STROLLING the AVENUE

Take a large club, fill it full of people and let the air ring with the best sounds of modern music.

Do that George and you have an idea of what went on last Saturday at the CLUB TIJUANA as the Interracial Jazz Society marked the second anniversary of its Saturday afternoon jazz bashes.

The session started at 3 p.m. and when the late comers reached the TIJUANA at half after the hour they found that the place was packed.

It reminded spectators of the jazz sessions in New York where listeners, if they so desire, can sit in rows of chairs instead of at tables and listen to the music to the very end.

Saturday's bill featured the talents of Al Cohn, out of New York, and Baltimore's Mickey Fields aided and abetted by a local group.

COHN HAS the name, but on Saturday at least it was Mickey Fields who had the audience. Technically, Cohn was perfect, but his music seemed to lack the warmth that the Fields group displayed.

All in all it was a delightful afternoon with plenty of modern jazz done up fine.

This week's Saturday session will feature the Buck Hall group from Washington.

The regular attraction at the TIJUANA is Sarah McLawler, the young lady with the organ.

Featured with the unit is a gentleman who plays the violin, Richard Otto. This Sunday will also see a fashion show at the TIJUANA as the Carson Models stage their annual affair.

MODERN JAZZ is also to be heard over at the LAS VEGAS on Warwick off Franklin St. The Hallmark Quintette is responsible and they earn a plain for a top rate job.

Three top entertainers are making the patrons of CHICK'S LOUNGE very happy. The group includes Flink Johnson, Jerome Berry and Lawson Vessells. All are tops in their field and CHICK'S is a fine place to visit for a wonderful time.

A lot of people are finally finding out what's behind the green door. This green door that we are speaking of is the one over at JONES, 1724 W. Lanvale St.

Nice things alway happen at the GREEN DOOR but there is something very special on Sunday morning when a jam session is staged with some of the best talent in town.

The show runs from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. and the welcome mat is out for everyone.

CORNELL MULDROW and Tommy Moseley are the centers of attraction at the Club CASINO where the food is fine and the drinks are out of this world.

Rounding out Cornell's group are George Muldrow and Willie Woodley.

The champagne hour at CLUB ASTORIA is proving to be a big success and little wonder with the music of Henry Baker to make it even more exciting.

The champagne hours are staged every Friday, Saturday and Sunday starting at 9 p.m.

The Hallmark Quintette is responsible and they earn a plain for a top rate job.

Drop on in for a real surprise.

CLUB HENRY, 402 S. Fremont Ave., has the Blue Pearls; the CLOVER CLUB has Al Brown; the CLUB AMBASSADOR has the Re Echoes.

ETHEL ENNIS is turning in her usual tremendous performance at RICTOR'S RED FOX LOUNGE and we urge you to see this coming star while she is still appearing in her hometown.

Talented is the word for Ethel and if you still need convincing, then just listen to her new recording "A Pair of Fools." You'll agree that she is tops.

The SPOT BAR has Dottie Stearns; there's a good show at the COMEDY CLUB; the CARNIVAL LOUNGE offers the Zane Cypress quartette, and ROSSITER'S, 1001 S. Hanover St., has some mighty fine food. That's it, Have fun.

EYE $15,000 GOAL — Mesfin (Mickey) Binega, 16-year-old high school boy from Addis Ababa, Ethiopia (right), and Norma Blum, 17, from Rio de Janeiro, teamed with an Illinois newspaper editor to win $10,000 on the "Name That Tune" TV show last week. Tuesday, they sought the $15,000 next step, while scores of teen-aged admirers from all over the world rooted for them.

er seemed to be certain who started the marriage boom, but Dinah believes it was settled when she looked the saxophone player up following his return from Europe in December.

"He told me then he was going to be with me for the rest of his life."

THE COUPLE'S friendship dates back 17 years when they attended school at Wendall Phillips High in Chicago where they shared a music course.

"I had a crush on Eddie's younger brother then," the singer said, referring to Dr. Roland Chamblee, of South Bend, Ind.

They saw each other infrequently through the years, sometimes playing at the same spots.

Cupid struck last August when their paths crossed in California before Chamblee took off on a European jaunt with the Hampton band, in September.

Best man at the wedding will be "Slappy" White, comedian, who usually appears when Dinah performs. He is expected to arrive in Washington from New York today (Friday).

White has given Dinah $500 as a wedding present.

OTHERS IN the bridal party will be Mollie Shad, matron of honor, whose husband is an executive in the Mercury Record Company and La Rue Manns, Dinah's housekeeper.

Miss Washington will wear a hat designed by Olivia Turner—a small one, with yellow leaves and maroon grapes. Mrs. Shad and Miss Manns will wear purple orchids; Dinah's will be white.

The rest of the wedding attire had not been decided Wednesday night.

During the double ring wedding, Miss Washington and Mr. Chamblee will exchange plain gold bands. Dinah will go on with the show as usual after the wedding. They plan a leisurely honeymooning in Los Angeles on Sunday.

AMONG GUESTS will be Mrs. Theo Buffurd, 231 T St. NW, whom Dinah calls her Washington, D.C., mother and with whom the groom-to-be was appearing in town; Dr. R. Turek, New York Fifth Avenue dentist who is flying down with his fiancee, and members of the Lionel Hampton band who will appear at the Howard Theatre next week.

