Magistrate Scherr proud of his Traffic Court record

"There is nothing to it!" Stanley Scherr, outgoing chief magistrate of the Traffic Court, thus discounted, in a statement to the AFRO Wednesday, charges from some quarters that motorists have been beating traffic tickets, particularly those issued for parking violations, without appearing in court during his regime.

"No instance of fixing of tickets ever came to my attention," Mr. Scherr said. "I am not saying it was an airtight situation.

"The volume was too great. But no ticket-fixing ever came to my attention. And it must be remembered, it took a part-time job and made a full-time job out of it. When you sit there day in and day out, you are in an excellent position to know about such things."

* * *

MR. SCHERR left his Traffic Court this week and was sworn in Tuesday as general counsel of the Public Service Commission.

Commenting further on his service as Traffic Court chief magistrate, he said:

"However, I have had two very rewarding experiences while sitting in Traffic Court.

"The thing I am most grateful for was the starting here in October of 1951, the first teen-age court in the United States.

"Secondly, I am indeed grateful for the recognition of my efforts as a whole through the plaque awarded me by the AFRO-AMERICAN Newspapers."

"And I am in my own part happy for the services I have rendered the public without any type of discrimination."

Mr. Scherr was awarded an AFRO honor roll plaque in 1956.

* * *

RETURNING ONCE again to the reported investigation of the handling of Traffic Court parking violations, supposedly initiated by Governor McKeldin, Mr. Scherr stated:

"To be a good judge, in my opinion, one must realize how certain things happen. Even when people want to adhere to the parking laws here, it's almost impossible because of the lack of reasonable facilities.

"Parking cases are not on the dockets to begin with. A person charged must obtain a slip from the clerk's office to have his case heard.

"Now, anyone who will wait around two or three hours for such a case must have a legitimate complaint and merits consideration. After all, he could have mailed his fine in to the bureau.

* * *

"BACK A FEW years ago when the police were required to come in on such violation charges, there were far fewer cases.

"Now that they do not have to appear, it would seem that some of them have gone tickets happy. Police have been tagging their own department vehicles.

"We were getting an average of 1,200 to 1,500 tickets a day, which amounted to about 28,000 a month.

"Certainly, all of these charges were not to be classed as serious violations, tending to create dangerous traffic hazards.

"With the city's parking problems such as they are, you can't find a man every time he leaves his car. The whole problem must be given consideration."

Meyer M. Cardin, former chief police court magistrate, succeeds Mr. Scherr as chief magistrate of the Traffic Court. He began his duties this week.

Catonsville child accuses salesman

"He claimed he kissed her because he loved all kids, but she's 12 years old."

That was the angry comment of a Catonsville grandmother Wednesday night. She swore out a warrant for the arrest of a clothing salesman whom she charges with assault by kissing her granddaughter.

The Sidney Ave. grandmother told police the kissing incident took place Monday night when the collector came to her home to see her son.

* * *

SHE SAID she was upstairs sleeping when the 35-year-old salesman arrived and that her granddaughter answered the door.

Later, she said her grandchild came to her room and complained, 'that old man kissed me.'

The grandmother said that when her family confronted the salesman, he admitted that he had kissed the young school girl but only because he was fond of children.

A hearing in the case is scheduled for Monday, April 8 at 4 p.m. in Catonsville Police Court.

Cranberry's unique charm is perfect for more than fowl

The creative cook finds endless ways in which to use the cranberry's unique charm besides in the traditional sauce for fowl or meats.

Of course she uses cranberry sauce—and prides herself on an especially flavorful, perfect jelled one such as the sauce described in today's recipe. But she also includes in her culinary repertoire eye and appetite teasing cranberry relishes.

And she makes cranberries the basis for flavor-poem fruit salads such as a molded one that combines fresh cranberries with pears, apples and citrus fruit juices. She'll use them too in light-chiffon-type desserts or hearty, deep-dish cranberry pie (an old New England favorite).

The United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association offers these recipes for helping the modern American family enjoy this delicious old-fashioned American berry.

FRESH CRANBERRY FRUIT SALAD is made with two envelops unflavored gelatine, one-half cup fresh orange juice, two cups fresh cranberries, one cup sugar, one cup water, two tablespoons fresh lemon juice, Apple balls, one teaspoon unflavored gelatine and one tablespoon fresh lemon juice.

