Morgan to launch ambitious track campaign in N.Y. meet

The Morgan State College track squad, idle since the close of the indoor season, take to the cinderpath Saturday, April 13, competing in the Queens-Iona Eastern championships at John Dowling Stadium, N.Y.

Hampered in their practice for the outdoor season opener by profuse and frequent April showers, the Bear trackmen may not be in top-top form, Coach Eddie Hurt opined here at midweek.

Nonetheless the Bears will be represented full force in the Queens-Iota meet, with entries in the varsity mile relay, the freshman mile relay, the 440 and the 880 relays, a two-mile relay, the 120-yard high hurdles and the high jump.

STRONGEST representation for Morgan, which has been traditionally a powerful outdoor squad, is expectedto come from the mile relay teams, from high jumpers Bob Barksdale and George Dennis.

Coach Hurt reports that the high jumps have continued to show well in practice for the outdoor season opening and that there is every indication that the boys will jump even better than they did in the indoor season.

Barksdale, a senior from Norristown, Pa., jumped as high as 6 feet 8 inchs during the indoor season, and Dennis, senior from Atlantic City, N.J., did even better with a 6 feet 9¼ inches jump.

DESPITE THE fact that the mile relay team has not been able to get out doors much in the last two weeks, Coach Hurt says he's been impressed by the limited performance of the quartet and has high hopes that the team, which steadily grew stronger as the indoor season progressed, will reach its stride in the outdoor season.

Benny Rogers, of British Guiana, S.A., Herbie Hollen, Teaneck, N.J., Gerald Herrison, Lancaster, Pa., and Robert (Bob) McMurray, junior from Norwalk, Conn., are back in the lineup for the outdoor mile team.

Continuing to come along nicely is the freshman mile relay team, which is comprised of Vernon (Sir) Keller, of Plainfield, N.J., Roland Merriweather, Philadelphia, Pa., Hosea Smith, Jersey City, N.J., and Nick Ellis, New Brunswick, N.J.

STILL PUZZLING Coach Hurt as the outdoor season opens is who will run on the 440 team.

Morgan has been strong in this event for the past few years, winning the Quarter-mile Relay Championship of America for the past four years straight in the annual University of Pennsylvania Relays.

Two of the great stars of the 440 team, however, were lost to the squad by graduation last year, Ed Waters, great Baltimore runner, and Ken Kave, great anchor man and sprinter who's now running for Fort Meade, Md.

Veterans of the team, Lindwood Morton, of Baltimore, Md., and Bobby Gordon, of Columbia, S.C., are in good shape, but Coach Hurt is hard put to find runners to replace Waters and Kave.

THE MOMENT Juanito Barry, junior from the Virgin Island, and Leon Moss, of East Orange, N.J., are the likely hurdlers for the team. Coach Hurt admits, however, that he may have to recruit from the mile relay team to bring the 440 up to par.

Morgan's two-mile team in the Queens-Iona meet will be composed of Roland Brown, Chestertown, Md., Wardell Stansbury, Havre De Grace, Md., McKinley Crews, Bound Brook, N.J., and Robert Berry, Tarrytown, N.Y. Moss is the entry in the 120-yard high hurdles.

THE TEAM leaves here today (Friday) by bus for New York.

Following the New York meet the Bears plan to participate in these events: the 63rd Penn Relays, April 26-27; Howard University Invitational Meet, May 4; and CIAA track and field championships May 10-11 at Morgan.

New Colonial Golf Club makes bid for newcomers

The recently organized Colonial Golf Club plans to make this coming golf season one of the years most attractive. A series of tournaments have been arranged by the chairman, Robert Wallace, and his committee.

It is the purpose of officers and members of the Colonial Club, to promote the cause of fellowship and good will to all, by providing opportunities for its members and friends to engage in friendly competitions with other clubs.

Also to help establish a better understanding and appreciation on the part of golfers of the principles of sportsmanship and fair play; to bring before Baltimore golfers, an effective program and to make this club one of the most outstanding clubs in the East.

THE AIM is not merely to achieve success and victory, but to give additional strength and to inspire beginners with courage and to create a desire among all to engage in this sport.

The club theorizes that beneficial results are best realized when the re-creator is engaged in a sport, in which he is the participator, rather than a mere spectator.