For Mr. Chamblee, 36, who for years had his own band, it will be his second marriage. He was undecided the other night about his wedding gift to Dinah, and although she had made her decision, the singer declined to comment about her gift to him.

THE COUPLE teased and chided each other throughout the interview at the Casino Royal where they met at a table following the first show.

When Dinah said this marriage would be a lasting one, Eddie joked:

"But Dinah, you've said that four other times."

QUINTONES

Hurrah-Hurrah for this talented Rock and Roll group known to thousands as the Quintones of Baltimore, Maryland. Who are on the road to fame. We have what it takes say these great singers because it only sounds talent and will prove, plus giving the public what it likes. Their record will be released in March on a new label, which is the Jordan label. These talented men say the label doesn't matter nor make singers, but good talent and understanding do. What we want is someone that is honest and easy to work with. These young men have appeared in various places; such as WAAM television show with Tom Hawkins, channel 13; 2 appearances on WSID Radio program, with Rhona Fisher, and appearances on the Coliseum, Fort Meade Army Camp, weddings and several night clubs. Songs which are now being recorded are "Lonely Telephone," "You A Little Loving." Thousands of people who have heard these songs are now waiting for their release. These young men are really going places. You can contact them through Mrs. Green, 418 N. Pearson St., Baltimore, Maryland, Phone ED. 6-1827-W.

The week in records

By ALBERT ANDERSON
(For ANP)

Jazz swung in full-blown for the month of February through the instruments of such musical greats as the late Charlie Parker, Hank Jones and Kenny Burrell in the record world.

A Savoy LP entitled "The Charlie Parker Story," deals with a November date in 1945 when the great alto saxophonist, Miles Davis, Bud Powell, Curley Russell and Max Roach teamed up for a most memorable session.

Out of the gathering came such numbers as "Meanderring," "Billie's Bounce," "Koko," "Warming Up a Riff," and others, played in the style as only Charlie Parker can do. It's a track that is a treasure to all jazz lovers.

THEN AND AGAIN, there's "Have You Met Hank Jones," on a Savoy label that displays the long and sparkling technique of Jones' piano mastery. Full of sweet standards, the LP includes "Lady Bird," "Easy Living," "Moonlight in Vermont," "Tenderly" and others.

Guitarist Kenny Burrell teamed up with a progressive combo in a date called "Jazz Men: Detroit," for Savoy on the LP kick. Most of the combo are recent on the jazz scene with the possible exception of drummer Kenny Clarke. But the team came up with a neat and swinging tempo side and a relaxed side. Bassist Paul Chambers blows superbly on the track.

HECTOR RIVERA emerged drumpostly in the land of "Let's Cha-Cha-Cha" for Mercury Records during the month with a beautifully arranged, tantalizing variety of Latin-American sounds. Rivera's name is new to the Latin-American scene, but his music has much feeling and expression.

"Roy's Got Rhythm," according to the Roy Rogers track of the same name, under the musical auspices of trumpeter Roy Eldridge, on this LP. Roy teams up for all but two of the tunes with one or two brother musicians across the seas. Some sweet blues result from the horn of Eldridge, whose strength in that vein is virtually unchallenged. It's a real great track.

Warns of bomb at Royal Theatre

"I called to warn you that a bomb is in the theatre and you better get the people out and call the police." That according to Bernard Morris, assistant manager of the Royal Theatre, is what a stuttering man's voice said to him on the telephone at 6:40 p.m. Thursday.

Lt. Bernard Deinlein and 11 officers evacuated the theatre of 360 people. No bomb was found.

ALBUM DRAWS ATTENTION—Jazz Harpist Dorothy Ashby as reportedly being considered for a position as a CBS music staff artist following the success of her album, "The Jazz Harpist." Miss Ashby, Detroit born, is said to be dickering with CBS for the assignment.

Carver's Cal Matthews is champion wrestler

By SAM LACY
AFRO Sports Editor

Dunbar High School's champion basketball team is not the only tan entry in the Maryland Scholastic Association that has been unbeaten since the conference admitted the local schools with predominantly colored enrollment.

Carver Vocational High has a young wrestler whose string of victories stretches back not only over this year, but over the 1956 mat season as well.

He is Calvin Matthews, conceded to be the outstanding grappler on Carver's classy mat team. When he enters next Thursday's (Feb. 28) dual with Dunbar at Dunbar, young Calvin will carry a streak of six 1957 triumphs with him.

These added to the four straight he won last year, give the 19 - year - old Carverite a skein of ten win in ten starts over the last two seasons.

WITH A record such as this, it is understandable why young Matthews is a heavy favorite to cop the light - heavyweight (175-pound) title in the MSA tournament, slated for March 8.

A senior destined to graduate in June, young Matthews will be missed also by the Carver football team.

Athletic director Lloyd (Sodie) White, who also coaches football at Carver, refers to the youngster as "our unsung hero" of the gridiron last fall.

Matthews was guard and co-captain of the Trainer eleven. He is further described by Waite as "a good student, a fine shot and discus man, and an excellent tumbler."

At the moment, the youth has no plans for a college education. He says he expects to be inducted into the military, and even if this does not occur, Matthews contemplates finding a job "to help my family."
