Me-De-Sos to present 18 Debs next month

with Lula Jones Garrett

This year's crop of Me-De-So debutantes will number 18. They will be presented at the annual cotillion, on April 26, and as last year, in Hurt Gymnasium, Morgan State College.

Their first presentation, however, will be on Palm Sunday, when they, with their parents, will be guests at a reception given by the sponsors.

Roslyn Stewart has been selected as "queen" of last year's debs, and will, therefore, reign at this year's cotillion. She is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart, Lillian Locklear, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Locklear, has been named "Deb of the Year.;

To be presented this year are:

Yvonne Joyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Joyce, student at Morgan State College; Ernestine Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Lewis, Morgan College; Alfreda Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. C. Hughes, Morgan;

Judith Whitted, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Whitted of Washington, Howard University; Merla Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peed, Catholic University, Washington;; Audlyn Higgins, Dr. and Mrs. I. B. Higgins, Earlham College;

Themasina Woolridge, Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Woolridge, St. Regis; Joselyn Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dawson, Howard; June Lee, Dr. Adr A. Lee, Howard;

Ann B. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams, Morgan; Portia Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Boston, Morgan; Jamesetta M. Morton, James Morton, University of Maryland; Roberta Quarles, Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Quarles, Pembrooke College;

Bette Brown, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, Morgan; Marjorie Flanagan, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Flanagan, Morgan; Bettie Ann Johnson, James H. Johnson, Coppin State Teachers College;

Audrey Parker, Mrs. Louise Parker of Mitchensville, Md., Freedman's Hospital School of Nursing, Washington; and Bernedetta Smith, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Smith, Wilberforce University.

The Me-De-So Club, which holds the cotillion, has on its roster:

Drs. Bruce Alleyne, William J. B. Weaver, Charles E. Watts, Simon H. Carter, John H. Woodbeaman, B. N. Christmas, B. H. Christmas, William Mason, land.

Drs. Albert LaForest, Richard Hunt, Thomas Harris, Gilbert Banfield, M. L. Barksdale, Charles R. Campbell, John Camper, John T. Gunn, Louis Johnson,

Drs. Ivan B. Higgins, Frank Saunders, Henry Welcome, William H. Watts, Charles T. Woodland, Ralph Reckling, Atwell Jones and James Hawkins.

Drs. LaForrest is cotillion chairman.

WHEN CUTE Jean Camper exchanged vows with Edgar Cahn in the West End Synagogue, New York City, last Friday, she was as pretty as a picture in her all-white ensemble.

Jean, you, of course, know is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. T. Camper of this city, and a senior at Swarthmore College. Her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Cahn.

Mr. Cahn, an internationally known lawyer, author of any number of law books, has been on the faculty of NYU since 1945, is a Phi Beta Kappa, and was awarded the Phillips Prize in Jurisprudence by the American Philosophical Society in 1955.

Baltimoreans will remember the young Mr. Cahn as one of the escorts of Miss Camper when she made her debut at the Me-De-So Cotillion here in 1953. She is a graduate student at Yale . . . where, incidentally, Jean plans to study law following her graduation.

But back to the wedding. The bride wore white, as I said . . . a street-length sheath of polished embroidered cotton with a small matching hat, both designed, and fashioned by her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Jones. She carried a small imported clutch bag of vinyl embroidered in seed pearls,—an all-lace imported handkerchief, white orchids and a corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Jones, her only attendant, was gowned in pale blue silk shantung, princess style, with beige accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Camper wore a white flannel suit with beige accessories and a corsage of camelias. Mrs. Cahn wore blue with white accessories.

Albert Rosenberg of Dayton, Ohio, was best man for Mr. Cahn. The ceremony, performed by Rabbi Bernard J. Bamberger, took place in his study.

The ceremony, scheduled to be attended by only members of the family, was also attended by a few of his friends. After a week's honeymoon in New Haven, Conn., the newlyweds returned Friday to their studies.

WHEN THE Baltimore Club of the National Association of Business and Professional Women presents its national award, the Sojourner Truth scroll, at its Founder's Day celebration Palm Sunday, Mrs. Caroline Ramsay, ardent worker for social justice and better human relations, will be the recipient.

The club selected Mrs. Ramsay, the wife of John B. Ramsay Jr., in recognition of a Baltimore woman, who has quietly worked over a period of years for equal opportunities for all through her activities in the Urban League and other organizations.

Mrs. Ramsay received her B.A. from Bryn Mawr College. She is a member of the Maryland Commission on Interracial Problems and Relations, the Mayor's Committee on Human Relations, the Board of the Citizens Planning and Housing Association, the United Nations Association, the Child Welfare Committee of the Maryland State Conference on Social Welfare and the Mental Hygiene Society of Greater Baltimore.

She is vice president of the League of Women Voters, and is also a past president of this group, and of the Baltimore Urban League.