Two tablespoons cold water, one-fourth cup hot water, two tablespoons sugar, one cup fresh orange sections, one cup diced fresh apples, one cup diced fresh pears, pear balls for garnish, and fresh mint leaves for garnish.

Soften gelatine in orange juice and set aside until ready to use. Wash cranberries and place in a saucepan with sugar and water. Cover. Cook until skins pop, 6 to 8 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in softened gelatine and the two tablespoons lemon juice. Cool and chill until mixture begins to thicken. In the meantime, arrange apple balls, in any desired pattern, on the bottom of a 5-cup mold.

Soften the one teaspoon gelatine in one tablespoon fresh juice and two tablespoons cold water. Add one-half water and two tablespoons sugar. Stir until sugar over apple balls and place in the refrigerator until firm. When the cranberry mixture has begun to congeal, fold in oranges, apples, and pears. Turn into the mold.

Chill until firm and ready to serve. Turn out onto a serving plate. Garnish with pear balls and fresh mint leaves or with other fresh fruit in season.

For Fresh Cranberry Chiffon Mold use two envelopes unflavored gelatine, one cup water, ½ cup cold water, two cups fresh cranberries, four eggs, separated; one-half teaspoon grated orange rind, one cup sugar, one-half teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon grated lemon rind.

Soften gelatine in cold water and set aside. Beat egg yolks, add one-half cup of sugar and the salt. Mix well. Place water and cranberries in a saucepan and cook covered, until skins pop, 6 to 8 minutes. Gradually add to the egg yolks and sugar.

Cook over low heat or hot water until the custard coats a metal spoon, about 10 minutes. Stir in gelatine, orange and lemon rind. Chill until the mixture begins to congeal. In the meantime, beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks, into which gradually beat in the remaining one-half cup sugar.

Fold into the mixture. Turn into a 6-cup Mold. Chill until firm and ready to serve. Just before serving, unmold onto a serving plate. Garnish as desired with grapes and mint leaves.

Fresh Cranberry Sauce requires one pound fresh cranberries, two cups sugar, one cup water, and one-sixteenth teaspoon salt.

Wash and pick over cranberries. Combine sugar, water, salt in a saucepan. Bring to boiling point. Add cranberries. Cover and cook until skins pop, about 6 to 8 minutes. Serve with poultry, pork or ham.

Cooking Is Fun

By FANNIEJOE REID

That good cheese flavor is in favor with practically every housewife's household. And because it is such a versatile food, cheese can be used in almost endless ways.

I have tried, here, however, to provide you with some new recipes, that I hope you will like. Please let me know what you think of them.

For instance, I've a new corn bread recipe with a cheese filling.

CORN BREAD with cheese is made with two cups meal, a cup of flour, four eggs, a fourth pound butter, a pint of milk, three teaspoons baking powder, tablespoons sugar and a pound of American cheese, shredded.

Sift all dry ingredients, except the baking powder, together. Beat egg yolks very light. Add milk and butter and beat well. Now add the dry ingredients and beat well. Fold in the egg whites (also beaten well) and baking powder.

Grease baking pan well. Pour batter around edges, and fill center with cheese. Bake in hot oven for 25 minutes.

* * *

A CHEESE AND CORN FONDUE is also a delight.

You will need a cup of milk, two tablespoons butter, a tablespoon minced onion, three egg yolks, two teaspoons sugar, a cup grated American cheese, a can of cream style corn, a cup of soft bread crumbs, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¾ teaspoon tobasco, three egg whites.

Scald milk. Add butter and onion. Heat egg yolks. Add milk mixture, stirring constantly. Add cheese and stir until melted. Stir in corn and soft bread crumbs.

Add salt and tobasco. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into corn mixture. Turn into a baking dish and bake in a slow oven for 45 minutes.

AND FOR a cheesy salad, try cheese Cherry Mold. For this you will need a package of cream cheese, a cup of chopped drained canned cherries, a fourth cup of chopped pecans, a fourth cup sliced stuffed olives, a teaspoon lemon juice and an eighth teaspoon salt.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add juices, salt and cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Make cheese into small balls. Fold cherries, pecans, olives and cheese balls into gelatin. Pour into a quart mold or into individual molds.

Unmold and serve on crisp greens and garnish with whipped cream or mayonnaise.
