10 YEARS AGO: ONLY 1 IN 4 SAVED

Early detection and prompt treatment are steadily increasing the number of Americans saved from cancer each year. Now about 150,000 Americans will be saved each year from among the 450,000 who get cancer annually.

John Huston's latest on screen at Regent

The Oscar parade for 1957 has started early. Thursday at the Regent Theatre, "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison," a picture of consummate artistry and deep feeling, solidly took its place as an Academy Award contender for this year.

This may be heaping high praise on this fine Twentieth Century-Fox CinemaScope production in DeLuxe color, but that is just what is intended here. The picture is filled to overflowing with the kind of satisfying entertainment that few films achieve.

John Huston, who has a reputation for doing such things, has molded Charles Shaw's best-selling novel, about a gentle nun and a tough Marine marooned on a tiny South Pacific island behind enemy lines, into a compelling screen production.

THE INCONGRUOUS relationship between the only two principal characters in the story is probably best illustrated by this bit of dialogue between "Mr. Allison" and "Sister Angela":

"I'm a big dumb guy, a Marine all through, like you're a nun. You get your cross. I got my globe and anchor. Other guys got their homes and families. I got the Corps like you got the Church."

The rapport between these two paradoxical characters is deep and understanding and when the feeling of love penetrates their, consciousness it transcends all earthly bounds. It is something wonderfully beautiful to behold.

To Deborah Kerr, as the nun, and Robert Mitchum, as the Marine, high praise must go.

Harlem has thriller with Hunter

Powerful emotional crises alternate with violent, brutal action to make a highly unusual but fascinating and tempestuous film of "Gun For a Coward," the Universal - International picture in color and CinemaScope, starring Fred MacMurray, Jeffrey Hunter and Janice Rule, which is now playing at the Harlem Theatre.

Action-packed though this picture is, its chief characters are by no means the stock figures of frontier drama.

Each of these characters emerges as a genuine human being, an amalgam of conflicting and sometimes almost paradoxical motivations, and the film delves far beneath their surface actions to make them understandable and credible.

In achieving this credibility, the production is benefitted by some powerful and expert performances.

MacMurray is magnificent as a toil-worn cattleman who has devoted himself with almost fanatical zeal to making a paying proposition of his family's ranch after the death of his father and with equal dedication to serving as a father to his two younger brothers.

Elevator operator 'nabbed for cleaning up the cleaners

A 28-year-old hospital elevator operator has been arrested by Northwestern District police in connection with a series of cleaners and laundry holdups.

The holdups covered February, March and the first part of April. Six cleaners were involved; several were holdup more than once. More than $300 was reported looted. The man will be arraigned Friday (today) in Northwestern Police Court.

Rock and roll groups star in Albert film

"Dragstrip Girl" and "Rock All Night," now showing at the New Albert Theatre, bring to the screen all the excitement and drama of modern teen-craving for action and thrills.

For the first time on any screen, "Dragstrip Girl" shows a "roman riding" stunt on hot rods, with sensational newcomer John Ashley standing with one foot on each car as they race side by side.

Ashley also does a show-stopping Elvis Presley imitation in the picture, which abounds with hot rod and drag strip thrills, fist fights and glamor girls.

It is the first authentic hot rod picture ever filmed in Hollywood as the kids race their souped up cars in a hair-raising chicken race obstacle runs and other punch-packed stunts.

The Platters and the Blockbusters, top recording groups, top the cast of "Rock All Night," which combines gangster action with a rock 'n' roll

No new home yet for family of rat-bite baby

"We have the application approved, but a unit of the size this family requires is not yet available."

A Housing Authority spokesman gave this explanation on Thursday why the family of Edward Manns is still living in an inadequate sized house at 1418 Bruce St.

Rats gnawing a dead child in the house three weeks ago prompted police request for the emergency housing.

At that time, the Manns family of 12 people had four bedrooms in their six room house. A flush was the only toilet facilities.

Since then, the owner of the premises has rat-proofed the house and installed a complete bathroom. Installed also is a hot water heater. The family uses no gas, however.

The new bathroom reduced the number of bedrooms to three. The death of the child bitten by rats and the departure of a daughter who moved with a married sister has reduced the Manns family in the Bruce St. house to ten persons.

Mr. Manns is a pensioned navy veteran. His family receives welfare benefits under the Aid to Dependent Children department.

Blame it all on Easter eggs

"He was taking Easter eggs out of a plate and throwing them at me. I told him, 'Please don't play with me. I don't play with you.' Nobody could get him quiet."

Miss Mae James, barmaid, in a tavern in the 2600 block W. North Ave., was testifying in Northwestern Police Court before Magistrate Linwood G. Kager, Sr.

As a result of the disturbance, 31-year-old Joseph Chandler, 2800 block W. North Ave., was sentenced to one year in the Maryland House of Correction for cutting Hyman Polnesky with a razor as Mr. Polnesky attempted to restore order in the tavern.

Mr. Chandler was also fined $50 consecutively for disorderly conduct in the tavern.

SEVERAL WITNESSES said they tried to quiet the defendant. The defendant denied having a knife: "All I had on me was my key and my money," he said.

He further pleaded: "The barmaid has a knack of playing with me. She started throwing candy on me; I threw it back at her."

After a check by police disclosed that the defendant had 13 previous convictions, Magistrate Kober told him: "If and when you get out of this trouble, don't go back in that place anymore."

When they say party night at CHICK'S LOUNGE, Baltimore and Greene Sts., they really mean "party night."

It happens every Wednesday night and if you haven't dropped in on one of these sessions then you have really missed something that you should not have missed.