The affair will be a reception-testimonial at Coppin State Teachers College from 4 to 6 p.m. on Palm Sunday. The national president, Mrs. Marie L. Harrison of East Orange, N.J., will bring greetings from the National Association. Miss M. Margaret Johnson, local president, will present the scroll. Mrs. Jessie Richardson is chairman.

"OH, HO," said I as I stepped into that perfectly lovely pale green and mauve pink living room of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Welcome, Sunday afternoon, and saw a great array of cards stacked on the mantle.

"This dinner party is to celebrate someone's birthday."

But I was wrong, although Mrs. W. had marked a natal day a week back. And then I thought it might be to note the first anniversary of their being in their Liberty Heights mansion since they had been there a year to the month: But I. was wrong again.

It was chiefly a group of persons in housing or deeply interested in housing that the Welcomes had gathered for the afternoon.

And they did a clever thing . . . in order that conversations might not be interrupted. The dinner was buffet; and tables had been placed in living room, dining room, study and den, so that after plates were filled the OFFICERS CHAT — When the Jolly Ten Social Charity Club observed its sixth anniversary last Sunday at the Mount Olive Freewill Baptist Church, these officers took time out to smile for the cameraman. They are: (left to right) Mrs. Rose Potts, chaplain and chairman of program; Mrs. Swanora Burrough, treasurer; Miss Ann Forster, vice president; and Mrs. Elizabeth Bethea, president.

Also Mrs. Florence Douglass, Mr. Chimp, Mrs. Helen Moore, Mrs. Julia Ball, Mrs. Harris, Max Brown, Mrs. Odell Payne. Guest of honor was the Rev. T. C. Freeman, presiding elder of the Halperson District.

The mistress of ceremonies was Mrs. Lucille Jones of Washington, D.C. The movie photographer was Miss Evangeline Nelson. Mrs. Roberta Baptiste was the chairman. The Rev. E. D. Johnson is the pastor.

The Trustees Aid of Star of Bethlehem AME Church held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Trilby Wicks on Thursday. William Polk is president. Mrs. Ernestine Christian, secretary, and Mrs. Wicks, treasurer. The Rev. T. B. McGreen, pastor.

Mt. Falls Rd. Gospel Choir, accompanied by their pastor, the Rev. Mr. Cashen, presented musical Sunday at the Star of Bethlehem AME Church.

Miss McKinley, Mr. Howze wed

Miss Blanche McKinley, daughter of Mrs. Clara McKinley of Cleveland, Ohio, and Adolphus Howze were married, here, Saturday.

The wedding, in St. Pius Catholic Church, took place at seven o'clock in the evening, with Father Ansing officiating.

GIVEN IN marriage by her godfather, Moses Bryant, Miss McKinley wore a ballerina-length gown of white lace and net, with a full-length veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Mary James, who wore pink lace matching accessories, and carried pink carnations, was her attendant. Harry Howze served as best man for his brother.

A reception for 150 guests followed the ceremony and was held at 2200 Penrose Ave., where the newlyweds are at home.

Mrs. Jackson marks birthday

Mrs. Sadie Jackson of 433 Forrest St. celebrated her birthday at a dinner party, recently. Guests included:

Mrs. Edna Chisley, Mrs. Elsie Campber, Mrs. Addie Williams, Mrs. Ella White, Miss Jessie Chase, Mrs. Ada Sorrell, Ardell Harrison, Frank Kirby, W. Jackson, Sallie Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scarfield of Pasadena, Md.

Alpha Wives hold meeting

Fun became the order of business as the Alpha Wives gathered Tuesday in their clubroom, 910 Edmondson Ave. for their March meeting.

The only serious note was the report of delegates who attended the annual workshop of the Maryland League of Women's Clubs.

The program committee made a brief report on plans for the benefit scholarship affair scheduled for early fall.

THEN THE merriment got under way.

Many famous persons would not have been amused by the impersonations presented Tuesday night, but the effect on the Alpha Wives was sustained hilarity.

Prize winners were Rubye Watkins, who portrayed Elvis Presley; Ada Veney as Billy Daniels; Catherine Adams as Jean Daly of 'What's My Line?' and Margaret Bryer as the mystery guest, who baffled the panel.

Lucile Fitzgerald portrayed herself afflicted with arthritis.

OTHERS WHO got in the act were Jacqueline Watts, Birdie West, Louise Dennis, Alma Gray, Olivia Dixon, Ella Edemy, Mae Bliss, Otyce Rose, Evelyn Hayshert and Shirley Pinkett.

Hostesses were Maxene Higginbotham, Hilda Higgins, Blanche Hughes, Josephine Kimbers and Francis Mackay.

Robert Thompson 78, daughters fete him at birthday party

Robert H. Thompson Sr., celebrated his 78th birthday, Saturday, at a dinner party given by his daughters, Mesdames Mildred Burrell and Helen Morton.

The party was held in the home of his son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Morton, 3519 Holmes Ave.

Mr. Thompson, who joined Payne Memorial Methodist Church at the age of 17, is a steward of that congregation. He is still active on the job, foreman at the Maryland Glass Co., where he has been employed for 35 years.

