE PAST week was anything but dull, however. Morgan State College Faculty-Trustee Wives Club closed what has been a busy year with a gala garden party, Sunday afternoon.

The affair was held at the residence of the club president, Mrs. Nick Ford of Arlington Ave.

Enjoying what has perhaps been the busiest season in its almost seven-year history, the club this year presented several social meetings, entertained all faculty women of the college at a meeting during which Dr. Regina Goff discussed her experiences in Iran, and teamed up with the Maryland League of Women's Clubs in co-sponsoring a public meeting at which the Hon. George Palmore, Ambassador of Liberia, spoke.

ALSO AT Morgan, Alpha Iota chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity entertained at a Mother's Day tea, Sunday, in lovely Truth House lounge, made lovelier still with its decor of flowers, its laden table, with the sweet-faced matters proudly wearing corsages pinned on them by their sons.

The Kappa men presented their newly elected "Sweetheart," Vivian Fowlkes, of this town, an AKA pledgee. There were greetings by Prof. Idell W. E. Taylor, solos by Sylvia Waters, and the Sweetheart Song sung by the fraters to their honor guests.

Miss Fowlkes, incidentally, will reign tonight, as the chapter holds its annual Sweetheart ball. Will alo receive a beautiful 2½-foot trophy.

In the firt of a series of concerts to be given by the chapter, Daniel Comegys, lyric-baritone, will be presented at the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church on Sunday. Monies from this project go to its scholarship fund.

ROSEMARY JOHNSON, member of the Lorelei Club, delightfully surprised her club members on Saturday at the pretty Longwood Street home of her sister, Margaret Wilson, also a Lorelei.

What members thought would be a regular meeting turned out to be a party in honor of their mothers.

The affair was beautifully planned...from orchids for each mother to the delectable dinner, and photographs of each being made as souvenirs.

The honor guests were Mesdames Florence Hawkins, Carolyn Williams, Carmen Ball, Mollie Spence, Nannie David of Elizabeth, N.J., Rachel Cooper, Janie Shorter, Annie Williams, Edith Umphery, Theodosia Johnson and Susan Boston.

Club members, other than the hostesses, are Elsie Colona, Helen Dixon, Dorothy Johnston, Sarah Newton, Theodosia Stokes, Elizabeth Umphery, Dorothy Wood and Mary James.

SOCIAL WORKER Geraldine Shephard was showered with baby gifts at a party at the Elgin Avenue home of Oriene Gregg, by her club members of Les Sylphides, and friends, recently.

Her new baby, a son, arrived at Johns Hopkins Hospital and has been named Thomas Barry. The proud father is Probation Officer Milton Shephard.

Les Sylphides (hostesses) included Lorraine Eason, Jean Maulsby, Thelma Greene, Oriene Gregg, Mary Ann Watts, Clara Jones, Dorothy Dunston and Shirley Gilbert.

Others present were Nellie Cottman, Leona Carpenter, Grace Walker, Gertrude Smith, Allison Barrett and Evelyn Fronberger.

JO ANN, Joe and Eleanor, Bracy's elder daughter, celebrated that special birthday, the 14th, Saturday ago, which,

LADIES' NIGHT of Grace Presbyterian Church Men's Club was observed on Tuesday evening when Dr. Regina Goff, Morgan State College professor, was guest speaker. Seated, left to right, Mrs. Ethel Day, Mrs. Catherine Frisby, the Rev. Robert T. Newbold, pastor of the church, and Mrs. Newbold.

Cardigans plan cocktail party

The Cardigans, Inc., will hold its next meeting tonight (Friday) at the home of Mrs. Beulah Westcott, 2219 Elmnor Avenue.

At this meeting final plans will be completed for its annual cocktail party which is to be held at the Melody Ballroom on Saturday, May 5, from 10:00 to 2:00.

Among those in attendance at the annual cocktail party will be the members of the Washington Chapter.

JUST RECENTLY, members of The Cardigans entertained their children at an ice cream and cake party at the home of Mrs. Margaret Peck.

The highlight of the affair was a magician show at which George Peck, Jr., performed an array of tricks which not only fascinated the children but the mothers as well.

Children attending were:

Erico Fry, Myra and Marlene White, Billy and Denise Stanley, Natalie and Cicely Butler, Cheryl and Herbert Fisher, Debora Landsey.

Joseph Sims, Jr., Timothy Salazar, Sandra and Alfreda Williams, Lance and Darryl Clay, Eric and Maureen Peck, Deborah Brandford, Vanessa Westcott and Randy Johnston.

Keesby are also changing dresses . . . they've taken a Woodbrook Avenue place where he will have further opportunity to endulge his hobby of carpentry, woodwork, etc.

The Carrollton Avenue home they are deserting is a masterpiece of his art.

Cute gal in town, and a visitor at the Saturday evening session of Epsilon Omega chapter of AKA, was Patsy Phelps, of Durham, N.C., now an art instructor at Bowie Teachers College in this State. Incidentally, Vernice Reynolds presided at the Saturday session, and with smoothness and aplomb. Basileus Flossie Dedmond was attending the regional conference.

When the Maryland Association of Medical Records Librarians held their annual meeting in the Stafford Hotel, Wednesday, elected to the vice-presidency was Edith Fields, the only non-white member. Mrs. Fields is on the staff of Provident Hospital. President is Mrs. Evelyn Carter of Sinai Hospital.

Guild shows hair styles

The Professional Beauticians Guild, an affiliate of the Maryland State Beauticians Association, staged a fashion show of hir styles at the YWCA, recently.

Hair were shown by Mrs. Nell Sheridan.

Serving as models were:

Mesdames Dorothy Boyle, Judith Marten, Louise Hill, Hilda Kelson, Alice Gibson, Marie Robinson, Bernice Bowman; Mrs. Ellen Thompson, Miss Lucille Boyde, Mrs. Sorraine Hawkins, Miss Ernestine Campbell and mrs. Bertha Jones.

THE HAIR styles were designed by:

Mesdames Jeanetta Wilson, Dorothy Tross; Miss Sarah Sterling, Mesdames Ernestine Harden, Elma Hayne.

Mesdames Sarah Hudson, Margaret Mitchell, Dan Ave, Mesdames Carolyn Murray, Ethel Felder, Margaret Hawkins; and Emanuel Felder.

Mrs. Dorothy Tross and Miss Jeannette Spriggs were co-chairmen of the affair. Others on the committee were:

Mesdames Margaret Hawkins, Virgie Waters, Elizabeth Wright, Ernestine Hardin, Geneva Villa, Eula Brooks, Jeanetta Wilson and Sarah Sterling.

Welcome party for veteran

Martin Bennett, who received an honorable discharge from the Army, recently, was given a surpise welcoming party by Mrs. Murein at their home, 2043 Bolton St.

Mr. Bennett, who served for two years in Korea, was released from Fort Sheridan.

Joining Mrs. Bennett in the party were:

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. York, Mrs. Bernice Parker, Sgt. J. Parrish.

Misses Sophronia Wright, Sarah Williams, Evelyn Joyner, Josephine Hill, Clarence Pride, Marjorie Cooper; and Donald Norris.

Mrs. and Mrs. Richard Moaney entertain at family dinner
