Man who disapproves of robbery convicted

"No, because I don't approve of robbery."

"Have you ever been convicted of robbery?"

This reply to his attorney's query by John Williams was not convincing to a Criminal Court judge Monday who convicted the 29-year-old defendant and a companion of robbing a man of $250 on Feb. 28.

Judge John Tucker withheld sentencing Mr. Williams, 700 block W. Fayette St., and Robert E. Gwynn, 30, 800 block W. Fayette, and ordered Thomas Nugent, prosecutor, to produce the criminal records of the defendants.

The two were found guilty of robbing James Robinson Jr., 1509 W. Lanvale St., after he was taken to Mr. Williams' home by a woman who prosecuting witness met in a lunch room.

THE WOMAN, Miss Azilie Towson, 22, 800 block W. Lexington St., was acquitted of charges of robbery and prostitution in connection with the case.

"Do I understand you to say that you went to this room with Robinson for the purpose of going to bed with him?" Judge Tucker asked Miss Towson.

"He was nice to me," she replied, "and I wanted to be nice to him."

Mr. Robinson testifid on Friday that after arriving at the house with Miss Towson, he was accosted by the man, who took his money, his shoes and stripped him down to his waist.

Mr. Williams was acquitted of a charge of operating a disorderly house.

He and Mr. Gwynn were represented by David Mason, and Miss Towson was represented by Mrs. Juanita Jackson Mitchell.

Biggest Show of Stars held in N.C.

RALEIGH, N.C. — The Biggest Show of Stars for 1957 was presented at the State Fair Arena here last week. Led by "Fats" Domino, and his orchestra, the list of stars included.

Washington Carver, noted scientist, as one who denied himself personal luxuries to devote his life time to humanity.

The Rev. Mr. Wood spoke from the topic: "Living For a Cause and Not for Self."

LORD FLEA FEATURED IN CALYPSO MOVIE

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Lord Flea and His Calypsonians checked into KTTV studio last week for their featured numbers in "Calypso Joe." Herb Jeffries starred now being filmed by Allied Artists.

New restaurant

"The restaurant will open about the middle of May said the Rev. Mr. Tilley, pastor of New Metropolitan Baptist Church, is recording secretary of a group of businessmen who last January purchased Gordon's Restaurant at 1533 Druid Hill Ave., for $8,400.

Present plans, the minister said, call for a soda fountain and booths on the first floor and a private dining room on the second floor.

will have two dining rooms." stated Rev. John Tilley this week.

PROTESTANTS—In an effort to prevent the construction of a box factory in the rear of the 3000 block Belmont Ave., these citizens took their problem before members of the City Council Monday. The property was zoned second commercial in 1931. Residents say the factory would cause deterioration of property in the area.

Strolling The Avenue

At long last we can report that Lou Bennett is back in view.

While it is actually not too long since Lou has been seen at a local bistro, his absence is felt anytime that he is not around.

The music maker is currently the entertainment attraction at the FULTON CAFE, Fulton Ave. and Baker St., where the entertainment seekers have several separate and distinct bars in which to relax and enjoy themselves.

The FULTON is tastefully decorated, the drinks are served as drinks should be served and with Lou Bennett as the chief entertayner, it all adds up to sheer pleasure.

Since the column first heard Bennett we have been sold on his skill as a musician and his wondrful taste displayed in everything he plays.

We sincerely recommend that you visit the FULTON and have yourself a ball.

A NOTE FROM "Doc" Woingust informs us that the benefit show given the other day at Henryton Hospital was what is known as a "rousing" success.

On the bill were Del. Edwards, Lil Hall, Wade Peyton, Josephine Ball, Jean Davis, Sweet Georgia Brown, the Convoys and the music of Joe Bailey.

The bus was furnished by the Diggs Motor Coach Co. Doc was the comedy relief in the show and also acted as associate master of ceremonies, Mrs. Julia Davis closed the show with the entire ensemble.

Doc was assisted in his endeavors by Mrs. Flossie King.

ENTERTAINMENT IS right off the top shelf at the RED FOX, Fulton and Pennsylvania Ave., one of nicest spots in town.

Andre King is the star of the bill and rates as one of the top entertainers in this fair town. Be sure to see him.

Kurt Watkins is attracting a lot of favorable attention at the CLUB ASTORIA on Edmondson Ave. near Carey St. The music his outfit plays strikes the fancies of the patrons who go away chanting his praises.

He's a bright new star and one that should be heard.

FOR THE Sunday morning jazz session an all star group has been lined up at JONES GREEN DOOR. In the group will be such luminaries of the music world as Ray Chambers, Monty Poulson, Owen Pinkney and Bill Swindell, on sax of course.