The first thing to greet your eyes when you enter CHICK'S on Wednesday is a tastefully decorated table, loaded down with an amazing variety of food.

From Chick comes the invitation "help yourself," and he means just that. There is no charge for the food and there is plenty of it.

* * *

THIS WEDNESDAY night the main dish was delicious Maryland chicken, cooked to a golden brown. Also on the table were about half a dozen different types of cold cuts, potato salad, sandwiches, four or five different varieties of bread, olives, pickles, potato chips, mints and other delights.

As fast as the table was emptied, Chick had it filled back up again and the customers just loved it all.

The setting of such a lavish spread is Chick's way of showing his friends how much he appreciates their patronage.

* * *

"PARTY NIGHT" has been in operation for several weeks and has been growing bigger all the time as the news spreads about town. There will be another one this Wednesday night and if you are really looking for a wonderful way to send the evening, drop down to Baltimore and Greene Sts.

Music is provided by the very talented Pink Johnson who can play just about every type of music in the book.

Serving as hostess for party night is the lovely Bessie Ross. Rounding out the serving staff Bowie, Virginia Nelson, Shirley Roberts, Mary Roberts, Juanita Lee and Clark Gray.

There's a matinee on Sunday and don't forget party night on Wednesday.

* * *

IF YOU want to hear one of the finest rock and roll groups in town you had better hustle on up to the CLUB TIJUANA by Sunday night.

The group in question is the Jerry Jaye Trio and what an outfit this is. With a bass, a piano and a set of drums, the young men are nothing short of sensational.

They not only play exciting rock and roll, but they play it with taste and imagination. One of their top efforts is the current favorite "I'm Walking," and they do the number up brown.

This is the first appearance of the group at a local distro, but chances are good that they will be back again. Their vocals and their instrumentals are first rate and they earn a warm recommendation.

* * *

WHEN THE Jaye group closes out on Sunday, Michele will bring his outfit in for two weeks and here again the TIJUANA will have a first rate group to make the customers happy.

Following this, the management has announced with evident pleasure, that Eddie (Lockjaw) Davis will return. This is the group that established a record for continuous weeks at the TIJUANA.

So with a lineup like that the entertainment picture at the beautiful TIJUANA looks very very good.

Saturday afternoon will see another in the jazz concerts at the TIJUANA. Featured will be Grassella Oliphant and his East Coast Jazz Quartet.

The group will include the talent of Lou Donaldson, Keter Betts and "Dolo" Coker.

* * *

KURT WATKINS, over at the CLUB ASTORIA, Edmondson near Carey St., is continuing to add to his stock of fans thanks to his great talent with music.

THE ASTORIA is proud of the fact that its prices are among the most reasonable in town and when you go out this weekend why not stop in and pay a visit.

In progress at the RED FOX LOUNGE is a Calypso Festival which will run until Monday, May 6. On that night prizes will be awarded for the most original costumes.

Spotlighted during the festival will be Andre King, with songs and dances from the magic island of Jamaica. With him on the conga drums will be Primo.

Also featured will be the Jazz Hounds, a group which contains the talents of Ray Chambers, Monty Poulson and Torrence Lantz.

Leave it to the RED FOX to come up with something novel and this Calypso Festival is a sure bet to please the customers.

Stop in and have yourself a time at the RED FOX LOUNGE.

* * *

ANOTHER ONE of the column's favorite spots is the CLUB PAREE, 2714 Pennsylvania Ave., where cocktails will be served this Sunday from 4 to 7.

One of the friendliest places in town, CLUB PAREE features the Music of the Bob Young group. The welcome mat is out a drop on in.

Some of the best food that you can ever hope to eat is being served at the GARRISON LOUNGE, 2403 Clifton Ave. The column had a steak in the lounge the other night and all we can say is that it was wonderful.

THE GARRISON is one of the really nice places in town where you can relax and enjoy yourself in a friendly atmosphere. After one visit you are bound to go back again.

* * *

FROM THE CLOVER CLUB, Fayette and Wolfe Sts., comes the news that the Wednesday night movies are going over big. There is no charge made for the shows and the management has extended a warm invitation to drop on over.

Al Brown and the Tonetoppers provide the delightful music.

Pete (Crazy Horse) Martin and his Ponies are the center of attraction at the LAS VEGAS, and quite a good job they are doing.

Sunday morning is jazz time at JONES GREEN DOOR LOUNGE where the city's top musicians gather bright and early to start the day off in fine fashion.

This Sunday morning why not drop on over to 1724 W. Lanvale St., for a really moving jazz session.

* * *

HORACE SILVER, dynamic young jazz artist who divorced himself from Art Blakeley's Jazz Messengers eight months ago, is still wedded to the cole sounds, as evidenced by his performances at the Comedy Club this week.

Horace has progressed steadily as a jazz pianist to be reckoned with since the days back in 1951 when he toured with tenor sax man man Getz.

Members of the Horace Silver group are Art Farmer, trumpet; Luis Hayes, drums, and Teddy Kotick, bass. They're a well disciplined aggregate and their combined "blowing" is topo.

Next in sight at the COMEDY CLUB will be Shirley and Lee, who will be singing all their record hits. They should prove quite a drawing card. Our advice is to get there early and stay late.

Visit the CROSSROADS Pennsylvania and Fulton, this week. You will always have a good time here.

Cornell Drew is being featured at the CLUB CASINO.

Tall, dark and sultry songstress Jeri Adams will be joined by the Emmanons on Sunday at the Astor Theatre as Maurice "Hot Rod" Hulbert presents another in his Sunday afternoon jazz festivals.

There will be two shows, one at 6 p.m. and the other at 8 p.m.