IN ORDER that all members will have an equal opportunity to participate in all the events, a variety of tournaments have been scheduled which will carry with them an A-B and C-class.

Any golfer, who is not affiliated with any other golf club in Baltimore City proper and so desires to become a member, may contact the club or any officer or member for the purpose of submitting his name to the chairman of the membership committee.

Other members not shown in picture:

F. Brown, William B. Dixon, Dawson Evans, Clarence E. Jones, Maurice Jones, John E. Also, George C. Lottier, Dallas F. Nicholas, Henry Parks, Robert Tarter, Walter Taylor, John W. Wilson, Walter Winder, and Walter Steward (Pro,; honorary.

Wes Bascom meets Dilly in comeback

ST. LOUIS (ANP)—A heavyweight who once made a big splash in fistic circles, then faded out almost as quickly as he rose to stardom, is attempting to comeback after an absence from the ring of some three years.

He is Wesbury Bascom, one-time local favorite and former national amateur light heavyweight boxing champion. Bascom, now 28, meets Wilbur Dilley in a semi-final match on the Spider Webb-Randy Sandy card in Chicago, April 17.

Richards to open on the mound.

SHOULD CONNIE be sidetracked in favor of Ray Moore, he still will be a part of the inaugural ceremonies. His call will come for Tuesday, when the Orioles move into Memorial Stadium (Baltimore) for their own launching, against the Boston Red Sox.

Elston Howard will doubtlessly be the leftfielder when the New York Yankees open (Tuesday) at home against Washington.

LARRY DOBY will be in center and Minnie Minoso in left when the Chicago White Sox go to bat against the Indians at Cleveland.

Al Smith will be holding down the centerfield post for the Tribe in this one.

Out at Kansas City, Manager Lou Boudreau will have Vic Power at first base and Hector Lopez at third, when his Athletics entertain the Detroit Tigers.

THESE EIGHT potential starters in the American League are nearly doubled in the problem lineups of the National. The senior loop will have 15 afield—possibly 16.

Cincinnati will definitely have Frank Robinson in leftfield when the Redlegs play host to the St. Louis Cardinals.

At Chicago, the Cubs will field Ernie Banks at shortstop and George Altman at third base to oppose the Milwaukee Braves with Billy Bruton (centerfield) and Hank Aaron (right).

And at Philadelphia, Chico Fernandez will be at short to help the Phillies entertain his old teammates, the Brooklyn Dodgers and Don Newcombe (pitcher), Roy Campanella (catcher), Jim Gilliam (leftfield) and Charley Neal (second base).

THESE TOTAL 23, eight in the AL and 15 in the NL. The best possibility in the senior circuit is George Crowe, who has been a brilliant standin for the injured Ted Kluszewski of the Redlegs.

Manager Charlie Dressen may play the percentage and use Crowe while he has a "hot" player.

Willie Mays' relaxed attitude spells poison for NL foes

By SAM LACY
AFRO Sports Editor

DALLAS, Texas—If it is true that history repeats itself, and that animals with class run true to form, AFRO readers may begin now writing off the National League's most valuable player of 1957.

Willie Mays won the award in 1954. And that was the only year in the fabulous Mays career that he had such a spring as he has just completed.

This conditioning session has been identical—except in actual decimals — with Willie's period of preparation for his spectacular 1954 campaign.

RELAXED and light of heart, Willie has been more like the young phenom of 1951 (when he was rookie of the year) and 1954 (he was MVP), than even the most ardent Polo Grounds fan had dared to hope.

Although the AFRO did not see him in Arizona, and didn't get a glimpse of Mays until the Giants reached Texas, there was immediate evidence of a marked change in attitude.

In 1955, perhaps because he was tired from winter ball in Puerto Rico, Willie was far from his free and easy self.

In 1956, probably due to a complete morale letdown on the club, Mays seemed to be under a heavy strain.

* * *

TODAY, he is the helter-skelter little—boy again — the one who represents poison in a monkey suit to opposing teams, on both offense and defense.

As to his actual performance, the New York writers seem to assert they've never seem a greater Willie Mays. This, mind you, from a group of hardened reporters who have come to expect anything from the 25-year-old Alabaman, who accept as commonplace feats that would be termed sensational by another athlete.

* * *

BUT, suppose one takes a look at the cold figures under the Mays name in Giants' spring statistics.