The jazz session starts about 8 and lasts through the morning. It's a wonderful way to spend the early morning hours and you are invited.

The Krazy Kris Columbo outfit is at the COMEDY CLUB this week and is scheduled to be followed by the Jimmy Smith Organ Trio.

Flink Johnson is the man of the hour at CHICK'S LOUNGE; the LINCOLN CAFE, 1101 N. Calhoun St., is presenting the Swallows; TIJUANA has Dayton Selby with Jerry Jaye of rock and roll scheduled to follow on the 16th.

Al Brown is the man at the CLOVER CLUB where free movies are being offered on Wednesday night; Dot Stearns is in the limelight at the SPOT, and there's always a wonderful time to be had at the CROSSROADS, Pennsylvania and Fulton, and the VIP, MA. Baker and Fulton. That's it... Have fun.

$2,600 holdup

A bail of $20,000 each was set in Northeastern Police Court Wednesday morning for two construction workers accused of robbing a grocery store, and attempting to rob a second store.

The men are: Paul Green Jr., 27, of the 1000 block N. Chapel St., and Leonard C. Brady, 25, of the 2200 block E. Chase St.

Police accused them of taking $2,600 in cash at gun point from a store operated by Samuel Gloger of the 6000 block Barwood Ave., on Saturday, and with attempting to rob Max Norych of the 2200 block E. Biddle St., later in the day. Motorist No. 3

Chauffeur up a tree, thanks to frisky pup

James A. Brown, 40, of 1031 W. Lanvale St., went all out to protect man's best friend Saturday and it almost cost him his neck.

In trying to miss hitting a mongrel pup that crossed in front of his truck at Druid Hill Ave., and Oxford St., Mr. Brown, a chauffeur, smashed the vehicle into a tree opposite the McCulloh Homes project.

At Provident Hospital, he was treated for cuts about the right leg and mouth and released.

THE ACCIDENT was one of four which sent five persons to hospital for treatment of injuries recently.

At Hoffman St., and Pennsylvania Ave., Friday, Mrs. Hilda Bradley, 37, of 2003 Brighton St., sustained a back injury while riding in a cab driven by Rupert A. Amey Jr., 37, of 1222 North Ave.

The driver of the second car, Ben Mogmen 3rd, 29, of 2114 W. Fayette St., was charged with reckless driving.

TWO PERSONS were injured and three cars were damaged Saturday in a collision at Lafayette Ave., and Calhoun St

Gassaway C. Parker, 37, cement finisher, of 2336 W. Mulberry St., sustained cuts about the head and left leg, and Mrs. Naomi Parker, 34, received a head injury.

DRIVERS of the two other cars were: Calhoun Leslie Ruffin, 34, of 507 N. Arlington Ave., and William F. McIntyre, 35, of 15 S. Stockton St.

Miss Ning M. Thomas, 17, of 1001 N. Fulton Ave., received leg and hip injuries on Monday when she was struck by an automobile at Lafayette and Fulton Aves

The driver, Norman H. Lee, 42, of 2022 W. Lanvale St., was charged with reckless driving.

Councilmen pessimistic on factory

"We are trying to preserve the residential nature of this neighborhood. We feel that if this factory goes, up, it will be an opening for other businesses to invade the neighborhood," declared Dallas J. Barclift, president of the Rosemont Home Improvement Association.

He was speaking on Monday to members of the City Council in opposition to the construction of a box factory, in the rear of the 3000 block Belmont Ave.

The factory is to be constructed by the Bryant Packing Co. whose vice-president is Harry J. McGurk, a recent appointee to a committee which will draft Baltimore's new zoning code.

MR. BARCLIFT further stated that the group plans on contacting Henry Barnes, traffic director to see if the proposed factory would not constitute a traffic hazard.

Present for Monday's meeting were the four councilmen from the fifth district: William Schaefer, Michael J. Hankin, Jacob Edelman and Leon A. Rubenstein.

The councilmen told the residents that there was nothing they could do to halt the factory since the area was zoned second commercial but suggested that if the plant became a nuisance a complaint could be made in a court of equity.

COUNCILMAN EDELMAN asked Mr. Barclift if he had had any contact with the owner. Mr. Barclift answered:

"Mr. McGurk said he was going to build the factory there anyway. We offered to buy the land and pointed out several other areas near the rail road."

Councilman Edelman said: "We are without legislative power to change the zone. The courts do not permit the shifting around of zoning standards. He (Mr. McGurk) has the right to establish the thing he is trying to do."

He said however, that he believed a court of equity might give real consideration to such things as the factory being a menace to the peace and enjoyment of the residents in that area. "You have to show the court what is happening," he said.

Sitting in on the meeting were the Fourth District's Councilmen Walter T. Dixon and Solomon Liss.