A WIDOW, Mr. Thompson is also the father of four sons. Milton, Robert Jr., and William Thompson of this city, and Kenneth Thompson of Brooklyn, N.Y. His wife was the late Mrs. Catherine Thompson, who died in 1936. They had been married for 39 years at the time of her passing.

Guests at the party were:

Messrs. and Mesdames William Ross, Robert H. Thompson Jr., Robert Vaughn, James Anderson, Isaac Bunch;

Mesdames Virginia Burrell, Lucy Morton, Edna Mitchell, Lucy Thompson, Doris Jenkins; Beverly Burrell, Bernard Morton and Kenneth Thompson.

DR. AND MRS, Bruce Alleyne took a group of their friends to the De-So Club, Saturday at five, for a dinner party that feted their out-of-town guests, who were here for the conference of the Maryland League of Women's Clubs.

The latter included Mrs. Estelle Osborne, NYC; Mrs. J. T. Garth, Philadelphia; Miss Edna Jones, NYC; Miss Lillian Pinkney, NYC; and Mrs. Serena Welch of Washington.

And others who enjoyed the sparkling conversation, ladder board and accompanying sippables were Mrs. I. B. Higgins, Mrs. George McDonald, Mrs. Byrl Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee, Mrs. Mark Patterson, Dr. and Mrs. McD. Bando, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Payne, Mrs. Cortlandt Brown, and Mrs. Theresa Waters.

CHI ETA PHI sorors had a cocktail party, Saturday night, complimenting Mrs. Edelle Massey Osborne, speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Maryland League of Women's Clubs' conference.

The affair was in the pretty Monroe St. home of Lilyan Slater.

From an ever-so pretty table, the girls (all registered nurses) served a continuous round of drinks, open-faced sandwiches, piping hot coffee. listened to Mrs. Osborne, the country's top woman in their profession, discuss opportunities in the field, sources of training, etc.

Hostesses at the affair were: Mildred Hughlette, Erdie Scott, Phyllis Shamrell, Dorothy Mills, Hazel Bailey, Mabel Hawkins, Mazelle Dickerson, Rosa Lewis, Agnes Williams, Mildred Gambrill, Lilyan Slater, Nannie Bass, Lillian Mills, Louise Lockerman and Edythe Fields. Lula Patterson as a guest.

INCIDENTALLY, those lovely jonquils, which each guest wore at the luncheon, and the table center-piece were gifts from the Washington Flower and Garden Guild, and fetched by Mr. and Mrs. Evelyn O. Chisley, D.C. floral artists. The Guild doesn't sell flowers, but stimulates appreciation for, care of and arrangement of flowers.

Gifts were falling at League luncheon like showers. Alpha Kappa Alpha gave their sorer, Mrs. Osborne, a token. The presentation was made by Epsilon Omega chapter basileus, Flessie Dedmond. Mrs. Osborne received a magnificent orchid from Chi Eta Phi sorers . . . the corsage being pinned on by Mazell Dickerson. Mrs. Alleyne was gifted with a huge basket of posies. Mrs. Naomi Johnson making the presentation.

And Gov. Theodore McKeldin, thitrough Dr. Willard W. Allen, presented a gavel to Mrs. Alleyne. The gavel is one of the last made from that famous oak which once adorned the grounds of the State House, in Annapolis.

ALICE ARRINGTON, who organized the Maryland League, and who came down from New York for this conference, was the guest in whose honor Edna O. Campbell entertained Saturday night. Mrs. Osborne shared honors.

Dropping in to say hello to the visitors were Lillian Watty, Harriet Jones, Emma Bright, Alma Gray, Malissa Perdue, Grace Hunt, Daisy Jones, Lilian Sharpley, Lula Patterson, Ethel Hughes and Flossie Dedmond.

FOLKS ARE talking about Dr. B. M. Rhetta Jr., snubbing such foibles as Cadillacs and Thunderbirds . . is now driving a Mark II; about that election politicing on Saturday's meeting of the Maryland League of Women's Clubs . . .that one sorority group dominated the organization, that another sorority group played ring-around-the-rosy.

About Union Baptist Church members lifting any financial stress from the shoulder of their pastor, the Rev. Baxter Mathews, pledged $27,000 to the center fund at their dinner meeting, Monday. Collected $6200 of it in cash.

About how the reservations for the testimonial for Dr. Carl Murphy, set for April 7 by the Morgan College Alumni are poured in from around the country.

FASHIONS FOIBLES: Estelle Osborne's sleek, sleek black and white tweed, topped with a white panama, black lace wedges edging the brim, was highlighted with original silver jewelry. She also wore a striking silver necklace at Chi Eta Phi's party, that night. Recalling that she always been interested in that sort of thing. Until recently she was part owner of a shop in New York that imported that sort of stuff from around the world.

Mrs. Cortlandt Brown made a pretty picture in beige suit, white off - face hat, feather winged, at the luncheon, but you should have seen her in a black Empire gown at the Alleynes' din