In 1954, Willie finished the training campaign with a .419 batting average, 12 home runs and 28 runs batted in.

* * *

WHEN THE Giants and Indians boarded their train here Sunday night, completing the Western phase of their training, Willie was showing a stick mark of .427.

This represented 38 hits in 89 at bats, with nine homers and 23 RBI.

Moreover, Willie included in those statistics seven doubles and two triples, plus ten stolen bases.

Look out, NL. Here comes MVP?

The Woes of Willie Mays!

Last year Willie Mays had a season that would make most baseball players jumping for joy—36 home runs, 40 stolen bases, a .296 batting average. But for the amazing Mays, 1956 was almost a nightmare!

In this week's Post, read about the troubles that are plaguing the Giants' great center fielder! Find out how the team's switch in managers from Durocher to Rigney has affected him—and the problems that have developed out of his being a "celebrity," and his recent marriage. Don't miss, "The Woes of Willie Mays" in The Saturday Evening Post!

$2,447 claim made against No. 1323

William L. Adams, 1319 Pennsylvania Ave., filed a claim last week in court to recover $2,447.30 of a second mortgage on property at 1323 Presstman St., which houses the Kleeco Club.

The action is directed against Walter Thomas, owner, and Mrs. Mabel S. Perkins, widow of the co-owner.

Mrs. Perkins is joint defendant as administrator of the estate of her last husband, Ernest L. Perkins, attorney.

Mr. Thomas and Mr. Perkins were tenants in common of the Presstman St. property, which also bears a mortgage of $3,262.

Solomon Baylor has been appointed trustee to make the sale of the premises.

Senators' Yost for cracking hotel ban

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., — The Washington Senators, through their player representative, Eddie Yost, pledged support to an anti-discrimination project here Tuesday.

Yost thus joined with Chicago White Sox player representative Sherm Lollar, in disapproving hotel segregation of major league players during the regular season.

TARGET of a resolution that is to be presented the players committee, are the hotels of Baltimore. It is there that hotels of the city act alone in barring the colored players on visiting clubs.

It is the only city in the big leagues where such discriminatory policy prevails.

Two weeks ago in Tampa, Fla., Lollar agreed to bring the matter to the attention of the players' committee, with the view of adopting a resolution urging the club owners to seek a means of correcting the evil.

"IT IS MOST certainly a player grievance, and one that has no business existing," said Yost.

He took the same stand as that taken by Lollar, that he "can't say what will be done about it" by the owners.

But, both agree, "they should know how we feel about it."

YOST WENT even further than the White Sox committeeman.

Unfortunately," he said, "we don't have a group meeting scheduled for July (All-Star Game time) this year.

"BUT I WILL let all our player representatives know my feeling in the matter. I also assure you I will tell the commissioner (Ford Frick) that the players are anxious to have this condition remedied."

Lollar is directly affected by the Baltimore problem because he represents Minnie Minoso, Larry Doby and Earl Battey, along with the rest of the Sox players.

KANSAS CITY representative Joe DiMaestri has been petitioned by Harry Simpson on behalf of himself, Vic Power and Hector Lopez, all of whom are required to live apart from the rest of the athletics on trips to Baltimore.

Al Smith and Dave Pope of the Cleveland Indians also have presented the problem to their representative, Jim Hegan, for similar action.

* * *

OF AMERICAN LEAGUE player representatives approached, only the New York Yankees' Gerry Coleman has expressed unwillingness to recognize it as a matter for the committee.

He said he would "take it up with Mr. (George) Weiss," the club's general manager.

Coleman was interviewed on the subject in St. Petersburg, Fla., in the presence of Elston Howard — SAM LACY.

Parking lot lady receives probation before the verdict

Mrs. Martha Jeter, 45, operator of a parking lot in the 300 block S. Paca St., was given probation before the verdict by Magistrate Vernon Wiesand of Pine St. Station, on a disorderly conduct charge Monday.

Mrs. Jeter, represented by Mrs. Juanita J. Mitchell pleaded not guilty to the charge of Officer R. S. Bradshaw of Southern District that she had been disorderly when he requested to see her parking lot permit.

Last January, Mrs. Jeter vowed a fight to keep her parking lot and charged that she had been molested by resentful people, some of whom had even pulled up posts during the night. She said also that she had been rudely treated by police.
